A BRAVE LADY!

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely loose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed, she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait, she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, New York, who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to woman. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS'

BLOOD-PURIFYING

SARSAPARILLA.

Prescribed by Physicians and Druggists for nearly Fifty Years.

THE SHAKER'S SARSAPARILLA is just what it purports to be.—Dixi Crosby, M. D. I have long prescribed it, as I think it a most valuable medicine.—Jeremiah Bixby, M. D., Gilmanton, N. H. Have known it for nearly half a century. Our confidence in it is in no way impaired.—Carlton & Hosey, Druggists, Lowell. I speak with confidence of it, having prescribed it for eighteen years.—S. M. Disman, M. D., Francestown, N. H. Come the shakers' Sarsaparilla in preference to all others.—C. A. Guilmette, M. D., Boston. I have the most unbounded confidence in healing and renovating properties.—Wm. R. Preston, Druggist, Portsmouth, N. H. I consider it the best preparation made.—A. G. Wilber, Druggist, Boston.

Do not fail to make a trial of this great Blood Purifier, Appetizer, and Tonic, the first and best of all medicines called Sarsaparilla, which is prepared in solution by SHAKER ROOTS, HERBS AND BERRIES by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, and is beyond all comparison the purest, safest, and most effective family medicine in the world. Ask for CORBETT'S SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA. The genuine is signed by THOMAS CORBETT, its inventor, and sold by druggists generally.

How They "Mixed Those Babies Up."

It was whispered with abated breath at the Reform Club on Wednesday night that grave doubts are now entertained as to the identity of Gladstone and Beaconsfield. It seems that when they were infants their nurses knew each other, and often met in the Park. Little William's nurse was engaged to a Horse Guard, little Benjamin's to a park-keeper. One day the park-keeper and the soldier quarrelled, and the nurses rushed between them. In so doing they tripped over a fallen tree, and William and Benjamin were shot out of their arms into the ornamental water. There was only one thing to do. The nurses stripped the future statesmen, and laid their clothes on the grass to dry in the sun. The children, in order not to attract attention, were hidden away in a boathouse. The nurses then went to condole with their lovers, who had both received black eyes. Peace was made over spirits and water at an adjacent public house, the nurses taking a sip together to show there was no ill-feeling. When the parties returned to the boathouse the girls found it quite impossible to tell one naked baby from the other, so they tossed up for them. Then each dressed the baby that fell to her lot, and took it home. It is Lord Beaconsfield's nurse who has survived to tell the tale at this late hour. The utmost consternation prevails in the Premier's family. If he has been anathematising himself all these years it is very dreadful. Beaconsfield is mad at the very idea of his being Gladstone. The new officers of the Crown have been consulted, a Cabinet Council summoned, and the Queen will delay her departure from Windsor until the matter is decided. The consequences are most serious, as it is feared all the state of their various terms of office will be invalidated. Mrs. Gladstone's terror lest she should be found to be married to Benjamin Disraeli after all is heart-rending, and young Herbert swears that if his father is that awful man he will never speak to him again.—Referee.

—Out on the fly—A kite.

—As they were leaving the theatre he thoughtfully said, "Won't you take cold?" "Certainly," she replied, as she took his arm.

—Here is another straw: A man who went through an excursion train of nine hundred passengers taking a presidential vote didn't find a single Hancock man. P. S.—He didn't find a Garfield man either, for the first person he accosted knocked him down, and a dozen others wiped the floor up with him and wedged him so fast under a seat that all the passengers escaped before he could release himself. He has declared himself in favor of the anti-masonic candidate, his treatment in the car having made him dead opposed to grips.

ROSY-CHEEKED WOMEN. There ought to be more of them. A rosy complexion, if it be natural, makes the plainest face beautiful; for with it, we find the sprightly mind, the elastic step, the ringing laugh—in a word, health. The cause of listless and sallow cheeks in women is often suspected even by themselves. It is, in too many cases, a derangement of the kidneys, bladder, liver, or urinary organs. For these diseases, Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, is a sure cure. Hunt's Remedy is safe, effectual, and pleasant to take. Try it, ladies, and bloom again. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

—At a late Ohio camp-meeting Rev. Mr. Harrison, the "boy revivalist," who made such a sensation in Talmage's tabernacle last spring, prayed that the "closing hours of the meeting might put hell in consternation."

Not Open to Objection.

Temperance people often say that most of the popular medicines they see advertised are nine-tenths rum. That is true of many, but not of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." The doctor agrees with his temperance friends that it is better to die of disease than of drink. "Favorite Remedy" cures kidney troubles, liver complaints, constipation of the bowels, as nothing else does or ever did. It drives away sickness. It cools the blood. It costs only a dollar to try it. Ask your druggist or send to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

—A flock of tame geese on a stream near Port Jarvis, N. Y., having diminished in a mysterious manner, an investigation showed that a big snapping turtle had been killing and eating them one by one.

A word to the wise. If you are troubled with a cough or cold, procure a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once. Its use may save you from severe sickness. Your druggist keeps it. Price 25 cts.

—The astonishment of the lightning when Ajax defied it was as nothing compared to the feelings of the young man who makes his best bow to a bevy of young ladies, and bursts a suspender button in the act.

Indispensable to the laundry and kitchen—Pyle's Pearline. Sold by grocers everywhere.

—P. T. Barnum will give $1000 towards a reading and amusement room at Bridgeport, Conn., for the benefit of young men who otherwise spend their evenings in saloons.

D. R. V. G. will cure every case of sick headache. See other column.

—There must be a large greenback party in Turkey. A paper dollar there is worth all the way from five to nine cents.

The use of Malt Bitters increases the flesh and prevents pulmonary or wasting diseases.

An Unpleasant Outlook.

Among the people who are expected to assist the democrats in electing Gen. Hancock are the brewers in Germany, who count upon a reduction of the duty on malt liquors and hops to introduce beer of foreign brew into the United States. In other words, they want the democracy to adjust the tariff so that they may take our grains, and send back beer.

The duty on foreign beer, otherwise than in bottles, is twenty cents a gallon, or about $7,00 a barrel. The tax on domestic beer is a dollar per barrel. The democrats want cheaper beer, and it is proposed to place beer, in case Hancock is elected, on the free list. This has alarmed some of the brewers of the country, who have come to the republican camp and asked to be allowed to join their forces with the republicans. They say that if the promise of the democratic managers made to the foreign brewers is kept, the effect will be to ruin every brewer in America, and to close our establishments as against the English and German producers. But the democracy goes for the "greatest good of the greatest number." The idea of protection to a class of manufacturers is unsound and undemocratic. Why should the brewer lords of Poughkeepsie, Milwaukee, Albany and elsewhere accumulate gigantic fortunes, and the thirsty democrats be made to pay five cents for a glass of ale, when the Irish, Scotch and German brews would, by one act of the democracy, allow a man to get full at the more saving rate of three cents the schooner!

The republicans are asked to step up and protect one class of the fierce democracy against the other. It will be bad for many places to have breweries stops after next March. Hundreds of their employees will have to go back to their father lands to seek employment, real estate will decline, while the blessings of temperance cannot be relied upon because—will come cargo upon cargo of foamy ale improved by its voyage, ready for market in all our cities at moderate prices, and our breweries and their laborers will find their occupation gone. The southern men are said to be solid on this question of liquids, and our local brewers may well pause in their shouts for Hancock, to consider what disastrous results to them his possible election might entail.

Ohio and Indiana.

On Tuesday next, Oct. 12th, elections will be held in Ohio and Indiana, and should both those states go for either party by a decided majority, it will go a long way toward deciding the presidential contest. Both parties are fighting hard for victory, the importance of which to either is acknowledged.

The democrats claim that they will have at least ten thousand majority in Indiana, which has been a democratic state for many years; the republicans claim that they will cut the democratic majority down to trifling proportions, and some of more sanguine ones predict a republican plurality. The only reason which is apparent at this distance, to justify the republicans in anticipating any measure of success in that democratic state, is found in the claim of the local managers that they have so far perfected plans to guard against fraud that the swarming of Kentuckians across the border to vote the democratic ticket will this year be measurably prevented; if this can indeed be accomplished, there may be a chance for republican success, but the Kentucky habit of voting in Indiana has become strong through lapse of years, and we doubt if it can now be broken up. So confident of victory is the Washington Post, the central organ of the democratic party, that it says "If Indiana goes republican we'll give the election up."

Ohio is a close state, and like Indiana is claimed by both parties; it has gone both ways in recent years, but was carried by the republicans at the last election, and is the home of the republican candidate for president. Two weeks ago the democrats were claiming Ohio with some show of confidence, the grounds for which appeared to be over-confidence of the Ohio republicans, and the fact that Barnum, the "mule" buyer, was on a still-hunt with his bar'l; but the republicans have awakened to the importance of working, are conducting a vigorous campaign, and it is hard to see where the democrats have any more chance for victory in Ohio than the republicans have in Indiana.

In brief, there is a fighting chance for victory in each of these states, for either party, with the chances apparently favoring the democrats in Indiana and the republicans in Ohio. Should both states go one way, the party winning will be greatly encouraged and the opposition correspondingly disheartened, and the fence-riders will commence hastily to dismount on the winning side; and though the presidential contest will not be given up, the defeated party's hopes of victory will be much less than they are to-day. Should each party carry one state, as now appears probable, the contest will have resulted in very nearly a draw, so far as its moral effect on the country at large is concerned.

Judge Black's Opinion.

Judge Jere. Black of Pennsylvania, a democrat whose fierce intolerance as a partisan has made him noted from one end of the Union to the other, being unable to attend the recent grand democratic rally in New York sent a letter to be read, and it has been widely published. In that letter Judge Black speaks of Gen Garfield as follows:

The impulses of personal friendship and the duties of fair political opposition alike require me to speak of General Garfield. Intellectually he is first among the politicians of his party—not the sharpest or strongest, but the most gifted and best cultivated. His private life is stainless, and in everything unconnected with politics his behavior is regulated by principles of the soundest morality. But in public affairs he does not act upon his convictions; when he passes into the domain of politics his conscience loses its grip; and for his party he is willing to do any wrong which will promote their interests, or play any card how false soever which will win them power. This surrender of his moral and mental integrity is the condition upon which he holds his high place in the affections of the party he belongs to. Treachery to his country is fidelity to his faction. If at any time in the last fifteen years he had given way to his own sense of right, supported the constitution and laws in a spirit of pure justice, refused to defile himself with election frauds, withheld his countenance from executive corruption or denounced the forcible instalment of thieves in state offices, he would have converted himself into a democrat and been expelled from the communion of the anti-constitutional party.

Judge Black's assumption that an honest politician must of necessity support whatever for the time being is supported by the democracy, is but a corollary of his assumption that whatever the democratic party may do or attempt to do is right—a position which he has always held; and his opinion concerning Garfield, with whom he has been closely intimate all through his official life, may therefore be summed up in a few words as follows: "Garfield is an able and pure man, but he is not a democrat." Well, the republicans suspected that Garfield was a republican before they nominated him.

The Kingston Homicide.

The Haverhill Bulletin, in its account of the killing of Dearborn at Kingston, by young Elkins, says that Dearborn last March came out of the state prison, where he had served five years for stealing a horse and harness. A few weeks later he married a woman who had previously lived with one Young, a half brother to Dearborn. This woman soon abandoned Dearborn on account of his ill treatment of her, and sought shelter under the roof of C. F. Woodman at North Danville. A few weeks ago the windows of Woodman's house were smashed in one night, and Dearborn was arrested for the offence, but was discharged for lack of evidence to convict him.

Dearborn, who from the accounts of his townsmen appears to have been a ruffian of the worst grade, was greatly enraged over his arrest, and made many threats against Woodman, whose family were so much alarmed that they abandoned the premises; and on Monday night of last week the dwelling and stable were burned to the ground. On the following Thursday night the buildings of Charles Elkins of Kingston (father of John Elkins, who killed Dearborn,) were burned, Mr. Elkins having previously received threatening letters, as had also a neighbor, the writing being closely similar to Dearborn's. These occurrences had created a perfect reign of terror among the people of that vicinity, many of them hardly daring to close their eyes at night lest the match should be applied to their homes; and it was this, joined to Dearborn's notorious reputation, that made Mrs. Elkins object to her husband's accompanying the fellow on an errand at night, and finally insist upon going with them.

Connecticut Election.

The town elections in Connecticut, Monday, show large republican gains in many places. Of seventy-six towns heard from up to Monday night, forty-six were republican, twenty-four democratic, and six equally divided. Of these towns the republicans have gained eleven, and the democrats four, a republican net gain of seven towns; and the six towns equally divided were all democratic in 1876. The republican majority in Hartford is 400, and all the officers-elect are republicans except the town clerk, a result not expected by either party. Meriden made a republican gain of over [illegible] hundred. Norwalk elected the whole republican ticket by 106 majority; last year the democrats had forty-eight majority. As the selectmen and clerk of each town are a board of registration of voters, the gain of towns by the republicans is of importance.

The constitutional amendment giving the appointment of judges of the superior and supreme courts to the governor, subject to the approval of the legislature, is carried by a large majority. Heretofore they have been selected by party caucuses in the legislature.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists, 25 cents a bottle. 1

The Fortunes of the Crescent City.

The prosperity of New Orleans for the next century seems to be gradually but surely on the increase, with railroads running in from every direction, and steamers and ships from all parts of the world, with the only port in the United States that the Great Eastern can enter. The Charity Hospital there has been maintained during the darkest days of turbulent civil war, pestilence devastating the population, financial depression, and all other troubles possibly incident to a community. The celebrated Louisiana State Lottery Company has maintained the world-renowned Charity Hospital at expenditure of many hundred thousand dollars. The Grand Monthly Distribution takes place on the second Tuesday of every month. For further information apply to M. A. AROUND HOME.

The U. S. S. Alliance arrived at Hampton roads on Monday, from this naval station.

Among the passengers who arrived at New York last week by the White Star line steamer Republic, were Mr. Barrett Wendell and wife.

The state convention of Universalists met in the Universalist church in this city on Tuesday, Rev. W. W. Hayward in the chair, and Rev. H. S. Fiske secretary. The attendance was quite large.

Frank Corrigan was before the police court Tuesday morning, charged with being a vagrant. He was found guilty, and sentenced to ninety days at Brentwood and to pay costs amounting to $6.90.

While the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was holding a meeting in Dr. May's office on Monday evening, a homeless cat came in, claimed the protection of the society, and was furnished with a good home.

There is to be a republican flag raising in Newington on Tuesday evening next, when Hon. Joshua G. Hall will deliver an address, and a collation will be served in the town hall. There will be a good attendance from this city.

Rev. A. A. Waite's "Glad tidings tent" was packed to its utmost capacity at three services last Sunday, in Boston. At the evening service "the young converts presented Mr. Waite with the largest and most complete edition of the Oxford Bible, with a beautiful morocco case."

An impression has got abroad that there is to be a torch-light parade of the republican campaign companies on Saturday evening. Nothing of the kind is intended; Gen. John L. Swift will speak in Music hall on that evening, and it is probable that there will be a grand street demonstration on Monday evening.

John Elkins had a preliminary examination on Monday before Justice A. J. Cilley of Kingston, and was committed to Portsmouth jail to await the action of the grand jury in regard to the killing of Andrew J. Dearborn on Saturday night last. The sympathies of the people of Kingston are strongly in favor of Elkins.

"She's a perfect daisy,' said Tot Plummer. Tot Plummer was just twenty, and a Harvard sophomore." Tot Plummer's First Assembly, of which we quote the beginning, proved a great success when read by Mr. Riddle before the Town and County club at Newport last summer, and we predict the same result here on Friday evening.

As the Towpath club of Newmarket was returning from a republican meeting at South Newmarket, Monday night, when in the vicinity of the Junction they were greeted with a volley of stones, one of which struck Arthur M. Hutchins, inflicting a serious injury. This introducing of southern democratic methods into New Hampshire is not commendable.

The Portsmouth correspondent of the Manchester Union says:

The Jones Cadets raised a splendid Hancock and English banner at the north mill-bridge, Saturday evening. Houses in the vicinity were brilliantly illuminated, and the cadets, under command of Captain John S. Treat, turned out with 100 men in line. Speeches were made by Hon. Daniel Marcy, Calvin Page, Esq., and others. It was a grand affair throughout.

That correspondent is evidently "bound to blow, though he don't sell a fish." The "banner" referred to was ten feet long; it was not raised Saturday evening; the houses in the vicinity were not brilliantly illuminated, one single dwelling only having an extra gas jet or two burning; the cadets were not commanded by Capt. John S. Treat, and they numbered less than forty persons; and Hon. Daniel Marcy did not make a speech. But the report is no doubt as nearly correct as most of the political "news" which appears in the columns of the Union.

The carrier pigeons brought to this city on Monday from Fall River, Mass., were turned loose on Market square at nine o'clock Tuesday forenoon by Mr. J. Wesley Young. They circled around at a good height for some minutes, took a look at the navy yard, and the last seen of them were going off in a northeasterly direction. It will take them a long time to reach Fall River on that course.

Three Hancock & English campaign companies were organized in ward three, Tuesday evening, with fifty-four men all told to each company. The captains are Alexander Robinson, Elbridge G. Morrison, and John A. Rand. The companies are to be uniformed.

The Universalist convention, now in session in this city, on Tuesday adopted a resolution presented by Rev. H. S. Fiske of West Rumney, recommending the Sunday school teachers to impress upon the minds of the children under their charge the importance of cultivating the spirit of kindness toward dumb animals. The resolution called forth several earnest speeches from Rev. Messrs. Fiske, Heyward, Maguire, Gorton and Vincent. Mrs. George, of Rumney, also spoke briefly and effectually in favor of the resolution.

It is said that the Hancock Veterans are in a decidedly panicky condition, so much so that the personal efforts of the "popular" candidate to steady the lines have so far proved abortive. We are extremely solicitous concerning the "marching fifty-one," and would suggest to the gallant 100-days man from Illinois that if the torches of these bronze-visaged veterans are ever to illuminate our streets, that relief from the marine barracks must speedily come to the rescue, before the melting process annihilates the little band.

There is a fencing-in war going on in Deer street, which attracts considerable attention from the residents in the vicinity. One head of a family having for some reason become displeased with his next neighbor, put up on his own land a rough board fence, which shaded the other's rear windows and entirely cut off his view; the other, to retaliate, boarded up his piazza on the end next his neighbor, so as to cut off in that direction the street view from the latter's parlor windows; whereupon number one not only boards up the end of his piazza, but has a fence built on top of it, to obstruct the view from his enemy's chamber windows all that is possible.

"MY PARTNER."

Of this play, which was produced in Manchester last week by the company that will perform it at Music hall on Thursday evening, the Manchester Mirror says: "My Partner is a drama of unquestionable power, and one whose prosperity is fully assured for many seasons to come. It is unnecessary to give any details of the plot. It is sufficient to say that the story is well told, and that a great deal of dramatic ability is displayed in the arrangement of the scenes and incidents. The acting of Louis Aldrich as 'Joe Saunders' is such as should go far toward placing him in the front rank of the intense sympathetic delineators of realism. He won the bulk of the honors for his really artistic work. The comic element was broadly portrayed by Frank Mordaunt as 'Major Britt.' He disposes of the part in a manner that at times almost jeopardizes that of the star. As 'Mary Brandon' Miss Dora Goldthwaite was very satisfactory. The other parts were all creditably assumed. There was a large audience present, and the telling points of the play were fully appreciated."

GARFIELD & ARTHUR BATTALION--ATTENTION!

Garfield & Arthur Battalion, companies A, B, C and D, will meet at headquarters this evening for drill, at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Mr. Donnell Weare of Cape Neddick has in his field a stalk of corn on which can be counted twenty-three ears.

The republicans of Kittery depot village will raise a Garfield & Arthur flag in front of the residence of Nicholas Spinney on Thursday evening, Oct. 7th, when a speech will be made by Mr. Hobbs of North Berwick. The Garfield & Arthur Battalion of Kittery will parade for the first time, with two hundred torches.

At the York county fair, at Biddeford last week, Mrs. R. W. Sargent of Kittery took first premium on Langshan and Brown Leghorn hens, second premium for Houdans, Game Bantams and Buff Cochins, and gratuities on Brahmas, Dominiques, Dorkings and Pet Cochins. Master Albert A. Sargent secured a gratuity on one pair of Dutch rabbits.

Frank J. Lynde, junior partner of the firm of F. T. Meaher & Co., druggists, of Portland, attempted to get on the Boston & Maine train while in motion, at old Old Orchard beach on Monday, but was thrown on the track and one car passed over him, cutting him in two and killing him instantly. Mr. Lynde was a son of the late John Lynde, formerly editor and publisher of the Bangor Whig. His age was twenty-five years.

Political Notes.

There are evidently some democrats who believe that the southern claims will be paid if Hancock is elected, as the following advertisement which appeared in the New York Herald of Sept. 22d shows: "Any one having Confederate bonds may find a customer by addressing Confederate, box 109, Herald office." This man is not such a fool as would at first appear. If Hancock is elected the south will be the ruling power, and Confederate bonds may yet be as good as United States bonds.

The Providence Journal says of the democratic assault upon the republican meeting at Olneyville, R. I., that "it was a well-planned, organized act of violence. The leader of the gang had a flag which he lifted from time to time, and whenever it was displayed, and as long as it was displayed, his ruffian followers would shout and drown the voice of the speaker. This flag, we are informed, was a rebel flag, raised for the first time in Rhode Island. Nothing could be more appropriate. It is the flag under which a majority of the supporters of Hancock and English fought for four years in the attempt to subvert the government; it is the flag under which the Ku-Klux and the White League rally for the suppression of free speech in the region where the rebellion prevailed; and it is the right flag for the enemies of free speech to unfurl in Rhode Island."

A Confederate flag was carried in a democratic procession at Williamsport, Indiana, on Thursday. Two Confederate flags were raised at a democratic meeting at Elwood, Indiana, on Friday, and that night a Confederate flag was carried in a democratic procession at Circleville, Ohio.

The shot-gun policy of Wade Hampton resulted in the murder of more than one hundred voters in Aiken county, South Carolina, in 1876. It pierced the heart of that noble youth, Rev. B. F. Randolph, with seven bullets, at mid-day in a public gathering in Edgefield county. It brought death to Hon. Joseph Crews in Laurens county, and to Hon. Alexander Brice in Oconee county. It took from their beds and murdered Andrew Johnson, Esq., Rev. Wallace Fowler, and Rev. Lewis Thompson, all quiet, law abiding citizens of Spartanburg county, at that time my home. No one was punished for any one of these, or for the hundreds of other murders in South Carolina, perpetrated to thwart the purposes of the United States government in giving the franchise to the freedman.—Rev. Dr. Cummings, formerly president of the South Carolina University.

News and Notes.

Miss Elizabeth Waite, a sister of Waite, the Brattleboro', Vt., defaulter, was sent to an asylum for the insane last week. It is supposed that her insanity is due to a loss of $10,000, which she and another sister sustained by Waite's appropriation of a life insurance fund which had been left them by will.

In a suit brought by W. Wheaton against Luther Beecher, at Detroit, Mich., for damages for a libelous publication in newspapers accusing the plaintiff of dishonesty in managing certain business interests, the jury rendered a verdict of $25,000 in favor of the plaintiff.

Joseph L. Martinette died in horrible agony Monday morning in Jersey City, of hydrophobia caused by a dog bite twelve years ago.

At length the long history of the United States by Mr. George Bancroft is drawing toward completion. The author set to work upon this opus magnum so far back as 1825, and has, with little intermission, been laboring on it ever since. Mr. Bancroft has selected Sampson, Low & Son as his London publishers. The last volume of the book will, according to literary journals, be out at the end of the year.

The national debt of New Zealand now exceeds $130,000,000, while almost every one of its principal towns is also heavily in debt to England. Altogether New Zealand owes England nearly $175,000,000, which at five per cent is $18.30 per head per annum interest on its population, taking that at 450,000 souls. London financiers look grave over these figures, especially in view of the falling-off of the land sales.

Two cast-iron bas reliefs, one dated 1668, and bearing a crown and canopy, and one dated 1778, and bearing the portrait head of the Father of his Country, with the name "General George Washington" in full, and a group of flags over a cannon, were found in a building recently demolished on Commercial street, Boston.

Hon. George Bancroft, the historian, celebrated his 80th birthday, Sunday, at his summer residence at Newport, R. I.

Pleasant Letters.

They are sheets of sunshine. A Methodist clergyman of Hartford, Conn., writes Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., that "Favorite Remedy" cured him of chronic liver disease and indigestion, from which he had suffered for a long time. This was splendid, but nothing more than anyone may expect who uses this medicine. One dollar a bottle is a small consideration when health is in question. The clergyman says he is going to introduce Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" among his people. He can't do better. Health is always a friend of religion.

—A Providence man, who was arrested recently for not paying his fare on a Sunday train on the Boston & Providence railroad, raised the point through his counsel that the running of Sunday trains was a violation of law, and that the company had no legal right to collect fares. The court sustained the point, and the man was discharged.

From John F. Wyman, Postmaster, South China, Me.

Too much cannot be said of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam, as it is the best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen, and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise and I would advise all to use it who are afflicted.

—Angry debtor—"Here's your money, dolt! Now tell me why your master wrote eighteen letters about that paltry sum." Simple shopboy—"I'm sure I can't tell, sir; but, if you'll excuse me, sir, I think it was because seventeen letters did not fetch it."

Nineteen twentieths of all sickness arises from weak or impure stomachs. D. R. V. G. will purify the stomach, and all is well. Try it. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Deaths of Negro Minstrels.

It is very remarkable that, notwithstanding their pecuniary prosperity, most of the leading minstrels have died poor. The burnt-cork performers have, as a rule, led fast lives, and have, as a consequence, used up both their physical and financial substance prematurely. Edwin P. Christy, the pioneer of minstrelsy, founded the original Christy minstrels at Buffalo in 1841, and played at Mechanics' Hall, in New York, for several years to crowded audiences. He made $150,000 at the business, but met with reverses and lost almost everything he possessed. He terminated his career by leaping from a third-story window. His putative son, George N. Christy (Harrington,) was the first representative of female parts. He received a large salary, and managed several companies successfully; but he died in New York in great poverty. Dan Bryant (O'Brien,) of Bryant's minstrels, the most noted of the three brothers, began in 1850, played twenty years, made a fortune, and got entirely rid of it. After his death, a few years ago, subscriptions were taken up for the relief of his family. W. W. Newcomb (Combs,) author of the burlesque lecture on woman's rights and other popular absurdities, visited England and Germany professionally, had a showy cottage at Saratoga, and cut a grand figure in his way. He met his usual fate, however, and died in New York in penury. H. C. Ramsey, Newcomb's partner, a famous buffoon and banjoist, had his ups and downs like the rest. He became paralyzed, and was aided by his fellow-showmen until the close of his wretched days. Sam Sharpley (Sharpe,) a great end-man, was the proprietor of Sharpley's minstrels, known as the iron-clads. He was a great card in his day, and made a large fortune which he lost in petroleum and other speculations. He died at Providence, R. I. G Swayne Buckley, the creator of burlesque opera, played in New York season after season to thronged houses. He made and lost two or three fortunes, but finally died last year in Quincy, Mass., almost penniless. Eph Horn, of great note in various troupes in his day, was so improvident that when he died he left absolutely nothing—not even enough to pay for his burial expenses. Members of the profession saw that he was decently interred in one of the metropolitan cemeteries. Billy Manning, of Emerson & Manning's company, also filled his purse and emptied it, and when he went to his grave in Chicago his friends paid for his funeral. Billy Morris, of Morris Brothers, drifted into a lunatic asylum, and was provided for by his brothers until he died in Boston. William H. Delehanty was one of the last of the negro comedians to be buried by his guild, and yet he had earned for years $300 a week as a dancer and singer. He was the author of the once so popular song "Shoo Fly."—Philadelphia Press.

The Obelisk Rotting Already.

The architects and engineers familiar with the corroding effects of the weather in New York upon stone, apprehend that the obelisk will rot in the new location selected for it. The stone is so soft that it can be broken by a finger nail, and it is thought will have to be covered with some wash to protect it. The chemical effect of the salty atmosphere is not so much to be dreaded as the moisture absorbed by the pores and frozen by the cold weather. Even the northern face of the monolith would probably flake off, and the chemical action of the atmosphere would perhaps injure the southern face, judging from the effect upon what was deemed an excellent quality of marble.

—A mosquito always settles before he presents his bill.

—An Indiana evangelist known as Father Blake has wealth and considerable skill as a painter, and he devotes both to ornamenting rocks and fences with Scriptural injunctions. He travels far and wide with his paint pot and brush.

—One Sunday night we were sitting out in the moonlight, unusually silent, almost sad. Suddenly some one—a poetic-looking man with a gentle, lovely face—said in a low tone: "Did you ever think of the beautiful lesson the stars teach us?" We gave a vague, appreciative murmur, but some soulless clod said; "No: what is it?" "How to wink," he answered, with a sad, sweet voice.

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD

A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT,

stupefying result which men of eminent ability have devoted years of study and expensive trials to a specific for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System—and from the time of its discovery has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of medical men and those who have used it, it has become a favorite with all classes and where ever introduced has superseded all other treatments. In short, each is its intrinsic merits and superiority, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

are the most prevalent, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, as their varied and insidious in their character, that persons often suffer for a long time before knowing what ails them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole body; pain in the back, side or loins, a weak, feeble, exhausted feeling, loss of appetite and dread of exertion; scanty and painful discharges of variously colored urine; inability to retain or expel the urine; minute shreds or casts in the urine; and, when the disease is of long duration, there is much emaciation and general nervous prostration

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the first and only infallible cure for every form of kidney disease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectual in its operation than any other treatment. By using faithfully and persistently no case will be found so inveterate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

STRONGLY ENDORSED.

We have the most unequivocal testimony to its curative powers from many persons of high character, intelligence and responsibility. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it.

DAY'S KIDNEY PADS are sold by druggists, or will be sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of their price: Regular, $2.00. Special, for obstinate cases of long standing, $3.00; Children's, $1.50.

Address,

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, take no other and you will not be deceived.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness, it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGADON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a new Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

TRY IT NOW!

It is at the Druggists. Price, $1.00.

OFFICE OF

COMMONWEALTH DISTRIBUTION CO.,

COURIER-JOURNAL BUILDING, LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 24th, 1880.

In direct violation of an agreement with Ex-Postmaster General Key, ordering the delivery of Registered Letters and the payment of Money Orders to the undersigned, pending the litigation in the United States Supreme Court, the Third Assistant Postmaster General has seen fit, in the absence of his superiors, to set aside said order. The grounds upon which he justifies this action are, that all lotteries in Kentucky have been repealed, and are therefore illegal, and being illegal, are necessarily fraudulent, when, in fact, the franchise under which this Company draws unlike that of the Louisiana Lottery Company, has never been repealed, and yet the Post Office Department discriminates in favor of that Company.

Comment is useless. Legal action will at once be taken by this Company, and, until further notice, correspondents are requested to send all remittances by plain letter or by express. Don't send by money order or registered letter.

Daily Chronicle.

"The Evils of Annexation."

Under the above heading, the Sun, an administration paper of the Dominion of Canada, has the following:

Canadians are to strike their flag and abandon their institutions and join our Yankee neighbors in celebrating, every Fourth of July, the American victory over England. "The surrender of Cornwallis" and the "execution of Andre" and other similar historical events are to be "celebrated" from year to year! We are to revile our Queen and join in telling nasty stories of the private life of our future King! We are to hoist the Stars and Stripes over all our forts, our public buildings, our public vessels, etc!

Annexation of the British provinces is not discussed at all on this side of the national boundary line; nobody speaks of it, and nobody seems to think of or care anything about it. But in the provinces the question of annexation to the United States appears to be one of absorbing interest, a large and constantly increasing element favoring it, while the other side bitterly opposes it. In the meantime the more energetic and enterprising portion of the Canadian population are crossing the border into the United States, leaving their native land and its enormous debt behind. Commenting on the Sun's item, the St. John Globe says:

Here is a matter for the Dominion government to grapple with at once. Last year at least one hundred thousand Canadians moved in to the United States, 75,000 going by the way of Sarnia; and thousands more have gone this year, many of them driven out of the country by the policy of the administration. Evidently they were not stopped by such considerations as these. While, therefore, the government policy drives people out of Canada into the United States, why should a government organ whine over these matters?

—American wines ought to be very cheap this year. The apple crop never was larger.

Liebig Co's Coca Beef Tonic.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

A Wonderful Cure of Costiveness.

ST. ALBANS, VT., Feb. 12.

Dear Sirs:—After nearly sixteen consecutive years of prostration from spinal disease, my bowels becoming more and more constipated I was forced to resort to the daily use of the most approved alteratives and cathartics prescribed by the medical profession; which however, seldom produced an evacuation more than once or twice a week—and not even then, without resorting to one or two injections before any relief.

Possibly you can imagine—I hope you may never experience—my sufferings from piles and otherwise, in consequence of costiveness and partial paralysis of the rectum. Such was my condition when by the advice of my physician I commenced the trial of your Kidney-Wort some three weeks ago. Since then I have taken nothing else excepting one small bluepill. Now by the use of one or two spoonfuls each week of the Kidney-Wort, the evacuations are sufficient and without suffering. Such a medicine is of priceless value, and I hope you will spare no pains in making known its virtues for the relief of suffering humanity.

Respectfully yours,
NELSON FAIRCHILD.

It is a "Heresy" Yet.

The New York Tribune publishes a letter written by the State Superintendent of Education of Louisiana, addressed to a northern publishing firm, in regard to a class book intended as a manual for the study of constitutional history, a copy of which had been sent to him by the publishers for his approval. He replies that he admires the style, arrangement and appearance of the book, and would be glad to introduce it into the schools under his control but for one thing, and that is, that he cannot consent that the heresy "that this is a Nation" should be taught to the children of Louisiana!

Notwithstanding all the talk of the democratic papers and orators about the south having accepted the results of the war in good faith, the evidence is cumulative and irresistible, that the younger generation at the south is being taught not only to reverence and admire the heroes of the rebellion, but to foster the same political principles of state sovereignty and sectional independence that resulted in secession, and this without any such modification as resulted from the education of the wealthier class of young southern men in northern institutions of learning, as was the custom before the war. Pride and prejudice, sectionalism and hatred are taught in the lessons of the public schools, and the younger generation is systematically led to misapprehend the causes, the history and the lessons of the rebellion, and confirmed in the false and pernicious theories that brought it about; and the result is as inevitable as it is unfortunate.

A Wonderful Bank.

A woman in Boston has for some time been running a "bank" called "The Ladies' Deposit," which as the name implies accepts deposits from women only. It is a wonderful bank, for it pays eight per cent interest per month on deposits! It would seem that this absurd rate of interest should in itself be sufficient to warn off everybody who had money to lose, but the concern has for months been doing a flourishing business, notwithstanding it has been liberally "blown up" by the fresh. It is just now the subject of a press attack from the Boston papers, which show conclusively that its business is not and cannot be a legitimate one from the very nature of the surrounding circumstances. Mrs. Sarah E. Howe, its manager, responds with a preposterous claim that she is enabled to pay the enormous rate of ninety-six per cent interest per annum, because the object is a charitable one and she is backed by wealthy people. The matter has been pretty thoroughly canvassed in Boston police circles and the criminal courts. The bank commissioners of Massachusetts have no authority to interfere with the affairs of a private corporation. The attorney general and district attorney have been consulted, and the subject has been pretty thoroughly discussed, but as yet there has been no opportunity to prosecute the parties behind the bank, the government attorneys being unwilling to take the case into court unless they have sufficient evidence to warrant a trial.

This concern partially suspended on Monday of this week; that is, it ceased paying those who received interest to Jan. 1st, but to all whose notes were falling due, gave them the choice whether they would receive the principal or interest. It should be understood that the depositors have no account book, such as is given out by savings banks. They receive a six months prommissory note signed by one individual; the object of this form of acknowledgement is of course to lessen the chances of criminal prosecution, in case of accident. The deposit becomes simply a loan from one individual to another. That persons otherwise intelligent should be willing to risk their money by loaning it to strangers in this way would seem incredible, but is nevertheless true; and among the patrons of the "bank" is Miss Abby Dodge, better known as Gail Hamilton, the brilliant and versatile writer, who has not only put in money of her own, but funds which she held in trust for others.

News and Notes.

The U. S. S. Constitution arrived at Fortress Monroe on the 4th inst., from Yorktown, Va.

Advices from St. Johns, Newfoundland, state that the case of Capt. McIntyre of the Gloucester fishing schooner Minnesota, who was driven from bait catching on the coast in June, is being investigated by the governor of the island, and testimony has been transmitted to the secretary of state for the colonies.

Chase's woolen mill at Lowell was burned on the 6th inst. The falling walls struck Faulkner's mill, which also was burned. Loss on former $200,000; on latter, $100,000; both insured. Over 300 hands are thrown out of work.

In the case at Lewiston, Me., of the State vs. Dunning C. Briggs, charged with fraudulently concealing property from his creditors in bankruptcy proceedings, defendent was found guilty. He appealed.

Burglars entered the room occupied by Edward C. Bassick at the Atlantic hotel at Bridgeport, Conn., on the night of the 4th inst., and stole diamonds and jewelry to the value of over $2,000. Bassick is from Belfast, Me., and arrived from New York that day, taking a room at the above hotel. He recently purchased a place in Bridgeport, and on the 4th drew from the bank $11,000. Besides this amount he had a little over $6,000 in cash, all of which was in his vest pocket, and together with a watch and chain put under his pillow, was not touched. The burglars entered the room by turning the key with nippers. It is thought that Bassick was followed from New York by the thieves.

R. G. Miller, city solicitor of New Brunswick, N. J., against whom indictments for embezzling $17,000 of city money were found by the grand jury, was arrested on the 4th inst. and placed under bonds of $10,000. The community is shocked, as he was very prominent there.

Mrs. William Clarke, wife of a leading business man of Jacksonville, Fla., and her three children, were terribly burned by the explosion of a gasoline stove, on the 5th inst. The three children lived but a few hours, and the mother cannot recover.

The whaling barque Hidalgo arrived at San Francisco from the Arctic on the 4th inst. She has no news of the Jeannette or the missing whalers. She saw the relief cutter Corwin, August 26th, off Point Belcher, steering southwest.

Mrs. Ellen Peck, wife of a respectable engineer of Brooklyn, was arrested Sept. 5th and lodged in jail, on an order charging her with misdemeanor in sub-letting a piano she had hired. Mrs. Peck was accused of obtaining $19,000 from B. T. Babbitt, the soap manufacturer, in 1878, on false representations, but escaped conviction. After this she was arrested on complaint of John D. Brady, who accused her of obtaining $20,000 worth of diamonds from him on false representations, but she again escaped conviction.

Frank Hooper of Greene, Me., and Chester Addition of South Leeds, were drowned on Sunday, the 3d inst., while attempting to cross Allen's pond in a small boat.

Joseph B. Andrews, of Lowell, Mass., his wife, and a young physician have been arrested on a charge of conspiring to blackmail Lyman W. Forbes. The police say that Andrews and his wife have acknowledged their guilt, but claim to have been instigated by the physician, who took this method to get from them the payment of a debt. They say that the parties inveigled Forbes into a questionable situation with Mrs. Andrews last June, on the strength of which they have extorted $70 from him. As the doctor stoutly protests his innocence, his name is withheld for the present.

There is considerable excitement among the members of the Unitarian church in Lawrence, Mass., over a difficulty between the pastor, Rev. Mr. Sanborn, and his people. The pastor resigned on the 26th ult., giving as a reason the fact that a prominent member of the society has been circulating stories reflecting on his character. The trustees of the society, however, requested him to withdraw his resignation. A meeting was held on the evening of the 4th inst., at which there were several excited altercations, and charges and counter charges, and the pastor was denounced by Hon. Wm. R. Spaulding as a liar. The society voted, by twenty-five to nineteen, not to accept the pastor's resignation, but he will renounce the ministry Jan. 4th, 1881. It is reported that he will institute legal proceedings against Spaulding for alleged libel.

Steamer European cleared from Savannah, Ga., on the 5th inst., with 7,900 bales of cotton and 190 tons of phosphate rock. This is the largest cargo of cotton ever cleared from any port in this country.

News has been received at Sydney, New South Wales, from the Solomon islands, that the captain and crew of the brig Esperanza have been massacred, the mate and a seaman of the wrecked vessel Ariel poisoned, and the second mate and a government agent murdered at Apri by natives.

The national board of health has closed all its quarantine stations, except the ones at Vicksburg and Norfolk, both of which will be kept in operation until the 15th inst. The annual report of the operations of the board is now being drawn up preparatory for submission to Congress.

Jacques Offenbach, author of the "Grand Duchess of Gerolstein" and other opera bouffes, is dead. He did a good deal in his day, in the way of degrading and debauching musical art.

A BRAVE LADY!

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely loose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed, she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait, she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, New York, who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to woman. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

AROUND HOME.

The partial alarm of fire on Wednesday evening was occasioned by the ringing of the bell at Kittery.

"My Partner" at Music hall this evening. Take your partner and go, for the play and the company are both good, unless our exchanges tell very wrong stories.

The seals which so delighted and interested visitors at Major Urch's aquarum during the past few months, it is said have been sold to a taxidermist in St. Johnsbury, Vermont.

Joseph W. Peirce, Esq., has been chosen a director in the National Mechanics & Traders' bank, to fill a vacancy in the board occasioned by the death of the late Charles Robinson.

The October term of the circuit court of the United States for the district of New Hampshire, begins at Exeter on Friday. The grand jury will meet on that day; the petit jury are to report on Tuesday, the 12th inst.

Senator Henry W. Blair of this state will address the citizens of North Hampton and vicinity at Centenial hall in that town on Friday evening, Oct. 8th. It is expected that a delegation from this city will be present.

A new safe was placed in the room of the clerk of the circuit court, in the United States court house in this city, on the 6th inst. The safe weighs 5500 lbs., and was made by the George L. Damon Steam Safe Co., of Boston.

At a meeting of the Board of Instruction, held Wednesday evening, the 6th inst., the resignation of Miss Giddings as teacher of the Cabot street primary school was accepted, and Miss Lizzie M. Flagg was unanimously chosen to fill the vacancy.

A letter from Mr. Geo. Riddle states that in addition to "The Sewing School for Scandal" and "Tot Plummer's First Assembly," he will on Friday night read Mrs. Browning's beautiful poem, "Mother and Poet." This poem gives the reader an opportunity to display his great powers of pathos, and adds much to the richness of the treat offered those who attend.

The commissioned officers of the Hancock & English Regiment convened at Congress Hall on Wednesday evening, and elected field officers as follows: Colonel, Frank W. Hilton; Lieut. Col., Andrew J. Sides; Major, Henry L. Marcy; the adjutant, and other staff officers, to be appointed by the colonel. The regiment now comprises nine companies, upwards of six hundred men all uniformed.

The Newburyport Herald says that in the superior civil court at Salem, Mass., on the 4th inst., in an action of replevin to recover possession of the schooner W. H. Y. Hackett, of Portsmouth, the jury by direction of the court rendered a verdict of one dollar for plaintiff. The defendant was Deputy Sheriff Potter of Essex county, who attached the vessel and her outfit in Beverly harbor last spring just as she was about leaving to go on a fishing trip, to satisfy claims against the vessel.

Mr. William Kennedy, of the firm of Peyser & Kennedy, died on the morning of the 6th inst., after an illness of about two weeks. Mr. Kennedy was a pleasant, cheerful, companionable man, and was much liked by his associates. He served his country for four years during the rebellion, as a member of a Massachusetts regiment, and was wounded at the battle of Spottsylvania. He was an Odd Fellow and a Knight of Pythias, and a member of the Veteran Artillery Association.

A letter received in this city from a gentleman in Evansville, Indiana, says that never in the history of that state has there been such a campaign as the present one—that the demonstrations and meetings of the republicans are immense in point of numbers and wonderful in enthusiasm. The letter closes by saying "don't let our down-east friends be troubled; we shall carry this state by from five to seven thousand plurality."

If the republicans carry Indiana by five hundred plurality it will more than satisfy us, and will virtually decide the presidential contest in Garfield's favor.

The republicans of Dover are to raise nine Garfield & Arthur flags to-night.

The second trial of Edward R. Ingalls of Candia, the alleged embezzler while treasurer of the town, has been assigned for the term of the supreme court meeting in this city Oct. 19th.

A grand republican rally and torchlight procession took place at South Newmarket on Monday night of this week. Gen. Walter Harriman delivered one of his ringing speeches, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed. Subsequent to the address, the drum corps, led by Oliver G. Sanborn, escorted the Towpath Guards of South Newmarket, Capt. John E. Simpson, and a like club from Newmarket, under command of Capt. A. C. Haines, through the principal streets, and at a late hour the gathering dispersed with vociferous cheers for Garfield & Arthur.

The Rockingham Christian Conference, which recently held its annual session with the church in North Hampton, was organized by the advice and request of the New Hampshire Christian Conference, Oct. 17th, 1832, forty-eight years ago, at the dwelling-house of Elder Mark Fernald, in Kittery, Me. Rev. D. P. Pike of Newburyport, Mass., was chosen secretary Sept. 11th, 1830, holding that office thirty-six years, when Rev. G. M. Payne was chosen, who held it until 1879, in which year the present secretary, Rev. John A. Goss, was chosen. All the ministers who were members at its organization are dead. Seventeen churches are connected with the conference, which numbers 1,680 members.

FRANKLIN THEATRE OPENING.

The "event of the season," the opening of the new Franklin theatre by the famous Ideal Opera Co., will take place on Thursday and Friday evenings, Oct. 14th and 15th. On the first night, Suppe's brilliant comic opera "Fatinitza" will be performed; and on the second night the old favorite "Pinafore" will be presented, as never before in this city. Particulars to-morrow.

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The republican senatorial convention for the 24th (Portsmouth) district met at the court house in this city on Wednesday evening, the 6th inst., and was called to order by Col. J. Horace Kent. Col. Wm. H. Sise was chosen president, and Wallace Hackett secretary.

Messrs. John Laighton, Henry M. Clark and William H. Rollins, as a committee on credentials, reported all the delegates elected, fourteen in number, to be present.

A ballot was taken for a candidate for senator, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	14
Necessary for a choice	8
John H. Broughton had	2
Titus S. Tredick	12

And Mr. Tredick was declared the nominee of the convention.

Messrs. William H. Rollins, John Laighton and Henry M. Clark were appointed a committee to notify Mr. Tredick of his nomination; and after adopting the resolutions passed by the republican state convention, the meeting adjourned without day.

A TRIBUTE.

At a meeting of veteran soldiers and sailors held on Wednesday evening, the 6th inst., the following was adopted:

Friends: While our banners are floating on the breeze, while the tap of the drum and the clang of the trumpet call us together as in earlier days, almost within the sound of our voices, there lies a soldier. Merry-hearted, generous, brave; never a laggard in the field; prompt to fulfill his share of all duty, however arduous; foremost in every good work, the life of social and domestic circle—Kennedy is no more.

But yesterday, radiant with hope; today, mustreed out of his earthly campaigns, but with colors flying and record clear.

What can we say to his widow and children more than this? We have known him long and well. If he had his faults, no man had fewer; and his virtues out numbered them an hundred fold. We held different political opinions, but we held them like men, and we render him the full tribute of a soldier's regard; and in the sublime presence of this great change, we confess that the spirit of true soldierly comradeship rises superior to any political consideration.

We offer to the family and friends of our comrade our sincere sympathy; and as a last testimonial of our effection and esteem, we will attend the funeral in a body.

EDWIN A. TILTON, for the Republican Veterans of Portsmouth.

GARFIELD & ARTHUR BATTALION--ATTENTION!

Garfield & Arthur Battalion, companies A, B, C and D, will meet at headquarters this evening for drill, at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

Connecticut Election.

The Hartford Courant of the 5th inst. had returns from 166 towns, all but five of those which held elections on the 4th. The constitutional amendment is adopted by about nine thousand majority. Eighty-nine towns are republican, fifty-six democratic, and fifteen divided. Of the five missing towns, four were republican in 1876, and are probably the same now. The result in 1876 was eighty-five democratic, sixty-nine republican and eleven divided. Republican gain, twenty towns; democratic loss, twenty-nine towns.

New Hampshire Items.

The October term of the supreme court for Merrimack county opened at Concord on the 5th inst., Chief Justice Doe presiding. There was a large attendance of the bar of the state and county.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of New Hampshire will hold its sixth annual meeting in the vestry of the Franklin street Congregational church, Manchester, Oct. 13th and 14th. The exercises will consist of annual business, reports of vice presidents, etc.

The valuation of New Hampshire is $169,453,432, a decrease of $1,941,296 from last year, which is accounted for by an increase of $1,922,655 in the savings banks deposit. The valuation of Manchester is the highest, $17,457,756; Concord, $10,103,057; Nashua, $8,620,574; Dover, $7,430,481; Keene, $6,761,173; Portsmouth, $6,472,404.

A contract has been awarded, in Chicago, for a monument to Geo. B. Armstrong, the founder of the railway mail service. The memorial, which is to be erected by clerks in the service, will be of New England granite, a pedestal surmounted by a standard metal bronze bust, five feet high.

The New York Historical society has directed its executive committee to make arrangements for the erection of a suitable memorial to Capt. Nathan Hale upon the spot where he was executed by the British, Sept. 22d, 1776.

The railroad commissioners of Massachusetts have issued a circular, calling the attention of railroad managers to the increasing number of accidents at grade crossings, and recommending that more care be exercised in deciding the question of placing gates or flagmen at dangerous crossings.

The British government has received information from trustworthy sources that an extraordinarily large quantity of arms has been recently imported into Ireland and distributed by the agitators.

Since the remarkable drought in Addison county, Vt., during the summer and fall, a new sort of thieving has developed, the scarcity of water among the residents of Middlebury making it necessary to guard their nearly exhausted wells and cisterns, the water thieves annoying the owners by stealing water at midnight.

—The eccentricities of stage names are amusing. Besides Mlle. Albani, there is a Mlle. Nevada, and prime donne will probably go on naming themselves like steamships. Just think how Mlle. City-of-Kalamazoo would sound in Italian.

—It is a remarkable characteristic of the waiters in Paris restaurants that, no matter what you may ask for, even if it be a fried piece of the moon, they will invariably reply "yes," and either bring it you, or, on returning, assert with sorrow, that unfortunately there is no more left. Mery, the well-known author, tried this joke once, and peremptorily ordered of a waiter a sphinx a la Marengo. "I am sorry to say we have no more, monsieur," replied the garcon. "What! No more sphinx?" exclaimed Mery, feigning astonishment. The waiter lowered his voice, and murmured in a confidential whisper: "We have some more, monsieur; but the truth is I should not care to serve them to you, as they are not quite fresh!"

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or ever-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&c

PITTSBURGH, PA., March 14th, 1879.
Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I was treated by four different physicians without avail for disease of the liver and uterus. Some time ago I commenced the use of your Favorite Prescription and Discovery, being at the time confined part of the time to my bed. At first my improvement was slow, but I now find myself well after the use of four bottles of each of the medicines. With many, many thanks,

I am, very respectfully,

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4th.

An influential class of Washingtonians will from this time forward insist on the passage by Congress of a law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in the district of Columbia. The movement has assumed shape. Last evening (Sunday) an enormous meeting was held at Lincoln Hall, and measures determined on which will result in bringing before Congress the most powerful lobby interest, without cash support, ever known. The figures given by a speaker at last night's meeting were as follows: "There are in Washington 500 restaurants, 60 hotel bars, 120 drug stores, 1200 grocery stores, at all of which liquor is sold at retail." The effort to be made at the next session of Congress, and if unsuccessful then, to be repeated, is such as the total abstinence people of this neighborhood never dreamed of.

It may be safely said of current discussions concerning Gen. Weaver's course, that well posted politicians here have no interest now on the subject. Among both republicans and democrats it is generally conceded that Mr. Weaver has little influence, and that whatever power he might have had over voters, ceased when the republicans and democrats failed to make expected nominations in June. People here had an idea, up to time of holding the democratic convention, that Weaver was in some sense a possibility.

The congressional committees of both parties have practically suspended the sending of documents to Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia. The latest democratic estimate of the result in those states is about as follows: Indiana, 10,000 democratic majority; Ohio, doubtful; West Virginia, 20,000 democratic majority. At the republican headquarters Ohio is claimed by at least 5000, and Indiana as doubtful. Secretary McPherson refused this morning to make any figures on West Virginia, but said it would go heavily democratic.

Figures for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1880, just now published officially, show that in the United States there are 104 free delivery post offices, employing 2,688 carriers. New York city has 470 carriers, Philadelphia 300, Chicago 187, Boston 186, St Louis 117, and Brooklyn 110. The number of pieces of mail matter handled at these 104 offices was 9,322,121,842. The total cost of the free delivery service was $2,363,593. The service was self-sustaining at only four offices.

Silas Patterson, the auburn-haired and effervescent son of the ex-senator from South Carolina, is in the city. Silas was asked to-day what he thought of the political outlook. "I don't care a d——," said he, "neither does the old man. The national committee wanted the old man to go down south and take the stump. The old man told them they didn't stand up to him when he was in the senate, and he d—— if he was going there now. Me and the old man are building a railroad in New York, and we don't care for politics. The republican party has gone to the devil, anyhow."

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD

A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT.

employing a man which men of eminent ability have devoted years of study and experiment to find—a specific for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous Systems—and from the time of its discovery has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of medical men and those who have used it; it has become a fair write with all classes and where it introduced has superseded all other treatments. In short, such is its intrinsic merits and superiority, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

are the most prevalent, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and insidious in their character, that persons often suffer for a long time before knowing what ails them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole body; pain in the back, side or loins, a weak, feeble, exhausted feeling; loss of appetite and dread of exertion; scanty and painful discharge of variously colored urine; inability to retain or expel the urine; minute shreds or casts in the urine; and, when the disease is of long duration, there is much emaciation and general nervous prostration.

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the first and only infallible cure for every form of Kidney disease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectual in its operation than any other treatment. By using faithfully and persistently no case will be found so inveterate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

STRONGLY ENDORSED.

We have the most unequivocal testimony to its curative powers from many persons of high character, intelligence and responsibility. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it.

DAY'S KIDNEY PADS are sold by druggists, or will be sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of their price: Regular, $2.00. Special, for obstinate cases of long standing, $3.50; Children's, $1.50.

Address,

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, take no other and you will not be deceived.

Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGARON, of Berlinhire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who think this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION! Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the follies of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nerve specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. HEAL THYSELF

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1846, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

OFFICE OF

COMMONWEALTH DISTRIBUTION CO.,

COURIER-JOURNAL BUILDING, LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 24th, 1880.

In direct violation of an agreement with Ex-Postmaster General Key, ordering the delivery of Registered Letters and the payment of Money Orders to the undersigned, pending the litigation in the United States Supreme Court, the Third Assistant Postmaster General has seen fit, in the absence his superiors, to set aside said order. The grounds upon which he justifies this action are, that all lotteries in Kentucky have been repealed, and are therefore illegal, and being illegal, are necessarily fraudulent, when, in fact, the franchise under which this Company draws solits that of the Louisiana Lottery Company, has never been repealed, and yet the Post Office Department discriminates in favor of that Company.

Comment is useless. Legal action will at once be taken by this Company, and, until further notice, correspondents are requested to send all remittances by plain letter or by express. Don't send by money order or registered letter.

A PARABLE.

In a little log church in the state of Virginia
Some negroes had gathered to worship the Lord;
And after the service they had a class meeting,
That each for the Master might utter a word.
Their leader exhorted, and spoke of the warfare
Which Christians should wage against error all way,
And finished by asking the following question:
"Which way is your musket a-p'intin' to-day ?"

One after another they gave their experience;
Some brothers were happy, some lukewarm or cold;
One saw his way clear to the portals of glory,
Another had strayed like a lamb from the fold.
At last Brother Barkis—a renegade member,
And Satan's companion for many a day—
Arose, cleared his throat; though visibly nervous,
He folded his arms and proceeded to say:

"Dear brudders and sisters, I once was a Christian,
I once was as happy as any one here;
I fit for de Church like a battle-scarred soldier,
And stood by her banners when traitors were near."

"Hold on, dar," the leader excitedly shouted;
"Please answer de question I axed you, I say;
I've given you credit for all you fit den, sir—
Which way is your musket a-p'intin' to-day ?"

* * * * * * *

The Democrats talk of the glory of Hancock,
And boast of the record of English as well;
Then give them one honor; for Judas was loyal
Till money was offered; he took it, and fell.
I would liken their boast to the boast of old Barkis,
And then with the class-leader, honestly say:
"Hold on, dar, my brudder, dat isn't the question!
Which way is their muskets a-p'intin' to-day ?"

Shall men who are training with Brigadier Generals
Who fought to destroy our national flag,
And rise from their seats in the Forty-sixth Congress
To eulogize traitors like Davis or Bragg ?
Shall men who bow down in Confederate caucus
And worship the masters they humbly obey,
Shall they rule the nation by Washington founded ?
"Which way is their muskets a-p'intin' to-day ?"

The question, my friends, is of vital importance;
The nation is waiting in anxious suspense;
Each voter can wield a political musket,
Then wield it, I ask, in your country's defense.
The issue before us is clear and unclouded;
Shall the nation be ruled by the Blue or the Gray ?
I candidly ask, fellow-soldier and voter,
"Which way is your musket a-p'intin' to-day ?"

A "Reform Democrat" Speaks.

Mr. James O. Lyford of Tilton, one of the most prominent of the young democratic leaders of New Hampshire, and for two years political editor of the Concord People, the leading democratic organ of the state, recently declared for Garfield & Arthur—a circumstance which caused both surprise and sorrow to his old party friends, as he had always been an ardent democrat, and wields a great deal of influence in Tilton and its vicinity. The Concord Monitor of the 6th inst. contained a letter from Mr. Lyford, giving his reasons for abandoning his old party, and it will be found "mighty interestin' readin'" for those democrats who shouted themselves hoarse for "Tilden and Reform" four years ago, and have been yelling "Fraud" ever since. The letter is as follows:

Editors of the Monitor: I had hoped in this campaign to remain a quiet spectator of political events, and as quietly on election day deposit a ballot for the candidate of my choice. My personal interests require all my time and attention; and modesty forbade my presuming to criticise the action of a national convention, which seemed to give such universal satisfaction to the democracy. But silence in my case, after the active part I have heretofore taken in politics, has caused unjust and unfavorable comment. Now, as I have never hesitated to speak openly my opinions, I desire briefly to state my reasons for repudiating the democracy:

I am opposed to the success of the democratic party in this campaign, because its triumph means the endorsement of Tammany and its corruption. With others of that party, I had repudiated Tammany under Tweed in 1870. I rejoiced when the St. Louis convention ignored its dictation in 1876. I gloried in its defeat in New York city in 1878. And I did not propose to be counted in at the surrender, when the party capitulated to John Kelly in 1880. When Tammany threw down the gauntlet to the democracy, and declared that if Tilden was nominated it would defeat the party because Tilden had exposed and punished its corruption, there was only one honorable and consistent course for the Cincinnati convention to pursue. That course was to renominate Tilden and Hendricks, pitch the key of the campaign on its ability to purify itself, and appeal to the country for its support. Then, if defeat had come, honor would have still been preserved. Now, if vanquished, it will be defeat coupled with disgrace. No matter how pure the personal character of its candidates, the stigma cannot be wiped out, that Tammany, which went down in disgrace under Tweed, whose interference was scorned at St. Louis, has again become the head-centre of the democracy, and is only waiting success at the polls in November to secure its complete vindication and restoration to power. Samuel J. Tilden may not be either a political saint or a political martyr;—but this fact stands out pre-eminently; he was the embodiment of all that there has been of reform within the party since its exit from power in 1860.

I am opposed to the success of the demo-

A British Free-Trader's View.

It is asserted that Fernando Wood, chairman of the house committee on ways and means, and author of the Wood tariff bill, brought from Europe $100,000 contributed by British manufacturers to aid the success of the democratic party. It was contributed by the capitalists there who desire to secure free trade in this country, and thereby reduce the wages of the laboring classes in the United States. —Boston Journal.

Are you in favor of the English workingman, or the American workingman;—of the English manufacturer, or the American manufacturer? The English raise money to promote the success of the Tariff-for-Revenue party; if you want to vote to please them, vote the democratic ticket.—Tribune.

Another republican paper remarks that Gen. Slocum, when he recently landed in New York from Liverpool, made no stop at all with his family but hastened at once to Indiana to meet the democratic managers there, and suggests that he bore a "golden message of cheer" to the free-trade democrats of the west. It may or may not be true that the British manufacturers and capitalists, who naturally object to the fostering of American industries by protection, have contributed largely in aid of the democratic party; but as a mere business transaction it is certain that they could profitably contribute millions to that end, as they would still make money through gaining control of the American market under a "tariff for revenue only." In this connection, the following extract is of interest:

If there was between the United States and ourselves a perfectly free and open trade, a distribution of industry unfettered by tariffs and by national jealousies, we [England] should be, speaking roughly, the manufacturing member and the United States the agricultural member of the partnership; and so it would continue until there was an approximation to efficiency of agricultural labor in the two countries, or an approximation to the efficiency of manufacturing labor. * * * It would thus appear that, for the present, every development of freedom would tend to make us [England] more and more the manufacturing centre of the industrial world.

This is not the argument of an American protectionist editor, in opposition to free trade. It is an extract from an article in the British Fortnightly Review, written by Mr. Courtney, the noted British political economist and free trader, to show conclusively why England should favor free trade, particularly as opposed to the American idea of protection. It is a very frank statement, and we commend its careful consideration to the American free-trader, and especially to the American citizen of Irish birth, inviting him to ask himself and his fellow citizens how he and they would like to see American manufactures extinguished and British manufactures superseding them both in America and in the foreign markets we now compete for, as a result of the free trade policy which the British rulers advocate for this country, and which the democratic party is pledged to inaugurate if successful in the coming election.

Again, Mr. Courtney says:

The relations between Holland and England, considered as branches of an economic machine, are precisely the same as the relations between Ireland and England; and if the fallacious legislation of Congress had not interfered to change their character, the relations between this country and the United States would have been of a similar character.

The "fallacious legislation of Congress" to which Mr. Courtney refers as the only thing which has prevented the United States from standing in the same industrial relation to England that Ireland does, is the protective legislation which the republican party upholds and which the democratic party denounces and promises to abolish. Should we, or should we not, be content to hold the same industrial relation to England that Ireland holds?

Political Notes.

Now is the time when the democratic editor bridges over a dearth of news by writing a letter, stating that "although he has always been a staunch republican, he will vote this year for the gallant Hancock," and adds that "many of his old republican friends will also vote for the hero of Gettysburg." Then he signs it "A Republican," and inserts it in the next number of his paper. And some of his readers actually believe that it was written by a republican.

A Washington dispatch says: "Regular army officers here who have been in sympathy with the Hancock 'boom' are somewhat disgusted with the talk of ex-confederate officers, who make no secret of the fact that they expect restoration to the army as soon as General Hancock is inaugurated. A prominent ex-confederate here a few days since declined a good business proposition, on the ground that he preferred to resume his place in the service, and that he had no doubt that he would if Hancock was elected, which he considered a certainty."

The democracy could always find enough authority in the federal government for hunting down slaves, but since slavery was abolished they have been unable to find any authority for protecting freemen. It was not centralization for Congress to set a blood-hound after a slave; it is only centralization to call him off. Freedom never was the equal of slavery, in the estimation of the democratic party.

The board of supervisors of Buffalo county, N. Y., are at a deadlock. Two republicans went over to the democrats, and one democrat to the republican side, making a tie vote. After filibustering all day they failed to organize, and after adjournment blows were freely exchanged by both sides, assisted by friends of the belligerent members. Adjourning to an adjoining saloon, a disgraceful row ensued. No arrests have been made.

Man's Inhumanity to Animals.

Editor Transcript: On the morning of the Fourth of July (appropriate time for securing independence for man and beast) a warm-hearted colored woman brought to the door of a lady at the west end, well known for her humanity, a handsome black and white pussy. She found her wandering, crying and bewildered; evidently a case of the summer desertion of winter pets and playthings, against which common decency revolts and every generous sentiment protests. Rev. Edward E. Hale, in the hearing of the writer, once addressed his congregation on this subject. It was his last sermon before the summer exodus. He said, I think, that he felt mortified at the thought that a reminder of so obvious a duty should be necessary; but that every summer testified to the thoughtless or deliberate cruelty of educated and church-going persons.

The lady received the cat at great personal inconvenience—she was ill at the time—had another cat in the house, and was obliged to shut the new visitor up separately, and give up her projects for the day. Notwithstanding all this, she went out to inquire of neighbors for the owner of the cat, and whom do you think, Mr. Editor, it proved to be? A reverend preacher of the gospel of Christ, who had told his little daughter to turn pussy into the street, as they were going away. The poor little abandoned pet was humanely chloroformed, and not left to be "picked up," or stoned to death by boys.—Boston Transcript.

Why Collyer Gave up Beer.

Robert Collyer says that when he was a boy it was determed that he must learn a trade. He says: There was an old blacksmith away over the moors, who had taught my father, and he was willing to teach me. In my father's time this man was a fine sober fellow, and a superb workman, but the years had made havoc of him without our knowing, and, boy as I was, I found in less than a week I had gone to live in the home of a confirmed drunkard. Still this was not the horror to me it would be to you. The proverb says the fox smells nothing amiss in his own den, and we thought of beer very much as we thought of bread, as the staff of life, and never imagined that anybody could condemn its use, while we thought no more of its hurting us than you do of yellow bread and dyspeptic pies hurting you.

I found again not only was the poor old man a drunkard, but the boys were led to drink a great deal more than we had ever thought of in the old home. We had each one of us about a quart of ale a day, and the farmers who came to the shop were forever standing treat. It is a painful story, stretching over eight years, as you may see years full of peril. I was in some sort manager at last, and came home one day from another shop we had, after an absence of a week, to find that the old man, who was a tower of strength in my father's time, had taken to his bed. He had been on a fearful drunk, and it was the last. I went in to see him. He looked up sadly, and said in our native speech: "I'se varra badly, lad, and I'se boon to dee, and I want thee to read me summat out o' t' Bible to get me ready." He did not allude to the curse that had slain him, nor did I, but saw to him three months, and then one morning as I was lifting him, great gouts of blood came welling out of his chest, and he was dead. Why do I tell you this? Was I still a partaker in the sin?

The good blood began to tell now, and the clean breeding, and that help of God without which a man's life is a rope of sand. It was not hard work. The thing was very simple. I saw it was growing on me to love drink, and said: "This will never do. If I keep on I shall be in the gutter with the old man. I will never touch a glass of beer again, or anything of the sort, until I am sure of myself, and forever sure, because in any fight between a man and a beer-barrel the man ought to win." I kept my word, made to myself.

—The engineer of a train near Montreal saw a large dog on the track. He was barking furiously. The engineer blew the whistle at him, but he did not stir, and, crouching low, he was struck by the locomotive and killed. There was a bit of white muslin on the locomotive, and it attracted the attention of the engineer, who stopped his train and went back. There lay the dead dog and a dead child, which had wandered upon the track and had gone to sleep. The dog had given his signal to stop the train, and had died at his post.

Pleasant Letters.

They are sheets of sunshine. A Methodist clergyman of Hartford, Conn., writes Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., that "Favorite Remedy" cured him of chronic liver disease and indigestion, from which he had suffered for a long time. This was splendid, but nothing more than anyone may expect who uses this medicine. One dollar a bottle is a small consideration when health is in question. The clergyman says he is going to introduce Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" among his people. He can't do better. Health is always a friend of religion.

ROSY-CHEEKED WOMEN. There ought to be more of them. A rosy complexion, if it be natural, makes the plainest face beautiful; for with it, we find the sprightly mind, the elastic step, the ringing laugh—in a word, health. The cause of listless and sallow cheeks in women is often unsuspected even by themselves. It is, in too many cases, a derangement of the kidneys, bladder, liver, or urinary organs. For these diseases, Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, is a sure cure. Hunt's Remedy is safe, effectual, and pleasant to take. Try it, ladies, and bloom again. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

Mrs. Frank Crocker, the well known disturber of woman's rights meetings, attempted to shoot Mrs. J. B. Smith, her step-mother, at Milwaukee on the 6th inst., but succeeded only in shooting off one of her own fingers,—another instance of the trouble which results when a woman trenches on man's vested rights. She was arrested.

A BRAVE LADY!
She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation without Taking Chloroform.
(From the Courier.)
Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely loose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed, she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait, she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, New York, who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to woman. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

AROUND HOME.

Messrs. Jackson and Akerman of this city, and Niles of Dover, a trio of veteran express men, went to Concord on Thursday last to attend the the funeral of the late Nathaniel White.

The season for heavier clothing has arrived, and Ayers & Locke have just opened a large stock of fall goods. Call and see their new line of cloaks—just the thing wanted now, and selling cheap. See their advertisement in another column.

All soldiers and sailors of the late war, regardless of political affiliation, are invited to meet at Light Battery hall, Daniel street, on Sunday, Oct. 10th at 12 M., sharp, to attend the funeral of our late comrade William Kennedy. Dark clothes, and white gloves.

EDWIN A. TILTON, For Veteran Soldiers and Sailors.

The National Convention of Shipowners and Shipping Merchants met in Boston on the 6th inst., with delegates present from the boards of trade and chambers of commerce of many cities all over the Union. Col. Wm. H. Sise represented the Portsmouth board of trade.

A Newburyport despatch of Thursday, the 7th inst., says: "James Cilley and William Hanscom, operatives, went fishing this morning, and when crossing the bay their boat was swamped by a sea, Hanscom being drowned, and Cilley rescued by Capt. Norton of schooner Genevieve. Hanscom was thirty-two years old, married, and recently came from Portsmouth, N. H."

The democratic senatorial convention for district No. 24, comprising wards one, two and four of this city, was held in Congress hall, on Thursday evening. Samuel W. Moses, Esq., was elected president, and John W. Clark secretary. The committee on credentials reported fourteen delegates present and entitled to seats in the convention. John S. Treat was unanimously nominated for senator on the first ballot.

The Times is very much exercised because the republican senatorial convention for the Portsmouth district nominated a new man, instead of re-nominating the gentleman chosen two years ago. It was generally understood by republicans, when the two-years-incumbency of state officers became a constitutional provision, that one term was to be thenceforth the rule, instead of two terms, as had been customary under the one-year arrangement; and they commenced applying the new rule with the governor, nominating a new man though Gov. Head has had but one term, and have carried the rule out in nearly every instance, only one senator having been renominated, we believe. Of the representatives from this city who were elected two years ago, we are not aware that any look for a renomination.

About a week ago a very absurd and preposterous kitten, colored white, black and red—a "tortoise-shell" or "calico" kitten—came into our office and comfortably ensconced herself in the waste basket. The waste basket was already occupied by another kitten of about the same size and color as the interloper, and their close similarity of appearance causes us much embarrassment, as we can't tell them apart. Besides, while we can manage to get along very well with one kitten climbing up and down our legs, it becomes a little rough when two of them get at it, each trying to pull the other down by the tail, as owing to circumstances over which we have no control we have not yet put on our other pants, ready for winter. We request the owner of the interloper—or anybody else who wants her—to come in and carry her off; she is tame as can be—will eat right out of your hand, and will make a choice pet.

Mr. Editor: I read in the CHRONICLE of Thursday morning an item that it was rumored that the seals at the aquarium had been sold to a Vermont taxidermist. It is difficult to believe such a statement when confidently asserted; but when published on hearsay evidence alone, it appears almost libellous. I do not think any man with a particle of humanity in his composition would consent to have such docile, intelligent and confiding pets knocked in the head simply to gratify an inordinate love of lucre. The patrons of the aquarium and the public generally were assured by a newspaper statement a few days ago that the seals were to be taken out to sea, and liberated. Fishermen were asked not to hurt them if they came near their boats, as the jolly little fellows were sure to do after their acquaintance with civilized men. Their familiarity with human beings has rendered them so confiding that it would seem like the betrayal of a friend to allow their innocent blood to be shed at the behest of a country taxidermist. MERCY.

HANCOCK VETERANS.

At a meeting of the Hancock veterans, last Thursday evening, a battalion organization was effected, as follows:

Major, David Urch;

1st Company—Captain, Geo. E. Hodgdon; 1st Lieut., J. Wesley Young; 2d Lieut., John C. Stevens; 1st Sergt., Francis A. Allen; 2d Sergt., George R. Raitt.

2d Company—Captain, Horace J. Willey; 1st Lieut., Nicholas Zambelli; 2d Lieut., James McClure; 1st Sergt., John McCombie; 2d Sergt., Samuel Blachford.

Color Sergeant, Thomas R. Moore.

CONCORD & PORTSMOUTH R. R.

The annual meeting of the stockholders in this corporation was held at Manchester on Thursday. Hon. Stephen Kenrick of Franklin, president of the corporation, presided.

Thomas H. Odion of Portsmouth, Seth Eastman of Concord and George B. Chandler of Manchester were appointed to receive, sort and count the votes for directors. The committee reported the whole number of votes to be 1600, all of which were for Stephen Kenrick of Franklin, Samuel N. Bell of Manchester, Benjamin F. Martin of Manchester, Joseph B. Walker of Concord, Walter M. Parker of Manchester, John J. Pickering of Portsmouth, and John J. Bell of Exeter; and the gentlemen named were declared elected.

The directors subsequently elected Stephen Kenrick president, and William H. Hackett clerk.

THE DOVER OBSERVATORY.

When Harrison Haley, Esq., bethought himself of erecting a tower on Garrison hill, he could not have imagined what an incalculable service he was doing to the city of Dover, and to everybody with a single atom of the love of the beautiful in them. 'Tis certainly one of the grandest enterprises that has ever been carried to perfection in this city. Monday afternoon a representative of the Republican, upon the polite invitation of Mr. Haley, visited the observatory, but he was not prepared for what was to meet his gaze. A fine carriage road stretches from the door yard of Joseph Ham upwards, and winds around the rounded eminence; this road is not quite completed, but will be unsurpassed by other roads located in like places. It has been built under the careful superintendence of Mr. Ham, who is connected with Mr. Haley in the enterprise. Arrived at the clear space at the top, the tower is at hand, and a splendid view is presented to the eye. There is a beautiful grove veiling the crest of the hill, which has been cleared and fitted up for picnic parties.

But of course, the principal attraction is the tower. On the first floor, which is closed in, will be a restaurant. There are four floors above this, all of them open so that there is an unobstructed view of the country in every direction. As one ascends from floor to floor the horizon expands, though the beauty of the prospect from the middle floor cannot be surpassed. Around each of the galleries is to be a strong wooden balustrade three feet high, and a foot higher an iron rod, so that none save a suicide can fall. The architectural appearance of the structure, which towers to the height of sixty-five feet, is greatly enhanced by a mansard roof and a staff on the very pinnacle, from which will proudly float the stars and stripes. This tower is built on the same plan as one at Davis' mill, Philadelphia, and one at Coney island, New York.

The grounds and tower will be formally opened the first of the coming week. The fee for passage over the road has been placed at ten cents for a carriage, no matter what kind, or the number of passengers that it carries; also ten cents admission for those who enter the observatory. Over 6000 tickets have already been sold.—Dover Republican, Oct. 6th.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

A young man by the name of George Dame, of Eliot, was out gunning in the vicinity of Dover point on the 4th inst., when the gun burst and one of his hands was blown off.

Produce thieves are doing a brisk business in Wells. A few days since, A. C. Clark had ninety pounds of butter taken from his cellar. J. P. Littlefield had seventeen bushels of potatoes taken from his cellar, and T. P. Tilton has lost eighteen bushels from his barn. Others have suffered the loss of squashes, onions, apples, etc. In some cases apples have been gathered in broad daylight. No clue to the authors of this mischief has been discovered.

The schooner Horatio Nichols arrived at Portsmouth bridge on Wednesday, the 6th inst., from Exeter, and on Thursday arrived at the Kittery marine railway, to be hauled out for thorough repairs. While on the ways she will be fitted with a new bowsprit, and have a new centre-board box put in and everything else done that is required to put her in first-class condition. Her trip to Exeter has taken up considerable time, as she arrived in the lower harbor on or about the 7th of September.

New Publications.

We have received the "Folio" for October, containing the following pieces: "The Cows are in the Corn," encore song by Herbert Leslie; "Mother dearest, raise my pillow," song by Tony Williams; "The Cork Leg," comic song by Latham; "Rippling Wave Mazurka," by Herbert L. Eddy; "Gen. James A. Garfield's Grand March," by A. E. Warren; "Marche Triomphale," by L. Streabbog; "Autumn Twilight," fantaisie de concert, by A. W. Holt; "Brightest and Best of the Sons of the Morning," song by Frank U. Downing. Also a portrait of the late Ole Bull, the celebrated violinist.

"The Back-bay District and the Vendome;" thirty-two pages, illustrated; price twenty-five cents. This little work describes and illustrates a district of about 1000 acres that the city of Boston has added to its area by filling in the salt marshes and waste flats of the back bay. The district thirty years ago was wholly unimproved; now it is one of the finest architectual sections in the world. On it are many of Boston's celebrated public institutions, churches, hotels, and residences. The Vendome is the white marble hotel that is being erected at a cost of $1,000,000. The book contains numerous engravings, giving views of prominent buildings in the district described. The author is Moses King, editor of "The Harvard Register," "King's Hand-Book of Boston," "Harvard and its Surroundings," "King's Pocket-Book of Cincinnati," etc.

John Belford was sentenced at Laconia, on the 6th inst., to seven years in state prison, for breaking and entering a store.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&c

Not Open to Objection.

Temperance people often say that most of the popular medicines they see advertised are nine-tenths rum. That is true of many, but not of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." The doctor agrees with his temperance friends that it is better to die of disease than of drink. "Favorite Remedy" cures kidney troubles, liver complaints, constipation of the bowels, as nothing else does or ever did. It drives away sickness. It cools the blood. It costs only a dollar to try it. Ask your druggist or send to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

The funeral services of the late Nathaniel White of Concord took place in the Universalist church in that city on Thursday, Oct. 7th, and were conducted by Rev. J. H. Moore, assisted by Mrs. Lucy Stone and Mrs. Mary A. Livermore. There was almost a panic in the church at one time, the floor of the densely crowded church settling a little, but the coolness and courage of Mrs. Livermore averted what might have been a serious disaster.

We have tried Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in our family, and can assert that it is the best remedy for a cough or cold ever introduced. Price 25 cts.

At Manchester, on the 6th inst., Arthur S. Hall, about eighteen years old, while removing a loaded gun from a wagon, was shot in the left side, the whole charge entering his body just below the heart, inflicting a fatal wound.

Nineteen twentieths of all sickness arises from weak or impure stomachs. D. R. V. G. will purify the stomach, and all is well. Try it. Guaranteed by all druggists.

The annual parade of the Concord fire department took place on the 6th inst., and was followed by a review by the mayor and city government and a dinner at the city hall, where speeches and toasts appropriate to the occasion were made.

All the nourishment of malt liquors, without their objections, found in Malt Bitters.

ocratic party, because it means the ascendancy of the same element of the party south who sold out its national candidates in 1876. I was one of those democrats who believed that Tilden was elected in that campaign. I also believed that he would have demonstrated that fact to the satisfaction of the whole country, had it not been for treachery of southern leaders like Lamar of Mississippi, Gordon of Georgia, and Bogy of Missouri. For the sake of their own selfish interests they were "Good Lord" to Tilden before election, and "Good Devil" to Hayes after the votes were counted. They cried for Hancock in 1880 as they cried for Tilden in 1876; but who will be sponser for any greater fidelity on their part now than then?

I am opposed to the success of the democratic party because the nomination of Hancock and English leaves it without any living issue to present to the country for its consideration and support. For four years it has shouted itself hoarse, crying "Fraud." It has been emblazoned on its every banner. It has been the thickest plank of every platform, and it has been the sum and substance of every stump speech made since the inauguration of Mr. Hayes. Every other issue has been ignored, and the party has frittered away every opportunity to demonstrate its fitness for governing the country and framing new issues, because the "rape of the Presidency was a crime never to be forgotten or condoned." Having staked all upon the fraud issue, having made it paramount to all else, and having in convention snubbed both the head and tail of the ticket of 1876, the democratic party presents the anomalous feature of appealinge to the country, for the first time in its history, with no other object than a chance to divide the spoils of office.

In 1864 the party declared itself opposed to the war. In 1868 the issue was reconstruction. In 1872 it was peace and reconciliation. In 1876 it was economy and reform. But in 1880 it is simply a change for the sake of a change. Being neither a candidate for an office, nor the expectant of a contract, I know of no reason why I should longer continue as a democrat.

One thing more. My political education has been that of a State Rights Democrat. The heretical part of that doctrine was settled by the war. But there is a part of the theory which I still adhere to. I believe that New Hampshire has just as many rights as South Carolina. Where the interests of my state and section are opposed to those of another state and section, I am for the interests of my state. The tariff question is again a leading issue. New England and New Hampshire are manufacturing communities. The south is a producing country. New England desires a protective tariff; the south, free trade. Therefore, on the principle of the fathers, that a man is in duty bound to protect the interests of his state, I am for the interests of New Hampshire, a protective tariff, and the republican party.

JAMES O. LYFORD.

Tilton, N. H., Oct. 5, 1880.

Fall Ploughing.

We fully believe in fall ploughing, and advise it when practicable. We know all the objections that can be raised, but the benefits fully counterbalance them. We like to turn over sod land as early as possible that it may decay and become better prepared for working in the spring. Old land we prefer to plough quite late, even when the same freezes at night. The eggs of many insects, and the insects themselves, may be destroyed in this way. The weeds are all covered under, as well as whatever may remain of the crop, all of which go to help improve the soil. If the soil is wet we plough so as to leave it in ridges, and in the spring it will be in very much better condition than if left flat. Plough when you can in the fall.—Congregationalist.

PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLE it has acted like a charm. It basecured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON MARCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGADON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me. It is completely curing a sore—Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY? BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD

A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT,

supplying a want which men of eminent ability have devoted years of study and experiment to find—A specific for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System—and from the time of its discovery has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of medical men and those who have used it; it has become a favorite with all classes and where first introduced has superseded all other treatments. In short, such is its intrinsic merits and superiority, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

are the most prevalent, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and insidious in their character, that it generally eludes skill for a long time before knowing what ails them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole body, pain in the back, side or loins, a weak, tired, exhausted feeling, loss of appetite and dread of exertion, scanty and painful discharge of variously colored urine, inability to retain or expel the urine, minute stones or casts in the urine, and, when the disease is of long duration, there is usually consolation and general nervous prostration

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the first and only infallible cure for every form of Kidney disease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectual in its operation than any other treatment. By using faithfully and persistently no case will be found so inveterate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

STRONGLY ENDORSED.

We have the most unequivocal testimony to its curative powers from many persons of high character, intelligence and responsibility. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it.

DAY'S KIDNEY PADS are sold by druggists, or will be sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of their price: Regular, $1.00. Special, for obstinate cases of long standing, $5.00; Children's, $1.50. Address

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, take no other and you will not be deceived.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

OFFICE OF

COMMONWEALTH DISTRIBUTION CO.,

COURIER-JOURNAL BUILDING, LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 24th, 1880.

In direct violation of an agreement with Ex-Postmaster General Key, ordering the delivery of Registered Letters and the payment of Money Orders to the undersigned, pending the litigation in the United States Supreme Court, the Third Assistant Postmaster General has seen fit, in the absence of his superiors, to set aside said order. The grounds upon which he justifies this action are, that all lotteries in Kentucky have been repealed, and are therefore illegal, and being illegal, are necessarily fraudulent, when, in fact, the franchise under which this Company draws unlike that of the Louisiana Lottery Company, has never been repealed, and yet the Post Office Department discriminates in favor of that Company.

Connect is secure. Legal action will at once be taken by this Company, and, until further notice, correspondents are requested to send all remittances by registered letter or by express. Don't send by money order or registered letter.

Daily Chronicle.

The Newfoundland Fishery Outrages.

At last, after a great deal of delay, the Newfoundland authorities, have felt compelled to take some notice of the outrageous misconduct of their people toward American fishermen. The governor recently sent for a Newfoundland pilot, Thomas Goss, "the only reliable witness who can so far be procured," and took his testimony. Goss, it seems, was engaged as pilot by the master of the American schooner Minnesota, and while he was so acting the schooner came upon the grounds where, under the treaty, Americans were allowed to take bait. The Minnesota's crew commenced to catch bait, whereupon they were set upon by a furious crowd from the shore, men and women, who pelted them with "showers of stones," so that our people had difficulty in reaching their vessel alive. They had gone out in boats to take the bait. Having been thus prevented from exercising their rights under the treaty, and violently driven off, a Newfoundland man came along and offered to procure what bait the Minnesota needed near his own home for the sum of four dollars, and the captain of the Minnesota, being a practical as well as a peaceable man, accordingly paid for his bait and went on his way to the fishing banks.

This incident tells the whole story of these Newfoundland outrages. The coast people, without the color or even pretence of law, violently attack and drive off our fishermen, because they want to force them to buy bait and fish from them, instead of taking it themselves. But the treaty gives American fishermen the right to catch bait for themselves, and the exactions of the Newfoundland men are simply blackmail. The shameful point in the matter is that the Newfoundland authorities, though they have known for two years that this business has been going on, have not interfered for the protection of our people or the prevention of utterly lawless acts by their own. The authorities have not in any case, so far as we remember, officially interfered with our fishermen; but they have tolerated on their own coast and by their own people a degree of lawlessness which amounts to little better than piracy, and which, they ought to see, not merely injures and wrongs our people, but demoralizes their own.

Women as Lawyers.

Though old Mr. Fogy has long questioned woman's fitness to practice law, and her opinions concerning legal matters, no one has ever questioned her opinion concerning Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For women freely affirm that the Prescription is a positive cure for those "dragging-down" sensations, and the many diseases and weaknesses peculiar to their sex. The Favorite Prescription is sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee.

PITTSBURGH, PA., March 14th, 1879.

Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—I was treated by four different physicians without avail for disease of the liver and uterus. Some time ago I commenced the use of your Favorite Prescription and Discovery, being at the time confined part of the time to my bed. At first my improvement was slow, but I now find myself well after the use of four bottles of each of the medicines. With many, many thanks,

I am, very respectfully,

MARY E. GRACE.

—Algiers has a river of ink, formed by the union of two branches, one coming from a region of ferruginous soil and the other from a peat swamp. The iron of the one and the gallic acid of the other unite to form a true ink.

Set Back 42 Years.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, &c.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was old worn out man all over; could get nothing to help me, until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial." —(Father.)—Sunday Mercury.

—The Chinese can handle mortars, and produce great destruction. Inexperienced drug clerks can compete with Chinese cheap labor in this respect, and give them points, besides.—Boston Globe.

He had not slept a wink for twenty-four hours, coughing all the time. His sister bought a 25 cent bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at the nearest drug store, gave him a dose, and the cough was broken at once and he slept quietly during the night.

News and Notes.

A train from North Adams, Mass., for Boston, over the Fitchburg railroad, was near Littleton on the night of the 7th inst. when the two rear cars left the rails, and struck a freight train on a siding. The derailed cars, which were filled with passengers, were badly wrecked, and many persons hurt. Enos Varney, the master car-builder of the road, and a Mr. Falker of Ayer, were killed.

At Silver Reef, Utah, on the 6th inst., Thomas Forrest, who was in jail on a charge of murdering a mine boss who had discharged him from employment, was taken out by a mob of masked men, and hanged.

"Nan the newsboy," who has won such fame as the rescuer of drowning persons in New York, has sadly fallen of late. He was appointed on the police force, but has several times become intoxicated while on duty and has been suspended.

There is prospect of a dissolution of the Oneida (N. Y.) Community. It has been decided to convert it into a joint stock company. Heretofore its property has been held in trust by four members. The capital stock is to be $600,000, divided into shares of $100 each. This is regarded as a step toward dismemberment.

Another daring plot to effect a wholesale release of prisoners from the state prison at Concord, Mass., has been discovered and frustrated through the vigilance of the officials. The spot selected by the convicts was the last wing of the prison, where prisoners had in some unaccountable way obtained possession of false keys to nearly every door in the dilyson, and, in addition, had sawed an iron bar nearly through, so that it could easily be broken when a preconcerted signal for escape should be given. Since the discovery of the plot, extra precautions have been taken by placing new locks and bolts in the entire division. A later account says that the prison officials have reason to think that there are in existence to-day, and probably inside of the prison, false keys made either in the prison or in some large city by friends of the convicts. Of late extra precautions have been taken. It is thought those implicated in the plot are of the most desperate class, but no names are divulged. This is the third conspiracy frustrated since the removal of the prison to Concord.

Advices from Dublin, Ireland, say Mr. Parnell has formed an alliance with the national party; and the land league and nationalists, or Fenians, must hereafter be considered friendly organizations, working side by side for a common object. The agitation is no longer merely a land movement; it is becoming more far-reaching, and it will be difficult to conjecture the result; the Fenians hope for open rebellion. The government has ordered the barracks at Atlone, Carlow, Sligo and other places in the west of Ireland, to be prepared for the full complement of troops they are capable of accommodating.

New Hampshire Items.

It is reported that G. S. Patten, hailing from Biddeford, Me., Franklin, and other places, and having with him a woman not his wife, although one or more of his wives are living, has been stopping at Plymouth, pretending to be a Grand Army member, and defrauding various people.

Steel rails are being laid for a number of miles on the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad north of Warren Summit; a considerable quantity had been previously laid south, some at intervals of about twenty miles.

Four daring burglaries were committed in Manchester on Thursday night, the houses of S. C. Forsaith, N. W. Cumner, Horace Stearns and A. L. Fogg being entered. Forsaith lost a valuable gold watch, engraved with Masonic and Odd Fellows' emblems. Between $75 and $100 was taken from Mr. Stearns. The others suffered but little. The burglars were seen by Mrs. Cumner, who raised an alarm. Entrance was gained by turning the keys in the doors with forceps. The regues are believed to be professionals.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Geo. Heath and Geo. Johnson, of Wells, were taken before Justice Haley on the 5th inst., charged with the larceny of a quantity of potatoes belonging to T. P. Hilton, and were bound over to the January term of the supreme court.

Of forty-seven premiums on stock awarded at the late York county fair in Biddeford, twenty-two went to exhibitors from Kennebunk and Kennebunkport, the other twenty-four towns in the county taking but twenty-five premiums altogether.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

We will pay the above reward for any case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation or Costiveness we cannot cure with West's Vegetable Liver Pills, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely Vegetable, and never fail to give satisfaction. Sugar Coated. Large boxes, containing 30 Pills, 25 cents. For sale by all Druggists. Beware of counterfeits and imitations. The genuine manufactured only by JOHN C. WEST & CO., "The Pill Makers," 181 & 183 W. Madison St., Chicago. Free trial package sent by mail prepaid on receipt of a 3 cent stamp. deowSo11'81

WHIPS! All qualities and prices; at LARRABEE'S, 29 Congress St.

RALLY AT KITTERY.

A grand republican rally was held just across the river in Kittery on Thursday evening, the 7th inst. The Garfield & Arthur Battalion met at their head-quarters at the "Foreside" at half-past six o'clock, and proceeded to Kittery point, where they met the company belonging there, whom they escorted to the head-quarters, from which at about eight o'clock the line of march was taken for the scene of the flag-raising. The procession consisted of about two hundred and fifty uniformed torch bearers, as follows:

Co. A., Augustus Stevenson, captain;
Co. B., Moses D. Moore, captain;
Co. C., Nicholas E. Spinney, captain;
Kittery Point Co., Jesse F. Patch, captain;
Cadets, (boy's company,) D. H. Nason, captain.

The battalion was commanded by Major Dennis M. Shapleigh, with Lieut. E. A. Duncan as adjutant.

Arriving at the place of flag-raising, near the depot in Kittery, the flag was flung to the breeze amid cheers for the candidates and the discharge of fireworks, at the end of which Calvin L. Hayes, Esq., in a few well chosen remarks, introduced to the audience, (which must have numbered at least six hundred) the speaker of the evening, Hon. Nathaniel Hobbs, judge of probate for York county.

Many houses on the route of the procession were illuminated, and the demonstration was one of the finest ever witnessed in the town.

A slight disturbance was occasioned by two or three ardent democrats, or rather democrats filled with "ardent," which was quickly suppressed.

A BRAVE LADY!

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely loose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed, she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait, she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, New York, who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to woman. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

AROUND HOME.

Abby's Humpty Dumpty troupe will appear at Music hall on Monday evening, Oct. 18th.

The republicans of this city and vicinity, and citizens generally, will be addressed at Music hall this evening by Gen. John L. Swift of Boston, one of the best campaign speakers in New England. Music by the Kittery band. All are invited.

There is no truth whatever in the rumor that J. S. H. Frink, Esq., the prohibition candidate for county solicitor of Rockingham county, will give up his extensive legal practice until after the election, in order to stump the county in behalf of the prohibition ticket.

The Times cannot dissemble its grief over the action of the republicans in nominating T. Salter Tredick, Esq., as a candidate for state senator from the Portsmouth district. We don't wonder at it; the confederate major nominated for the same position by the democrats will not make a very brilliant showing as against Mr. Tredick.

Mr. Wm. B. Hussey, boot and shoe maker and dealer, on Friday shifted his place of business from No. 37 Market street to No. 51 Congress street, (Franklin building,) where he can hereafter be found. He still has on hand some of his old stock of goods, and in order to clear out the same he will for some days to come offer extra bargains to anybody who wants anything in his line. Persons needing foot-wear will do well to give Mr. Hussey a call.

At the business meeting of the New Hampshire Universalist state convention, which closed its session in this city on Thursday last, the following officers were elected: President, Rev. L. McKinney of Manchester; vice president, Rev. G. L. Demorest of Manchester; secretary, Rev. Benton Smith of South Newmarket; treasurer, Hon. Joseph Kidder of Manchester; trustee, Col. Thomas Pierce of Nashua. The convention voted to hold its next annual session in Nashua.

Franklin theatre has its grand opening next Thursday and Friday evenings, with a greater array of talent than was ever before presented in Portsmouth, as will be seen by reference to the advertisement. As has long been promised, Henry C. Barnabee reappears upon the Portsmouth stage after being sadly missed for a number of years—the first evening in "Fatinitza," in which opera a New York critic says he has made one of his best hits, and on Friday evening as Sir Joseph in "Pinafore." With such a company of brilliant stars, Franklin theatre will have the grandest kind of opening, and the friends of the enterprising proprietor anticipate for it a corresponding success. Every seat appears to afford a good view of the stage. The hall has a cozy, snug appearance, which will be very pleasing to the audience, and there is plenty of space beneath the gallery to give to the occupant of every seat a good hearing of all that is said upon the stage.

The Newburyport Herald gives the following particulars of the drowning of William Hanscom of this city on Newburyport bar, on the 7th inst. Hanscom, who recently arrived in Newburyport from Portsmouth to work in the Ocean mill, in company with James F. Cilley started out before daylight in a small wherry, to catch some fish. They were unacquainted with the bar and its attendant dangers, and were rowing out with a strong tide, when they saw a wave break right ahead of them, and in a minute they were swamped. Hanscom, who was a good swimmer, immediately struck out for the shore, and had gone some fifty yards, though hampered with heavy clothes and with overcoat, when he called out to Cilley that he was drowning, and almost immediately went down. Cilley could not swim, but he grabbed the sail, wound up with the mast, which was not set, and rolled out of the boat. The accident happened about quarter past five o'clock, and at seven o'clock the crew of the schooner Guinevere, which was lying to off the bar waiting to run in, saw what they supposed was a loon, and were watching it, when they learned it was a man's head. He was outside the automatic buoy at the time, and they took him aboard almost senseless, having been in the water for about two hours. The boat, oars, etc., were recovered, but nothing was seen of Hanscom's body.

A boy named Purington, son of Bradbury G. Purington of Exeter, while playing in the yard of one of the public schools in that town on Friday, broke his leg.

The Boys in Blue have passed a resolution to ask the state central committee to send Hon. H. W. Blair to address the citizens of Portsmouth, during the present campaign.

The Boys in Blue, Garfield & Arthur Battalion, Garfield Cadets and Winchester Cadets of this city, have received an invitation to participate in a grand republican rally and torch-light procession in Dover on Thursday, Oct. 14th, under chief marshalship of A. H. Young.

The republican campaign organizations made arrangements Friday evening for a preliminary street drill on Monday evening next. Col. J. Horace Kent was chosen chief marshal, the programme for the march to be laid out by the colonel and the chiefs of divisions. We hope that residents on the line of march will not be chary of their gas-light as the procession passes.

DAMON LODGE, NO. 9, K. OF P.

Members of the order are requested to meet at Pythian hall, on Sunday, at 12 o'clock, to attend the funeral of their late brother, William Kennedy. Dark clothes, white gloves. Members having uniforms will please wear them.

EDWIN A. TILTON, For Veteran Soldiers and Sailors.

The funeral of the late William Kennedy will take place from the North church on Sunday at one o'clock P. M.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Oct. 8th; Batchelder, J.

Adolph Vetter, for drunkenness, was assessed $9.90, fine and costs, which he will work out at Brentwood.

James Early and Charles Spinney, convicted on Thursday of drunkenness, not being able to induce anybody to pay their fines were also sent to the county farm.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Oct. 7th:

The monthly bills to the amount of $2200 were ordered to be paid.

Ira C. Seymour was elected assistant engineer of the fire department.

Consideration of Mrs. Gray's claim for damages was indefinitely postponed.

An application of Israel Marden for permission to keep his eating saloon open during certain hours on Sunday, was referred to the committee on police to report.

An application for a naphtha light at the corner of Cabot and Austin streets was presented, and referred to the committee on street lights, with power.

Adjourned for two weeks.

GARFIELD & ARTHUR BATTALION--ATTENTION!

The members of Company B can obtain their uniforms by calling at the office of Wm. R. Foster, to-day.

COUNTY TEMPERANCE ASSO'N.

The monthly meeting of the Rockingham County Temperance Association was held in the Methodist vestry at Newmarket on Thursday, and was a very lively occasion. In the absence of President F. W. Miller, Mr. B. F. Thorndike presided. Letters from the several nominees for state and county offices, in answer to enquiries addressed to them by a committee appointed at a previous meeting relative to their sentiment on the temperance question, were read; no declaration of any kind was obtained from Mr. Jones, he having declined to communicate.

The question of the propriety of nominating a full list of candidates for county officers, and the introduction of a resolution to endorse Sheriff Kent, caused some very sharp talk, which was finally quieted by a gentleman deprecating such proceedings as out of place in a house of worship. It was decided to support John S. H. Frink, Esq., of Greenland, for county solicitor, and there was apparent a strong sentiment in favor of supporting the prohibition candidates generally.

Among those present were George E. Dodge of Hampton Falls, the prohibition candidate for governor, E. N. Andrews and J. E. Cole of Boston, and Rev. Messrs. Carter of Hampton and Noyes of Raymond, all of whom, with others, made remarks.

The prohibitionists selected an able lawyer as their candidate, but we have doubts as to his being willing to accept the nomination. Mr. Frink cannot afford to sacrifice the demands of a large practice to oblige those who seek to have his services. He long ago graduated from the office of county solicitor, and when a man has outgrown this sort of thing and has more than once refused to be appointed upon the bench of the supreme court, or to allow the use of his name as a candidate for congress, it is not likely that he will consent to run for solicitor. Mr. Frink would doubtless prove a good prosecuting officer when cases were brought to his knowledge with sufficient evidence, but the prohibitionists really are asking too much to have him allow the use of his name solely to reduce the votes for the other competing candidates for the office.

CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

FRIDAY, Oct. 8th.

The Circuit Court of the United States came in at Exeter this morning, Judge Lowell on the bench.

Grand jurors reported as follows: John Sanborn, Richard A. Lawrence, John E. Stearns, Lewis Simons, Ephraim T. Hardy, Manchester; Benjamin Greer, Goffstown; Thomas F. Kendall, Bedford; Chas. A. Peabody, Amherst; David G. Stoughton, Charlestown; John G. Harriman, Jona. A. Pierce, Claremont; B. Judson Perkins, Benj. W. Dow, Exeter; Samuel D. Lane, Hampton; Sylvester Tuttle, Newmarket; Lewis E. Smith, Brentwood; David W. Ela, Londonderry; James M. Gordon, Newport; Geo. B. Brown, Geo. W. W. Brown, Deerfield.

In case of Wilbur vs. Abbott, opinion by Clark, J., sustaining four causes of the demurrer of the defendant. Sawyer and Sawyer, Jr., for pliff.; Eastman for deft.

Willis vs. Grand Trunk railway; motion to remand to state court allowed. Ladd for Willis; Ray, Drew and Jordan for railway.

In case of Healey and others vs. Cocheco National bank, tried at May term, judgment was ordered upon the verdict for the defendant. Woodman and Smith for pliff.; Wheeler for deft.

Lyman Bridge Co. vs. town of Lebanon; motion to remand allowed. Spring for pliff.; Clark for deft.

The grand jury returned three indictments for violation of the internal revenue law.

Henry E. Burnham of Manchester and William R. Burleigh of Somersworth were admitted to practice.

The court took a recess to Tuesday forenoon, when jury cases are to be in order.

MR. BELL'S LETTER.

The following is a copy of a letter from Hon. Charles H. Bell, the republican candidate for governor, written to Messrs. B. F. Thorndike, George D. Whittier and Charles H. Harvey, committees of the Rockingham County Temperance Association, in reply to a question propounded to him asking his position in regard to temperance and prohibition. The letter was read at the convention held at Newmarket on Thursday, Oct. 7th.

EXETER, N. H., Oct. 6th, 1880.

Gentlemen: Your favor of the 27th ult., which arrived during my absence from home, was mislaid so that I did not see it till two or three days since, or it would have been answered earlier.

The distrust which the people naturally feel of verbal pledges drawn from candidates during a political campaign, leads me to point to my past record as the best assurance of what may be expected in the future. For the last fourteen or fifteen years I have been a total abstinence man, and have, in the columns of the newspaper lately under my charge, as acting solicitor for the county, and otherwise, used my best efforts and influence for maintenance and efficient enforcement of the laws for the suppression of intemperance. And I propose to continue in the same course, whether I occupy an official or a private station.

If my fellow citizens should do me the honor to elect me to the office for which I have been nominated, it would be incumbent on me to take a solemn oath in substance to maintain the constitution and the laws, and you may rest assured that I should perform that obligation to the best of ability.

It is a question for the legislature, whether in their judgment any further laws are necessary to put an effectual stop to the curse of intemperance; and should the wisdom of that body frame and adopt a statute prohibiting the manufacture of alcoholic liquors in this state for use or sale contrary to law, (assuming of course that the statute be constitutional and not unreasonable,) I should deem it my duty to approve it. And under my official oath I should use the powers which belong to the position of chief magistrate, to make all the laws of New Hampshire respected and obeyed, the laws for the suppression of intemperance exactly the same as every other law.

I am, etc., CHAS. H. BELL.

OH! AMBITION.

Mr. Editor: Ambition has run riot with the ubiquitous Major and perpetual fighter for the Union. No place seems too high for his aspirations, or beyond the reach of his mental capabilities. Thus when it was announced that field officers were to be elected for the Hancock campaign regiment, this "private from Effingham in Co. C," knowing that his Hancock veterans existed mainly on paper, and that the exhibition of himself as a figure head in the "lines of fire" was getting to be extremely doubtful, commenced scheming for the Lieutenant Colonelcy; and, after losing that, for the Majority of that organization. The hunkers who met in Congress hall on the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 6th, cognizant of the fact that the only service the 100-days man ever rendered his country was his frequent voting of the republican ticket during the eight years preceding his naturalization in the police court of Manchester in March, 1876, severely left him alone with his mythical veterans. Our hero was not so easily done for. Oh no. There was a hurrying to and fro on Thursday, and a gathering of the faithful few (less than twenty) in the evening, who immediately and with great solemnity proceeded to form a battalion and elect themselves officers, trusting to providence? the marine corps and the similarity of the uniforms of Capt. Treat's company with their own, for a "nucleus" around which they may gather. The "fighting" man of war is victorious over the man of law, and to-day he comes up smiling, asking admittance for "my command and its commandant" in the Hancock and English regiment. This will necessitate the withdrawal of Major Marcy. There must be an opening for this veteran. We await the next act of this comedy.

A Wonderful Cure of Dropsy.

ST. ALBANS, VT., Feb. 12.

Dear Sirs:—After nearly sixteen consecutive years of prostration from spinal disease, my bowels becoming more and more constipated I was forced to resort to the daily use of the most approved alteratives and cathartics prescribed by the medical profession; which however, seldom produced an evacuation more than once or twice a week—and not even then, without resorting to one or two injections before any relief.

Possibly you can imagine—I hope you may never experience — my sufferings from piles and otherwise, in consequence of costiveness and partial paralysis of the rectum. Such was my condition when by the advice of my physician I commenced the trial of your Kidney-Wort some three weeks ago. Since then I have taken nothing else excepting one small bluepill. Now by the use of one or two spoonfuls each week of the Kidney-Wort, the evacuations are sufficient and without suffering. Such a medicine is of priceless value, and I hope you will spare no pains in making known its virtues for the relief of suffering humanity.

Respectfully yours,
NELSON FAIRCHILD.

Naval Gazette.

Lieut. G. A. Calhoun has been ordered to duty in the equipment department of the New York navy yard.

Rear Admiral Howell reports to the navy department that on the evening of the 21st of September Hans Padlsen, one of the sailors on the Trenton, was thrown overboard in the harbor of Genoa while engaged in hoisting one of the ship's boats. He was unable to swim. John Russell and Philip Moore, two of his shipmates, jumped overboard and supported him until a boat reached them.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

FOUND.—It has been found that Lydia F. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is not only the best medicine for complaints, but it is also the greatest strengthner of the kidneys of either sex ever discovered.

—Delane, the late editor of the London Times, once said:—"I can find any number of men of genius to write for me, but very seldom one of sense."

EDISON'S

POLYFORM.

A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT,

supplying a want which men of eminent ability have devoted years of study and experiment to find—a specific for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System—and from the time of its discovery has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of medical men and those who have used it; it has become a favorite with all classes and where ever introduced has superseded all other treatments. In short, such is its intrinsic merits and superiority, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

are the most prevalent, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and insidious in their character, that persons often suffer for a long time before knowing what ails them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole body; pain in the back, side or loins, a weak, feeble, exhausted feeling; loss of appetite, disordered or irregular bowels; scanty and painful discharge of variously colored urine; inability to retain or expel the urine; plants, shrubs or casts in the urine; and when the disease is of long duration, there is such a condition of general nervous prostration

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the first and only infallible cure for every form of Kidney disease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectual in its operation than any other treatment. By using faithfully and perseveringly no case will be found so inveterate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

STRONGLY ENDORSED.

We have the most unequivocal testimony to its curative powers from many persons of high character, intelligence and responsibility. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of the most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it.

DAY'S KIDNEY PADS are sold by druggists or will be sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of their price: Regular, $2.00 per bottle; or, fortunate cases of long standing, $5.00; Children's, $1.50.

Address,
DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful solicitors with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1875.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir, You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a week y invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and is read to a large extent in local cities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has overcome many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGADON, of Berkshire, says, "One package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or by excess in manhood, or sickness, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its effections, which are due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. d&w1ow80

OFFICE OF

COMMONWEALTH DISTRIBUTION CO.,

COURIER-JOURNAL BUILDING, LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 24th, 1880.

In direct violation of an agreement with Ex-Postmaster General Key, ordering the delivery of Registered Letters and the payment of Money Orders to the undersigned, pending the litigation in the United States Supreme Court, the Third Assistant Postmaster General has seen fit, in the absence of his superiors, to set aside said order. The grounds upon which he justifies this action are, that all lotteries in Kentucky have been repealed, and are therefore illegal, and being illegal, are necessarily fraudulent, when, in fact, the franchise under which this Company draws unlike that of the Louisiana Lottery Company, has never been repealed, and yet the Post Office Department discriminates in favor of that Company.

Comment is useless. Legal action will at once be taken by this Company, and, until further notice, correspondents are requested to send all remittances by plain letter or by express. Don't send by money order or registered letter.

LIEBIG CO'S

COCA BEEF TONIC.

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.

Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Goullon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony; Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumbnague; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weaknesses; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the vocal cords; singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; seasickness; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is grateful and refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

Count de Lesseps' Second Marriage.

The history of M. de Lesseps' second marriage is a curious one. The lady who is his wife was nearly twelve years ago at the chateau of which she is now the chatelaine, staying on a visit. Her family name was De Braga. She was of French origin, but English nationality, her father having filled a post under the British government in the Mauritius. Mlle. de Braga was the perfection of the French Creole type, and very romantic. She had been in the habit of listening to accounts of the diplomatic and material difficulties which M. de Lesseps overcame in Egypt, Paris and London, and of the courage and humanity he displayed in assisting plague-stricken Frenchmen when he was consul at Alexandria. The relations she heard impressed her as the narrative of Othello's adventures impressed Desdemona. Mlle. de Braga saw in M. de Lesseps a hero of modern times. His courtliness, chivalrous manners and vivacity enchanted a girl used to the indolent planters of the Isle of France. She was at La Chesnaye when all Europe was astir about the achievement of the Suez enterprise. Telegrams were arriving from the great ones of the earth accepting invitations to the inaugural ceremony. The French sovereign was on board a French war-ship to lead a fleet, composed of vessels of all nations, with heirs-apparent and heads of governments on board. Festivity reigned at La Chesnaye. Mlle. Braga grew silent and solitary. One day in the garden she saw de Lesseps walking on a terrace. She plucked a rose, and, going up to him, begged of him for her sake to wear it at dinner. He asked whether she did not mean it for his son. No; it was for himself. Her host explained to her that he was on the wrong side of sixty, whilst she was not yet nineteen; that did not matter. What his age was had never occurred to her. She only thought of his greatness and his goodness. In short, he was her beau ideal. How was it possible for a man reared on the sunny side of a Pyrenean mountain to reason down the feelings this confession aroused? Time was given to Mlle. de Braga to reflect, and she was made to understand that no friendship would be lost were she to change her mind after the banns had been published. The marriage was celebrated contemporaneously with the Suez fetes. Ismail Pasha delighted to honor the bride and bridegroom, and made their house splendid with his presents. So far as it is possible for a servant of the prophet to be a godfather, he stands in the relation of one to the first born of the eight children.

—The widow of the late Mark Hopkins, in an answer to a petition filed in the probate court of San Francisco, by one of the heirs, for the revocation of letters of administration issued to her, says property to the value of nearly $19,000,000 has already been divided among the heirs.

—A watch which had not gone for two years, and defied the best efforts of the watchmaker, was recently struck by lightning in the course of a severe storm near Vienna; and now a Vienna paper announces, with the solemnity of truth, that the watch has kept excellent time ever since.

Pleasant Letters.

They are sheets of sunshine. A Methodist clergyman of Hartford, Conn., writes Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., that "Favorite Remedy" cured him of chronic liver disease and indigestion, from which he had suffered for a long time. This was splendid, but nothing more than anyone may expect who uses this medicine. One dollar a bottle is a small consideration when health is in question. The clergyman says he is going to introduce Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" among his people. He can't do better. Health is always a friend of religion.

Mrs. Inez M. Chute, wife of H. M. Chute, station agent on the Ware River railroad in Templeton, Mass., eloped on Tuesday of last week with Charles Hughes, an unmarried man. She leaves two little girls, aged respectively five and two years.

ROSY-CHEEKED WOMEN. There ought to be more of them. A rosy complexion, if it be natural, makes the plainest face beautiful; for with it, we find the sprightly mind, the elastic step, the ringing laugh—in a word, health. The cause of listless and sallow cheeks in women is often unsuspected even by themselves. It is, in too many cases, a derangement of the kidneys, bladder, liver, or urinary organs. For these diseases, Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, is a sure cure. Hunt's Remedy is safe, effectual, and pleasant to take. Try it, ladies, and bloom again. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

At New Canton, Ill., last Thursday evening, a young man named Sellars, employed by a Mr. Baker, asked Baker's fifteen-years-old daughter to marry him. She refused, whereupon he drew a revolver and shot the house dog, Mrs. Baker, the girl, and finally himself, each shot being fatal.

D. R. V. G. will cure every case of sick headache. See other column.

George Lowery and David Thomas, two white men of Nelson county, Va., recently robbed and brutally treated a widow lady named Massie and her daughter. They were lodged in jail for the crime, but were taken out by a mob and hanged.

The friends of temperance will find Malt Bitters invigorating and strengthening.

British Manufacturers and American Politics.

One of the largest manufacturing concerns in England, which has selling branches in Paris and New York, is distributing enormuous quantities of free-trade tracts in this county, urging the voters of the United States to support the democratic "tariff for revenue" party. The triumph of that party would be a glorious thing indeed for England, should the free-trade pledges of the party be carried out, for it would put the American manufacturer and high-priced labor in direct competition with the European manufacturer and his pauper labor, with the inevitable result that the American manufacturer must stop business or the American workingman must accept wages approximating to those of the European laborer. We borrow the following from the Worcester (Mass.) Gazette of last Friday:

We have not felt any uneasiness at the notion that "British gold" was pouring profusely into the United States to carry the country for Hancock and free trade, to the destruction of all the American manufactures, yet it is a curious coincidence that a free trade tract, issued by the Cobden Club of England, and sold for the nominal price of ten cents, should come to us just at this time for advertisement. It is published by a house having branches in London, Paris and New York, and from its type and style was apparently printed from English plates; perhaps the work was wholly done in that country. It is addressed to the western farmers of America, and its object is to prove that the 7,000,000 of that class lose in the aggregate $400,000,000 every year by the tariff, which compels them to buy in the United States articles which England can make cheaper. * * If this writer tells the truth, this $400,000,000 which the west loses is spent in this section, to keep the factories running. Certain it is that the prosperity of the manufacturers of New England is to the benefit of every class within its borders, whether it be the farmer, the clergyman or the school teacher. * *

No country can be very prosperous without manufactures, and no manufactures can be established without protection. We suppose even the Cobden Club would admit that. With protection, then, the United States has grown great and prospered, all sections alike, save only when the crops failed, when war came, or when over-speculation made a stop necessary. The better prices paid for labor here have brought over swarms of emigrants, and the market for the western farmers has been correspondingly enlarged. Trade and production, and the farming interest, as well as all other interests, have been adjusted to this system, which wrongs nobody. This system can not be broken up, without hurting everybody. It is a fallacy, in which free traders always indulge, to suppose that prices are ruled by the tariff. Prices are regulated by competition. If any particular branch of manufactures, having grown up under the fostering wing of the tariff, becomes especially remunerative, new capital will be attracted to it, and the prices will be kept down. America can already compete with England successfully in more than one branch. So fast as this is accomplished, products will cheapen, and an outlet for the surplus production must be found in foreign countries. This time is so near that England already dreads it. Undoubtedly it would be to the advantage of England to spread free trade doctrines in this country. The Cobden Club can very well afford to send over a few shiploads of tracts designed to convert the western farmers to their favorite theory.

News and Notes.

Edward Upington and B. Frank Moore, alias M. A. Dauphin, were arrested in New York last Friday on complaint of Anthony Comstock, for sending lottery circulars through the mails. They were brought before a United States commissioner and waived examination, giving bail to await the action of the grand jury.

In the case of Dejarnette, convicted at Danville, Va., of the murder of his sister, and sentenced to be hanged on the 29th inst., the supreme court has awarded a writ of error and supersedeas, and will hear the case at Richmond in December.

The steamship Stag, from New Orleans for Marseilles with 78,000 bushels of wheat; the Robinia, from New Orleans for Havre with 90,000 bushels of wheat; and the Benalla, from New Orleans for Bayonne with 57,000 bushels of wheat, all put into St. Michaels in September through stress of weather, and were wrecked in the harbor. The three vessels named were all British steamships.

L. C. Brouson, acting as a partner in the "Roofing Paint Company" of Boston, was on the 7th inst. arrested in Waterbury, Conn., on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, and taken to Farmington, where he was released on bail. During the last year he and his associates have operated extensively among the farmers of Connecticut, Massachusetts and Maine. The operators, it is said, belong in Ohio. They claimed to have headquarters in Boston, but investigation has failed to find their factory or office there, and it is asserted that the whole concern is an unmitigated swindle.

Seth C. Vickery, formerly of Plympton, Mass., who was sentenced six to years in the state prison, and at the expiration of the sentence emigrated to Wareham, Mass., was on Thursday night arrested for the crime of polygamy, he having three wives living, marrying his third one last week, a Miss Emma F. Badger of East Wareham, a young lady nineteen years old. Vickery is fifty years old.

At Lacrosse, Wis., a singular and fatal accident occurred one day last week. Joseph Muher, a farmer, living a few miles from the city, while returning home in company with his wife, was fatally burned, and his wife terribly injured by fire. He was under the influence of liquor, and, having carelessly thrown a lighted match into some hay in the wagon, it ignited and their clothing caught fire with the result stated. The wagon was entirely consumed.

In Concordia, Bolivar county, Miss., on the 6th inst., a difficulty occurred between B. F. Owen, a justice of the peace, and J. W. Glover, a farmer. Owen was holding court, and Glover made a disturbance and was ordered under arrest by Owen. Pistols were at once drawn by both, and firing commenced by each. Owen fell dead. Glover ran about three hundred yards, fell, and died after lingering eight hours.

Capt. James M. Stewart, postmaster of the United States house of representatives, died on Thursday last. He served as a lieutenant in the United States army during the war with Mexico, and was a captain in the rebel army during the war to destroy the United States.

Two deaths from yellow fever took place at Key West last week, and other cases of the disease were developed.

On Friday night at about half past eight o'clock a train of dump-cars left Willimantic, Conn., for Hartford, on the New York & New England railroad. When about three miles from Willimantic it met a passenger train running at a high rate of speed, and a terrible collision was the result. Both engines were shattered and the cars damaged; and the engineers and firemen of both engines, and the conductor of the freight train, was killed. No one else was seriously hurt. The freight train was running on the time of the other train.

In the Post of Friday appeared the following: "Mr. Louis Aldrich, who is on the road with 'My Partner,' has collided with Rev. J. Benson Hamilton of Lewiston, who pronounces the play immoral, and one based upon shamelessness and crime." Seventeen of the twenty remaining Protestant clergymen of Lewiston join with Mr. Hamilton in protesting against the production of 'My Partner' in the already wicked city on the banks of the Androscoggin." By this publication an unintentional injustice was done Mr. Aldrich, which would not have been done but for the deceit and cunning of the Rev. J. Benson Hamilton. Of the men who joined in with Hamilton in signing the protest, four were officers of his own church, some were laymen from other churches, and some were clergymen. The Episcopalian clergyman and the Catholic priests refused to sign it, and the Rev. Mr. Haskell, (Universalist,) attended the performance, which took place subsequent to Hamilton's attack, accompanied by his family. Revs. Dickerman, Bates, and one other were out of the city, and did not sign the protest.—Boston Post.

A Prince in a Station House.

The hero of a story told by a Russian newspaper correspondent is no less a personage than the Prince of Wales. The thing happened during one of the prince's visits to the capital of the czars. Count Adlerberg had given the prince a supper which lasted till day-break. At about four o'clock in the morning the prince took leave of the company, jumped into a carriage, and started for the winter palace. His royal highness had paid so much attention to the wines that his ideas were a little mixed. As he was passing the palace of the Holy Synod he thought he recognized the facade of the imperial palace, and he halted the carriage. The coachman said something to him, but the prince did not understand Russian. He got out, dismissed the coachman, and then marched up to the door.

A monk, half asleep, opened the door and asked him what he wanted; but the prince did not understand the monk's Russian any better than he had that of the coachman. Without answering his questions he advanced, not too steadily, into the interior of the edifice, thinking that he could find his way to his apartment. The monk undertook to stop him. The prince is one of the best boxers of the United Kingdom. His first blow laid out the monk, who, believing that he was face to face with the devil, shouted lustily for help. You can fancy. The police, were soon on the ground. As the prince couldn't make himself understood, and was not recognized, he was taken to the nearest police station.

Fancy the stupefaction at court in the morning when it was discovered that the prince had not returned to the palace. The emperor was very uneasy. He scolded the governor of the palace roundly for having allowed the prince to set out alone. Then the grand master of police Fedor Feodorwitch-Trepoff, had a happy thought. He gave orders for a search among the police stations, and the heir of the crown of England was found fast asleep among the revellers of lower degree.

The emperor laughed heartily, but not too loudly, over the adventure, and steps were promptly taken to hush it up.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the pewor we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

A BRAVE LADY!

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely loose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed, she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait, she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, New York, who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "Doctor, I faint, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to woman. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

AROUND HOME.

J. M. Tibbetts' fall opening of pattern hats and bonnets takes place to-morrow.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado preached his last sermon in this city on Sunday. He leaves for a visit to Scotland on Wednesday.

While the funeral procession was passing the Parrott house on Middle street, Sunday afternoon, Mr. George Roberts was taken with a fit on the sidewalk.

The sale of tickets for the opening entertainments at the Franklin theatre will commence at Myers' bookstore at nine o'clock this morning. See advt.

Gov. Natt Head was in this city on Saturday, and made arrangements with Mr. Moses Yeaton to alter and improve the state arsenal on south street, under the supervision of Mayor Sise.

On Wednesday night of last week dogs raided on the sheep of Mr. James T. Whitehorn of Greenland, and killed or maimed thirty-seven of them. The same flock has suffered once before this season from the same cause.

Sunday morning at two o'clock, as the police officers were going up Market street, they saw a man hanging out of a window of John Sawyer's house, twenty-five feet above the sidewalk. They woke up the occupants of the house, who succeeded in hauling the man in.

Sunday morning at eight o'clock a man by the name of McGlinchy, who is putting up machinery for Hon. F. Jones, got into a dispute with John Lee, the Chinese laundryman, and knocked him down. The assailant was promptly arrested, and placed under bonds to appear at the police court to-day.

The custom of chalking upon the pillars and posts of a church just the sum a prominent politician may have contributed towards the payment of church expenses, is not to be commended. If a wealthy man gives $329 to the music fund of the church, why emblazon it upon the walls? Let not the left hand know how much the right subscribes.

A POOR PARISHIONER.

A trot at the Rockingham trotting-park is on the tapis. Woodbury Locke has something fast to bring out, Capt. Emerson of York will name a quick stepper, and Henry Stoddard will remove the blanket from a fine piece of horseflesh, that the fall races may be enjoyed by those who are pleased with fast trotting.

The Exeter News Letter of last week says: "The house at Hampton beach owned by Mr. Eben T. Garland, of this town, and occupied by him during the summer months as an eating and ice cream saloon, and extensively known as the 'Cottage by the Sea,' was burned about eight o'clock Tuesday evening. The origin of the fire is unknown, but we understand the loss is fully covered by insurance."

About twenty-five men were engaged Sunday in taking up and relaying a portion of the track of the Eastern railroad on the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth part of the line, on the bridge leading to Noble's island, and putting in new string pieces and cross ties; the work was carried on in a very systematic manner, and every one seemed to know his place and what was required of him. The short time in which the large amount of work was done reflects credit on the employees of the road.

The republicans of Dover had a big rally on Thursday evening of last week, including a procession, illuminations, fireworks, and the raising of twelve republican campaign flags. The procession consisted of the Dover cornet band and Stackpole drum corps, the Garfield & Arthur Guards, (two companies,) Garfield & Arthur Tall Hat Brigade, and Garfield Cadets. The flags were raised by Josiah Stackpole, Mrs. J. W. Welch, at the Morning Star office, (a flag twenty feet by thirty-six—the handsomest one in Dover,) by James B. Barnes, George Wadleigh, at the Ward Four club room, by Fred S. Hayes, Daniel Swain, Joshua Varney and John Nealley jointly, John W. Rines, Charles T. Redfield, and G. W. Avery and George W. Caswell jointly. On Friday another Garfield flag was raised, by Peter Hull.

The Garfield Cadets, Capt. Thomas O. Marvin, paraded Saturday evening in uniform and with full ranks. The company carried torches, and marched with admirable precision, executing the various evolutions of company tactics skillfully and with promptness, showing remarkable proficiency in drill considering the short time they have had for instruction. The boys halted in front of Gov. Goodwin's house and gave three cheers for Garfield & Arthur, and three more for Gov. Goodwin. The governor's family came to the door and complimented the youngsters upon their fine appearance, and thanked them for their compliment. Gov. Goodwin was absent from home, being in attendance upon the rally in music hall.

The funeral of the late William Kennedy] took place on Sunday afternoon at the North church, which was filled with brethren of secret orders and friends of the deceased. The services at the church were conducted by Rev. Mr. McGinley, assisted by a selected male choir of twelve voices, and were very impressive. Rich floral offerings, elaborate and curious in design, representing the mysteries of Odd Fellowship and the secrets of the Knights of Pythias, were the offerings of Osgood and Damon lodges, of which Mr. Kennedy was a member. One of the most beautiful of the floral tributes was a representation of the Second Army Corps badge (a clover leaf) wrought in scarlet, buff and white immortelles—a gift of the Boys in Blue. Anchors, wreaths, crosses and cut flowers almost enveloping the casket were sent in by friends, attesting the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The funeral cortege, under the marshalship of Col. Wm. O. Sides, was composed of the following organizations; Great Falls Cadet band, twenty pieces; Veteran Soldiers and Sailors, Maj. E. A. Tilton commanding, sixty men; Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Portsmouth; Prospect Lodge, K. of P., Great Falls; Olive Branch Lodge, K. of P., Dover; Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., Portsmouth; Washington Lodge, Great Falls; Echo Lodge, Berwick, Me,—in all three hundred and fifty men. The visiting organizations returned to their homes by special train at seven o'clock.

THE REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Music hall was packed to suffocation, Saturday evening, with people desiring to hear the address of Gen. John L. Swift on the political issues of the present presidential campaign; and they were well repaid for their trouble in going, and the unavoidable discomforts of the crowded hall. Gen. Swift's reputation as one of the most able and interesting speakers on the New England stump is well merited, as the close attention paid to his speech, and the enthusiasm it evoked, abundantly proved.

The meeting was called to order at 7:45 o'clock by Wallace Hackett, Esq., who announced the officers of the evening as follows: President, Daniel J. Vaughan; vice presidents, Ezra H. Winchester, John Stavers, Edw. P. Kimball, George W. Pendexter, Jos. Hiller Foster, T. Salter Tredick, John H. Broughton, Benjamin W. Curtis, and others:

Col. Vaughan made a brief address in which he alluded to the spirited character of the campaign now in progress, and the benefit and necessity of the community taking an interest in such matters, and the consequent importance of occasions like the present, when the people were addressed by practised orators. He concluded by introducing Gen. Swift, who was greeted with a round of applause.

Gen. Swift commenced by paying a fitting compliment to Gen. Grant, whom he characterized as the greatest living American citizen. He then stated that Gen. Grant was one of the "stalwart" republicans; and went on to explain why he (the speaker) also belonged to that class. He then very clearly and concisely reviewed the records of the two great parties, and what each has accomplished and sought to accomplish during the last twenty years. He explained the position of the democratic party on the tariff question, and showed the disastrous results which would follow the adoption of their views on this subject of vital importance the American people. He said that in the presidential election he conceded the democrats just two northern states, New Jersey and Indiana; but he was weakening every day on Indiana, and if the campaign there could continue one week longer before the state election, he thought that state would go republican. His remarks were interspersed with anecdotes which found ready application. He was warmly applauded at many points in his speech; and the meeting having manifested great enthusiasm, closed with hearty cheers for the republican nominees.

A likeness of Hon. Charles H. Bell adorned the stage, and the Kittery band enlivened the occasion by several well-rendered selections.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Oct. 9; Batchelder, J.

Thomas Dwyer and David Drew, for drunkenness, were each assessed $9.90, fine and costs. Brentwood.

Edward McClare, for one first-class drunk, was charged $10, costs $6.90. Jail for Mr. McClare.

REPUBLICAN STREET PARADE.

The committee appointed from the various republican organizations to arrange details for this evening's parade have reported the following route: Line will be formed on Market square, the right resting near the reservoir. At 7:30 o'clock the column will move through Market, Deer, Bridge, Islington, Cabot, Middle to Cass, sts., counter-march through Middle, Court, Pleasant, Water, Meeting-house hill, Howard, Washington, State, Mulbury, Daniel, Pleasant, State, Summer, Austin, Middle, and Congress streets to Parade, where the line will be dismissed.

The Garfield Cadets will meet on Haymarket square this evening at seven o'clock promptly, uniformed and equipped for parade with the Boys in Blue.

The Garfield and Arthur Battalion will muster at Headquarters promptly at seven o'clock this (Monday) evening, for street drill, uniformed and equipped for marching.

Per order of Major Commanding. William H. Payson, adjutant.

The Winchester Cadets will meet at their amory, Ladd st., this evening at half past six o'clock, in full uniform, with torches. Per Order.

BOYS IN BLUE

will meet at Light Battery hall this Monday evening at seven o'clock, for street drill in connection with local and visiting organizations. Full uniform, and torches filled. Be prompt, as it is intended to move the column at 7:30 o'clock.

By order Maj. Commanding. William O. Sides, Adjutant.

REAL AND ASSESSED VALUES.

Below are the aggregate amounts of the sales of real estate in twenty-four towns in Rockingham county, from Sept. 15th, 1879, to Sept. 15th, 1880, as compared with the value of the same property as assessed by the selectmen of the several towns:

	Amount of sales.	Assessed value.
Auburn, 8 sales	$5,400	$3,265
Candia, 7 sales	4,925	3,190
Deerfield, 9 sales	4,565	3,410
Derry, 19 sales	27,687	17,700
East Kingston 2 sales	450	116
South Hampton, 2 sales	1,800	1,325
Epping, 3 sales	1,565	1,500
Exeter, 11 sales	19,115	16,950
Fremont, 2 sales	880	290
Greenland, 9 sales	17,900	9,780
Hampton, 12 sales	8,779	5,688
Kensington, 3 sales	2,075	1,165
Londonderry, 12 sales	8,985	6,247
Newcastle, 2 sales	1,000	772
Newmarket, 10 sales	9,410	6,198
North Hampton, 15 sales	26,051	15,549
Portsmouth, 41 sales	49,543	38,520
Raymond, 6 sales	3,003	1,938
South Newmarket, 5 sales	4,233	2,900
Rye, 12 sales	8,370	4,670
Seabrook, 12 sales	3,834	1,935
Kingston, 12 sales	12,885	6,520
Newington, 2 sales	3,000	2,900
Newton, 11 sales	11,600	4,838

These sales were compiled by the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, for the purpose of showing that the real estate of the state was not assessed at its true or market value, and therefore the stock of the railroad corporations should only be assessed in the same ratio as the real estate.

Jingo Was His Name.

The origin of the expression "By Jingo" has long been in doubt. Since it gave rise to a nick-name for the war party in England, a couple of years ago, a number of more or less rational hypotheses on the subject have seen the light, none of them, however, entirely satisfactory. Light now falls upon it from an unexpected quarter. From a work (otherwise very curious and valuable) on the numismatic history of Japan, which has been prepared and published by the Japanese government, it appears that there reigned in Japan, two centuries before the Christian era, an emperor who bore the name of Jingo. Doubtless with the lapse of time this imperial name became an object of reverence with the Japanese, and being invoked by them when they lost their tempers in their dealings with intrusive foreigners was caught up and adopted by the Dutch and English sailors. If his hypothesis is correct, the Japanese practice is analogous to the English custom of swearing "By George," in "good old colony times."

Not Open to Objection.

Temperance people often say that most of the popular medicines they see advertised are nine-tenths rum. That is true of many, but not of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." The doctor agrees with his temperance friends that it is better to die of disease than of drink. "Favorite Remedy" cures kidney troubles, liver complaints, constipation of the bowels, as nothing else does or ever did. It drives away sickness. It cools the blood. It costs only a dollar to try it. Ask your druggist or send to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

Esta Calder, a girl aged sixteen years, while working in Young's sardine factory at Eastport, Me., Friday, fell into a pan of boiling oil, and was so terribly burned about the body that she died.

Deservedly popular. We mean Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for it never fails to cure a cough. Physicians recommend it. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

Thomas Kilroe and M. Nicol, two laborers, were killed at Waterbury, Conn., Friday, by the caving in of a bank on which they were at work.

From John F. Wyman, Postmaster, South China, Me.

Too much cannot be said of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam, as it is the best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen, and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise and I would advise all to use it who are afflicted.

New Hampshire Items.

Ira P. Howland, brakeman on the Grand Trunk road, had his left leg cut off while shackling cars in the yard at Gorham, on Friday.

Flora Gove, a dissipated woman, committed suicide last Friday afternoon at the City hotel in Lawrence, Mass., by taking laudanum. She has a husband and brother in Haverhill, Mass., and a mother in Exeter.

The Manchester fire department, Thomas W. Lane chief engineer, held its first parade Friday afternoon. A collation was served in the city hall, and speeches were made by Mayor Kelley, Ex-Gov. Smith, Gov. Natt Head, Hon. Daniel Clark and others.

A Robbery of Time.

I was serving on an important committee. There were ten of us in all—five from each of two associations between which had arisen a question that demanded careful and candid consideration; and our joint committee had been selected for that work.

Never mind about the meetings held without a quorum. As the time drew near when a final report must be made the chairman made a last desperate effort, bringing the post and telegraph to his service. The hour for opening arrived, and one man was lacking—one without whom not a step could be taken, and who had promised to be prompt. At length he came, puffing and blowing, as such men are apt to do—just one hour late.

—"Late, aint I?" he said, as he proceeded to crawl out from his overcoat.

—"Rather," said the chairman.

—"I'm sorry; but, really, I couldn't get away. My business kept me tied longer than I had thought."

—"Your business!" cried the quietest and most unassuming man of our number—a man who had not been heard to murmur, nor to find fault in any way. "Do you forget that here are nine more of us who have business?—very likely business as important as yours! You have saved yourself an hour; but, sir, in doing it, you have robbed nine men of an hour each! I wish, sir, if you are to serve any more on committees with me, that you would remember that thing. Nine hours of time which you don't know how to value you have literally and willfully robbed your associates of this evening."

It was to me a new way of putting it, and it certainly had pith and point.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Oct. 6.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 2820; sheep and spring lambs 18,000; swine 1,200; number western cattle 2285; eastern cattle 567; milch cows and northern cattle 225.

Prices of cattle per 100 lbs. live weight Extra quality $5 75 and $6 12½; first quality $5 and $5 50; second quality $4 62½ and $4 87½; third quality $4 and $4 50; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 25 and $4 12½.

Brighton Hides 9c per lb.

Brighton Tallow 7 and 7½c per lb.

Country hides 8 and 8½c per lb.

Country Tallow 3 and 4½c per lb.

Calf skins 10 and 12c per lb, or from $1 25 and $1 75 per skin.

Lamb skins 75c and $1.10 each.

Sheared sheep skins 50c each.

Trade for western beef cattle has not improved any over that of one week ago. There was a better grade of beeves offered in the market for sale than there was at the previous market, but prices upon all grades remain unchanged. The demand for shipping cattle had been light. Prices for butchers' cattle have ranged in most instances from 4½ @ 5½c per lb. live weight. A few extra beeves have been sold at $5 75 @ 6 40 per 100 lbs live weight, the higher prices cattle being such as are usually bought up for Boston market. The Maine cattle was mostly of a common grade, only a few fair beef cattle among them.

Working Oxen—The trade for working oxen has been moderate of late. There were some nice pairs in the market. We quote sales 3 prs, girth 6 ft 10 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $110 per pair; 3 prs, girth 6 ft 10 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $315; 50 lbs lot; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3000 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2600 lbs, $100; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 4 in, 2400 lbs, $75.

Store Cattle—There were a few brought in from Maine. We note sales of 23 two year old steers and heifers at $20 each; 23 yearlings at $10 each; 2 at $10 50 each; 3 two year old heifers $25 the lot; 3 two year old heifers for $55 the lot. Most of the small cattle suitable for beef were bought up to slaughter.

Milch Cows—Not so large a supply in market as has been brought in of late. Good cows were in moderate demand. We quote sales of 3 cows and calves for $105 the lot; 1 new milch cow $65; 1 do $33; 1 springer $45; 1 springer $41; 2 springers at $25 each.

Sheep and Lambs—There were but a few broken lots in from the western feeding (from 5½ @ 6½c, lambs from 6 @ 6½c per lb live weight. Those from Maine were taken by G W Hollis to slaughter and market as a commission.

Swine—Prices for fat hogs remain unchanged, costing landed at the slaughter houses from 5½ @ 6½c per lb live weight, all owned by butchers.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS,

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Bilious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel?
Why endure nervous or sick headaches?
Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry vegetable compound and One package will make six quart Medicine. 4 of your Druggists will order it for you. Price, $1.00.

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION.

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than results of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical overexertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without fear or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures sent free. Write for it. Address

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

OFFICE OF

COMMONWEALTH DISTRIBUTION CO.,

COURIER-JOURNAL BUILDING, LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 24th, 1880.

In direct violation of an agreement with Ex-Postmaster General Key, ordering the delivery of Registered Letters and the payment of Money Orders to the undersigned, pending the litigation in the United States Supreme Court, the Third Assistant Postmaster General has seen fit, in the absence of his superiors, to set aside said order. The grounds upon which he justifies this action are, that all lotteries in Kentucky have been repealed, and are therefore illegal, and being illegal, are necessarily fraudulent, when, in fact, the franchise under which this Company draws unlike that of the Louisiana Lottery Company, has never been repealed, and yet the Post Office Department discriminates in favor of that Company.

Comment is useless. Legal action will at once be taken by this Company, and, until further notice, correspondents are requested to send all remittances by plain letter or by express. Don't send by money order or registered letter.

Lieut. Lyman G. Spalding is granted leave of absence for six months, with permission to leave the United States.

Pay Director Charles W. Abbott, attached to the Boston navy yard, is granted leave of absence for three weeks from the 15th inst.

A board of naval officers appointed by the secretary of the navy visited Baltimore on the 5th inst. to examine and report upon the new dry dock near Fort McHenry; they witnessed the placing of a vessel in the dock, and made a careful examination of all the property. The board consisted of Chief Engineer H. H. Stewart, Naval Constructors Philip Hichborn and W. L. Mintoyne, and Civil Engineers Prindle and Craven.

"Jinny" the Rat.

A colored man whom I shall call Elias, (says "the Philosopher" of the Syracuse Herald,) was once employed in a boarding house which was infested with rats. He devised an apparatus, consisting of an empty barrel with an inviting but untrustworthy top, which he put to effective use as a trap for the sleek marauders. The landlady was delighted, and paid him a cent for every rat he caught—and the name of his victims was legion. Each morning, after he had counted the spoils of the night and received his pay, he would take his rats in a bag to the proprietor of a sporting establishment down town, who paid him two cents apiece for them, and presumably turned them to profitable account in his pit. Among his catch one day was a handsome female specimen to which Elias took a decided fancy, and he resolved to tame her. She responded kindly to his advances, and became in time so gentle that she would eat out of his hand and play about his person, running up and down his sleeves, and so forth. Her affection for him and her faculty of memory were once proved in a notable way. Somebody carelessly let her out of her cage during her owner's absence, and in a few moments she found her way into one of her accustomed holes in the wall, and was glorying in her freedom.

Weeks passed, and, as she did not appear again, she was given up for lost. One evening Elias was smoking a quiet pipe in the laundry, when he saw a rat put its head out of a chink in the wainscot. By way of experiment, but scarcely hoping for success, he called softly the name of his old pet—"Jinny! Jinny!" To his surprise the animal emerged from its hiding place, approached him cautiously, and then ran up his trousers-leg into his lap and composed itself for his caresses. It was indeed his missing Jinny. She allowed him to carry her back to her cage, and, when there, went straight to the saucer from which she had been accustomed to eat her food and drink. For a long time after that master and rat were inseparable; but by and by the former changed his quarters, and in his new home had no conveniences for keeping his little companion, so he sold her for two dollars to a retail liquor dealer, who put her behind his bar for the entertainment of his customers, and grew very much attached to her.

One day Elias was passing the shop, and its owner called him in. "I have lost Jinny," said he, "and none of us can recover her. If you get her for me I will give you fifty cents." The challenge was accepted on the spot, and the colored man tried the magic of his voice. It was as efficient as before. Out of a hole near by trotted Jinny, apparently overjoyed to see her friend once more, and surrendered herself to his hands with ingenuous confidence. From that day to this, if I recall his story aright, he has never seen her.

—Queen Victoria takes great interest in agricultural implements, and recently left her carriage to walk into a field where a new reaper and binder was being tested, to observe its operation.

—"What is the first thing to be done in case of fire?" asked Professor Stearns. "Sue the insurance company," promptly answered the boy at the foot of the class, whose father had been burned out once or twice.

—Motton Pritchett and Sarah Fauster, neighbors' children at Marion, Ind., fell in love, eloped to Michigan, got married, spent two weeks and all their money in a honeymoon trip, and then returned home. The only novelty about the affair was their youthfulness, the bride being twelve and the bridegroom thirteen.

Another Railroad Horror.

At Pittsburg, Pa., Saturday night, a train left for the eastward at half-past eleven o'clock, in two sections, both being crowded with passengers. At Twenty-eighth street the first section was delayed on account of another train which was stopped at the next block, and the second section came along at a good speed, and ran into the first one, the engineer of the second section not being able to see the lights on the preceding train on account of the crowd of people on the rear platform. The engine of the second section crushed into the rear car of the first one, and killed many people; and the boiler head being broken by the collision, the steam and boiling water rushed into the car with horrible results. Twenty-four deaths had occurred up to midnight on Sunday, principally from scalds, eight or ten of the victims being women; and of the dangerously wounded it was believed that at least an equal number could not recover. The disaster is said to have occurred through the neglect of a flagman named Penrod to flag the rear train, according to the standing rules of the road.

News and Notes.

By an accident on the St. Paul railroad near Stillman, Ohio, Sunday, three hands and a boy were killed, and fourteen boys were wounded. The train was switching at the time, and the boys were stealing a ride.

At Clinton, Mass., Friday evening, at a democratic flag-raising, a chimney to which one end of the rope was attached was pulled over, and the bricks fell among the people on the sidewalk, forty feet below. A young lady named Bessie Bannon was instantly killed, and her sister was so badly hurt that she died Saturday morning.

The largest casting ever made in this country has been turned out at the Black Diamond steel works in Pittsburg, Penn. The casting was an anvil block for a seventeen-ton steam hammer, and its weight was 160 tons. Five furnaces were built expressly for melting the iron, and seven hours were occupied in running the metal. The hammer will be the largest in the country—the next largest, of ten tons, being at Nashua, N. H. Four months will elapse before the block will be cool enough to handle.

The legal transfer of most of the town of Milford, Me., was made last week to gentlemen who have formed a corporation under the general laws of the state, to be known as the Milford Lumber & Manufacturing company. They have purchased the mills and privileges and about 17,000 acres of timber land, the property of the late David Pingree. The corporation will engage largely in lumbering operations there the coming season.

John Garvey, the notorious "plasterer" of the notorious Tammany-Tweed ring of thieves, whose fraudulent bills for plastering the new court house in New York yielded to the ring a good portion of the stealings they made while in power, died in London, England, Oct. 8th. He had been a voluntary exile from the United States since the discovery of his infamy.

The statement made last week that Freeman, the Pocasset child murderer, had escaped from the insane asylum at Danvers, Mass., is now said to be untrue.

The Philadelphia Times states that James Watson, alias Dutch Dan, was arrested there Friday for robbing Carlisle's tortoise shell factory of $2,000 worth of goods on Sunday night. He was connected with the robbery of the Thomaston bank in Maine and the Boylston bank in Boston.

John V. Veghte, ex-collector of Somerset county, N. J., convicted of the embezzlement of public funds, was sentenced Saturday morning to $1,000 fine and costs, on three indictments.

A coroner's jury at Hartford, Conn., has rendered a verdict exonerating the New York & New England railroad from blaim for the collision near Willimantic last Friday night, by which two engineers, two firemen and a freight conductor were killed. The verdict places the responsibility for the accident upon the dead conductor of the freight train, who took his train out of Willimantic against orders, when it should have been held.

John Merritt, who murdered E. M. Hicks at Weldon, Va., some months since, and was tried and acquitted, was arrested Saturday night for making a deadly assault on J. T. Evans, postmaster of Weldon, and J. O. Brady, a bartender, the latter of whom was struck on the head and probably fatally injured. The report says "there is considerable indignation against Merritt,"—which would appear to be not very remarkable, were Weldon in a northern state.

At Norwalk, Conn., Sunday morning, the dead body of Mrs. Daniel Gilmore, wife of the engineer of the steamer City of Norwalk, was found floating in the water between the steamer and the wharf. A coroner's jury is investigating the matter.

Officers raided the Kenoza house, about three miles from Haverhill, Mass., Sunday evening, and captured a faro bank and about twenty gamblers. The Kenoza house has been a notorious den, and the people of the town are pleased at the trouble its proprietor has got into.

The schooner Jonathan Cone sank in the draw at Rocks bridge, while going up the Merrimac river in tow, Sunday. She is coal laden, and completely stops navigation.

Clifford Manter, of Taunton, Mass., while returning from a cattle show in a buggy with a companion, Friday evening, drove past a party wagon going in the same direction, and then proceeded to annoy the people in the wagon by driving back and forth across the road in front of their horses' heads. This was done to an aggravating extent, and persisted in after Manter was warned to cease. A bottle was then thrown at the buggy from the other team, which was promptly responded to by the report of a pistol fired by Manter, on which one of the occupants of the party wagon fired two shots, seriously wounding Manter in the shoulder.

Advices from South America say the Chilians have bombarded Chorillas and Ancon, and destroyed many sugar plantations in the north. Both of the above named places were perfectly defenceless. Chorillas is a fashionable watering place near Lima, where many foreign and native families had sought for refuge from the threatened attack on Lima. Peruvian advices confirm the report of the destruction of the Chilian war-steamer Covadonga, by a torpedo picked up at sea; only four persons were saved.

William Dooley, who was sentenced to eight years in the Massachusetts state prison for stealing fourteen cents from a store in Canton, attempted to break out of Dedham jail by excavating with a spoon the floor of his cell, while awaiting conveyance to his new quarters. He was sent to Concord immediately after the discovery of his designs.

Col. Mapleson, the opera manager, who has just arrived in New York from London, says that Admiral Glyn, to whom Adelaide Neilson, the actress, left the bulk of her property, cannot take the money without suffering social exile, and he is not at all likely to risk that.

Thomas Siggins, clerk of the district court at Great Barrington, Mass., died on the 7th inst., at the age of fifty-two years. He was a second lieutenant in the 49th Massachusetts regiment of volunteers during the war of the rebellion, and was one of the "forlorn hope" in the attack on Port Hudson, May 27th, 1863. While leading that attack he was wounded in the mouth by a musket ball, which severed the carotid artery, and the operation of taking up the artery was considered at the time a most difficult piece of surgery. Once or twice since, when the wound has broken out afresh, Mr. Siggins has narrowly escaped death. He was highly respected, and leaves a family.

—The Reformed Congregation of Friedrichsstadt, in Schleswig-Holstein, has no church debt; indeed, it owns so much property that the members do not need to pay anything for the pastor's salary, or to meet other expenses. Each member received last year the sum of $15 out of the annual surplus.

A Wonderful Cure of Costiveness.

ST. ALBANS, VT., Feb. 12.

Dear Sirs:—After nearly sixteen consecutive years of prostration from spinal disease, my bowels becoming more and more constipated I was forced to resort to the daily use of the most approved alteratives and catharics prescribed by the medical profession; which however, seldom produced an evacuation more than once or twice a week—and not even then, without resorting to one or two injections before any relief.

Possibly you can imagine—I hope you may never experience—my sufferings from piles and otherwise, in consequence of costiveness and partial paralysis of the rectum. Such was my condition when by the advice of my physician I commenced the trial of your Kidney-Wort some three weeks ago. Since then I have taken nothing else excepting one small bluepill. Now by the use of one or two spoonfuls each week of the Kidney-Wort, the evacuations are sufficient and without suffering. Such a medicine is of priceless value, and I hope you will spare no pains in making known its virtues for the relief of suffering humanity.

Respectfully yours,
NELSON FAIRCHILD.

At Hopkinton, Mass., last Friday, Mrs. Mark Kimball's baby was burned to death in his cradle.

Set Back 42 Years.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, &c.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old worn out man all over; could get nothing to help me, until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial."—(Father.)—Sunday Mercury.

Eleven cases of small-pox were reported as existing in Salem, Mass., Monday.

FOUND.—It has been found that Lydia F. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is not only the best medicine for complaints, but it is also the greatest strengthner of the kidneys of either sex ever discovered.

Frederick Ricketson of New Bedford, a man of intemperate habits, aged forty-nine years, was drowned by falling from his boat last Friday. His body was recovered on Sunday.

if you will, but be sure to use SOZODONT right away, in order to carry off its injurious effects upon the teeth. All candy-eaters should carry SOZODONT with them, if they wish to keep their teeth sound.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Trocher" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&o

AROUND HOME.

J. M. Tibbetts' fall opening of pattern hats and bonnets takes place to-day.

Work was begun on the alterations and improvements of the state arsenal in this city, on Monday.

The Newmarket town library has been put in operation, with E. A. Keep as librarian. It contains 1,200 volumes.

Abbey's Mammoth Humpty Dumpty and Tyrolean Warblers will appear at Music hall on Monday evening, Oct. 18th. See adv't.

A number of prominent Odd Fellows left this city on Monday for Littleton, to attend the annual session of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire at that place on Tuesday. They were accompanied by their ladies.

George Downs of Dover, thirty years old, a brakeman on the Bostson & Maine railroad, was instantly killed, Monday morning, by striking a bridge about a mile east of Salmon Falls. He leaves a wife and two children.

On Saturday the Portsmouth Cavalry received orders by telegraph to go into camp on Tuesday for four days. Camp was pitched at Greenland on Monday, near the academy, the state supplying tents, and the company will go out some time to-day.

The records of the war department at Washington credit David Urch, major of the Hancock Veterans, Nicholas Zambelli, a lieutenant of the Hancock Veterans, and James R. Eaton, color bearer of the Boys in Blue, with an aggregate of thirty-two battles—but the joke of it is that Jim gets credit for all the battles.

Reserved seat tickets for the opening nights of the Franklin theatre went off at a lively rate on Monday, as might have been supposed would be the case, for such an array of operatic talent as the Ideal Opera company comprises has not appeared in this city for years, if ever. Miss Adelaide Phillips, Miss Mary Beebe, Miss Marie Stone, and Messrs. Barnabee, M. W. Whitney, W. H. Fessenden, Tom Karl, George Frothingham and Gus Kammerlee, form a constellation of stars such as is rarely seen on the stage of a small city—or a big one either, for that matter.

On Thursday of last week Mr. Jerome Boyd, of Seabrook, started out on a gunning excursion, and was seen at Black rocks that night, since when no tidings have been heard of him. On Friday a gunning float with a lot of decoys attached, recognized as belonging to Mr. Boyd, came on shore at Hampton beach, between Little and Great Boar's heads, from which it is thought he was drowned some time Thursday night or early on Friday. He was thirty-two years old, a shoemaker, a man of good habits, and much respected by his townsmen. He leaves a widow.

The Boston Traveller explains the meaning of the figures "329," which the democrats have for some weeks been engaged at night in chalking on doors and fences in many places, by suggesting that it means that if there was a perfectly free ballot and honest count all over the Union on the 2d of November, Garfield would have 329 votes; and the figures are chalked everywhere to remind local democratic managers of the necessity of resorting to the old-time democratic tactics of ballot-box stuffing and false counting. This explanation is much more reasonable that the one offered by a New York paper, which suggested that $329 was just the amount of Hancock's annual bill for corsets, as he wears only the most superb article in that line.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Oct. 11; Batchelder, J.

George McGinnis, charged with assault and robbery of Sam Lee, the Chinese laundryman, was held in $100 to appear at the October term of the supreme court to answer to the charge of assault.

Edward Cushing and Cornelius McCloud, charged with larceny of some clothing at the Seamen's Home, were allowed to depart on the payment of $8 and and $4.97 costs, each. They could have bought new clothes much cheaper.

REPUBLICAN STREET PARADE.

The torchlight parade of republican campaign organizations, Monday evening, was a much more extensive affair than many people had anticipated, the procession being a very large one and presenting a brilliant appearance. The bodies composing it were as follows: Boys in Blue, Winchester Cadets, Garfield Cadets, and Garfield & Arthur Battalion, of this city; Garfield & Arthur Battalion and Garfield Cadets, of Kittery Foreside, and the Garfield & Arthur company of Kittery Point. Music, of good quality and liberal in quantity, was furnished by the Kittery band and the Metcalf drum corps. The line was so long that when the head of it was at Daniel street the rear was on Middle street opposite Warren street. The procession moved from Congress street shortly eight o'clock, and after a two hours' march about the city the companies were massed on Market square, hearty cheers were given for the republican candidates, the Kittery companies were escorted to the steamboat landing at the foot of Daniel street, and the local organizations dismissed. Though only a preliminary parade, it was a big affair. Several new Garfield & Arthur flags were unfurled during the progress of the procession.

GARFIELD & ARTHUR BATTALION--ATTENTION!

As many members of the Garfield & Arthur Battalion as desire to attend the flag raising in Newington this (Tuesday) evening will meet at the armory, Franklin hall, at seven o'clock, in uniform and equipped with torches. PER ORDER.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

The gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening, was conducted by Mr. Phillips, and a very pleasant and interesting service was enjoyed.

Mrs. Adams conducted the bethel service, Sunday afternoon; there were but few vessels in port, and consequently the attendance of seamen was small, though the vessels were visited and the invitation extended as usual. A union love-feast will be held on Sunday next, in place of the regular service.

The reform club held a social service Sunday evening, with the new officers in their places. Mr. Janvrin was elected in place of Mr. Joseph T. French, who declined an election as chaplain. Mr. James Marden, the first vice president, announced the hymns, and in other ways assisted President Sanborn. The meeting was harmonious, and the best of feeling prevailed. Mr. Charles T. Wiggin by request gave on account of the county temperance convention at Newmarket, and Mr. C. H. Bell's letter was pleasantly alluded to. Mr. Janvrin made some earnest and excellent remarks.

Gospel meetings were held at Newcastle and Newington, by workers from this city, on Sunday. L.

MR. FRYE AT DOVER.

The Dover republicans are running the campaign in red-hot style. In addition to their grand parade of uniformed campaign companies, and multitudinous flag-raising, Thursday evening of last week, they had a grand rally in the city hall on Friday evening, when fully 1500 persons listened to an address by Hon. Wm. P. Frye of Maine, and hundreds were unable to get into the hall. Col. John Bracewell of Dover presided.

Mr. Frye spoke for two hours and a half, and the vast audience remained to the end, not twenty-five persons leaving previous to the close of the meeting. The Dover Democrat was so much exercised over this speech that it devoted three columns in its issue of Saturday to an attempted refutation of some of the strong points made by the orator.

Referring to the internal revenue tax, Mr. Frye said: "We get $60,000,000 a year from whisky, and you don't pay any of that unless it is a voluntary offering to the government; we get $40,000,000 from tobacco; $6,000,000 from banks; $4,000,000 from perfumery; $4,000,000 from playing cards, etc., and $4,000,000 on matches. The tax on matches amounts to one cent on one hundred matches, or about ten cents a year to an ordinary family. The republican party tried to repeal this tax, and every democrat in Congress voted not to do it, while they all voted to take $6,000,000 tax off of whisky." On the subject of a protective tariff he said:

The rest of the revenue is obtained by a protective tariff by which the working man is protected. The republican party believes in protection for northern industries. It believes in good wages for working-men, and so it says to Germany, if you want to sell shoes here in competition with our makers you must pay into our treasury $20 for each case, and this will bring the cost up to those made here, and let our factories run and pay good wages. This is a protective tariff. The democracy is for free trade or for a tariff for revenue only, which means protection for a few southern products, and free trade and ruinous competition for northern manufacturies. It means half wages for every mechanic and operative in New England. "But," says the mechanic, "I can't send my children to school and my wife to church decently dressed, and I can't get beef and mutton and books and papers on half pay." Certainly not; but these things are not a part of a free-trade system; they are not a part of the democratic creed.

Ireland had a protective tariff and a system of subsidies which built up great manufacturing industries, which gave well-paid employment to 40,000 weavers in Dublin alone. But England cast her evil eye upon Ireland; spent her gold to induce Ireland to accept free trade. Ireland listened and was lost. The tariff was abolished, the mills stopped, the operatives were turned out, and a million men, women and children starved to death; murdered by free trade. If there is a country on earth that has cause to curse free trade it is Ireland; and yet nine out of every ten Irishmen go to the polls and vote the democratic ticket; vote down their own wages; vote for the evils with which free trade has cursed Ireland; vote for the ruin which British gold is trying to bring upon this country.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The bridge connecting Kittery with the navy yard will be closed for repairs today.

The department of construction and repairs at the navy yard commences running on full time to-day.

Daniel P. Webber, of York, on Saturday last moved into his new house, built on the site of the one burned about a year ago.

A democratic torch-light procession is announced to take place at York on the evening of the 13th inst., under direction of Hon. Edward C Moody.

Mr. Fred Tarbox, of Biddeford, was burned very badly on both hands and his face, Thursday morning. He attempted to light a fire with kerosene.

John F. Plaisted of Groundnut hill, York, has lately cut five hundred cords of wood on his land, which he will haul to Cape Neddick during the winter.

Joseph Cote, aged sixteen years, son of Damas Cote, of Biddeford, was drowned in Saco river on Saturday night, while fishing. The body was found Sunday morning.

Norton & Co., proprietors of the brickyard on York river, last week sold to Nathaniel Swett of Boston a large kiln of brick, which a Portsmouth schooner commenced loading on Monday, the 11th inst.

Mr. Charles E. Eaton, of York, has been making extensive repairs on his house, and adding to the extent of the same, and has purchased a family carriage of Benjamin F. Rogers—all which is considered by the neighbors to be very ominous of a change in Mr. Eaton's recent mode of life.

Mr. E. C. Moody of York has this fall sold about thirty tons of pressed hay of excellent quality, which was shipped from York harbor to Lane's cove, Cape Ann. Mr. Moody has sold a large quantity of potatoes to C. L. Brown & Co. of Portsmouth, and has four hundred bushels more, and a large quantity of apples, on hand.

Charles A. Grant, the popular landlord of the Sea Cottage at Long beach, York, has recently purchased a fine top-buggy made by Long of Amesbury, Mass., a nice harness made in the Maine state prison at Thomaston, and a choice wool mat made in Portland, all together, with the superior horse he previously owned, making one of the best turnouts in the town.

A Portsmouth liquor dealer, on the day of the Maine election, visited York for the purpose of selling liquor on the premises of an old farmer seventy-five years of age, since which time the old man has been arrested for being in complicity with the Maine-law breaker, his fine and other expenses of his arrest amounting to about $130; but on account of his age and presumed ignorance of the law, and his inability to pay the sum inflicted as a penalty, the amount is said to have been much reduced. The Portsmouth liquor dealer, who made all the money on the sales, skipped back across the New Hampshire state line before the officers could manage to secure an interview with him.

Calvin H. Norton of Cape Neddick, eleven years of age, a son of Addison G. Norton, while flashing powder enclosed in a paper wad, and sitting beside it, about a week ago, was badly burned in the face. His wounds were dressed by his mother, and he is now nearly recovered. He was in company with five others boys at the time, the oldest of the party being sixteen years old, and was induced to touch off the dangerous plaything by the bantering of his mates, who were well scared when they saw the result of the experiment. One of the other boys, about fourteen years old, several days later ran through the a burning pile of potato tops on which Paris green had been sprinkled to kill potato bugs, and the fumes from the burning vines caused his face to swell so that his features were hardly recognizable; this boy too is now getting better.

—The man with a bull-terrier "pup" is an interesting feature of street-car travel. He invariably thrusts the "pup" under the seat, and the length of the cord by which he is held generally gives him a range of about six feet. It then becomes a nice question whose legs the animal will bite first, and whether he will merely nibble or set his teeth firmly in the quivering flesh.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

Political Notes.

The agent of the British capitalists who is engaged in circulating the free trade pamphlets of the Cobden Club, recently said to an American citizen: "We will let you have a tariff for revenue, but we will overthrow your protective system." British capital, then, proposes to control this country. Workingmen who are averse to taking the pauper wages of Great Britain will do well to ponder on this insolent proclamation.—Boston Journal.

In Munroe county, Mississippi, every candidate for schoolmaster is obliged to sign the following certificate: "I certify that I have been a democrat, and that I will hereafter support the candidates of the democratic party, and work with that party."

The south asks no bold and unfair thing when she demands her rightful compensation for homes destroyed, farms laid waste and pillaged, property stolen and slaves released by the Yankee plunderers who lived upon us and then refused us bounty. And it is time that the whole north should understand this. It is time that the north should understand that it must atone, as far as it can, for all the south has suffered in body, pocket and soul. Our time is coming, boys, and the long purgatory that we have gone through will only make our paradise the brighter when we get there.—United States Senator Vance, of North Carolina.

While a democratic procession was passing the office of the republican paper in Vincennes, Indiana, a few evenings since, two shots were fired from a revolver into the editorial room. Fortunately the usual occupants were absent, and escaped the intended assassination.

Gen. Hancock has declared against the payment of rebel war claims. His party might have saved him the trouble and the nation the doubt of the good policy of trusting the safety of the treasury to the accidents of a single life, and the firmness of a single will, if the southern representatives in Congress had, on the occasion when the opportunity was offered to them, voted in favor of forever barring them by a constitutional amendment. In 1876 such a resolution was introduced in Congress, and on the record, fifty-eight of the seventy-three southern democrats voted against it. On its being introduced a second time, fifty-eight out of sixty-three voting, declared themselves against it. On the third and last trial, fifty-nine out of sixty-three voted "No." All these men have introduced southern claims of some kind, and an aggregate amount of millions has been presented by the representatives from southern states. If it is an insult to the intelligence of the people to suppose that anybody expects that their claims will be paid, then the southern members of Congress have taken the very extraordinary proceeding of introducing a very large number of elaborate bills simply for buncombe, when they knew that they had no chance of amounting to anything, and at the same time would create a disrust, which would have an injurious effect on their party success. And they have compelled their candidate to insult his own record as a soldier by the necessity of a public protest, that he will not favor the payment of rewards for treason. It was not a very wise action, if this last disavowal of meaning anything by the introduction of bills for the payment of rebel claims, is taken as entirely candid.—Providence Journal.

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION,

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical over-exertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting temporary cures of the complaint, they now the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without fear or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Practice patent law in all its branches in the Patent Office, and in the Supreme and Circuit Courts of the United States. Pamphlet sent free on receipt of stamp for postage.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Ladies should read it. Physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored to manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth the listed price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 8 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. d&wtnov80

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir; You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a week'y invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Harvesting Potatoes.

Harvest always in cool, clear weather, when the soil is dry that the potatoes may come out clean. Whether unearthed by hoe, patent digger or plough, give the outside moisture time to evaporate previous to storing. Moisture is favorable to heating, which in turn induces decay; hence it is necessary to have the potatoes throughly dry, especially when a considerable quanity is to be put away in bulk. When the roots are perfectly healthy hundreds of bushels are often taken at once from the field to the place of storing without ill results attending, it is true, but the practice is not a safe one to be followed under any condition if the tubers show the least symptom of rot. In this case spread in layers and exclude the light, waiting until cold weather to store in heaps. Avoid all handling as far as possible, and do not disturb the pile after January 1st, unless necessary, as some varities are inclined to sprout from that time forward.—Homestead.

Plant Peddlars and Nursery Agents.

With the autumn days come the plant peddler or nursery agent. One of these fellows with a glib tongue, a fast horse and a highly varnished buggy comes into a town, takes perhaps hundreds of dollars' worth of orders, and after he has done all the mischief he can, some good person will sit down and write us about it, asking if such a man is likely to do what he professes, and various other questions that would be very properly put before the orders had been given, but after the agent has taken the orders it will be a very difficult matter for them to refuse to take the goods. However rascally such a man may be, it is hardly possible to prove it until the trees and plants come into bearing, and here is where these chaps have the advantage. They cannot be found out in most cases under several years, by which time they will have gone to some far-off state and will be beyond reach.

A little common sense would be a very convenient thing to have in these cases. If a man claims to be an agent of such a nursery, he will have proper credentials, and, if he is honest, he will be willing to substantiate his claims. If, however, he has no credentials, it is very unwise to order of such a man, unless it is known that the trees, etc., will come from a nursery of good reputation; and it is very easy to ascertain this by writing to the nursery and making inquiry.

But why the majority of those who buy of such persons do not deal directly with the nursery, is a matter that we are quite unable to understand. If trees are ordered from a well-known nursery, and in the course of time prove to be not true to their names, one knows where to look for redress. Accidents may occur in even the best nurseries, and an honorable business man would make all the reparation possible should it be found that in fact trees were not as represented. These travelling chaps sometimes profess to sell fruits which have no real existence, or they describe well-known fruits in a manner which the facts will not warrant.—American Agriculturist.

Not Open to Objection.

Temperance people often say that most of the popular medicines they see advertised are nine-tenths rum. That is true of many, but not of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." The doctor agrees with his temperance friends that it is better to die of disease than of drink. "Favorite Remedy" cures kidney troubles, liver complaints, constipation of the bowels, as nothing else does or ever did. It drives away sickness. It cools the blood. It costs only a dollar to try it. Ask your druggist or send to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

—A New York boy of twelve years of age was intrusted with $85 by his father to pay a rent bill the other day, and while on the errand he was assaulted and robbed of that sum on the highway by two of his schoolmates, each aged thirteen years. The two precocious footpads bought a rifle, two revolvers, two bowie-knives, etc., and would ere now have followed the star of empire a long way westward if they had not been laid by the heels in jail. Such crimes by youths are increasing in New York, and the authorities are puzzled to know how to stop them.

Why will you doubt what every one says must be true. Day's Kidney Pad is controlling and curing a class of diseases that have heretofore been considered incurable.

The Elections.

Ohio All Right!

REPUBLICAN GAINS IN INDIANA.

Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia held elections on Tuesday, the canvass in the two states first named having been the hottest of any for years. In Ohio a secretary of state was voted for; Indiana and West Virginia voted for governor; and in all three of the states congressmen were elected.

West Virginia is represented in the lower house of Congress by three democrats; Indiana by six democrats, six republicans and one greenbacker; Ohio by nine republicans and eleven democrats.

The vote in these states at the last previous elections was as follows: Indiana, in 1878, gave a democratic plurality of 13,736 over the republican candidate for secretary of state; Ohio, in 1879, gave 3,352 republican majority for governor; and West Virginia, in 1878, gave a democratic majority of 7,689 on the vote for congressmen.

But little general interest was taken in West Virginia's vote, it being regarded as hopelessly democratic; but intense interest was felt in the result in Ohio and Indiana, both being important states, and one the home of Garfield and the other the home of English—and it was acknowledged that should either party carry both states, that party would gain a decided start in the presidential race.

The telegraph offices in this city were thronged till a late hour by politicians anxious for good news, but fearing to receive bad. The returns came in slowly, the indications throughout the evening being that Ohio had gone heavily republican, and that the republicans had made gains in Indiana. We give the latest returns received.

(By Western Union Telegraph.)

WHEELING, W. VA., evening.

State polled heavy and increased vote. Democratic majority is largely reduced.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, 8:30 P. M.

The republicans claim the election of the entire Hamilton county ticket by 3500, and both congressmen. Democrats concede by 2500.

CINCINNATI, 10:30 P. M.

Gazette summarizes as follows: All returns so far show republican gains in Ohio, and majority of 20,000 or over. Scattering returns from Indiana favorable to republicans. Ohio's vote heaviest ever thrown. Commercial claims fifteen republican congressmen, and 20,000 majority. Republican state committee at Columbus claim thirteen congressmen.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., 12:30.

Returns from 85 precincts give a net republican gain of 414, in a total vote of 26,000. Same ratio of gain for rest of state will give republicans a majority of 1000 for governor.

Later.—One hundred and five precincts give net republican gain of 628. National vote more than doubled in same precincts.

News and Notes.

There was an immense demonstration in New York, Monday evening, in honor of Gen. Grant. According to democratic accounts there were between 40,000 and 50,000 men in the procession, which was headed by the Bankers & Brokers' Republican club, numbering 3000, followed by the Republican Invincibles of Philadelphia, 1500 strong. The Roscoe Conkling Brigade numbered 3500 men.

The contracts in detail for the construction of the four new breech-loading guns of twelve-inch calibre are now being made between the United States bureau of ordnance and the South Boston Iron company, where arrangements are completed to begin the work of construction. These guns will be the largest ever made on this continent, the weight of each being fifty-five tons.

The Norwegians want to secede from Sweden and set up a republic. Norway is democratic in its notions, and has already abolished its order of nobility; and it wishes further changes in its constitution, which King Oscar refuses to grant. The union between the two countries is not close at present. Norway has her own parliament and courts, and can even over-ride the veto power of the king by the concurrent action of three successive parliments. But the Norwegians are restless at the idea of having a hereditary ruler over them, even in name, and particularly the ruler of another kingdom, though of the same race.

Mrs. Caroline R. Folsom, formerly of Exeter, who died at Concord on the 4th inst., was a sister to Mrs. William B. Lowd of this city, and mother of Albert A. Folsom, Esq., Superintendent of the Boston & Providence Railroad. In early life, and partly from grief at the loss by death of her husband, Mrs. Folsom was afflicted with impaired eyesight, but she was ever uncomplaining and cheerful of nature. Her sad infirmity seemed to ennoble rather than to cast a shadow of discontent and from the depths of a sunny disposition and sweetness of heart came forth the characteristics which shone in her every day walk and conversation. An unruffled serenity marked her daily life, which was inexhaustible in patience and perfect in resignation, making pleasant the lives of others by its force of example, and adding a charm to home-life which will never cease in influence. Doubly endeared to whom she was an ever present blessing, this gentle lady passed through life unobtrusively, sanctifying it by her presence and elevating it by her love. Home was home itself where she was, and her soothing influence made it sacred. Gentleness and amiability dwelt there in perfect peace. The shadow that obscured her vision found no corresponding impress in her pure and spotless life, which has closed replete with good works, sweetened by pleasant memories, and fruitful in all that is most deserving. Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

A Fortunate Neighborhood.

The vicinity of No. 85 Avenue B, in the city of New York, must be regarded as a peculiarly fortunate one. A month or two ago Mr. MAX STERN, residing there, drew $15,000 in the Grand Monthly Distribution of the Louisiana State Lottery, and in the September drawing Mr. L. S. Fleishman, residing within five doors, and well known as an energetic dealer in fancy goods, millinery, etc., was attacked with similar symptoms, and holding a half of ticket No. 99,887, for which he had sent by mail to M. A. Dauphin, either at No. 819 Broadway, New York city, or else to the same person at New Orleans, La., pocketed the handsome sum of $1,250. The frequency of such incidents must make any judicious person wonder why he should not be the next favorite of fortune.

AROUND HOME.

The Boys in Blue turned out 109 strong on Monday evening, and still there is a call for more uniforms by these veterans.

The schooner Daniel Marcy, of Doane's fleet, arrived Sunday with 420 barrels of mackerel, and on Monday the Gov. Goodwin came in with 350 barrels.—Times.

Another Garfield & Arthur Battalion is to be organized in this city, the uniform to consist of cape, cap and torch. Many of our prominent citizens will be enrolled in this organization, and will be found marching in the ranks.

The republican organizations of Kittery in the parade on Monday evening turned out two hundred torches, and made a fine display. The republicans of Portsmouth will return the visit with interest before the campaign is over.

The Times gives the whole number of persons in the republican procession, Monday evening, as 590, exclusive of the bands. We did not bother to count them, but our estimate of the total number, bands and all, was 500. We are much obliged to our neighbor for its count, which we do not doubt is correct, unlike the usual democratic count of republican processions or votes.

On the occasion of the republican parade, Monday evening, we noticed in the ranks of the Garfield & Arthur Battalion from Kittery, Mr. Nathaniel Dame of Kittery Point; the old gentleman, though eighty-five years of age, appeared to step off about as well as any of the boys, and carried the colors, marching the entire route of the procession. Mr. Dame formerly resided in Portsmouth.

The South Seabrook correspondent of the Newburyport Herald says: "Marcellus Bufford, Esq., of Portsmouth, was in Seabrook on Monday, at the house of Richard Fowler, taking the depositions of witnesses to be used by Samuel H. Goodall in the case to come up at Portsmouth in the October term of court, of S. H. Goodall vs. Sewall B. Fowler, for trespass on Goodall's beach property."

Notwithstanding the informal character of the republican street demonstration, Monday evening, and the very slight publicity previously given to it through the mediumship of the papers, quite a number of private residences were illuminated, and none attracted more attention or drew heartier cheers from the processionists than those of Messrs. Joseph K. Dupray on Deer street, and D. Foxwell Stoddard on State street.

As an illustration of the scarcity of water in this vicinity, a friend reports that on Monday he noticed a farmer who lives at Little Harbor filling a barrel with water at the pump on Miller avenue, to take home. Another gentleman informs us that he saw a milkman who resides about three miles from Market square filling his milk-cans with water at the same place one morning recently, after he had delivered his milk, and when on his way home.

Reference has already been made to a new propeller with which the steamer James Sampson has recently been fitted, with excellent results as to speed, and to freedom of the boat from vibration when running. We are informed that the new propeller was designed by Passed Assistant Engineer John A. Tobin, U. S. N., now stationed at this navy yard, and that to his skill the patrons and owners of the boat are largely indebted for her easy and noiseless motion through the water.

It gives us real pleasure to say that we have not heard of any annoyance of the republican procession on Monday evening, during its long march about the streets; and for the good name of our city we sincerely hope we shall not have to chronicle any outrage upon the processions or political "properties" of either party, during the campaign. Decent men of all political beliefs, who demand their own rights and respect the rights of others, of course deprecate and denounce any improper interference with their political opponents; but notwithstanding this there are some who think the best way to convert a political antagonist is to hit him in the head with a brick. We trust such tactics will not prevail in this city.

When the Boys in Blue arrived in front of the residence of Commodore Pickering on Austin street, during Monday evening's parade of republican campaign clubs, the column was halted, and three hearty cheers given by the veterans were taken up and passed along the line with an enthusiasm which indicated that the gallant Commodore's services to his country during the hour of peril, are not forgotten. The Commodore acknowledged the compliment in an admirable impromptu speech, abounding in patriotic sentiments. Major Tilton responded briefly and proposed three more cheers, after which the battalions resumed the march.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Oct. 12; Batchelder, J.

Isaac Frizzell was charged by Mrs. Amelia Coban with committing an assault upon her, in the shape of pelting her with stones. There was a good deal of talk, but nothing very conclusive in the way of evidence was offered, and the case was ended by defendant's discharge.

Another complaint against Frizzell, for drunkenness, was nol. pros'd.

CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

TUESDAY, Oct. 12th.

Petit jurors were returned as follows: Freeman Higgins, Manchester, ward three, foreman; Elias Carr, Wm. H. Darling, Manchester, ward two; James F. Pherson, Manchester, ward one; George P. Henry, Goffstown; George F. Shepard, Bedford; Horace W. Keyes, Amherst; James P. Anderson, Samuel H. Grinnell, Charlestown; Isaac Blanchard, Claremont; Samuel A. Towle, Hampton; William F. Clapham, Newmarket; Asa B. Robinson, Brentwood; Owen Hinckly, Londonderry; Alvah B. Chase, Deerfield; Samuel Crowell, Newport, excused.

In case Wilbur vs. Abbott, motion for new amendment was argued for the plaintiff by C. R. Morrison of Manchester, and for defendant by Eastman. The case has been in court since 1872. Deft. urges that the judgment claimed was fradulently obtained by service of a writ at New Orleans upon a person not a member of the late firm of J. S. & E. A. Abbott, and that no legal service was made upon any member of the firm, and that the action cannot be maintained.

William Fuller of Pembroke, indicted at the May term upon a charge of being a retail dealer in spiritous liquors without the payment of the special tax, was tried. The court excluded admissions made by Fuller before Commissioner Fowler, as not allowable under Sec. 860 of the United States statutes. Defendant denied that he ever sold. The evidence shew but a single sale, and no evidence was offered to show that Fuller had not paid the tax required by law. The jury found the defendant not guilty. Eastman for the United States; Sulloway and Topliff for Fuller.

Samuel G. Dearborn of Nashua vs. Augustus T. Post. Post is a dealer in bonds in New York city, and in 1873 sold to Dr. Dearborn four ten per cent bonds of Bourbon township, Illinois. Piff. says Post claimed that these bonds were first-class security and all right, and said that he (Post) would, if piff. was dissatisfied, take the bonds back and pay piff. the price or give other bonds; that the bonds were irregularly issued and not all right, and not first-class. The claim is for $3000, the price of the bonds, which Post refused to pay when Dearborn sought to return them. One of Post's agents, Mr. Zebley, came to Nashua in 1873, to the plaintiff's office, and assured piff. that Post had looked up the matter, and was so satisfied with it that he would take back the six bonds of $500 each if they did not prove all right, and pay the money for them. The first coupon due after the purchase of the bonds was not paid. The bonds were issued in aid of the Decatur & Paris River railroad. Dr. Dearborn went to Illinois subsequently and found the bonds were not as represented, and he requested Mr. Post's agent to take back the bonds, but Post refused to do so. The principal witness was Mr. John F. Zebley of New York, who made the sale of the bonds for Mr. Post. Unfinished. Wadleigh for piff.; Stearns of New York, and A. F. Stevens, for deft.

FATINITZA.

As Suppe's latest comic opera, "Fatinitza," has never been performed in this city, a brief synopsis of the plot and leading incidents may not be unacceptable to the many who will attend its first representation here, at Franklin theatre on Thursday evening, by the Ideal Opera company.

The principal characters are cast as follows for Thursday evening; Vladimer, (alias "Fatinitza,") Miss Adelaide Philips; Lydia, Miss Mary Beebe; Count Kantchukoff, Myron W. Whitney; Izzet Pasha, H. C. Barnabee; Julian Hardy, W. H. Fessenden; Sergt. Steiphann, George Frothingham.

The story is quite an interesting one, and is almost sufficient to carry the piece alone as a drama, without the aid of the bright and taking music with which it is set off. The incidents are such as might have occurred at the front during the Russo-Turkish war, and the story deals with the pranks of a young and handsome Russian lieutenant, Vladimer, and the difficulties into which his mischievous spirit leads him. While masquerading in female attire under the name of Fatinitza he is met by a rough old Russian general, Count Kantchukoff, who falls violently in love with him. Vladimer afterward meets the general's neice, the Princess Lydia, and without knowing each other's rank the two form a romantic attachment, in consequence of which Vladimer is sent to the front.

The opening scene of the piece is a characteristic one of military camp life. Vladimer and Julian Hardy, an American newspaper correspondent, who is the regulator of everybody's troubles, propose private theatricals among the officers to relief the ennui of camp life. The suggestion is quickly adopted, and the old general pounces upon the camp, with all the officers and half the men masquerading in fantastic costumes. He discovers his lost Fatinitza in Vladimer, who is in female dress, and this fact alone saves the officers from dire destruction. Just as all begin to breathe freely a band of Bashi-Bazouks surprise the camp and carry off Vladimer, and also the Princess Lydia, who has suddenly visited camp.

The second act shows the harem of Izzet Pasha, a Turkish commander to whom the captives are taken, and there is no end of comical scenes and situations, in which Vladimer, Lydia, Izzet and his four wives, and Julian and Steipann, a Russian sergeant, who have been sent to arrange for the release of the captives, take part. A "Karagois," or Turkish shadow pantomime, is gotten up for the visitors, but a Russian surprise ends its summarily, and the captives are released.

The third act is in the general's summer residence at Odessa, and in it Julian ingeniously outwits the old soldier, disposes of Fatinitza forever, and secures the marriage of Vladimer and Lydia and the promotion of the former. The music is of a high order, half a dozen or more of the solos and several of the choruses being of unusual merit.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The soap factory of James I. Buck, in Saco, was destroyed by fire on Monday night. Loss about $1500; uninsured.

George Downs, the Boston & Maine brakeman who was killed by striking a bridge near Rollinsford junction on Monday, was a native of Berwick, where his father now lives.

Three hundred cords of wood are being hauled from Richard Walker's land at York village to J. P. Norton's brickyard, half-way up York river, between Rice's and Sewell's bridges.

The epizootic is very prevalent throughout York county; the disease, as in other places, is much less severe than when it first raged, eight years ago, but is still bad enough to seriously interfere with travel and with full work on farms.

Two boarders who arrived at the Sea Cottage, York beach, on the 17th of June, left on Saturday last for their homes in the west. Their departure marks the finish of the beach season of 1880 in that locality, they having been the last of the summer boarders to go.

On Friday last Edward Rowell and Charles H. Stevens, of Salem, Mass., bought of Jeremiah McIntire, of York, seven hundred bushels of potatoes, and of Andrew Preble one hundred bushels, at forty-five cents a bushel, the lot being shipped from Marshall's wharf, near Sewell's bridge, York river, per schooner yacht "Carrie E.," of Salem. The schooner B. E. Ives, of York, is at the same wharf, awaiting a load of potatoes.

Mr. Jerry Freeman, who drives a butcher's cart in Cape Neddick for George M. Simpson, cut his thumb about two weeks ago. The wound healed on the outside, but in handling ice he got cold in it, and his arm swelled to the elbow, spasms and symptoms of lockjaw ensuing, and on Wednesday of last week he was raving violently. He was tended by Dr. Stewart of York, and is now considered out of danger, the wound on his thumb having developed into a felon.

The drought is said by old residents of Kittery, York and Wells, to be more severe than any within their memory, so far as springs and wells are concerned, there being almost a water famine in many localities, for domestic and farm purposes; wells and springs which have not failed to furnish water for fifty years past are now dry, and some farmers have to drive their stock two or three miles to give the animals a drink. A gentlemen in South Berwick, who has five wells on his place, is unable to get a bucket of water from the whole lot.

Frank Emerson, of York, and a Mr. Norton of Lewiston, Me., a native of York, have dammed the "old mill-pond" near York harbor for the purpose of cutting ice next winter, and have secured a large surface for this purpose. On Thursday night of last week about forty feet of the dam was carried away, but repairs will be made at once. Should the parties be able to maintain the dam, the pond will be of special value on account of the exceptional facilities for shipping the ice.

The people of Limington are much excited over the discovery of the furnishings of a casket secreted in a clump of bushes about two miles from the cemetery. It is thought body snatchers have been at work in that vicinity. The matter has been kept quiet, in order to enable the authorities to discover some clue to the perpetrators, but as yet no clue is found.

The schooner Gold Hunter, Weare master, loaded at Ogunquit last week with wood belonging to Charles E. Weare, for the Boston market. Asahel Goodwin and Alvah Trafton on Thursday last shipped about five hundred cords of wood from Cape Neddick, by the schooner Sharon, Edward Donnell master, which went to Boston, and the Anabella, Joseph Donnell master, which took her load to one of the Dover point brick-yards. Mr. Goodwin recently bought of Albert Smith, of York, seventy cords of wood, which was hauled to the wharf near Scotland bridge belonging to Joseph S. Grant of Portsmouth, where it was piled up ready for shipment. Timothy Young shipped to Boston week before last seventy cords of wood cut at Brixham, per schooner John Franklin, from Grant's wharf, and has another similar lot ready for shipment by the same vessel. It would seem that firewood must become scarce in York at no distant period, at the rate it is being cut off.

A BRAVE LADY!

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely loose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed, she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait, she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, New York, who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to woman. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Pleasant Letters.

They are sheets of sunshine. A Methodist clergyman of Hartford, Conn., writes Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., that "Favorite Remedy" cured him of chronic liver disease and indigestion, from which he had suffered for a long time. This was splendid, but nothing more than anyone may expect who uses this medicine. One dollar a bottle is a small consideration when health is in question. The clergyman says he is going to introduce Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" among his people. He can't do better. Health is always a friend of religion.

If you have a friend with a cough or cold, tell him to try Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. He will thank you for your advice. The price is only 25 cents.

—A new-comer in Galveston asked an old resident how malarial fever, could be distinguished from yellow fever. "As a general thing," was the reply, "you can't tell until you have it. If you ain't alive then, it is most likely yellow fever."

A City in Danger.

The Syracuse (N. Y.) Journal declares that Syracuse is in constant danger of a terrible inundation from the canal at Lodi locks, and thus describes the situation: "From the eastern limits of Syracuse to Utica the Erie canal extends without a single lock, and from Rome to this city the current is westward—in this direction. If the locks at Lodi were to give way millions upon millions of gallons of water would be turned upon the city. All Syracuse, with the exception of those parts lying upon the hills, would be devastated. Streets would be flooded and buildings torn from their foundations. Human lives would be sacrificed and property destroyed. It is impossible to compute the loss that would be occasioned, but the ruin would be general, and the city would suffer a blow that years would not repair. * * * If a boat were going into the locks at Lodi, and should strike the gates with sufficient force to throw them open, no power on earth could prevent the large volume of water from sweeping down upon the lower level. Everything would be carried before it, and the force of the vast body would be so great that in all probability the locks would be torn out and the the bank below burst. The Lodi locks are between thirty and forty feet above what is known as the Syracuse level, running through the main part of the city. The fall is sufficient to give the water terrific momentum, and before anything could be done to prevent it nearly the whole city would be inundated. Twice Syracuse has narrowly escaped this disaster."

Delicate Mechanism.

A skillful watchmaker one day thus reasoned with a customer who complained of his watch. "You complain," said he, "that your watch gains a minute a month. Well, then, you will congratulate yourself when you have heard me. You are aware that in your watch, the balance, which is the regulator, makes five oscillations every second, which is four hundred and thirty-two thousand a day; so that your watch, exposed to all the vicissitudes which heat and cold occasion it, the varying weight of the air and the shaking to which it is subjected, has not varied more than a minute a month, or two seconds a day. It has only acquired with each vibration of the balance a variation of the two hundred and sixteen thousandth part of a second. Judge then, what must be the extreme perfection of the mechanism of this watch!"

Etiquette of Conversation.

Do not manifest impatience.

Do not engage in argument.

Do not interrupt another when speaking.

Do not find fault, though you may gently criticise.

Do not talk of your private, personal and family matters.

Do not appear to notice inaccuracies of speech in others.

Do not allow yourself to lose temper or speak excitedly.

Do not allude to unfortunate peculiarities of any one present.

Do not always commence a conversation by allusion to the weather.

Do not, when narrating an incident, continually say, "you see," "you know," etc.

Do not intrude professional or other topics that the company generally cannot take an interest in.

Do not talk very loud. A firm, clear, distinct, yet mild, gentle and musical voice has great power.

Do not be absent-minded, requiring the speaker to repeat what has been said that you may understand.

Do not speak disrespectfully of personal appearance when any one present has the same defects.

Do not try to force yourself into the confidence of others. If they give their confidence, never betray it.

Do not use profanity, vulgar terms, slang phrases, words of double meaning, or language that will bring a blush to any one.

Do not intersperse your conversation with foreign words. It shows affectation, and will draw ridicule upon you.

Do not carry on a conversation with another in company about matters which the general company knows nothing of. It is almost as impolite as to whisper.

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION.

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and distressing much dreaded affections,

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical overexertion, will find their speedy relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the Vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and plasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used with out fear or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures sent Free. Write for it. Address DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1866, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items: carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and to those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 300 useful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

The American Nose.

Wells, in his "New Physiognomy," gives drawings of "The American Nose." Its profile outline has unmistakably the curves of Hogarth's celebrated "Line of Beauty." Though it seems no professional physiognomist has made a note of the significant fact. In its alignment with the forehead it frequently suggests the Grecian type, especially if there be but a slight indentation between the eyes. It is prominent at the "bridge" after the Roman fashion; then it recedes a little, finishing with a decided pug of inquisitiveness, or terminating with that peculiar thickening of the end sometimes called a "bottle" nose—which, however, does not in the least signify a love of the bottle. The American type is a "general purpose" nose, and may be said to indicate a compound character in which the refinement of the Greek and the aggressive executiveness of the Roman is combined with that prying "turn-up" inquisitiveness which leads to invention and discovery. It is the nose of versatility, and its owner, if unsuccessful in one department of enterprise, can "pull up stakes" and "try it again," and is certain through life to leave behind him very distinct footprints in the sands of time. Peace and prosperity may sandpaper the American nose down to the pure Greek type; revolution and anarchy may alter it to a fighting Roman curve; but "a cycle of Cathay" would scarcely whittle it away to the contemptible dimensions of Ah Sin's degenerate pug.—Chicago Times.

Around the World.

A fame that is world-wide and acquired in the short space of a few years, must have true merit for its support. Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines have gained such fame, and the foreign orders for his Golden Medical Discovery—the greatest blood-purifier of the age, for his Pleasant Purgative Pellets (little sugar-coated pills,) his Favorite Prescription—woman's best friend—and the other remedies became so great, that a branch of the World's Dispensary has been established in London, England, for their manufacture. From this depot they are shipped to every part of Europe, and to the East Indies, China, Japan, and other countries. Their sale in both North and South America is perfectly enormous and increases yearly. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., and Great Russell Street Buildings, London, Eng.

Dear Sir—I take pleasure in writing my testimony with others in regard to your valuable medicine. For a long time I have suffered from disease of the lungs, and until I used your Discovery found nothing that did me any good. Thanks to it, I am relieved and recommend it to all. Yours truly,

The Elections.

ALL ONE WAY.

AND THE RIGHT WAY, TOO.

The returns from Ohio and Indiana, throughout the 13th inst., were more and more favorable for the republicans.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. The Herald says: "Is the presidency decided? The vote is so close in both Ohio and Indiana that complete returns will not be attainable for a day or two, but the details at hand show such republican gains in both states as denote a decisive defeat for the democrats. They hoped and looked for a vote which should show other states that the set of the tide was against the republicans, as they have acknowledged their chief expectation of success depended in November, but the set of the tide appears to be against themselves. If it shall turn out that they have lost Indiana as well as Ohio, the general, and we believe correct, opinion will be that this substantially decides the presidential contest and makes General Garfield the next president."

Marshall Jewell says Ohio has given 25,000 republican majority, and elected sixteen republican congressmen, a gain of seven.

"If Indiana goes republican we'll give the election up."—Washington Post, before the election.

"If both those states [Ohio and Indiana] go for the republicans, Garfield will be elected in November."—New York Sun, Oct. 6th.

English's State Speaks.

A despatch from Indianapolis, on the 13th inst., says Mr. Landers the democratic nominee for governor of Indiana, concedes the election of Mr. Porter by at least 4000, and that the legislature is probably republican.

Gen. Foster claims that Porter's majority is over 5000, and that the republicans have elected eight congressmen, a gain of two, and secured the legislature.

BETTER AND BETTER ! !

The following came over the Western Union lines at midnight:

Indianapolis despatches show election of the full republican state ticket in Indiana by 7000 majority, and republican congressmen in 1st, 6th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 13th districts; and the republicans claim the 7th district also.

The "Invincible" Candidate.

From different sections of the state come proofs that Sulloway's story of Hon. Frank Jones' popularity, told at the national democratic committee room in New York recently, is the merest bosh. He is really not a strong candidate. Every one who works for him, and a vast number who are expected to vote for him, expect to be paid—and well paid—for the service, while there is no enthusiasm save that which proceeds from a mere truck-and-dicker arrangement. If Mr. Jones believes in his heart that he is supported by volunteers, with any disinterested zeal, he is simply mistaken. The fuglers have deceived the Barrington boy, as in times past they humbugged Capt. Marcy; and there is even in the democratic ranks a strong opposition to Jones, as well as a wide-spread belief that his defeat is inevitable.

News and Notes.

United States bonds, which took a tumble in price when the result of the Maine election was announced, and stopped down until Ohio and Indiana were heard from, took a brisk jump upward on the 13th inst.

Several years ago ten lives were lost by a collision near Norfolk, Va., between the tug Lumberman and the Old Dominion steamer Isaac Bell, which was recently burned at Portsmouth. The coroner's jury was unable to place the blame, but it has now been discovered, through examination of the man by the marine hospital service, that the pilot of the Lumberman is color blind.

A man named Hefferman, a plasterer of Clonbur, Ireland, and another named Spencer, steward to a neighboring nobleman, have been arrested in connection with the murder of Lord Mountmorres.

A newly-married exchange says that "wedding-rings are shown in round bands of at least eighteen-carat gold, and cost from $6 to $15. The engagement ring is a solitaire pearl or diamond—never a plain or flat band. It is worn on the third or marriage finger, and, after the marriage, is placed over the wedding-ring. Flat bands are no longer worn. Rings are not worn on the first finger of either hand. Fancy or bangle-rings are permitted on the little finger, but the two middle fingers, especially the third, are the ring fingers at present."

The investigation of the South Carolina census shows that the errors in enumerating the population of that state were committed in 1870 and not in 1880. "The disturbed state of society in the states lately in rebellion," says General Walker, "and the supposed necessity for appointing assistant marshals wholly from the dominant political party, members of which, in some sections, were drawn almost exclusively from a race recently emancipated by effects of the war, combined to reduce to a very low point the assurance which the country could have of a good census being taken by such thoroughly bad organization as that provided by the law of 1870."

It is said that the public are soon to be surprised with a new and wonderful discovery in the art of telegraphing that will throw the inventions of Morse and Edison into the shade. Some bookworm in perusing the writings of a Jesuit monk of the fourteenth century found a treatise on the properties and wonders of the lodestone and magnet. It is there incidentally mentioned that if two magnets are constructed exactly alike, the action or motion of one will cause a similar and sympathetic action in the other, although not in contact. Acting upon this theory, it is said, a scientist has actually succeeded to such an extent that he believes the theory will become practical and useful. After many and repeated trials he has succeeded in constructing two magnetic needles exactly alike, which is the great difficulty. Each is inclosed in a case similar to a watch, having the alphabet instead of figures on the dial. By moving the needle in one with a key or otherwise, from letter to letter on the dial, the needle in the other will take the same motion and assume the same position, thus spelling out word for word. It is claimed that actual experiment confirms the feasibility of this discovery, even where the instruments are miles apart.

An affray occurred near Sumter, S. C., the other day, between Julius A. Boyd and his son, on one side, and B. H. Hussey and his wife, on the other, which resulted in the shooting of the elder Boyd in the stomach, the younger Boyd in the thigh, and Hussey in the knee. The parties were neighbors, and had some private cause of quarrel.

The New York craze over the appearance of Sara Bernhardt has resulted in the sale of tickets for the first six performances amounting to $36,000. The speculators into whose hands they have mainly fallen are already selling them at heavy advances on the original prices of $10 per ticket for a single performance. All this, it must be remembered, before Sara has sailed from France.

A white man in Kentucky has recently been hanged for killing a negro, the first instance of the kind on record.

John Hicks goes to the penitentiary for two years, at Jeffersonville, Ind., at the age of eighty. He has spent fifty years of his life in prisons.

One of the saddest incidents recorded in Port Neuf, Quebec, for some time past, occurred recently, when the parents of a young infant took it to church to be christened. On arriving at the church, and just before the ceremony began, the covering was taken from the child's face. It was dead. The parents, in bringing the infant to the church, had covered it up so closely that it had been smothered to death.

Moody and Sankey have of late labored separately, and stories of a disagreement between them have been told. These have generally related to the profit of the extensive sale of Sankey's hymn-books. But the two evangelists are to be paired again next winter for a revival campaign in San Francisco, where preparations are making for a powerful onslaught on sin.

The extent to which the secularization of Sunday has been carried in New York is evidenced by the starting of a Sunday evening journal in that city. Every large American city has its Sunday morning papers, which are of course printed over night, and are merely distributed in the early part of the day, but an evening journal on Sunday is an innovation.

POLICE COURT.

Senator Blair will speak in this city next week.

The reporter of the Times knows more about politics than he did.

The Hancock Veterans are not so numerous to-day as they were on Tuesday morning.

The Ideal Opera company, in "Fatinitza," at Franklin theatre this evening. To-morrow evening in "Pinafore."

The democratic wits must really do some more "$329;" nothing else will suffice to elect Frank Jones governor.

The Times called the republican street parade on the evening of the 11th inst. a "funeral procession." Can it find a happier set of mourners in its own party?

"The country has gone to h—l," the casual remark of one of our most respected and venerable democrats, found many democratic echoes on our streets, on Wednesday.

C. Dwight Hanscom & Co. will close their crockery and China ware store in Franklin buildings at seven o'clock in the evening on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from the present time until further notice.

The streets of Portsmouth were remarkably quiet on Wednesday evening of this week,—no bonfires, no yelling, "no nothing;" but what a racket there would have been had Indiana and Ohio gone the other way!

It is estimated that five hundred people will leave the city this evening to attend the republican torchlight procession in Dover; and perhaps as many more to attend the democratic flag-raising in Stratham.

The trouble in Indiana was that the democrats didn't do enough "329" on the sidewalks and store doors o' nights. The democratic managers in New Hampshire should send for three or four more "barl's" of chalk right away.

The alarm of fire at three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon of this week was occasioned by a trifling blaze on the premises of Jerry Keefe, at the Creek. A few buckets of water extinguished the fire, which did less damage than the water.

It looks very likely that we shall "have almost a solid north as well as a solid south," as Hon. Frank Jones was reported by the New York World to have said in the national democratic committee rooms——only the solid north will oppose the solid south.

A large number of the business men of the city assembled at Franklin hall on Wednesday evening of this week, for the purpose of organizing for the present campaign. T. Salter Tredick was chosen chairman, and Col. Wm. H. Sise marshal. It was voted to attend the torchlight procession at Dover this evening.

An Exeter firm whose members are democrats were severely scolded by a democratic leader for allowing a likeness of Hon. Charles H. Bell to appear in their store window. This impolitic bull-dozing resulted in the firm having the picture finely framed, and well placed in the window, where it will remain until the election decides which of the several candidates will be called governor for the next two years.

About seventy-five members of the uniformed republican campaign clubs of this city, accompanied by the Kittery brass band, went to Newington on Tuesday evening of this week to assist at a republican flag-raising and rally in that town. A large and handsome flag, bearing the names of the republican candidates, was hoisted, and Hon. J. G. Hall delivered an address in the town hall to an audience that filled the building to its utmost capacity. An excellent and abundant collation was served to all comers by the republicans of Newington; and a sturdy old democrat of the town, inspired by the spirit of "conciliation," went off and got a barrel of sweet cider, which was free to all whose chose to partake of it. The entire attendance from this city was about a hundred and fifty.

A greenback campaign flag bearing the names of Weaver and Chambers as candidates for president and vice president of the United States, is displayed on Market street from the greenback headquarters.

The Rockingham house was extremely dark on the night of the republican street parade, on the 11th inst. Some travellers arriving by the Pullman train repaired to the hotel, and finding only a dim light in the office, where ordinarily a brilliant glare of gas-light shines, concluded the hotel had been closed, and sought accommodations elsewhere.

The Dover Democrat of Oct. 12th comes out with a three-column puff of Hon. Frank Jones. It fails to mention, as a proof of his ability, the fact that he has risen from an humble position to the absolute ownership of the democratic party of New Hampshire, and now holds that party in the hollow of his hand, not a man of it daring to yip when Mr. Jones arbitrarily dictates who shall be nominated for any position in the gift of the people.

Ed. Chronicle: I noticed in your columns a number of items regarding the republican parade on the evening of the 11th inst., but one of the most pleasant incidents escaped the notice of your reporter. As we passed the residence of Samuel G. Hooper, 2d, on Pleasant street, his little grandson, a boy of only three summers, stood in the front doorway, dressed in uniform and equipped with a drum almost as big as himself, on which he played so vigorously and correctly that the whole procession kept step to his music as they marched past, giving him hearty cheers as they went. The little fellow's name is J. Byron Shannon, and he is a son of Mr. Nat. H. Shannon; and if he lives, he bids fair to be a musician.

TORCHBEARER.

CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 13th.

Dearborn vs. Post, resumed. Evidence was closed in the afternoon. Gen. Stevens commenced his argument at twenty minutes to four o'clock. The defendant denied the authority of the agent to make any such contract as the plaintiff set up. The case will be given to the jury Thursday forenoon.

Henry Lee of Exeter, an alien, was admitted to citizenship.

ABBEY'S "HUMPTY DUMPTY."

Of the combination which is to appear at Music hall on Monday evening next, the New York Dramatic News speaks as follows:

Abbey's "Humpty Dumpty" and Tyrolean Warblers first met a New York audience on Tuesday evening, at Booth's theatre. The combination achieved an immediate and unequivocal success, and can scarcely fail to continue to prosperous business for many weeks to come. The secret of this success lies in the fact that there is a feature to draw and hold the attention of every respectable class of society, while the whole, in its combined condition, forms an entertainment which is frequently of the utmost interest to everybody. This version of "Humpty Dumpty" is a gorgeous and thoroughly enjoyable affair from first to last. It employs the services of the largest company of any kind ever put upon the road in this country, and it is framed in almost imperial splendor.

BOYS IN BLUE

Will assemble at the Armory this (Thursday) evening at 6:30. The line must leave the armory at 7:45. Train for Dover leaves station at 7:00.

By order Major Comdg.

WILLIAM O. SIDES, Adjutant.

GARFIELD & ARTHUR BATTALION--ATTENTION!

The Battalion will muster at the Armory this (Thursday) evening at 6:30, in full uniform, with torches, prepared to go to Dover and join in a Republican Rally and torch-light procession. Each company commander will have his command formed and in readiness to march from head-quarters at 7:45 o'clock.

Per Order Major Comdg.

WILLIAM A. PAYSON, Adjutant.

The Winchester Cadets will meet at their armory on Ladd street this evening at 6:30 and will leave the hall at 6:45 for Dover

PER ORDER.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. Charles E. Simpson of York, who has been a subscriber to the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE ever since it was purchased by Hon. Frank W. Miller and incorporated with the Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, and who travels through York, Wells village, Ogunquit, Kittery, North Berwick, South Berwick, and the edge of Sanford, with tin ware and varieties, reports trade as very good in his line, there being a market improvement over recent years.

Ivory Simpson, son of the late Ebenezer Simpson, born at Birch hill, York, aged eighty-seven years, now lives at Scotland, York. He has been the father of twelve children, six boys and six girls, eight of whom are now living in various places in the United States. He has twenty-nine grandchildren, and twelve great-grandchildren; and reads the Boston Herald without using glasses. During the past summer he has regularly risen at four o'clock in the morning; in the season he mowed and raked hay every forenoon, of his own option, and later employed himself in "topping" and harvesting corn; and he drives the cows to pasture, and milks them, right along. Mr. Simpson and his wife have lived together for sixty-one years. Mrs. Simpson was a daughter of Joel Young of Cider hill, York, is seven years younger than her husband, still retains full charge of the dairy, and attends to all the ordinary affairs of the household.

Political Notes.

Application having been made to the circuit court of the United States now in session from citizens of Farmington for the appointment of supervisors of election in that town, William H. Hackett, chief supervisor, has requested the democratic town committee to name the man desired on the part of the democrats for the position.

The Boston Post of Oct. 13th says:

Now let the October states wheel decisively into the November line before another presidential election. These stragglers increase the excitement and lengthen out the contests.

Indiana did wheel into that line some time ago by a decisive majority on the popular vote; but the democratic supreme court of the state, acting under the orders of the democratic leaders, set aside the verdict of the people on a contemptible quibble, in hope to gain some advantage to their party thereby. We hope they like the advantage they gained by their prostitution of the bench to partisan purposes.

Naval Gazette.

The Ticonderoga left Hiogo, Japan, for San Francisco, Sept. 10th.

The U. S. S. Adams was at Callao Sept. 4th, and the Lackawanna at the same port Sept. 18th. The Wachusett had returned from Valparaiso with the American minister on board.

The training ship Portsmouth arrived at Hampton Roads on the 9th inst., and the Minnesota on the 10th.

Rear Admiral T. H. Stevens on the 1st inst. relieved Rear. Adm. C. R. P. Rodgers of the command of the Pacific station, and hoisted his flag on the Pensacola.

—A dissipated and unmannerly nobleman, presuming upon his "nobility," once asked Sir Walter Scott, who sat opposite to him at dinner, what the difference was between Scott and sot. "Just the breadth of the table," retorted Sir Walter.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or ever-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&G

A BRAVE LADY!

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely loose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed, she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait, she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, New York, who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to woman. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

—"In hot weather I think I can stand cold weather best, and in cold weather I think I can stand hot weather," recently remarked a Chicago youth. And then, with a look of disgust, continued: "But the fact is, I despise weather altogether."

A food and a medicine are combined in the most perfect manner in Malt Bitters.

FOR KIDNEY COMPLAINTS. A Prescription. It having become known that the most dangerous and complicated forms of Kidney Complaints—including Bright's Disease—can be cured, it is but right that the remedy be known. Sufferers may rely on the statement that Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is a sure cure for all diseases of the kidneys, bladder, liver, and urinary organs.

Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

SO. WOODBURY, VT., Sept. 28d, 1879.

Gentlemen—I wish to inform you of the efficiency of Kidney-Wort on my person. I had been afflicted with rheumatism for three years without relief from any medicine I could get. By recommendation of Mr. Kemp I tried the Kidney-Wort, and half a box entirely relieved me. I have not had any return of the disease since using it, over six months since.

Diphtheria Spread by a Cat.

Three deaths from diphtheria have recently occurred in the family of Baldwin Gordon, who lives at the beach opposite Patchogue, L. I., under very remarkable circumstances. Some time ago a cat, which had been owned by a family several members of which were suffering from the disease, was taken to the Gordon house. While playing with the cat a little child of Mr. Gordon's was bitten in one of its fingers. The wound caused intense pain, and was soon followed by a soreness and ulceration in the throat, which a physician pronounced to be diphtheria. Others of the family were taken with the disease, and two of the children died. Mrs. Gordon, who was recovering from another sickness at the time, was seized with it and died; and it is reported that still another member of the family has died from the same cause. Physicians believe that the cat was suffering from diphtheria when it bit the child.

—At Athens, Ga., a negro who was recently bitten by a mad dog went to the Sheriff and asked to be chained in a cell, lest he should be attacked by hydrophobia and bite some one else. The Sheriff complied, and the poor fellow is now in durance, awaiting a horrible death.

—Miss Alice Skin, a pretty young lady of Laurinburg, N. C., was engaged to a young minister, Rev. John Easterling, who has recently determined to go to China as a missionary. The young lady said she would not go with him, but finally he decided that he would go without her, and told her so. She is now a raving maniac.

—The cutter in a large tailoring house says that hardly one man in fifty is of well balanced shape. Writers, he says, are low in one shoulder and seemingly short in one leg, the arm on the misshapen side being apparently longer than the other. Butchers, he says, have usually a low left shoulder, and violinists are high in one shoulder.

—When old Mrs. Bunsby had got through reading in the morning paper an account of the last fire she turned her spectacles from her eyes to the top of her head and remarked: "If the city firemen would wear the generwine hum knit stockin's such as we make and wear in the country, they wouldn't be a bustin' of their hose at every fire."

—By the mistake of an invoice clerk, a truckload of logs were delivered at the wrong station at Aix La Chapelle, recently, and as they were being unloaded one of the laborers discovered a longitudinal slit in one of them, and on inserting his knife a strong odor of tobacco issued. The customs officials overhauled the entire lot, when it was found that thirty-two out of thirty-eight logs had been hollowed out and stuffed with 3800 pounds of Belgian tobacco. It was a cute trick of French smugglers, and but for the blunder of the clerk would probably have escaped detection.

—A cat ascended the Washington Monument a few nights ago, and becoming frightened in the morning when the workmen returned to their labors, sprang from top to the ground, a distance of 160 feet. She spread herself out like a flying squirrel and struck the ground on all fours. After looking around she started to leave, when a dog went for her, and not being in good running condition, she was easily captured and killed. The cat will be stuffed and placed in the Smithsonian Institute, with a card which will bear this legend: "This cat jumped on September 23, 1880, from Washington Monument, and lived."

—Deer Isle, up near Mount Desert, has plenty of schools for the native children, but all the boys are rushed through the course at an early age and sent to sea, from which they are prepared by a course of navigation. Some of them doubtless develop very original minds. One young chap had a teacher who was fond of natural history, but did not know much about mathematics. One day after she had given him a long dissertation upon a bee that had flown in at the window the little fellow, who knew he could have at the longest only three months' schooling before going to sea, suddenly exclaimed: "I say, missis, 'scuse me, but I dunno as I care how 'a bumble-bee wings is made; I hain't no time for sech things; I want to know how to cipher!"

DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION.

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease, while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urination, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pain in the Back seem more like miracles than cases of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical over-exertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; it is an old, threadbare well tried and proven inefficient, though sometimes effecting apparent cures of one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The office of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save many times its cost in doctors' bills, medicines and planters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used with entire safety and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent, by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $2.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50; Special (extra size), $3.00. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it. Address DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME on

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS,

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Bilious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys?
Why endure nervous or sick headaches?
Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six quart Medicine.

If of your Druggist, he will order for you. Price, $1.00.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be relieved and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Examine vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to permicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

Of the different summer beverages manufactured at this establishment it is hardly necessary to say a single word. They have become popular "on their own merits," and can be found in many private families and on sale in every hotel, saloon and restaurant in this locality.

The Lagers bottled by me are from the best breweries in the country, and it is safe to say that there is no better in the world.

Revival of Mediæval Courtship.

Fashionable people have the faculty of making themselves conspicuously ridiculous. If one goes a step further and tells the unadulterated truth, it must be said that such persons seem particularly desirous of convincing sensible observers that they are compounded of all the essences that constitute fools. The latest phase of fashionable ridiculousness and foolery has its culminating point in Washington city. The young women who move in the delectable circle of the army and navy have gone back to mediæval days in the matter of courtship. Of course, their fathers and mothers took the initiatory steps in this retrogradation, but their daughters so thoroughly indorse the nonsense that they must be held as accessories after the fact. These daughters neither ride nor walk, nor visit a theatre or concert alone with their lovers, nor receive a call except in the presence of a third party, even when engaged to be married. A chaperon intimate with the family, or a mother or aunt, must dance attendance while a lover is in the presence of the adored one. A single example will be enough to show up the silliness of a Washington belle. A young woman's mother was unable, through illness, to accompany her daughter and beau on a visit, and she consented to go alone with him. Alluding to the matter subsequently, she said: "I suffered agony all the time for fear we should meet somebody I knew, and never felt so common in all my life." A wretched compliment to her own sense of honor and propriety, and a mean reflection on that of her attendant and lover. In Italy and Spain the duenna is the inevitable watcher of young people in the days of their courtship. She shadows them like a first-class detective. Her wrinkled face is screwed up in a vinegar vise on the slightest departure from the rules of the Dark Ages. Yet in Italy when a woman marries, she can have a cavalier who escorts her everywhere, and is her left-handed husband, as Byron was to the Countess Guiccioli. Perhaps our Washington female swells would like to carry the mediæval custom to that extent, as they insist upon the first principles of semi-civilized courtship being strictly observed. The most insipid thing in the world is a courtship conducted according to Italian or Spanish etiquette. The parties are a perpetual show until after marriage. They cannot bill and coo after the fashion of young lovers in the free northern nations, but must always be under the eyes of third persons. A moonlight walk alone, in which all the tender, romantic impulses of young souls are awakened, is unknown to them. A kiss never seals the proposal of a lover, and the delightful "yes" of his mistress. They court at arms-length, as if each was afraid of the other. The sanctity of trust, the glory of honor, seems to be in durance. Both lover and mistress are subjected to the scrutiny of elderly neighbors, and the giggles of the very young and frolicsome. An American of manly independence will have a wife on no such terms. One of the reasons why the young of both sexes marry so rapidly in this country is because companionship is unrestrained. Let it ever remain so. If a suitor cannot be trusted, he should not be allowed to visit a gentleman's house, much less woo a gentleman's daughter. Happily, a few foolish devotees of fashion in Washington will not be able to inoculate society in other places with their absurd virus. They are crabs who crawl backward. The sensible fathers, mothers, sons and daughters of America cannot afford to accompany them back into the benighted ages.

Pleasant Letters.

They are sheets of sunshine. A Methodist clergyman of Hartford, Conn., writes Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., that "Favorite Remedy" cured him of chronic liver disease and indigestion, from which he had suffered for a long time. This was splendid, but nothing more than anyone may expect who uses this medicine. One dollar a bottle is a small consideration when health is in question. The clergyman says he is going to introduce Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" among his people. He can't do better. Health is always a friend of religion.

—Very few men know how to keep still. The Italians have a proverb, "Hear, see, and say nothing, if you wish to live in peace." The man who is bent on telling all he knows, generally ends by telling a great deal more than he knows. The tongue is harder than the wildest horse that ever roamed the prairie. The Germans say truly that talking comes by nature, while silence comes of the understanding.

All over the world Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is making its way, and every place it reaches consumptive people are more seldom met. It is truly a blessing to humanity, and costs only 25 cents.

—A newly married couple were sitting in a palace car when she said, "George, ain't you glad? We're relatives now."

Many complaints of small children arise from indigestion. If your child is sick give it D. R. V. G. You will be surprised at the charming effect.

A food and a medicine are combined in the most perfect manner in Malt Bitters.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' LIFE-INVIGORATING SARSAPARILLA.

The Great Blood Purifier, Kidney Remedy and Mild Laxative.

WE, the undersigned, having used DR. CORBETT'S SHAKER SARSAPARILLA SYRUP in our practice, and having examined the formula by which it is prepared, would cheerfully recommend it to the community as the cheapest, safest, and most efficacious of all the preparations of Sarsaparilla in the market. Its highly concentrated state, (there being in a given amount of Syrup twice the amount of Vegetation Extract that any other contains,) the care, skill, and cleanliness of its manufacture, are sure guarantees of its superior efficacy. The Democratic "Enthusiasm" for Hancock.

The October elections have demonstrated the utter hollowness and falsity of the pretended democratic enthusiasm for Hancock, of which so much has been said by the democratic papers and orators since he was nominated; for the "wild enthusiasm" for Hancock which did not enable the democratic candidate for vice president to carry his own state, though it had been democratic for ten years previous, cannot be a very overpowering element in the canvass.

The fact is that brag and bluster has always been a favorite democratic plan of running a campaign. What a howl there was about "enthusiasm" when Mr. Greeley was nominated—a hundred times as much as there has been over Hancock, and better founded, too—and what daily lists of "prominent republicans" who had "declared for Greeley" did the democratic papers publish! But he was not elected.

The statement that there is any real enthusiasm for Hancock in the democratic party bears absurdity on the face of it. For many years abuse of the awful army, and frantic denunciation of military influence in civil affairs, with more or less open opposition to the war for the preservation of the Union and to the results of that war, have furnished the democratic party with most of its political capital: yet in Hancock they have as their candidate for the highest office on earth, an army officer; a regular army officer, educated at the most aristocratic institution in the world, the military academy at West Point; a man who is nothing but a regular army officer, with absolutely no record outside of the army, and whose sole claim to the suffrages of the people is that, though a democrat, he did his duty in fighting against the democratic attempt to destroy the Nation—a claim that is shared by thousands of other democrats, who, unlike Hancock, were not educated at the Nation's expense and had never received high honors at its hands.

The "enthusiasm for Hancock" amounted to a hope that through him the democratic party might secure control of the federal offices—this, and nothing more. And this hope has been rudely dashed to earth by Ohio and Indiana.

Aretas Blood.

The selection of Aretas Blood as one of the republican candidates for Presidential elector, is an excellent one. Mr. Blood is widely known as the manager of the Manchester Locomotive Works, an establishment whose fortunes would be disastrously effected by any Hancock in theirs. He is also the president of a National bank in Manchester, and a prominent manager, and we believe president of the Nashua Iron and Steel Co. He is an able man and a fit representative of that great industrial mechanical element which gives life to the business of our state, and finds a local market for the productions of our farms, and without which the prosperity and happiness of our state would be unseen. The Manchester mechanics will be solid for this kind of Blood, which infuses life into the body politic.

The Democratic Waterloo.

A despatch from Indianapolis to W. H. Barnum, chairman of the democratic national committee, dated the 13th, says: "Forty-three counties give 5,561 republican gain. The whole republican state ticket is elected." On the same date Austin H. Brown, the Indiana member of the national democratic committee, telegraphed to the committee headquarters at New York as follows: "Returns from more than half the state make it certain that Porter and the republican state ticket are elected by at least 5,000. Seven democrats are elected to congress. The legislature is claimed by the republicans, but it is in doubt yet."

The reports on the 14th were all confirmatory of the republican successes in both Ohio and Indiana. The Washington Post concedes Indiana by from 5000 to 10,000, and seven republican congressmen. The legislature is republican, assuring a republican United States senator in place of McDonald. The republicans have at least fifteen congressmen in Ohio.

"A Lie Well Stuck To."

For two or three weeks before the elections in Ohio and Indiana the democratic organs in Washington and elsewhere were claiming Ohio, or at least Hamilton county, with great positiveness. They are now endeavoring to explain that claim by saying that the whole Ohio business was a piece of strategy intended to frighten the republicans so that they would withdraw money and speakers from Indiana, where they were needed, to Ohio, where they were not. The Washington Post, the Bourbon organ which is run by Stilson Hutchins, who also runs the Manchester Union, on the morning after the election claimed that this was a piece of democratic strategy, and said:

By this superb strategy the republicans have been induced to expend immense resources where they were not required for the success of their ticket, instead of pouring them into Indiana where lay their only possible chance of political salvation.

Nevertheless the Post had insisted for many days that the democrats were certain to carry Ohio. It was early in the campaign that a prominent democratic paper in the interior of New York state declared that in discussing political issues "the truth need not prevail. A lie well stuck to is the secret of political success." The democratic campaign has been largely conducted on this theory.

Free Trade and Starvation Wages.

Every Irishman who hurrahs for Hancock, and every laboring man who carries a torch in the Jones brigade, is laboring to reduce his own pay to meet the competition of the low-priced wages of Europe. The laboring men of Ohio and Indiana have seen this; and yet the demagogues will pat the laborer on the back and call him a clever fellow, while Fernando Wood, just home from Europe with English money to carry the democracy into power, is rising in Congress to fix the tariff to suit the foreign capitalist. It is this that allows Sanborn to use the Eastern railroad and all its patronage to aid in his election, because the English capitalist, represented by Baring, the bondholder of the Eastern, wants a free trader like Sanborn to succeed a protectionist like Hall.

Do the workingmen of Dover think if Hancock and democracy had been in power the great new mill being built at that place would have been started in construction? The rich men of the democracy care nothing for the day laborers; and if their investments are in breweries instead of factories, they fearnothing personally from free trade—unless beer is put in the free list.

Prophetic.

Fortunately the period of political prophecies is nearly finished, and we are coming down to solid, unquestionable facts; and yet our esteemed contemporary, the Springfield Republican, vaticinates as follows:

No wise men will care to be certain for whom the electoral vote of Maine, Connecticut, New York New Jersey, Ohio, or Indiana, will be cast, and those states number nine-ty-four votes, one-fourth of the entire number.

Every man, whether wise or not, can in all probability be reasonably certain about the electoral votes of the states here named after the elections in Ohio and Indiana on Tuesday next. If both those states go for the republicans, Garfield will be elected in November. If both go for the democrats, Hancock will certainly be elected.

There is, however, one possible contingency in which some uncertainty may still exist. If Indiana should remain democratic, and Ohio republican, with about the same respective majorities as in 1876, the probability will then be that the states which in 1876 were republican will vote for Garfield, and those which then voted for Tilden will now vote for Hancock. The result of this would be that the struggle, undetermined by the October elections, would then be transferred to New York; and in that event times would be pretty lively here for a few weeks.—New York Sun, Oct. 26th.

The recent municipal election in Newark, N. J., shows a republican majority of 2500, in place of democratic majorities of 3000 and 2000 in October and November of last year. The republicans claim that this indicates a good show for them to carry the state in November.

—"Keep to the write," said the lawyer to his lazy clerk.

—At a recent kangaroo "drive" in Australia 8000 of the animals were killed.

—He was saying, as he struck a lucifer on the side of the house to light a cigar, "Ilike these houses with sanded paint; nice when you want to strike a match, you know." "Is that so?" she asked demurely; "I wish I lived in a house with sanded paint"—and then she looked things unutterable. If he had asked "what for?" she would have hated him. But he didn't; he took the hint, and the match was struck then and there.

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of one complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weakness peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

AROUND HOME.

The democrats on Thursday evening of this week went to Stratham to attend a flag raising there, the Kittery band furnishing the music. It is said about five hundred went.

A brilliant audience assembled at new Franklin theatre, Thursday evening, to see the Ideal Opera Company in "Fatinitza," and another one will attend "Pinafore" this evening.

The news from Ohio and Indiana don't seem to take very well with a good many of the Republicans of this city.—Times, Oct. 14th.

The republicans of this city are jubilant to-day.—Times, Oct. 14th.

The republican campaign clubs, with many citizens, accompanied by the 1st Regiment band of Manchester, and the Garfield and Arthur Cadets of Kittery, the whole numbering over a thousand, went to Dover Thursday evening of this week to participate in the grand republican demonstration in that city.

Joseph Putney of Hopkinton died on the night of the 11th inst., at the age of eighty-seven years. The deceased was a pensioner in the war of 1812, and was stationed at Newcastle in 1814, being then a member of Capt. Call's company of Lieut. Col. Nat Fisk's regiment. Mr. Putney's father was a soldier of the revolutionary war.

The democratic clubs of Dover "celebrated the democratic victories in Indiana and West Virginia" by a torchlight procession on the evening of the 13th inst. This shows a sturdy pluck that is most admirable; any party can celebrate a victory, with good heart; but only the democratic party can muster pluck to celebrate a crushing defeat.

Mr. Editor: An item in a recent issue of your paper concerning out-of-town farmers and milkmen taking water from the spring on Miller avenue to carry home, suggests the idea that it is a great pity the pump was removed from the well on Court street, which would supply all the milkmen who visit the city. I am informed that there is now in the well from six to ten feet of water, although it has not been cleaned out for fifteen years.

X. Y. Z.

Schooners Coquette, Sea Bird and Van, of Ellsworth, Me., and the C. R. Tarbox of Bristol, Me., were at Rollins' wharf on Thursday last, the Sea Bird loading with apples, and the others waiting for similar cargoes. The Sea Bird was being loaded with apples shipped by Nathaniel Drake of Hampton. All the vessels named will probably dispose of their cargoes along the eastern coast of Maine, in exchange for potatoes and other farm produce.

The handsomest basket of apples we have seen this year was sent into this office by Mr. Thomas Tredick, on Wednesday of this week; they are of the pearmaine variety, very large, smooth and richly colored, and are but an average sample of about six and one-half barrels taken from a tree of moderate size in the garden of his residence on State street. A peculiarity of this tree is that it has no "off year," bearing about the same quantity every season.

Superintendent Kimball of the Life-Saving service has issued orders to the captain of the station at Rye beach for regular practice with the life-saving apparatus; and similar orders have been issued to the captains of all the stations. Heretofore the form of a drill has been observed, but under the new order, the drill with mortars in throwing lines, etc., will be the same as if the crew were in actual service. The carrying of lanterns by the patrolmen is discontinued, except when dangerous to patrol without them, so that masters of vessels may not be deceived by the light.

The republicans of this city have advertised a republican rally and torch light procession to come off soon. The question has been asked why they don't wait until after the Ohio and Indiana elections. That's easy enough to answer. They want to celebrate, and know if they wait until after next Tuesday they can't celebrate at all.—Times, Oct. 6th.

The "next Tuesday" referred to has passed, and still it appears that the republicans can "celebrate." The democrats can celebrate too, if they want to; certainly no republican would object to having the democratic campaign clubs celebrate the decisive republican victories in Ohio and Indiana.

The importing house of Chase & Sanborn, of Boston, have distributed among the families in this city fifteen hundred packages of Java coffee, warranted to be strictly pure "Old Government Java;" those who have tried it pronounce it the best Java coffee they have ever used. It is for sale by all the principal grocers in the city.

Thomas Ferris was arraigned before Justice Smith of Newmarket on the 13th inst., on complaint for bigamy, and bound over in $500 for appearance at the supreme court at Portsmouth. It appears that Ferris has a wife in the institute for the insane a Worcester, Mass., and that on Sept. 18th he was married to Mary E. Welch at Manchester, who is the complainant, and hails from Williamsburg, Mass. Ferris originally came from Connecticut, but more recently from Grovendale, Mass., where his folks now reside. In default of bail he was sent to the Exeter jail.

The following item of what was news a great many years ago, is copied from a discolored slip of paper cut from the Mobile (Ala.) Register of August, 1854: "To thousands of our citizens, the enormous size and occasionally large number of 'Devil Fish' seen at or about the mouth of our bay, are quite familiar, and one of the largest became yesterday the prey of an indomitable sea-hunter, Captain Trefethen, of the ship Robert Parker, of Portsmouth, N. H. While on board or alongside the Col. Clay, near the fleet, the captain espied some three or four of these monsters of the deep, and hastening to get his harpoon, proceeded in chase of the largest. With the practiced aim of a whaler, he drove the harpoon through him, and the wounded leviathan leaped high in the air before he darted off with the captain and his clinker-built gig—rushing through the water at an awful speed. After a chase of some ten miles the harpoon drew out, but the wounded brute marked his place in the water by his blood, and even returned upon his trail; but the captain, having spliced his weapon, again drove it securely into the huge beast, who, far from being exhausted, carried his boat away again with even accelerated speed. After a long and exciting chase the captain returned with his prize, which is reported to measure sixteen feet from fin to fin—across—and nearly forty feet in length."

CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

THURSDAY, Oct. 14th.

Case Dearborn vs. Post was given to the jury in the forenoon. The jury were unable to agree upon a verdict, and were discharged.

United States vs. Leonard and Elizabeth Duckworth. Indictment for being retail dealers in spirituous liquor at Pembroke, without payment of special tax. The sales proved were not numerous. The female respondent denied that she had sold during the period of time specified in the indictment. Verdict, "Not guilty." S. C. Eastman for United States; Sulloway and Topliff for deft.

United States vs. Everett I. Ober. Indictment for being a retail dealer in liquors. Verdict, "Not guilty." Eastman for United States; defendant pro se.

John Harvey, for drunkenness, was fined $5 and costs. Brentwood.

ABBEY'S "HUMPTY DUMPTY."

"Humpty Dumpty" appeared in all its pristine glory at Booth's theatre last night. He was accompanied by Pantaloons, Harlequins, Columbines, sprites and the Tyrolean Warblers. There was a flavor of the good old times about the performance that was enchanting, and made one think of the days when everything that the Clown or Old One-Two did was perfectly correct and humorous in the extreme to us. Last night Mr. Abbey's combination succeeded in instilling this belief into the minds of the hundreds of people that assembled in the theatre to witness the antics and tricks of "Humpty Dumpty." The specialties surpass those of the earlier productions of this frolicksome piece.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

This combination will appear on Music hall stage next Monday evening. See advt.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

The bridge between Kittery and the navy yard will be closed from bell-ring in the morning until about two o'clock in the afternoon, to-day, to allow of repairs being made.

The schooner Horatio Nichols came off the ways at Kittery on the 13th inst., and hauled alongside of Neal's wharf to complete her repairs. Her place on the railway was taken by the schooner yacht Una on the 14th. It is said the Una has been sold to persons residing in Cincinnati, who will fit her up for a pleasure yacht.

New Hampshire Items.

Dr. James B. Greely of Nashua has recovered $4000 of the United States Azorean Steam Packet Co., as damages for falling through a hatchway or scuttle in the dining saloon, carelessly left open on a passage in one of their vessels from the Azores to New Bedford. The doctor claimed $20,000. The deft. claimed that piff. was wanting in ordinary care.

Two engines on the Nashua & Lowell railroad collided near Nashua on the 12th inst., and were badly wrecked, but no one was hurt.

Jacob C. Hovey was arraigned at Nottingham on the 11th inst., on a complaint for burglary, he having entered the house of Moses B. Neally at that place, and was bound over in $600 to appear at the next term of the supreme court.

John Rider, fifty years old, having a wife and one child, has been missing from Suncook since Oct. 5th, and it is feared he has committed suicide while insane.

News and Notes.

Joseph B. Woods and his daughter, Mrs. Alma Smith, were put on trial at Burlington, Vt., on the 12th inst., for killing Mrs. Smith's husband last November. The defence is that the homicide was committed in self-defence.

Mary Daley, a girl twenty years old, attempted to drown herself at Pittsfield, Mass., on the 13th inst., becase she was disappointed in a love affair. She was taken out of the water alive, but wet through.

Mary Chapman, twenty-six years old, wife of Cyrus Chapman of Gale's Ferry, Conn., has eloped with Albert Beazell of Norwich, sixteen years old, taking her ten-years-old daughter with her.

In the police court at Lowell, Mass., on the 13th inst., on the charge of blackmail, Dr. W. H. Weeks waived examination and was ordered in $2,000 to the superior court. Joseph B. Andrews and wife, accomplices, pleaded guilty, and were ordered in $500 each.

Two woolly elephants arrived in New York a few days ago. They are the first of their species ever brought to this country. The larger of the two is less than thirty-six inches high, and the smaller scarcely measures twenty-six inches in height. They are thought to be about six years old. The chief peculiarity of these elephants, apart from their diminutive size, is the fact that they are covered with a thick black wool or hair, especially about the crown of the head, the back and the legs. The wool is two or three inches long. They are denizens of the mountain ranges of Asia, and seldom resist the heat of the lower countries.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Millions of bottles of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

Not Open to Objection.

Temperance people often say that most of the popular medicines they see advertised are nine-tenths rum. That is true of many, but not of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." The doctor agrees with his temperance friends that it is better to die of disease than of drink. "Favorite Remedy" cures kidney troubles, liver complaints, constipation of the bowels, as nothing else does or ever did. It drives away sickness. It cools the blood. It costs only a dollar to try it. Ask your druggist or send to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

Crops in New Hampshire.

Levi Bartlett of Warner, N. H., writes to the Country Gentleman under date of Oct. 4th, as follows:

During most of the summer, there was much complaint among a portion of our farmers in consequence of lack of rain, and fears were entertained that most of our farm crops would fall far short of an average yield of previous years. But I am happy in stating that those fears were nearly groundless. At our annual fair in this town, September 22 and 23, I met with farmers from several towns, and made it a point to learn from them the average yield of their ordinary farm crops. All admitted a full average yield, taking all kinds together, except of wheat. In consequence of lack of rain while in bloom and after, there is a deficiency in yield of wheat from the usual average of former years. The hay crop (both first and second cutting) is a fair average; worth $12 per ton; corn is in every way satisfactory; all right, sound, and no pig ears. It brings from 60 to 65 cents per bushel; rye, 80c.; wheat, $1.25; oats, 50c.; potatoes, 37 1-2 to 40 cents. On many farms the potato yield was extra, both in size and weight of tubers. Some of the Early Roses weighed from two to over three pound each. A large portion on many farms is of too large size for cooking, unless cut in pieces.

Such an abundance of apples I never remember seeing, as we have this year. This is the third year of extra yields of apples. I just visited several of our dealers, who have for years past purchased apples and cider to send to Boston and elsewhere. They have set the price of prime No. 1 Baldwins at 75 to 85 cents per barrel—barrel thrown in. They will not take No. 2 at any price. Cider will be lower in price than ever before. Barrels enough to contain even a small portion of the cider that could be made from the entire quantity of cider apples cannot be obtained. During the past week I made excursions among our farmers, and many of them will leave large quantities of their apples to rotate under the trees. Others will store large quantities for feeding their cattle, sheep and swine. There have been some fine seedling peaches grown in this town the present season; also some superb French prunes, and no injury was done the fruit by the curculio. The prunes make splendid preserves. No one among us remembers such an abundance of blackberries, all over this section, as was grown the past season. Many varieties of the popular grapes have ripened in perfection, and large quantities have been made into jelly. Pears were few and far between. Why there was such a contrast in the yield of apples and pears the present season, is a question not easily solved.

Turnips, beets, and other varieties of root crops for winter feeding of farm stock, are grown by a few of our farmers. The size of the beets, mangles, several kinds of turnips, etc., is larger, and they will yield a heavier growth per acre, than I have ever previously seen.

—The time is coming around when a man cannot open his window to shoot at a passing friend without either removing or upsetting a half dozen flower pots.—Newark Sunday Call.

—The team attached to the family carriage of a rich Galveston family ran away a few days ago. The lady and her daughter were in the carriage and the street was full of vehicles. She asked the coachman if he could stop the team. He said he could not, but he thought he could steer it. "Then," she said, leaning back with great composure, "run us into some fashionable turn-out. I want to be thrown into good company." Fortunately the team was halted just as it was about to demolish a swill cart.

—A French peasant saw in a river a floating egg. He thought he could catch it with his hand, but, in the attempt, fell into the water, and the egg escaped him. The water was deep, and he could not swim. In terror, he believed that God was thus punishing his greediness. To propitiate his fate he vowed that if he escaped, he would never eat another egg. Instantly a branch of a tree presented itself to him, by means of which he gained the banks of the stream. Shaking himself, he said: "I suppose, O Lord, that you of course understood me to say raw eggs."

TRADE MARK

DAY'S Kidney PAD

A discovery which cures by the natural process.

ABSORPTION

all diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System, when nothing else can. It is comfortable to the patient, positive in its effects, and the first cure for those painful and much dreaded affections.

Diabetes and Bright's Disease,

while its cures of Gravel, Dropsy, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brickdust Deposit, Painful Urinating, High-Colored Urine, Nervous Weakness and Pains in the Back seem more like miracles than modes of natural healing.

DELICATE FEMALES

or victims of wasted or prostrated energies, caused by irregular habits, the abuse of nature and mental or physical overexertion, find their greatest relief in the use of DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, which strengthens and invigorates the invalid and restores the vigor of health.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the only certain and permanent cure for every form of this prevalent and distressing complaint.

YOUNG MEN

suffering from nervous and physical debility, loss of memory, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or to close application to business or work, may be restored and manhood regained.

Avoid all kidney medicines which are taken into the system by way of the stomach; the PAD is a treatment well tried and proven inefficient, though somewhat effective for some one complaint, they sow the seeds of more troublesome and permanent disorders. The price of our Pad brings it within the reach of all, and it will annually save times its cost in doctors bills, medicines and blasters, which at best give but temporary relief. It can be used without fear or harm, and with certainty of a permanent cure. For sale by druggists generally, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price. Regular Pad, $1.00; Child's Pad (for incontinence of urine in children), $1.50. Special (extra size), $2.00. Pad book, "Health at Home," giving a history of this new discovery and a large record of most remarkable cures sent free. Write for it. Address DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney cures, now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, and take no other.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The autho has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13th.

The republicans of the city "took their turn" last night, and revenged themselves on those democrats who a month ago rejoiced over Maine. The streets and avenues were full of exulting men as soon as definite returns from Ohio and Indiana were received, and the time and chances between October 12th and November 2d seem to have no place in men's minds. I have never known a greater display of interest in this city in returns from any election.

The District of Columbia sends greetings to the thirty-eight states, and asks their interest in a National Fair, to be held annually in Washington, at which every production of every section of the country shall be represented. Letters to the several governors of states have been sent, and favorable answers from several been received. The subject will be brought before Congress at its next session, though not with a view to pecuniary assistance. It is believed that the common good would be advanced by permanent state representation of material interests at such a central point as the capital of the country, and there is little doubt that the small necessary expense would be cheerfully paid by the people of each state.

During the last few days many southern men—business men—have been in town, most of them on their way to Baltimore to witness the ceremonies incident to that city's 150th anniversary. Every one of these men with whom I had an opportunity of conversing, represented business affairs in his neighborhood as being in better condition than at any time in years. Most of them, too, said that political feeling was much less powerful among southern men than formerly, and that nothing but the presidential election induced any one to take part at all in the campaign. I have never before heard from representative southerners so gratifying an account of affairs in the states of Virginia, and North and South Carolina, as is now given.

At the end of this week every cabinet officer except Secretary of War Ramsey will be in the city, it is said. There is no later report from the President than that of a week since, to the effect that he would return here about the first of November.

Senator Edmunds is in the city, for the first time since the adjournment. He is in excellent health. General Butler and Senator Carpenter, with Senator Edmunds, are in attendance on the supreme court. Besides the lottery cases, in which Senator Carpenter appears, he and General Butler are engaged in an important Florida railroad case, involving questions of great interest between the state and several citizens of Washington. KNOX.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus testimonials and certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine made of well known valuable remedies that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

The residence of Jesse Jordan, about a mile from Carlinville, Ill., was burned Tuesday night, the 12th inst., and three children, respectively six, ten and fourteen years old, perished in the flames.

J. N. Bick, of Toledo, Ohio, writes us that his father, before wearing that "Lung Lung Pad," could not sleep nights on account of his violent coughing, since wearing it he has slept soundly every night.

A Denver, Col., despatch says: Early Thursday morning, at two o'clock, the stage coach was robbed fifteen miles north of Norte, by two men, and $2,000 in the treasure box taken. No passengers were aboard.

Many complaints of small children arise from indigestion. If your child suffers give it D. K. V. G. Powders and be surprised at the charming effect.

A man complained in a police court of Marietta, O., that a neighbor had struck him on the head with a brick. "I don't think he hurt you much," said the justice. "No; I don't know as he did," was the response. But they were wrong, for the man's skull was fractured, and a month later he fell dead in court.

Life is but short, and we should make the most of it while we can to prolong it. Colds are the cause of many premature deaths. Cure your cold at once by using Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the best remedy such as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

The New York Sun of the 10th contains Pierre Lorillard's last night's testimony in the French suit. It is indeed to be hoped that he will be brought to a decision.

Truly wonderful are the effects of Dr. Bull's Malt Bitters.

They Acknowledge the Corn.

The national democratic committee, in an address issued from the headquarters in New York, dated Oct. 14th, acknowledge the democratic repulse in Ohio and Indiana, and say:

Even without the vote of Indiana, which we believe will be redeemed in November, with New York and New Jersey and the state, that are conceded us, including Maine, the election of our candidates is assured. Fellow citizens, the first day's repulse at Gettysburg ended on the third with Hancock in the front, in a glorious victory. That victory secured us our Union. Hancock is now, as then, in the front; the repulse is now, as then, the omen of a victory which will secure to the coming generations the inestimable blessings of civil liberty.

This acknowledgment by the democratic national committee of defeat in Indiana will swamp the faint hope to which the democratic papers and political leaders of New Hampshire have been clinging, that "further returns" would show a democratic victory after all; and they will find cold comfort in the "belief" of the committee that Indiana "will be redeemed in November," or the assurance that Maine is "conceded" to the democracy! Even before the late elections we did not meet a single democrat who would express any confidence in the democrats carrying Maine in November; since the late elections the democrats have lost all interest in politics, anyway, and don't want to talk at all.

A Good Nomination.

The republicans in the first congressional district of Massachusetts have nominated Hon. William W. Crapo, of New Bedford, as representative in Congress, for the fourth time. Mr. Crapo im many respects is one of the ablest representatives from New England in the national house of representatives. He is a sound lawyer, a well trained business man, and has ample experience as a legislator. The retention of such a man as Mr. Crapo in Congress by the republicans of Massachusetts is an unmistakable evidence that they know something of the value of a competent and experienced member in Congress, and all New England participates in the benefits arising from his continuence in the position he has so ably filled heretofore.

It Can't Be Done.

Barnum, "mule buyer" and chairman of the democratic national committee, in an address to the at-present-very-much-terrified unterrified, dated Oct. 14th, plaintively asks:

Can the great states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, California, Colorado, Nevada and New Hampshire be bought, intimidated and defrauded?

We don't know about the other states named, but we will answer for New Hampshire—it can't! It will go republican in spite of all the democratic national committee may do to back up Hon. Frank Jones' "invincible" popularity; it would have gone republican even had Ohio and Indiana both gone democratic; and now not even the most pessimistic republican doubts the triumphant election of Charles H. Bell as governor, three republican congressmen, and five republican electors; and no democrat is enough of an optimist to hope for anything at all for his party.

The Democratic Waterloo.

The advices up to the night of the 14th inst. only emphasized the glorious republican victories of the 12th. Even in West Virginia the republicans made heavy gains, electing several judges, sheriffs, etc., and cutting the democratic majority of over 14,000, in 1876, down to a claimed plurality of 10,000; the republicans concede the democratic plurality to be 8000.

Indianapolis despatches dated at noon on the 14th placed the republican majority in Indiana at not less than 7000 on the whole state ticket, and give the congressional delegation as standing eight republicans to five democrats. A later despatch gave nearly the same figures, adding that the 5th congressional district is so close that an official count is needed to decide it; the republicans claim it, which would give them nine congressmen to four for the democrats. Indiana's present delegation in Congress is six republicans and seven opposition. The returns up to date indicated the election of twenty-five republicans and twenty-five democrats to the state senate, and fifty-seven republicans and forty-three democrats to the house—a republican majority of fourteen on a joint ballot; a republican United States senator is a certainty.

A despatch from Indianapolis, dated 10:20 A. M. on the 15th, says: "Returns from all but four counties give a net republican majority of 6210. The counties to hear from gave in 1876, 413 democratic majority. The official majority on the state ticket will be about 6000. The republicans elect eight congressmen, with the fifth district still in doubt. It will require an official count. Republican majority in the legislature on joint ballot, fourteen."

A New York despatch of the 15th says: "Senator Dorsey telegraphs the Tribune that Mr. Porter's plurality will not fall below 6000 and may reach 7000, and that there is a republican joint ballot majority of fourteen in the Indiana legislature."

It's Been Heard From.

The Washington Post, before the Indiana election, published the following as a leading editorial: "As we understand the republican managers, they propose to make Indiana the Presidential battle ground. It is to be left to a democratic state to decide between Hancock and Garfield. We accept the proposition and its attendant consequences. If Indiana goes republican two weeks from to-day we will give the election up. If it goes democratic the republicans of course will do the same. Now let us hear from Indiana." Indiana has been heard from, and the Bourbon Post is disgusted with the sound.

News and Notes.

The old Smith homestead in the town of Heath, Mass., has become of historical interest. The house was built by the grandfather of the present occupant, who is a lady over seventy years of age, and has been in the family ever since. She has in her possession an old clock which has been ticking for 113 years, and a sword which was once used by an ancestor in Cromwell's army.

Wednesday night, Oct. 13th, a desperate attempt was made to burn the house of Benjamin Cook in Sandwich, Mass. Mr. Cook had illuminated his house in honor of the republican victory in Indiana and Ohio, and fired a salute of 100 guns. He was gone from the house about three-quarters of an hour, and on his return found the house filled with smoke, and a barrel of shavings burning in the cellar, under the stairway. Mr. Cook's family were away visiting in Fall River.

A cold-blooded murder was committed at Lafayette, Macon county, Tenn., Wednesday evening, Oct. 13th. Joe Cartright shot and killed Hugh Saunders with a carbine. Saunders was an important witness against Cartright for stealing. Saunders was sitting in the front door of a hotel, when Cartright walked out into the street, and, without saying a word, shot him. Cartright was immediately arrested and lodged in jail.

Reports from Madrid say the government has granted Calixto Garcia, the insurgent leader of Cuba, liberty on parole in Spain. Senor Garcia, in an interview with Senor Elduayen, minister of foreign affairs, said that he believed the pacification of Cuba to be complete; 17,000 men will return from Cuba this autumn.

The fishermen and oystermen of Elizabethport, N. J., Staten island and Bergen Point are raising a fund to oppose, in the courts, the laying of oil pipes in Newark bay. They claim that the leakage from the oil pipes will destroy the fish and oyster beds. A memorial, praying the state government to protect the waters of the bay, is also being prepared.

New Hampshire Items.

A two days' session of the New Hampshire Women's Temperance Convention closed at Manchester, Thursday. Considerable time was consumed in discussing methods of advancing the temperance cause, and in receiving reports from the committees, and from various county and other organizations interested in the cause. The following officers were re-elected: President, Miss A. E. McIntire of Exeter; vice presidents, Mrs. M. W. Richardson, of Amherst, and three others; recording secretary, Mrs. B. F. Thorndike, of Portsmouth; corresponding secretary, Miss C. R. Wendell, of Dover; treasurer, Mrs. S. E. Jenks, of Concord; and an executive committee of seven.

A man named James Morgan, hailing from Boston, who issued two forged checks on the National Exchange bank of Boston, and succeeded in collecting nearly $100 from Greene & Burnham and G. H. Newell at Nashua, was held for trial, Thursday. A number of burglaries were committed Wednesday night and Thursday morning, but the losses were small.

Forest fires on Bald hill, near Manchester, have destroyed $10,000 worth of timber, and are not yet subdued. Three thousand acres have been burned over, and much more damage is apprehended unless rain comes.

The New Hampshire branch of the Woman's Board of Missions meets at Plymouth, Oct. 20th. Prominent returned missionaries and others will be present. Rev. Dr. Clark, secretary of the American board, addresses the meeting in the evening.

The dwelling houses of John Mullin, C. R. Colton and J. M. Sanborn, in Nashua, were entered by burglars Wednesday night, the 13th inst. Mr. Mullin was robbed of $40, and a gold watch and chain valued at $60. Mr. Sanborn lost $5 and some trinkets, and at Mr. Colton's the thieves, after ransacking the house, were frightened away without booty. Entrance was effected by the use of nippers on door keys.

Political Notes.

The Philadelphia Times, (dem,) now that its party is beaten, says: "It may not make any difference now, but it would be an assertion of self-respect on the part of the democrats to compel the retirement of William H. English from the national ticket."

One of the most disappointed men in Washington is John Hancock, brother of General Hancock. He had prepared two large locomotive headlights, with which he privately announced he was going to paralyze the crowd on the night of the Indiana election, particularly the Republican office, which was immediately across the street. The headlights were burnished and ready for a brilliant illumination, but they were not used.

No mirror ever yet threw back
A more repulsive sight,
Than teeth that are decayed and black;
Or one more pure and bright
Than rows of pearls, that all may vaunt
Who put their faith in SOZODONT.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

AROUND HOME.

The schooner B. Frank Nealley, of Dover, Handy master, was at Portsmouth bridge on Friday, bound from New York for Dover.

Mr. Huldah Marston, widow of Capt. Oliver Marston, who died in Hampton on the 7th inst. at the advanced age of ninety-nine years, eleven months and thirteen days, was one of twins; her twin sister died at the age of ninety-two years.

It is said by the oldest inhabitants of Newington that the town was never visited by a band, so far as they know, until the night of the 12th inst., when the Kittery band went up with the delegation from this city to attend the republican flag raising.

People living on Deer street distinguished readily the officers of the High School Cadets from those of the Winchester Cadets, Thursday evening, by the strong adjectives the former used in giving commands, "why in h—l don't you get into your places" being mostly used. Is the bible read in our public schools?

Since the election in Indiana the Hancock & English flag stretched between Burnigame block and the court house, across Water street in Exeter, upon which is inscribed "For Governor Hon. Frank Jones," has been hauled in, and remains snugly entwined around a post, leaving the banner of Garfield & Arthur master of the situation.

It is a singular fact, but true nevertheless, that among all our democratic friends and acquaintances not one has asked us "Have you heard anything from Maine?" for several days past. This omission on their part makes us feel lonesome, we had got so used to answering the Maine conundrum every fifteen minutes. What can the matter be? Have our democratic brethren lost interest in the election?

Only one of the two carrier pigeons let loose on Market square a week or more ago arrived at its home in Fall River; Mass.; the day they were loosed was very thick and rainy in Massachusetts, and about noon a telegram was received in this city not to liberate the birds, but they had then been gone several hours. The bird which found its way home was subsequently turned loose in Saco, and made the flight to Fall River in five hours and fifty minutes, the distance being about one hundred and fifty miles. This pigeon is only eighteen weeks old.

An ardent young republican officer of the Garfield Battalion, while raising money on Thursday for music to take to Dover, unwittingly approached a prominent democrat and presented his subscription paper. The democrat, after scanning the document, inquired: "You are not asking democrats, are you?" "Oh, no! but you are not a democrat." "Yes, I am," replied the doctor. Fred was nonplussed for the moment, but quickly recovering pulled out a dollar bill, saying; "Doctor, we are paying this for any democrat we get a good look at to-day; the money is yours." It is not known at this writing whether the doctor took the money or not.

The Hancock Veterans claim that they turned out ninety-four men last Thursday evening, on the occasion of their visit to Stratham. Make it 194, gentlemen; we would believe it just as readily. The Veterans are reminded that a bet of $20 was proffered several weeks ago, that they could not turn out fifty-one marching men who saw actual service in the army or navy of the United States during the late war, and who were honorably discharged therefrom, who are residents of Portsmouth and will vote for Hancock. That bet is still open, gentlemen, with the conditions as published. We expect you will waste no time in taking it up. Anybody desiring to win that $20 can call on I. P. Miller.

When the campaign flag was run out Union down from the democratic headquarters in Congress block some time ago there was a good deal of laughing on the part of the republicans, and even more growling on the part of many democrats. We hope the hypercritics are satisfied now that they were wrong, and that the men who ran out the flag as a signal of distress, and persisted in keeping it so, knew what they were doing. It was put out that way in the first place in order to save the trouble of hauling it in and reversing it after the "October states" should be heard from. As it now hangs it correctly indicates the feelings of the democracy of Portsmouth.

The number of tickets sold by the Eastern railroad for the republican excursion to Dover, Thursday evening, was 1252.

The Boys in Blue and Winchester Cadets of this city were conceded to be the finest looking companies in the great procession at Dover last Thursday evening.

Hon. Henry W. Blair will address the citizens of Portsmouth on the political issues of the day in Music hall on Thursday evening, Oct. 21st. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Boys in Blue.

The Garfield & Arthur Battalion have received an invitation to attend a republican rally and torchlight procession in Exeter next Tuesday evening. The marching men will be reviewed by Gen. Marston and other distinguished gentlemen, and noted speakers have been invited to be present.

A horse in charge of the street commissioner ran away from the court house yard on Friday, with a pair of wheels behind him, and went up Market street at a furious rate of speed. A loaded wagon belonging to Mr. J. R. Yeaton, standing opposite the store of Dennis J. Lynch, was struck and the wagon badly damaged. Next the carriage of Dr. John W. Parsons, which was hitched opposite the residence of Alexander H. Ladd, Esq., was hit, and one of the hind wheels knocked off, frightening the doctor's horse, which broke away and ran to his stable. There was considerable excitement on the streets for a few minutes, but no further harm was done.

The democratic campaign companies which went from this city to Stratham on Thursday evening last had a long march from where the train stopped to the town hall—over fifty miles, one of the men informs us, but three or four miles, from other accounts—over a terribly dry and dusty road, enlivened by very few houses; the first house the party saw, after leaving the train, was a nicely illuminated barn. Arrived at the hall they found that so large a number of visitors had not been anticipated, but the local brethren did the best they could, and furnished abundance of hot coffee, crackers, cheese, etc., for the visitors, and all were pleased with their reception. After the flag-raising there were addresses in the town hall.

Elvin C. Kinnear, of Dover, a native of Newcastle and always a democrat—though to the astonishment of every one, as he is not of the kind of which the Dover democracy mainly consists—says and has always said, that he cannot vote for Frank Jones for governor. Mr. Kinnear has for a long time filled the anomalous role of a temperance democrat. He has had occasion to know keenly the effects of intemperance upon others. He is a temperance man from principle, and as such thinks that a manufacturer of ale could not keep his oath of office if chosen governor, if he continued in his business, and encouraged the establishment of places where spirituous liquors were sold. Mr. Kinnear is a business man of good judgment, forward in all reforms, prominent as a Sabbath school superintendent and member of the Congregational church. He has long been abused by the Dover democrats because of his consistent regard for temperance. While a democrat from his youth he will oppose Mr. Jones, who is his personal friend, from no motives other than a conscientious regard for duty. Mr. Kinnear's father was a member of Capt. Wm. Marshall's company, stationed at Newcastle for the defence of our harbor during the war of 1812. His wife was a daughter of Thomas Curtis, another veteran of 1812. Mr. Kinnear is one of the leading shoe manufacturers of the state. Some time since he received a handsome testimonial from a church in Charleston, S. C., for his efforts to secure the remission of duties upon the importation of the bell on their church edifice.

ABBEY'S "HUMPTY DUMPTY."

If there be objection to the enjoyable entertainment which has attracted crowds to this beautiful theatre [Booth's] ever since the arrival of Abbey's "Humpty Dumpty" and Tyrolean Warblers Combination, it is in the multitude of its merit as a source of unqualified variety and delight. Such a copious assemblage of stage entertaint of the highest class has never before been compressed into a single metropolitan theatre. It is all snap and sparkle from the rise of the curtain till its fall. It is a scene of unending fun and frolic which engages the sympathies of the attendance without intermission, and is received with unflagging enjoyment with every repetition.—New York News.

Abbey's Humpty Dumpty combination will appear at Music hall next Monday evening.

FIRE.

The alarm of fire between four and five o'clock Friday morning was caused by a blaze in the ell of the two-story building on the corner of Court and Atkinson streets, owned by W. Irving Drake, and occupied by Joseph Jameson and Charles Lawson. The ell was pretty much destroyed, but the fire was extinguished without damage to the main building.

FRANKLIN THEATRE.

The opening of this cosy and beautiful theatre by the Ideal Opera Company on Thursday and Friday evenings afforded our music-loving people a rare treat. On the first evening, though more than a thousand citizens were absent on political errands in Dover and Stratham, the attendance was large, and the excellent manner in which the music of "Fatinitza" was rendered delighted everybody. On the second night a still larger audience greeted the old favorite "Pinafore," which was given in such style as to seem almost new, Miss Marie Stone making a charming Josephine, and Miss Adelaide Phillipps a pattern Little Buttercup. The inimitable Barnabee appeared both evenings, as the Pasha in Fatinitza and as Sir Joseph in Pinafore; he is as good as ever, which is praise enough for anybody. Miss Mary Beebe, Tom Karl, Myron W. Whitney, George Frothingham, Gus. Kammerlee, and a splendid chorus and orchestra, make up a company which certainly comes very near the "ideal." We do not suppose Mr. Stavers reaped much pecuniary benefit from these opening entertainments, as the expense of securing such a company must be very large; but he afforded the utmost pleasure to two large audiences of the most refined people in the city.

"A NOISY CROWD."

Under the above heading, the Times of Friday intimates that the republicans who went from this city to Dover on Thursday evening last to take part in the celebration there, were drunk and disreputably noisy and disorderly upon their return. We do not hesitate to say that the writer of that item is a liar; and that he know he was lying when he wrote it. We say this of our own knowledge, and not from any hearsay; and we do not care whether the man we thus brand is a sanctified Christian or a sinner who goes down river on Sundays. We saw the democrats when they returned that evening from Stratham, and the republicans when they returned from Dover; and both parties behaved well and appeared perfectly sober. The republicans did indeed make more noise in cheering than the democrats, which was not to be wondered at, as there were more than twice as many of them, and they had abundant reason to cheer, in the result of the Ohio and Indiana elections. That there was any disreputable action on the part of the republicans is not true, and the Times knows it.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

A Garfield & Arthur flag was raised in Kittery on the 13th inst., by Capt. Danie W. Marden of the steamer Emerald.

Charles Hatch, of Saco, is under arrest, charged with setting fire to Buck's soap factory in that city on the night of the 11th inst. The evidence is strong against him, and he is held in $1000 for trial at the supreme court.

An intelligent democrat of Kittery remarked in C. H. Bartlett's store, on Wednesday evening of this week, that the only thing he had against Garfield was "his going down to Mobiler and stealing $829!" We'll match that chap against the Times writers.

On Thursday night of this week, while the orderly sergeant of the marine corps at the navy yard was walking towards the yard, when near the Kittery end of the bridge a large stone was thrown at him, passing uncomfortably near his head. He gave chase to the fellow who threw it, but the scoundrel succeeded in escaping.

A republican of Kittery who is employed in the iron-platers' department on the navy yard, and is a member of the Garfield & Arthur Battalion of the town, went to Dover with the organization on Thursday evening last to take part in the grand republican celebration there; but on arriving he found his feet were too sore for a long march, and was Grant-ed an excuse. He missed the train at the close of the parade, and had to walk home. It is said he proposes to have his feet iron-plated next time, and go through the march with the rest of the boys.

The United States revenue cutter Corwin has returned to San Francisco from the Arctic regions. She brings news that at Lawrence island, out of 700 inhabitants 500 were found dead of starvation, the traders having introduced liquor among them, causing them to neglect laying up the usual supply of provisions.

"It did me much good," says this celebrated actor, in speaking of the Liebig Co's Coca Beef Tonic.

Gen. Franz Sigel says, "It benefitted him very much."

It is a boon and blessing to sufferers from sleeplessness, restless sleepers, and nervousness.

It imparts new tone to the liver, stomach, and bowels. By its regulative action it affords relief from headache, neuralgia, constipation, and languor.

The wedding guests were assembled to see Howard Canby married to a Baltimore belle, when a telegraph boy brought in this message from the absent bridegroom: "I have left you." The bride fainted and her friends slowly dispersed, expressing an unfavorable opinion of Canby.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, &c.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old worn out man all over; could get nothing to help me, until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial."

Fur seals abound along the west coast of the island of Victoria, British Columbia. At Heguist, one of the stations, 800 seal skins have been bought. It is estimated that during the season $20,000 have been paid to Indian seal fishers on that coast.

FOR KIDNEY COMPLAINTS. A Prescription. It having become known that the most dangerous and complicated forms of Kidney Complaints—including Bright's Disease—can be cured, it is but right that the remedy be known. Sufferers may rely on the statement that Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is a sure cure for all diseases of the kidneys, bladder, liver, and urinary organs.

Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

Gentlemen—I wish to inform you of the efficiency of Kidney-Wort on my person. I had been afflicted with rheumatism for three years without relief from any medicine I could get. By recommendation of Mr. Kemp I tried the Kidney-Wort, and half a box entirely relieved me. I have not had any return of the disease since using it, over six months since.

Around the World.

A fame that is world-wide and acquired in the short space of a few years, must have true merit for its support. Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines have gained such fame, and the foreign orders for his Golden Medical Discovery—the greatest blood-purifier of the age, for his Pleasant Purgative Pellets (little sugar-coated pills,) his Favorite Prescription—woman's best friend—and the other remedies became so great, that a branch of the World's Dispensary has been established in London, England, for their manufacture. From this depot they are shipped to every part of Europe, and to the East Indies, China, Japan, and other countries. Their sale in both North and South America is perfectly enormous and increases yearly. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. DAY'S Kidney PAD

IS STRONGLY ENDORSED.

"For over ten years I had been a great sufferer from pains in the small of the back and region of the kidneys, which was most excruciating and at times almost insufferable. Doctoring brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland, eminent physicians, after close examination, declared my sufferings to arise from disease of the Kidneys, of long standing, and could do me no good. I was, however, benefited by the climate and consequently returned. No sooner had I been back and resumed my pastoral work, when the old trouble grew again so intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came in possession of one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now, after wearing the second Pad, entirely gone, and there can be no doubt that I am entirely cured, as I write this some weeks after its use, and am strong and look again the very picture of health. I write this perfectly voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad Co., God's agents and great benefactors of mankind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been in my earnest wish."

—CHAS. DAVIS, 124 Myrtle Street, Boston:

"I have now used DAY'S KIDNEY PAD thirty days, and it has done me more good than any remedy I have ever tried."

—LAKIMORE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—"30 years in business—"DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is having a large sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."

—CASPER WEITZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.—"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 28 days I feel better than I have in 15 years."

—Dr. A. J. STONER, Decatur, Ill.—"Your Pad is doing great good here. It sells every day and gives universal satisfaction."

For sale by drug'ists, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price—Regular, Pad, $2.00; Special Pad (extra size), $3.00; Children's, $1.50. POLYFORM.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

KIDNEY WORT

The Only Remedy THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS,

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Billious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys?
Why endure nervous or sick headache?
Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six qts of Medicine. A trial of your Druggist's, for 75 cts will prove it for you. Price, $1.00.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or imprudence in manhood, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings, three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, which are due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER,
No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston,
Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. HEAL THYSELF

LIEBIG CO'S

COCA BEEF TONIC.

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.

Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Goullon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony, Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumb ague; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weaknesses; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voice of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; sea sickness; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' LIFE-INVIGORATING SARSAPARILLA.

The Great Blood Purifier, Kidney Remedy and Mild Laxative.

WE, the undersigned, having used DR. COR. BETTS' SHAKER SARSAPARILLA SYRUP in our practice, and having examined the formula by which it is prepared, would cheerfully recommend it to the community as the cheapest, safest, and most efficacious of all the preparations of Sarsaparilla in the market. Its highly concentrated state, there being in a given amount of Syrup twice the amount of Vegetation Extract than any other contains, the care, skill, and cleanliness of its manufacture, are sure guarantees of its purity and effect. T. R. CROSBY, M. D., W. D. BUCK, M. D., S. BUNTON, M. D., J. S. ELLIOT, M. D., JAMES BAIRD, M. D., Z. COLBURN, M. D., M. G. J. TEWKSBURY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. C. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. C. GALE, M. D., JAMES A. GREGG, M. D.

Those who have failed to be benefited by other Sarsaparillas should not fail to make a single trial of the Blood Purifying and Life Invigorating Compound of Shaker Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp, and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, combined with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

Prepared by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, Shaker Village, N. H., and signed by Thos. Corbett, its inventor, for sale everywhere. Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

The Manchester Weekly Times, a paper edited for some months past by H. H. Everett, professedly in the interests of the ex-soldiers of the rebellion, in a recent issue had a two-column editorial which gave the democrats great satisfaction, and was copied in nearly or quite every democratic paper in the state. The article went red-hot in favor of Frank Jones, and represented that the soldiers of Manchester and the state generally were greatly dissatisfied with the treatment they had received at the hands of the republicans, and were inclined to go over to the enemy. This article greatly incensed the Manchester veterans, who it is said have for some time been liberally aiding Everett in his business, and at a recent meeting of the Boys in Blue the following preamble and resolutions were passed:

Whereas, The said Everett, as he himself confesses, has, in consideration of a sum of money paid by democrats, published in said paper an article in which the republican soldiers of this city are represented as dissatisfied with their party, and inclined to go over to their old enemies, the Confederate democracy; therefore,

Resolved, That we, the Boys in Blue of the city of Manchester, indignantly repudiate the impudent assumption of this Everett that he has any warrant or authority to speak for the republican soldiers of Manchester, or any power to deliver a single vote except his own.

Resolved, That the statements and insinuations contained in said article are entirely false in word and spirit, and are a slander alike upon the republican party and the soldiers of New Hampshire.

Resolved, That in the future, as in the past, the volunteer soldiers of Manchester, unawed by influence and unbribed by gain, will be true to the party of Union, liberty, loyalty and law, whose banner in this campaign is borne by Garfield and Arthur, and that it shall be no fault of theirs if the Confederate democracy wins at the ballot-box the cause it lost upon the battlefield.

Resolved, That we congratulate the republicans of New Hampshire and all true soldiers upon the fact that the one hireling in our ranks has gone where he belongs, and that we are relieved of the cost of his support and the discredit of his fellowship.

Unanimously passed Oct. 11, 1880.

S. S. PIPER, President.
F. A. WASLEY, Vice-President.
A. J. SANBORN, Sergt.
And 280 Boys in Blue.

The republican veterans assert that Everett sold out to David H. Young and other democrats for a specifieid sum of money, agreeing to run his paper in Frank Jones' interest for the rest of the campaign, and that on being pressed by some of the men who had previously aided him, he confessed the whole matter, terms of sale and all. Editor Everett's influence on the state campaign will not be great, even if his paid-for puff of Mr. Jones was copied all around.

Pleasant Letters.

They are sheets of sunshine. A Methodist clergyman of Hartford, Conn., writes Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., that "Favorite Remedy" cured him of chronic liver disease and indigestion, from which he had suffered for a long time. This was splendid, but nothing more than anyone may expect who uses this medicine. One dollar a bottle is a small consideration when health is in question. The clergyman says he is going to introduce Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" among his people. He can't do better. Health is always a friend of religion.

At a republican demonstration in Johnsonville, N. Y., last Thursday night, four men and a boy were badly hurt by the bursting of a cannon. One man and the boy were fatally injured.

No other remedy has proved so effectual in relieving coughs and colds as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It is recommended by many physicians, and costs only 25 cents a bottle.

It is estimated by treasury officials that there was in the country Oct. 1st $369,881,000 in United States gold coin, and $149,799,335 in silver.

Many complaints of small children arise from indigestion. If your child is sick give it D. R. V. G. You will be surprised at the charming effect.

The net earnings of the Western Union Telegraph company for the past year were $4,678,122, an increase of $876,861 over the earnings of the preceding year.

If you are troubled with a lame back, try Day's Kidney Pad—it will certainly cure you.

The Real Ruler.

Gen. Hancock has written another letter—that is, he has signed another epistle—addressed to a Jersey man, as an effort to stay the tide so unmistakably setting against the democracy. Of course the party managers see the blunder as to free trade, and will now blow hot or cold as to the latitude requires. Down south, it will be free trade. In New England, New York and Pennsylvania it will be "with most justice to all our interests!"

The fact is, if the democracy were to succeed the party would be controlled by the "solid south" as of yore; and the pledges and promises of the expiring democrats of the north are of the least possible consequence. They will have no chance to keep their promises, even if their party succeeds. The free trade men of the south will dictate the party course, and their meek and humble followers at the north must be satisfied with a limited share of the spoils, without attempting to direct legislation.

It is this view of the situation which today ensures the election of Garfied, and Hancock's dying declarations upon the subjects of the tariff and the public debt are not of the least importance.

The Woman's Bank.

The "Ladies' Deposit" in Boston, the "bank" which promised to pay ninety-six per cent interest on deposits, and accepted deposits from women only, was attached on Friday by the sheriff. The courts will now have to decide whether the concern is a broken bank or a swindle. The public opinion in the matter was made up long ago.

On Saturday the so-called president of the bank, Mrs. Sarah E. Howe, and the "agent," Miss Julia A. Gould, were arrested on warrants for obtaining money under false pretences. Over one hundred attachments were put on Mrs. Howe's property by swindled depositors, up to noon on Saturday.

The concern has been in operation several years, and the deposits are believed to have exceeded $1,000,000.

Another Comet.

Prof. Swift, astronomer of the Warner observatory at Rochester, N. Y., discovered another large comet on the evening of October 10th. The fact was noted in the press dispatches, but some important and interesting details which could not be telegraphed are now given. The new celestial visitor is in the constellation of Pegasus. Its rate of motion is quite slow in a north-westerly direction, approaching the sun. It has a very strong condensation on one side of the centre, in addition to a star-like nucleus, which indicates that it is throwing off an extended tail. From the fact of its extraordinary size, Prof. Swift says we are warranted in presuming that it will be very brilliant; and the additional fact that it is coming almost directly toward the earth, gives good promise that it will be one of the most remarkable comets of the present century. This is the fifth comet which Prof. Swift has discovered, and the increased facilities which Mr. H. H. Warner, the popular and wealthy medicine man, has given him, by erecting a magnificent observatory for his benefit, promise much more for the future. There is a possibility that further developments may prove this to be the great comet of 1812, which is being constantly expected, in which event astronomers will have an unusual opportunity to test the spectroscope for the first time upon these eccentric bodies, and possibly ascertain certainly what they are.

News and Notes.

It is calculated that the 10,000,000 barrels of beer reported by the Brewer's Congress as having been sold last year would have filled a canal five feet deep and twenty-one feet wide, extending from New York to Philadelphia, and that it would take a pump throwing thirty-one gallons a minute twenty-one years to pump it dry.

In four months the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children have prosecuted more than 500 cases. Great as this work has been it is nothing to what would have happened had all the people who know of abused children solicited the society's aid.

The Detroit Free Press, commenting on the four-masted schooner recently built for Boston owners, says the four-masted schooner Richard Winslow was built in Detroit in 1871, and the rig has since been generally adopted on large vessels on the lake there; and that a 100,000-bushel schooner is now being constructed there, to have five masts.

Mrs. Eliza Smith of Kingston, N. Y., had a penchant for making wills. She made no less than a dozen of these documents, the legatees in each instance being changed. A hot lawsuit is now naturally in process as the result. Mrs. Smith was of Spanish origin, and at twelve years of age married a wealthy man, was a mother at thirteen, and at seventeen a widow, her husband being killed in a duel of which she was the cause. The next year she married again, and lived with her husband forty years, and at three score married a third time. She made all her husbands unhappy in life, and now after her death she is making her relatives miserable.

Marcus Richardson of Bangor, Me., who will be 106 years old the last of this month, has been a Mason for seventy-seven years, and is probably the oldest member of the order living. Mr. Richardson is also a stalwart republican.

The steam launch of United States steamer Vandalia, while carrying a number of ladies and gentlemen from the ship to the wharf at Baltimore on Friday afternoon, was run into by the tug Tigress. The launch was struck amidships, and immediately began to fill. The passengers were taken off, and the launch sank within a few feet of the wharf.

The training ship Minnesota, on her way from New York to Hampton roads, struck on a sand bar in rough weather, carrying away a portion of her rigging; she keeled over dangerously, and for some time was in a most perilous situation. Great excitement prevailed, but the officers succeeded in preventing a panic and in extricating the ship from her danger.

Messages from Buried Miners.

One of the most interesting and pathetic of volumes could be prepared from the newspaper reports of colliery explosions in England. The searchers in the Seaham colliery after the recent terrible disaster came upon several affecting memorials of the doomed men shut up in the fiery mine. On an old ventilation-door they chalked, "All alive at three o'clock. Lord have mercy upon us. Together praying for help—Robert Johnson." In another part is written with chalk on a plank the words, in a bold, clear hand, "The Lord has been with us. We are all ready for heaven.—Richard Cole.—Half-past two." Another poor fellow, Michael Smith, had scratched with a nail upon his water-bottle the following message to his wife: "Dear Margaret: There were forty of us altogether at seven A. M. Some were singing hymns, but my thoughts were on my little Michael. I thought that him and I would meet in heaven at the same time. Oh! dear wife, God save you and the children, and pray for myself. Dear wife, farewell! My last thoughts are about you and the children. Be sure and learn the children to pray for me. Oh, what a terrible position we are in." "Little Michael" was the child he had left at home ill. It died on the day of the explosion.

A Novel Locomotive Station.

An ingenious method for obviating the frequent stoppage of trains at stations, and yet accommodating the passengers from these stations, has been devised by M. Hanrez. A "waiting carriage," comprising a steam engine with special gear, and space for passengers and luggage, is placed on a siding at the station, and picked up by the train as it goes by. The latter, by means of a hook on its last carriage, catches a ring supported on a post, and connected with a cable wound on a drum in the waiting carriage. Thereupon the drum begins to unwind, and in doing so compresses a system of springs, while the carriage is moved at a rate gradually increasing to that of the train. The engine of the carriage then winds in the cable, the train and carriage are connected, passengers are transferred (the carriages being of the American type) from the joined carriage to the train, and vice versa, then the two are disconnected, and the engine of the carriage working on the wheels brings it back to the station whence it was taken.—Nature.

Who Is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, solver facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other, devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

AROUND HOME.

Humpty Dumpty and the Tyrolean Warblers at Music hall this evening.

A Hancock & English club of students, from Phillips academy at Exeter, attended the democratic flag-raising at Stratham last week.

The schooners Van, Sea Bird and Coquette, at Rollins' wharf last week loading apples, sailed for ports in eastern Maine on Saturday.

It is reported that Mr. Stewart A. Sheldon, the at-one-time prominent greenbacker of Portsmouth, has "declared" for Hancock & English.

Eastern railroad 4 1-2 per cent bonds sold at par in Boston on Saturday. Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway 4 1-2 s sold at eighty-five, and Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad stock at 108.

The schooner yacht Una came off the marine railway at Kittery, Saturday, and was towed to this city by the tug Clara Bateman. She is to be fitted with new masts and a regular yachting rig, under the supervision of Capt. Albert Rand.

The Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. Edward D. Coffin commanding, were inspected in camp at Greenland on Thursday of last week by Gen. Sturtevant, who was accompanied by Adjutant General Ayling. The average attendance on duty during the four days the company was in camp was thirty-eight, out of a membership of forty-eight. Camp was broken on Friday afternoon at five o'clock.

The remains of the late Thomas A. Adams, whose death in New Orleans was mentioned in a former issue of this paper, were brought here for interment in his family lot last Thursday, and were followed to the grave by several of our most prominent citizens, friends of the deceased. Brief services were performed by Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., and Rev. Mr. DeNormandie. We understand he has provided in his will for the maintenance of the subscriptions to the Howard Benevolent Society and other charities which he has regularly continued during all the years of his absence from this city.

The Garfield and Arthur Battalion of Exeter will have a torchlight procession on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19th, with Gen. Gilman Marston as chief marshal, and Benjamin L. Merrill as chief of staff. The line will be reviewed by Hon. Charles H. Bell, and other distinguished persons. The fare to Exeter and return will be sixty cents, from this city. This seems rather high. The Eastern railroad carried over 1200 persons to Dover last week at half rates, besides doing a large business on regular trains. There is no reason why cars should not run through to Exeter from Portsmouth at a reasonable rate of fare. In fact, all now see that the Concord & Portsmouth railroad should have been built through Exeter, instead of avoiding the up-river towns on its route.

BOYS IN BLUE

Will assemble at the armory at 7:30 this (Monday) evening, to consider an invitation to go to Exeter to-morrow night.

By order of Major Com'd'g.

WM. O. SIDES, Adjutant.

GARFIELD & ARTHUR BATTALION.

Members of the Garfield & Arthur Battallion are hereby notified that they are invited to attend a rally at Exeter on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19th.

Per order Maj. Com'd'g.

"A NOISY CROWD."

Under the above heading the Times of Friday evening published an item distinctly intimating that the republican campaign clubs, on their return from Dover the previous evening, were drunk and disorderly. This statement we pronounced a lie, as it was. On Saturday the Times contained what was intended to be an answer, from which we make some extracts:

The CHRONICLE was very much exercised within itself about what we said, and comes out with a bold denial of the statements and says it saw both the republicans and democrats when they returned home, and says that "The republicans did indeed make more noise in cheering than the democrats." Thus the CHRONICLE admits that what we said was correct. We know it to be so, and can prove it, too. We should like to know if the republicans, after getting out of the cars in this city after two o'clock in the morning, didn't take up a line of march of a mile and a half or two miles, and keeping up a continual racket and howl during the whole time.

The CHRONICLE "admits" that what the Times said was a lie, as already stated. We do "admit" that the republicans cheered and shouted vigorously along their line of march, as they had good reason to do in the decisive victory in Indiana.

Why shouldn't they shout? Indiana, the home of the democratic candidate for vice president, and for ten years a democratic stronghold, wrested from democratic control; the legislature carried in spite of a democratic gerrymander of the legislative districts, gaining a United States senator; and in spite of a gerrymander of the congressional districts, which the democrats boasted would give them all but three of the congressmen, eight republicans elected to Congress, and but five democrats! Why shouldn't they shout?

The Times further says:

If the companies had gone to their respective halls as quickly and quietly as possible we should have said nothing about it.

Indeed! That is kind. If a thousand men or more go out of the city to celebrate a political victory, with torches and brass bands and drum corps, if on their return they will sneak to their halls "as quickly and quietly as possible," and don't light any torches nor beat any drums nor give any cheers, then the Times will "say nothing about it!" Very kind and considerate, indeed; and on behalf of the various republican companies, we return most heartfelt thanks.

The Times further suggests that perhaps "the CHRONICLE man" was "as happy as any of the boys" that night. For once the Times is right. He was as happy as any of them, and not half so tired, for the glorious victories in the west had sent his spirits way up above the top of the thermometer, and he had not been tramping for some hours about dusty streets. The CHRONICLE man was happy then, and is now, over the certainty that Garfield, the soldier and statesman, is to take the presidential chair on the 4th of March next, and not Hancock, the soldier and no statesman.

EASTERN RAILROAD.

The fall arrangement upon this road begins this week. The trains are diminished in number, but we have six trains to Boston on week days, and two on Sundays, 4:05 o'clock A. M., and 5:30 P. M. The 8:30 A. M. and 12:00 M. trains from Boston, and the 6:00 P. M. train from Portland, are discontinued. If one desires to go to Portland and return the same day he will have an hour in Portland, unless he comes back via the Boston & Maine railroad, through Dover. The Bangor express runs daily, including Sundays.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Charcot Philomo, a Frenchman about forty years of age, was run over near Kennebunk mills by a train, Friday morning, receiving injuries which resulted fatally.

A man named Smith, who was at one time employed in Buck's soap factory in Saco, about a year ago asked permission of Mr. Buck to store a number of barrels and a box on his premises, which was granted. When the soap factory was burned last week the barrels and box were burst open, and a large part of the contents, consisting of ready made clothing, broadcloth, etc., stolen. It is supposed that the goods were originally stolen by Smith, who had never offered to remove them since storing them on Mr. Buck's premises.

H. L. Currier of Biddeford, one of the proprietors of the Biddeford Machine Works, is having constructed for his own use a steam road-wagon which is expected to make good time on any ordinary highway. The vehicle looks very much like an ordinary wagon, except that it has no shafts, and weighs but 450 pounds. It is designed to run twenty-five miles without having the fire renewed, and will cost about $400. Fourteen similar machines are engaged by people in Biddeford and its vicinity, should the experimental one prove a success.

Political Notes.

The New York World has an item concerning "Macdonald's Bust of Hancock." Indiana's "'bust' of Hancock" is of more interest to the democrats just now.

Fogg, of the Greenback-Labor Chronicle of Auburn, Me., in the last issue of his paper pronounces in favor of fusion in Maine. Col. Blood, formerly associate editor, retires from that position, though still retaining connection with the paper.

New Hampshire Items.

The Nashua Telegraph says that on Tuesday, the 12th inst., a Temple man drew one thousand dollars from a bank in that city, and then went on a spree. The bank clerk, who was uneasy about the matter, hunted him up and induced him to give up the money until train time, and the police, who found him wandering about near the railroad track, took him to the city hall. He was sent home with the money, which belonged to two widows, by the afternoon train. One drink more and the chances are he would have been robbed.

Hiram Barker and Charles W. Tapley have been appointed supervisors of elections in Farmington by the United States circuit court.

Charles Perkins, who was living with J. M. Cotton, his uncle, at Plymouth, was called out of school on Thursday afternoon by an uncle or grandfather, and has not been seen since. There is considerable excitement.

A New Reform Movement.

You are charged with choking, beating and kicking Parson Bledso without the slightest provocation. The evidence shows that he addressed you in the most courteous manner, asking after your health, whereupon you fell upon him like a savage.

"You dunno Parson Bledso, does yer, boss?"

"I do not."

"Jedge, no man honahs Parson Bledso moah den I do. He is a puffec gemmen ob de ole school."

"What did you break the bridge of his nose and kick him in the abdomen for, then?"

"Jedge, he is de persuasivest talker you eber heard. Ef I hadn't hit him in de mouf, in one moah minit he would hab borrowed dat dollar I'se been sabin up to go to de suckus wid, but I has got a better skuse dan dat ar."

"What is it?"

"You see, Parson Bledso has been preachin' powerful agin chicken stealin', and I has been makin' an earnest effort to reform. I haint pulled a pullet in two days. Ef I hadn't hit de pasture in de mouf he would hab talked me outen dat ar suckus dollar, and den"—

"What then?"

"Den, ob course, some white man's chicken coop would hab had to furnish de keriaterals to raise anudder suckus dollar. I would hab backslid suah, and de parson beeself would hab been ter blame foah de defection in de party."

"Yes, I see."

"So you see, do you, boss, dat when my pasture run his mouf agin my knuckles, when I reached out from de shoulder, I was starting a culled reform movement."

The recorder took the case under advisement. He said he wanted to look up the authorities.—Galveston News.

Did Jonah Think of This.

Here I met Captain Wood, who has been in a whale's mouth. After edging carefully toward the matter, a friend induced him to tell about it—probably for the ten thousandth time.

"Yes, I was standing in the bow of the boat with the iron in my hand," said he, "looking around for his majesty, for I thought we had given him his death blow. Suddenly up he came right ahead of me, and he struck the boat underneath with his prolonged lower jaw, knocking it out from under me, and I fell straight over into his mouth."

"What did you think then?" asked a listener, as the captain paused.

"Thought I was a goner," answered the captain, "especially when he shut his mouth on me. But he was fortunately in the agonies of death, too worried to think of me, and after giving me one savage crunch, he blowed me out of his mouth, covered with blood. I at once struck out for the boat."

"And when they picked him up they thought he was killed," said another captain, "though after a good while he recovered with the ugly wounds that you see." There was a scar some inches long across Captain Wood's scalp, and a great lump on his side was visible under his coat.

"What did you think when you were in his mouth, and knew where you were?" asked another bystander.

"Thought he'd yield about eighty barrels," said Captain Wood, turning over his quid and calmly firing at the box of sawdust.—Nantucket Letter.

—"Clothe me in dreams," says Miss Fannie Driscoll in a recent poem. And the Elmira Free Press man, spreading his fingers open before his eyes to hide his blushes, shouts: "Oh, now; see here dear—that's too thin."

—A Brooklyn girl recently wrote to General Garfield that she is buying votes for him with kisses. One peculiarly hardened democrat she has agreed to kiss every day for a year if he will vote for Garfield. This shows what a power women might become in politics should they once enter the business.

—Strictly speaking, what is "sauce for the goose" is not always "sauce for the gander." A man, for instance, can not realize the wonderful amount of felicity there is in the possession of a $9 bonnet, with a gothic portico and a flower-garden on the port side and a green1 izard on the starboard, and no woman can understand the absorbing happiness that lies in punching billiard balls for hours in succession at twenty-five cents a game, and losing all the time, at that.—Boston Gazette.

—Grapes are so plenty that they are eaten everywhere. A bunch of them was eaten in a Danbury house Monday afternoon, and the skins put on a chair, with a view to removing them when the eater left the room. But they were forgotten, and shortly after a caller in a silk sat down on that very chair. The fact that the husband of the grape eater was looking for the vote and influence of the husband of the silk in the coming town caucus adds to the gloom of the affair.—Danbury News.

—As a prisoner was marched up to the warden's desk in the Tombs prison yesterday, he said: "I assure you, gentlemen, that the place has sought me, and not I the place. My own affairs really demand all my time and attention, and I may truly say that my selection to fill this position was an entire surprise. Had I consulted my own interests, I should have peremptorily declined to serve, but as I am in the hands of my friends, I see no other course but to submit. I thank you." He will take the stump for Hancock—when he comes out.—Graphic.

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases named Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weakness peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1,00 a bottle.

Temperance people often say that most of the popular medicines they see advertised are nine-tenths rum. This is true of many, but not of Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." The doctor agrees with his temperance friends that it is better to die of disease than of drink. "Favorite Remedy" cures kidney troubles, liver complaints, constipation of the bowels, as nothing else does or ever did. It drives away sickness. It cools the blood. It costs only a dollar to try it. Ask your druggist or send to the doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

Patti and Nicolini.

A correspondent of the New York Times thus describes Patti and Nicolini as seen at their home in Wales:

I met Patti and Nicolini on foot the other day, walking through a hawthorn-perfumed, hedge-embowered lane. Truly, when looking in Adelina Patti's face, you seem to gaze upon the physiognomy of one who has not only done no wrong, but never even thought. Yet here is her world-renowned Faust by her side, a rather theatrical-looking hero even off the stage, got up, as to dress, here in these Welsh country lanes, with something of the brigand-like picturesqueness of Fra Diavolo. He is the very embodiment of Punch's idea of a "Mossoo" in the hunting shires, who rides his horse" bumping at every trot, and wonders why ces sacres Anglais consider it so preposterous to shoot a fox, since the object of the hunt is to kill the creature at last and get its brush as a trophy. But Adelina is here, as on the stage, a thing of beauty and of fitness. She wears one of those exquisitely neat tailor-made serge costumes, which no knight of the shears save those who have lived all their lives at the yachting stations of the Isle of Wight seem to know how to construct. In her great black eyes there is an expression of profound sadness. I think it undoubted that within the past two years this great artist has awakened to the knowledge that all misguided people sooner or later arrive at, that, dear as love is, there is such a thing as paying too dear a price for it. She said to a friend of mine last winter in Paris: "Oh, why had I no one to advise me?" Her relatives say she is the most headstrong creature in the world, and will not be advised. Her sisters, Mme. Strakosch and Carlotta Patti, are not friends with her since her rupture with De Caux, and they continue to be intimate with the discarded Marquis, their ex-brother-in-law. The rumors now and again circulated to the the effect that Nicolini ill-treats Adelina are said to be utterly groundless by those who are thrown in constant contact with them, and have the opportunity of observing.

—Georgie (four years old) at the teatable—"Mamma, man I have some sardines?" Mamma—"Wait till I'm ready, Georgie." Georgie (surprised)—"Why, it's me 'at wants 'em!"

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Oct. 13.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 2628; sheep and lambs 1800; swine, 5500; number western cattle 1477; eastern cattle 321; milch cows and northern cattle 239; veals 81.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs. live weight: Extra quality $5 87½ and $6 37½; first quality $5 25 and $5 75; second quality $4 87½ and $5 12½; third quality $4 37½ and $4 75; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 50 and $4 25.

Brighton Hides 8½c per lb.

Brighton Tallow 4½ and 5c per lb.

Country hides 8 and 8½c per lb.

Country Tallow 4 and 4½c per lb.

Calf skins 10 and 11c per lb, or from $1 25 and $1 75 per skin.

Lamb skins 75c and $1.10 each.

Sheared sheep skins 50c each.

The trade for beef cattle has not been very active this week. Cattle cost higher at the west, and prices upon all grades have advanced 1c per lb over those obtained one week ago. There has been a fair demand for shipping cattle at prices ranging from 4½c per lb live weight. The supply, though light, was a better quality than those brought in one week ago. Butchers' cattle have commanded prices ranging in most instances from 5 @ 5½c per lb, a few lots selling at 6 @ 9½c per lb live weight. From Maine the supply consisted mostly of working oxen, milch cows and stores. Only a few beef cattle among them there, a few of which sold at 12c per lb dressed weight.

Working Oxen—There was a fair supply in market, mostly of ordinary grade. We quote sales of 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 3700 lbs, $215 the 2 pairs; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 4 in, live weight, 2500 lbs, $80; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 3 in, 2600 lbs, $85; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 3600 lbs, $215 the 2 pairs; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 4 in, live weight, 2500 lbs, $80; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 3 in, 2600 lbs, $80; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 3600 lbs, $102; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 4 in, live weight 2400 lbs $75; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 3 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $85; 2 prs, girth 6 ft 5 in, live weight 2850 lbs, $172 for the lot.

Store Cattle—There were a few among the cattle from Maine. We note sales of 3 two year old steers at $19 each; 11 three year old steers at $30 each; 3 two year old steers at $22 each; 11 three year old steers at $30 each; 3 2 yearlings at $19 each.

Milch Cows—But few extra cows in market, most of them being of a common grade. We quote sales of 1 nice Ayrshire cow at $35; 3 milch cows at $35 each; 1 springer $35; 2 do at $100; 4 springers for $135; 2 springers at $35 each; 1 do $40; 1 cow and calf $50; 3 cows and calves for $165 the lot.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were owned by butchers and cost from 5 @ 6c per lb live weight landed at Brighton. Those from Maine were consigned to G W Hollis to stalager and market at commission.

Swine—Fat hogs, with the exception of a few which were bought for shipment to England, were all owned by butchers, and cost landed at the slaughter houses at 5¾ @ 6½c per lb live weight.

DAY'S Kidney PAD

IS STRONGLY ENDORSED.

Rev. F. L. GAUSS, Galena, Ill., writes—"For over ten years I have been a great sufferer from kidney trouble, small of the back and region of the kidneys, which was more excruciating at times almost insufferable. Doctoring brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland, eminent physicians after close examination, declared my sufferings to arise from disease of the kidneys, of long standing and could do me no good. I was, however, benefited by the climate and came home to return. No sooner had I been back and resumed my pastoral work, when the old trouble grew again so intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came to possession of one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now after wearing the second Pad, entirely gone, and there can be no doubt that I am entirely cured, as I write this some weeks after its use, and am strong and look again the very picture of health. I write this perfectly voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad, Day's agents and Day's benefactors of mankind. May all the suffering be spared as I have been in my earnest wish."

CHAS. DAVIS, 124 Myrtle Street, Boston: "I have now used DAY'S KIDNEY PAD thirty days, and it has done me more good than any remedy I have ever tried."

LARIMORE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—"10 years in business.—Day's Kidney Pad is having a large sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."

CASPER WEITZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.—"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 25 days I feel better than I have in 15 years."

Dr. A. J. STONER, Decatur, Ill.—"Your Pad is doing great work. It cures every day and gives universal satisfaction."

For sale by drug gists, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price—Regular, Pad, $1.00; Special Pad (extra size), $2.00; Children's, $1.00. Our book, "How Life was saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it. Address,

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the public and our agents, to ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD and take no other.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the country of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervous specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

Political Notes.

On the morning of the elections in Ohio and Indiana, the Richmond Dispatch asserted that if the republicans should carry both states, the election of Garfield was assured. On Thursday, it having received sufficient returns, the Dispatch accepted the result as a "crushing and unexpected defeat." It does not palter with its readers by assuming that there is the slightest prospect of overturning the result, even in Indiana. It says, honestly: "We confidently counted upon success in Indiana, and because of that confidence in the result in Indiana, entertained hopes of carrying Ohio." But "the north is solidified as an offset to the solid south."

A disgraceful disturbance took place at Wilmington, Del., Saturday night. As a democratic procession was passing a hall in which a lot of colored people were holding some kind of a festival, the procession was assailed with brickbats and pistol shots; the fire was returned, and after a sharp fight of a few minutes the building was cleared out. The negroes, well armed, made a stand in another part of the city, but the police and some of the democratic leaders succeeded in averting any further rioting. A number of persons were shot or hurt with bricks, on both sides, several negro women being among the injured; but no one was killed. A large crowd of colored people gathered next morning, and when the officers attempted to disperse them opened fire, wounding several persons; the police made one arrest, and the mob dispersed.

Richard Gregg, the greenback candidate for governor in Indiana, received from 22,000 to 25,000 votes, according to the present indications.

Gen. Scott, while a candidate for President, had to suffer because he had written too much; and Gen. Hancock seems likely to become swamped by too much letter writing. Having some time ago written a letter on the southern claims that may be read one way and translated another, he has more recently said that no matter what the democratic party platform may hold, he is sound on the tariff question. Now there is one other matter concerning which he ought to write at once. Let him write and tell us if he will refund the $129 improperly—nay, dishonestly—taken from the dear people years ago, provided he is elected President. True, there is not much chance for the people to get it if they are to wait till he is chosen President, but he is good at promises, and delights in letter writing.

New Hampshire Items.

The water in Lake Winnipesaukee is about four feet lower than at high water mark last spring, which indicates that 2,600,000,000 tons have been drawn off, the surface of the lake covering seventy-six square miles.

An unoccupied house in Goffstown, owned by Jonathan Rogers, was burned on Sunday morning by an incendiary fire. Loss $1200.

A singular accident happened to Mrs. Sherwood at the Home of the Aged, at Concord, a few days ago. She was out covering up some plants, and as she lifted up her arm to spread a sheet she heard something crack, and her arm fell useless at her side, having broken just above the elbow.

At Haverhill, on the 16th inst., the court decreed a nullity of marriage in a case which has excited much interest in that vicinity, the parties being a young lady of Lisbon and a young man from Lyman, who in July last, at a friend's house in Lisbon, were married "in fun," and subsequently discovered to their great consternation that the person who performed the ceremony was a justice of the peace, and legally qualified to celebrate marriages.

There is a divided family, politically, in town. The man is a democrat and his wife a republican. Both wished to illuminate, and to settle the matter, the husband told the wife to select her half of the house and light up, and when the democratic show came off he would light the other half. The wife accepted, took the front half, and made a creditable show.—Milford Enterprise.

The horse distemper is spreading widely in St. John, N. B., and many deaths have resulted.

Not a Superb Statesman.

The "superb soldier" under whom the democrats are to be defeated next month, is doing his best to prove himself not at all superb as a statesman, and is succeeding brilliantly.

The democratic national convention in its platform explicitly declared in favor of "a tariff for revenue" only, as opposed to the republican theory of "a tariff so adjusted as to afford protection to American labor;" and Hancock, in his letter of acceptance, declared that "the principles enumerated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future."

Alarmed by the disastrous (to the democrats) results of the tariff discussion in Indiana, a democratic New Jersey editor hastened to interview Hancock on the tariff question, in order to strengthen the democratic party in New Jersey, which is a large manufacturing state; and to this editor Hancock made the astounding declaration that the tariff is a mere local issue!

Senator Randolph of New Jersey, terrified at the probable effect the report of this interview would have on the sensible voters of the country, if uncontradicted, wrote to Hancock on the subject, and received in answer a letter in which the superb soldier says:

In my letter of acceptance I expressed my full sympathy with our American industries. I thought I spoke plainly enough to satisfy our Jersey friends regarding my tariff views. I am too sound an American to advocate any departure from the general features of a policy that has been largely instrumental in building up our industries, and keeping Americans from the competition of the unpaid labor of Europe.

That at least is plain. Gen. Hancock acknowledges that the republican policy of protection "has been largely instrumental in building up our industries" and in "keeping Americans from competition with the unpaid labor of Europe." This is just what the republicans claim.

But the democrats, in their platform, promise to do away with this policy, and put American labor in competition with the pauper-paid labor of Europe. But, says Hancock, "I am too sound an American to advocate any departure from the general features" of the protective policy; in other words, he repudiates the most important plank—the free trade one—in the platform on which he is running for the presidency, acknowledging that his own party is in the wrong and the republican party in the right on this question.

The intelligent workingmen of the country will see to it that the next President is not only a "sound American" in this respect, as Hancock claims to be, but that he has behind him a party equally as sound, which Hancock acknowledges the republican party to be and the democratic party not to be.

News and Notes.

A very severe storm raged on Saturday in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois. The Minnesota Southern railroad trains were blockaded by snowdrifts ten or twelve feet deep, and many cattle perished in that state and Dakota. The schooner E. B. Wells foundered off North Chicago, and her company of eight men all perished. Steamers Alpena and Depre, which sailed from Chicago Friday evening, had not been heard from on Sunday, causing much anxiety, the Alpena having about fifty persons on board. Although the storm on the lake was terrible, the casualties are comparatively few, owing to the signal-service having given timely warning.

Second-Lieutenant John Guest, 8th U. S. Cavalry, has been granted leave of absence for one month, with permission to apply to the adjutant-general of the army through division headquarters for an extension of five months.

A hall boy at the American hotel at Albany, N. Y., named Burt, was shot, Saturday morning, and is not expected to live. He says he was shot by a man named John Lyons of New York, who complained of the breakfast the boy brought to his room. Mrs. Lyons says the boy was handling the pistol belonging to her husband, and shot himself. Lyons escaped.

An aged miser was found murdered in his house at Niles, Mich., some time ago, and $500 of his funds were missing. For months the mystery of the crime was not penetrated. At length a quiet fourteen-year-old boy of the neighborhood began to spend money freely. When accused of the murder, he confessed his guilt.

At the office of the Portland (Me.) Packing company is a can that was packed with salmon in 1844. The vessel in which the can was shipped was wrecked, and a short time ago this can was taken from the wreck. It was opened the other day, and the contents were found in perfect condition.

A letter from St. Augustine, Fla., states that the United States authorities are making efforts to recover the cargo of the lost steamer City of Vera Cruz from the thieving wreckers on the coast.

There is danger that young couples in Rochester, N. Y., in matrimonial thoughts intent will have to content themselves with the services of civil magistrates hereafter, as the Express announces that a sort of ministerial union has been formed there, the members of which pledge themselves not to perform the marriage ceremony under any circumstances without a fee of at least $5 on each occasion. The Troy Times is of the opinion that if they would also pledge themselves not to marry people about whom they know nothing, they would be doing Christianity a service.

It is stated that much of the increase of insanity in Germany is attributable to the excessive amount of work imposed upon the pupils in the national schools. This statement is based upon the result of investigations made by German physicians interested in the treatment of the insane. May not the results of the pressure in our American schools be tending in the same direction?

The clothing store of Lewis O'Brien, at Norway, Me., was broken into, Saturday night, and his stock cut to pieces. Damage $1500; no clue to the perpetrators of the outrage.

Rev. J. B. Harrison, of Franklin, who delivered the Unitarian conference sermon at Waterville, Me., last week, is the author of the articles in the Atlantic Monthly entitled "Dangerous Tendencies of American Life," since published in book form. Like many of the Unitarian preachers he came out of the Orthodox church, and is most earnest in the propagation of liberal Christianity. He is yet under middle age, and one of the most modest of men. He is especially interested in social reforms, and has refused good positions in large cities in order to do a favorite practical work in a New Hampshire town, where he has already introduced a library for the working people, and has been the means of introducing new sewerage and neat watering-troughs in the streets.

In Brooklyn, N. Y., the owners of the Planet mills, who employ hundreds of working-men, have put up placards saying that the election of Gen. Hancock means lower wages and hard times, and the success of the republican party means the reverse; also that if Garfield is elected the mills will continue to run, but if he is defeated their continuance is doubtful. The big sugar refiners, Havemeyer & Elder, who employ thousands, have warned their employes that they would have to close the establishment if Hancock is elected.

Around the World.

A fame that is world-wide and acquired in the short space of a few years, must have true merit for its support. Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines have gained such fame, and the foreign orders for his Golden Medical Discovery—the greatest blood-purifier of the age, for his Pleasant Purgative Pellets (little sugar-coated pills,) his Favorite Prescription—woman's best friend—and the other remedies became so great, that a branch of the World's Dispensary has been established in London, England, for their manufacture. From this depot they are shipped to every part of Europe, and to the East Indies, China, Japan, and other countries. Their sale in both North and South America is perfectly enormous and increases yearly. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronch al Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annual increasing favor. They are not new and untried, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weakness peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

Single numbers four cents each.

The bound volume for 1880, containing the first fifty-two numbers, will be ready early in November. Price, $3.00; postage prepaid. Cover for Young People for 1880, 55 cents; postage, 19 cents additional.

AROUND HOME.

One of the most brilliant illuminations on Monday evening, on the occasion of the procession of democratic campaign clubs, was at the business premises of Mr. Stewart A. Sheldon.

Schooner Mary S. Roundy, Capt. Stephens, arrived at Dixon's wharf on Monday with a small fare, having run in to escape the rough weather outside. A lot of small boats also arrived, with light fares generally.

Mr. Editor: Will you please "declare" for me that I have not renounced my greenback principles and "declared" for Hancock, but that I am now as before a firm and reliable greenbacker.

STEWART A. SHELDON.

The trial term of the supreme court commences its fall session in this city this (Tuesday) forenoon, Judge Lewis W. Clark of Manchester presiding. The number of actions on the civil docket is two hundred and eight; on the equity docket, fifty-eight.

At the late annual meeting of the officers of the Kearsarge Mills the following officers were chosen: Directors, James L. Little, Josiah G. Abbott, James H. Beal, John F. Anderson, James H. Blake, Alexander S. Wheeler, John Stavers; treasurer, William H. Thompson; clerk,, S. W. Hoyt.

The Boys in Blue and the Garfield and Arthur Battalion on Monday evening voted to go to Exeter this (Tuesday) evening to attend the republican torchlight parade there. Cars leave the Concord depot at 6:45 o'clock P. M., taking passengers through to Exeter without change; fare for the round trip, fifty-five cents.

Howe Call, Esq., the laborious campaign orator of the democratic party, arrived home from Indiana on Monday. There is no doubt in his mind that his eloquence in Indiana would have been crowned with a more successful result for Hancock and English, if the democratic party had mustered a few thousand more voters at the polls. The Indiana newspapers are profuse in their commendatory notices of Mr. Call's speeches.

The schooner Maud B. Wetherell, of one hundred and eight tons register, was last week purchased of Gloucester parties by C. Morris Tredick, and arrived here on Sunday, loadingon Monday with mackerel for Boston. It is said she is to be engaged during the winter in the West India trade, under command of Capt. John Hontvet, going to the banks in the fishing season. Capt. Edwin Robinson, of the schooner Grace Choate, will take charge of the Mary S. Hontvet; Capt. Sol. White of Newcastle will have command of the Grace Choate, and Capt. Charles O. Johnson of the Helen F. Tredick.

As the democratic procession was forming, Monday evening, the horse on which Capt. Frank W. Hilton was riding slipped on a stone in front of National block, and fell heavily. Capt. Hilton, in endeavoring to clear his leg from the falling animal, struck the ground upon his right shoulder, dislocating it. He was taken into Mr. Berry's store, and thence in a carriage to the Rockingham house, where the shoulder was set by Dr. Potter, assisted by Dr. J. S. Pray and Mr. A. P. Preston After the shoulder was set he wished to take his place as chief marshal of the procession, but Mrs. Hilton and his friends present very sensibly put a veto on that scheme. Every one will be pleased to know that no serious harm is expected to result from the mishap.

A man drove a brisk trade on Market square, Monday, in selling "dancing devils" at ten cents apiece. The "dancing devil" is an ingenious scientific toy, consisting of a glass tube open at the upper end and rounded at the lower; a little glass image of Jimmy Squarefoot—a correct likeness, it is said—made of glass, and hollow; and a bit of rubber to close the top of the tube. The image is put feet downward into the tube, which is filled with water, and when let alone he floats at the top; but on pressing the rubber with the finger the image sinks, and when it is on or near the bottom a rapid movement of the finger up and down on the rubber top of the tube makes the glass imp whirl around at a lively rate. The man sold lots of them.

A Kittery correspondent informs us that "George Weeks of Kittery Point, recently one of the crew of the schooner 'Norma,' was put ashore last week, bag and baggage, for the sole reason that he espouses the cause of Garfield and Arthur and is a lieutenant in the republican battalion of Kittery. Verily, proscription is not believed in nor practised by democrats."

Mr. James R. Yeaton's store wagon was run into, Monday morning, while driving through High street, the shock upsetting the wagon and throwing out the boy who drives it. This frightened the horse, which ran away with the forward wheels, and when stopped was found to have sustained considerable injury through being cut by the broken shafts.

The paper on the "Deterioration of iron in marine steam boilers," by Passed Asst. Engineer John A. Tobin, U. S. N., which was read before the Society of Arts, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, some months ago, is published in the October number of Van Nostrand's Engineering Magazine. Mr. Tobin's essay is pronounced "an exceedingly valuable and interesting paper, worthy of perusal by our naval engineers in both naval and mercantile marine services."

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Oct. 18; Bufford, J.

Charles Brackett of Greenland was complained of by James P. Tilton of Greenland for an assault, said assault consisting in the improper projecting of apples by the defendant at the plaintiff while the latter was passing in his wagon. Fined $5, costs taxed at $12.83, the whole amounting to $17.83, which was paid.

THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESSION.

The procession of democratic campaign clubs took place Monday evening; they turned out about six hundred and fifty persons (of whom about a hundred and eighty were boys) exclusive of the bands, and showed six hundred torches on the start. The show was a very good one to look at, but its enthusiasm was not apparent, block after block being passed without a cheer being given; it was the quietest torchlight procession we ever experienced; its members had apparently imbibed the theory of the Times, that the true end and aim of the political procession is to get the clubs "to their respective halls as quickly and quietly as possible," or they may have felt depressed by the "west wind" of last week. Some original orthography was visible on the banners, the Marcy Phalanx spelling the gallant captain's name "Marcey;" another banner had "Mobelier" for "Mobilier;" and a third proclaimed a brand-new historical fact, as follows: "Hancock took Gettysburg." The procession drew up on Market square at quarter to eleven o'clock, and a few minutes later dismissed, the formality of cheering for the candidates or anybody or anything else being omitted. It was beyond comparison the most solemn political demonstration that we ever saw.

The Hancock Veterans appeared in the procession with a huge transparency, bearing the words "Count us" in large black letters. We accepted the invitation, and found just about an even hundred of them, contributed by all the towns within a radius of ten miles, and more than two score of whom we never saw before. The marine corps at the navy yard contributed four men to the ranks, who changed or covered up their uniforms in a Daniel street saloon. Lieut. Stevens of the Veterans, when asked who were the half dozen men marching in the rear of his command, admitted that he did not know them! But a number of the Veterans are well known, though the adjutant generals' reports. One of them is put down as having deserted the army in this city in November, 1864, having previously deserted the navy; another deserted Jan. 15, 1864, and was condemned to be shot—but probably wasn't, as he is now a Hancock Veteran; another ended a glorious service of less than three months by deserting at Carrollton, La.; another deserted at Concord, N. H.; others are equally famed. Had the "war veterans" who entered the army and navy since the war, and those whose records are "fatally defective," been weeded out, and the men borrowed from other towns and the navy yard returned, the Portsmouth Hancock Veterans would have been much more easily counted than they were. Two of the Veterans had their uniforms taken from them before the procession started, they being too tired to march.

DR. FOSTER,

The celebrated medical clairvoyant and magnetic healer, can for a few days be consulted at the house of Mr. Frank M. Osburn, Main street, Kittery. He will not, owing to the unjust and unconstitutional laws of New Hampshire, "regulating" the practice of medicine, visit Portsmouth, therefore persons wishing to employ the doctor's wonderful clairvoyant or healing powers will have to go to Kittery. Office hours, 1 to 9 P. M. Terms, ladies, $1; gents, $2. Do not delay if you wish to see him, as his engegements in other places prevent his remaining at his present address but a short time. The doctor has made a specialty of the cure of chronic diseases for the past twelve years, with great success, as hundreds can testify, and he cures after all others fail.

WANTED.—A man of good character and habits as advertising agent. To one with a small capital, an interest in the business equivalent to a good salary will be given. Call on or address

DR. FOSTER, Kittery, Me.

BOYS IN BLUE

Will assemble at armory this (Tuesday) evening, in marching order for Exeter, at 6:15. Train leaves Concord railroad station at 6:45.

By order Maj. Com'd'g,

WM. O. SIDES, Adjutant.

GARFIELD & ARTHUR BATTALION.

The Battalion will meet at the armory this (Tuesday) evening at 6:30 o'clock, in readiness for parade at Exeter.

PER ORDER ADJUTANT.

Naval Gazette.

Lieut. Arthur A. Boyd is ordered to the Shenandosh, and Lieut. Thomas A. De Blois to the Marion, on the South Atlantic station.

A general order issued by the navy department announces that hereafter the clerks to pay officers of the navy wil wear the uniform of midshipmen, except that an oak sprig will be substituted for the anchor, and the star will be omitted.

Another Defalcation.

John A. Woodward, for fifteen years past a clerk in the treasury department of Boston, and since 1875 the cashier of the department, is a defaulter to the amount of $82,000. He has kept a yacht and two fast horses for some time, but his salary of $2500 would probably have supported him but for his infatuated with one Amy Knowlton, on whom he seems to have expended large sums of money. Woodward fled on Thursday of last week.

Bull Run vs. Gettysburg.

The Richmond, Va., States, in commenting on the democratic defeat in Indiana, urges its readers to take heart from the memories of Manassas, where the skirmish of the 18th was followed by the victory of the 21st. This is much better than Seven Mule Barnum's appeal to the party to remember Gettysburg, where the first day's repulse was followed by the third day's glorious victory. It will be hard for the democratic party to derive any comfort from the field of Gettysburg, since its most important portion has to bear the solemn and impressive lesson of defeat there; but when you touch them up with Bull Run, they can feel their bosoms swell with pride, and their hearts grow elated with confidence. As a question of consolation to the democratic heart, Bull Run leaves Gettysburg entirely out of the count.

New Publications.

The "American Newspaper Directory for 1880," issued by Geo. P. Rowell & Co., the great advertising agents of New York, is a very full and complete work which must have taken immense labor and care to get up. It is replete with information concerning the newspapers of the entire Union, and the places in which they are published, making it of great value to extensive advertisers, and especially valuable as a book of reference in the printing office. As a specimen of the printer's art the book would do credit to any publishing office.

The "American Journal of the Medical Science" (quarterly) for October is issued, and contains the usual amount of information of interest and value to the medical profession. Henry C. Lea's Son & Co., Nos. 706 & 708 Sansom street, Philadelphia; $5 a year, postage paid.

"Harper's Magazine" for November is ready for delivery to subscribers or transient purchasers, by Willis E. Myers and Moses Brothers. Its illustrations and reading matter are up to the usual standard of this excellent popular magazine. "White Wings" is concluded, as is the 61st volume of the magazine, in this number.

—A Galveston woman, just married, wishing to impress her husband with her ability as a housekeeper, bawled out to the servant as he entered the door: "Matildy, bring me the washboard; I want to wash the potatoes for dinner."

—"Summing up." Captain—"What's the charge, sergeant?" "This time it's drunkenness, sir. But this man is the most troublesome fellow in the regiment, sir. He goes out when he likes, and comes in when he likes, and gets drunk when he likes; in fact, he might be a horficer!"

—Old Mr. Coupons listened to a sermon on charity last Sunday, and was so moved that when he came out he said; "I never was so stirred up about charity in all my life. I'll be blamed if I don't"——"Give five dollars to the poor?" "Not exactly; I mean I feel like I want to go out begging, such an effect did that sermon have on me."

—At the Chemung county fair a young woman was awarded a husband as third premium for the best plate of raised biscuit. The first premium was $2 in cash, and the inference must be that the husband was of low grade and small value. Perhaps such a husband is considered good enough for a girl who makes only third-class biscuit.—Brooklyn Union-Argus.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, &c.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old worn out man all over; could get nothing to help me, until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial."—(Father.)—Sunday Mercury.

Important, if True.

The New York Central railroad is said to have made a contract for a new East River bridge, to be constructed next year, from New York city to a point above Long Island city, for the exclusive right of freight transportation from Hunter's point to Montauk point, Long Island. Vanderbilt has secured an absolute contract with the Long Island railroad, and proposes to erect at the latter place a great foreign grain and provision shipping station, and through European freights will be sent direct without breaking bulk to Montauk point. At this point huge elevators and storehouses are to be erected, and it is claimed one day's sail will be saved between New York and Liverpool. It is stated that Mr. Vanderbilt's business abroad has been to arrange fully for the details of this enterprise, and a line of steamers is contracted for with some of the large Clyde builders, and four of these vessels, built for the New York Central railroad traffic, will be ready to sail to this country for cargoes of freight early next spring.

Manufactures in the South.

The extension of cotton manufacturing in the south is something very pleasing to note. In 1876 the quantity consumed by the several mills south of the Potomac amounted to 127,000 bales, while during the crop year just closed 221,189 bales were made up. This is not so much an increase in capacity of a few mills as it marks the establishment of new ones. In the manufacture of the cheaps grades these mills successfully compete with those of New England and Pennsylvania. The profits have gradually increased in an encouraging degree, and the dividends of last year show that capital receives from this industry larger returns than in the northern factories, and that the mill proprietors are thus enabled to replace their machinery, adapted for the making up of cheap fabrics only, with such looms and spindles as will permit them to attempt the finer grades. This indication of prosperity in the south will be received everywhere with sincere satisfaction, both on political and economic grounds. Two or three cotton and woolen mills, with an iron foundry, in each congressional district in Georgia and Alabama, will add just so many more votes in favor of protection in congress.

FOR KIDNEY COMPLAINTS. A Prescription. It having become known that the most dangerous and complicated forms of Kidney Complaints—including Bright's Disease—can be cured, it is but right that the remedy be known. Sufferers may rely on the statement that Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, is a sure cure for all diseases of the kidneys, bladder, liver, and urinary organs.

Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

SO. WOODBURY, VT., Sept. 23d, 1879.

Gentlemen—I wish to inform you of the efficiency of Kidney-Wort on my person. I had been afflicted with rheumatism for three years without relief from any medicine I could get. By recommendation of Mr. Kemp I tried the Kidney-Wort, and half a box entirely relieved me. I have not had any return of the disease since using it, over six months since.

J. G. JEWELL,
Justice of the Peace.

A landlord named Hutchins, who was also a justice of the peace, was shot at recently near Skibbereen, county of Cork, Ireland, in broad daylight, and his driver killed. Hutchins jumped from the carriage and escaped, although a second shot was fired at him.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD
IS STRONGLY ENDORSED.
Rev. E. F. L. GAUSS, Galena, Ill., writes—"For over two years I suffered with severe pains in the small of the back and region of the Kidneys, which was more excruciating and at times almost insufferable. Doctoring brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland eminent physicians, after close examination, declared my sufferings to arise from disease of the Kidneys, of long standing, and could do me no good. I was, however, advised to try your remedy, and, consequently returned. No sooner had I been back and resumed my pastoral duties than I was taken down again so intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came to Galena and got one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now, after wearing the second one nearly gone, and there can be no doubt that I am entirely cured, as I write this some weeks after date, and am almost well and look again the very picture of health. I write this perfectly voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad Co., God's agents and great benefactors of mankind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been in my earnest wish."
CHAS. DAVIS, 124 Myrtle Street, Boston: "I have now used Day's Kidney Pad thirty days, and it has done me more good than any remedy I have ever tried."
LARIMORE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—"20 years in business—Day's Kidney Pad is having a larger sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."
CASPER WEITZEL, Postmaster, Lancaster, Pa.—"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 25 days I feel better than I have in 5 years."
Dr. A. J. STONER, Decatur, Ill.—"Your Pad is giving great relief here. It sells every day and gives universal satisfaction."

TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES M. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, October 19, 1876.
R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1846, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business. Your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.
TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

KNOW THYSELF.
The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION.
Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or the close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 30 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail postpaid.
The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."
The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, which are due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-physicist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."
An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.
The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.
Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. HEAL THYSELF

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' LIFE-INVIGORATING SARSAPARILLA.

The Great Blood Purifier, Kidney Remedy and Mild Laxative.

WE, the undersigned, having used DR. CORBETT'S SHAKER SARSAPARILLA SYRUP in our practice, and having examined the formula by which it is prepared, would cheerfully recommend it to the community as the cheapest, safest, and most efficacious of all the preparations of Sarsaparilla in the market. Its highly concentrated state, (there being in a given amount of Syrup twice the amount of Vegetation Extract that any other contains, the care, skill, and cleanliness of its manufacture, are sure guarantees of its purity and effect. T. R. CROSBY, M. D., W. H. BUCK, M. D., S. HUNTON, M. D., J. S. ELLIOT, M. D., JAMES BARB, M. D., Z. COLBURN, M. D., M. G. J. TEWKSBURY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. GALE, M. D., JAMES A. GREGG, M. D.

Those who have failed to be benefitted by other Sarsaparillas should not fail to make a single trial of the Blood Purifying and Life Invigorating Compound of Shakers' Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp, and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, combined with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

Prepared by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, Shaker Village, N. H., and signed by Thos. Corbett, its inventor. Sold everywhere. Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

Political Notes.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, for a stalwart democratic paper, tells a tough story concerning Wm. H. English. The other day, so the story goes, a Mr. Macauly called upon the wife of Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks, and as he entered her presence said: "Mrs. Hendricks, I have just been calling on one of the most distinguished gentlemen of your state." "Who is that, pray?" inquired the lady. "Mr. English." "Great heavens!" she exclaimed; "you don't call Bill English a gentleman!"

The democratic Washington Post regrets that there is a prospect of republican success in Virginia.

The portrait of Abraham Lincoln was hissed at a Hancock meeting in Philadelphia last week.

The people would really like to know General Hancock's inside views on the tariff. In his letter of acceptance he said he had always cherished the principle of a tariff for revenue only; in his last letter he says that the talk about free trade is folly, and that he is for incidental protection. If he were not an honest old soldier those utterances would be considered the duplicity of a politician.

—All reports to the contrary, the ice crop for 1881 has not yet been damaged by frost.

—Spicer says: Some people are admonished of thick weather by the fog-corn on their feet.

—It requires but a short time for a lady out shopping to learn all the counter-signs of the dry-goods trade.

—It is expected that the fancy for "old gold" will soon create a favorable sentiment toward the "yaller dog."

"May God Bless and Reward You."

The physicians hear such a benediction sometimes, and it is very sweet even to a professional ear. Mrs. S. A. McIlwain, of Fergusonville, N. Y., wrote thus to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., after his "Favorite Remedy" had rescued her from the borders of death. In her spasms and sinking spells her friends often thought she was already dead. Women are often afflicted in this way. The trouble is commonly in the blood. Lose no precious time, dear women, but get the "Favorite Remedy" of your druggist, or enclose one dollar to the doctor at the above address.

—The anti-slang society in Paterson, N. J., imposes upon its members a fine of one cent, which is devoted to certain foreign missions, for every slang expression or ejaculation. The fine is put in a box provided for the purpose. It is said that in a box opened recently over $40 were found, representing 4,000 slang expressions.

—"Any good shooting on your farm?" asked the hunter of the farmer. Ladies, be very cautious how you tamper with samples of the many vile counterfeits offered you, which may prove very damaging to the fabric and hands; and instead of these similar appearing packages, be sure to get the only harmless article for laundry and kitchen use, the original James Pyle's Pearline. —"I beg your pardon, sir," said one of three men who entered Dovey's store at Mercer's station, Ky., "but you will please hand me the $500 out of your safe," and he politely leveled a revolver. "Sorry to disoblige," Dovey replied, "but there isn't a cent there," and he affably opened the safe for them to see. The robbers made a thorough search, and withdrew.

Cheer for the Democrats.

The Philadelphia Times, democratic, cheers its party friends as follows:

When the democratic defeat in Indiana struck the Hancock column, it paralyzed it as completely as the Maine disaster paralyzed the republicans. * * The Hancock cause is now trembling in the balance between a more than possible victory or an utter rout. * * Don't be hasty in concluding that the presidential issue is decided. It may be so, but with the promising possibilities Hancock possesses, he may yet rally to victory. He has done it before in quite as desperate a struggle as the one he is now commanding, and he has elements of power which, if given a fair field, will speedily sober the shouts of his now victorious foes.

When the sanguine Philadelphia Times can offer no better consolation to Hancock men than the assurance that their leader "may yet rally to victory," the case seems to be a hard one.

News and Notes.

Albert Fossett of Bristol, Me., aged about sixty-four, received a blow in the abdomen from a buck, Sunday, from the effects of which he died Monday.

Edward A. Harman, aged thirty, of Saccarappa, Me., committed suicide by taking opium at Island hotel, in Eastport, on Saturday. Temporarily insane.

The census returns of Vermont are said to be the most complete of any state, and Gen. Butterfield, the state supervisor, has been called to Washington to assist in the work there.

While the time keper was taking time of the gang of Italian laborers on the Cape Cod ship canal, Saturday, one of the laborers jumped up on the bank, and placing a cone-shaped cap on his head, shouted to the laborers in their own language, at which every man of the 300 dropped his shovel and wheelbarrow and quit work. They were to have been paid off Friday, the 15th, but have received no money yet, which is the cause of the strike.

In the Chittenden county court at Burlington, Vt., Saturday morning, three tramps named William Osborn, Peter Haley and James Black, were sentenced to the state prison for three years, having been convicted at the present term of attacking and robbing two young men from Johnson just outside Burlington city limits, on the occasion of the last circus being there.

The period during which the killing of moose was prohibited in Maine having expired, L. V. Philbrick, a well known Maine Central conductor, Mr. E. B. Winslow of Portland, and Hon. E. F. Webb of Waterville, went in search of that noble game a few days ago, in the vicinity of Moosehead lake, and were so fortunate as to kill a specimen which weighed 840 pounds.

We note the following from Messrs. Dan Talmage's Sons & Co.'s annual review of the rice culture in Louisiana, dated New Orleans, October 12th: The crop of 1879-'80 was a failure on account of low water in the river, and only 100,000 barrels was made instead of 250,000 barrels as was looked for early in the year. The crop of 1880-'81 is very large, and basing estimate on the acreage planted and the turn-out of mills, fully 250,000 barrels may be expected, and a consequent low range of prices, which are now over one cent per pound lower than last season equal date.

An official copy of the railway concession recently granted by the Mexican government to Messrs. Palmer & Sullivan has been received, and the Mexican National Construction company has been organized at Denver, under the laws of Colerado, to work the concession. The contract stipulate for the construction during the next eight years of thirteen hundred miles of narrow guage railroad, with telegraph, from the city of Mexico to the frontier of the United States, and to the Pacific ocean, in consideration of a money subsidy averaging $10,900 per mile. The total subsidy is payable in railroad construction certificates issued on the completion of the first ninety-two miles, and thereafter as each section of twelve miles miles shall be built.

Deputy A. J. Butler has been appointed warden ad, interim at the Maine state prison, by the prison inspectors, until the vacancy caused by the death of Warden Rice is filled by Gov. Davis. Mr. Butler has been employed a number of years at the institution.

Elfreda Partridge, Carrie Hichborn, Emma Berry and Fred Patterson were drowned by a boat upsetting in the harbor at Stockton, Me., on Monday forenoon. The bodies of the three girls have been recovered.

Charles F. Forbes, residing in the west part of Plymouth, Mass., died on Saturday of hydrophobia. He was bitten on the finger a year ago last July by a strange dog that he found in his front yard. He tried at the time to extract the poison by sucking the wound, and persisted until no blood followed, and supposed there was no danger. He was taken in violent spasms which made him insane, and would strike at those near, and endeavor to bite them. He could take nothing liquid after the attack, and died in a paroxysm.

A fatal shooting affray happened at Buena Vista, Tenn., on the 17th inst. Dr. Zebe Johnson, his two sons and a Mr. Steele attacked two men named Owens and Sadberry, at the latter's residence. The entire party were wounded, Owens and one of Johnson's sons mortally. Dr. Johnson, his other son, and Steele, have fled. An old feud was the cause.

P. Grendon, a Frenchman in the employ of the American Union telegraph company, stepped directly in front of a train near Athol, Mass., on Friday, and the train passed over his leg. He was removed to Athol, where he died in about an hour after the accident.

A heavy rain fell at Red Bank, New Jersey, on Sunday, the first since Sept. 8th, and gives great relief to the farmers. In the parched region of southern New Jersey the forest fires smouldered Saturday in spots, and it was feared that they would break out anew, but they were extinguished by the rain.

A suit for divorce was commenced in the supreme court of the District of Columbia on the 18th inst., by Mary Jane Wiard, against Norman Wiard, the famous inventor and cannon manufacturer. The cause alleged is desertion.

It has been decided in the treasury department that the payment of the value of a destroyed bond to a claimant not the legal owner does not deprive the real owner of the right to subsequent payment, and that such payment should be charged to an account for relief by Congress.

Partially Married.

The romance of a poor young man who was only partially married in Lyons, is told by a Paris journal. He was betrothed to a young Frenchwoman, whose expectations were considerable enough to give her the right to be called an heiress. The contract had been signed at the family lawyer's, the banns had been published in the church, and on the day fixed for the civil marriage the young couple, with their friends and relations, met at the mairie. The mayor asks the bride and bridegroom the fatal questions, "Do you take so-and-so for wife?" "Do you take so-and-so for husband?" Both answer "Yes." The mayor pronounces them married and offers his congratulations. The next step is to sign the register. The husband and wife—so they are called—sign, and so do their friends; the mayor is just about to sign, when a telegram is put into his hands announcing that the bridegroom has already been married in a foreign country, and the needful papers to prove the statement are on their way. The mayor hesitates, and tells the party to come before him again in a fortnight from that date. Meanwhile nothing more is heard from the sender of the telegram, and assuming it to have been sent by some mischievous or malevolent person, the mayor tells the all-but-already-married couple that he is ready to sign the register. But the lady has changed her mind. She declares she believes the story of the telegram, sends back her presents, and bids the mayor on no account to sign. The bridegroom, on the other hand, orders him to sign. The mayor consults the Juge-de-Paix, who advises him to do what the lady tells him. He takes the advice, and at present the heiress and her admirer are estranged.

—On a fairly uncrowded street of New York twenty men were counted as they passed rapidly along. Of the twenty exactly ten turned easily to the right when the met a pedestrian. The other ten took a great deal of trouble to turn to the left, and made much confusion.

—It is a curious fact that every prince of the royal house of Prussia, when young is taught some useful trade or other, for the purpose of sobering the mind and bringing it face to face with the material world and the realities of life; and among the profusion of curiosities and artistic relics which crowd the emperor's private cabinet may be seen specimens of bookbinding, carving, carpentering and other handiwork performed by his sons and grandsons.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits; and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

Our National Health a Cause of Thanksgiving.

The past season has been particularly a fortunate one as regards the health of the Southern States, and especially that of the Gulf States. The plague of modern times—the yellow fever—has been fought and vanquished, thanks greatly to the efforts of the late lamented Dr. Chopin, at the head of the world renowned Charity Hospital of New Orleans. This institution has been miraculously, as it were, preserved in the highest state of its efficiency by the large revenues it annually receives for twenty-one years, commencing 1858, from the Louisiana State Lottery Company, about the grand monthly distributions of which all information will be given on application by mail made to M. A. Dauphin, No. 319 Broadway, New York City, or same person at New Orleans, La.

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 13th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

NOTICE.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

Single numbers four cents each.

The bound volume for 1880, containing the first fifty-two numbers, will be ready early in November. Price, $3.00; postage prepaid. Cover for Young People for 1880, 35 cents; postage, 13 cents additional.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

AROUND HOME.

The High School Hancock & English Cadets displayed a handsome campaign flag from their headquarters, Monday evening, but the only cheers given for it were by the boys themselves.

A fisherman only two days home from Portland was recruited for the Hancock Veterans, Monday evening. He tried to sell his uniform, after the procession was over, in a Pleasant street saloon, and said he had already earned $2 by his evening's tramp.

One of the unknown Hancock Veterans was found on the street, Tuesday morning, in a terribly demoralized condition, and was taken to the station house. He proved to be one John Earl, of South Berwick, Me., and said his uniform was given to him by Hon. Frank Jones.

Great preparations were made to run out a huge democratic flag (said to be the largest in the state) between Mechanics' and National blocks, Monday evening. It was not done, however, as the proper authorities were not consulted in the matter. Go slower next time, gentlemen.

The Marcy Guards of ward four, in the procession Monday evening, carried a transparency on which was inscribed: "Marcy Guards Ward Four." This is an unquestionable fact. Capt. Marcy does guard ward four, and used to guard it when it was ward three, too, and furnish a large part of the sinews of war for the smaller fry to fight with.

We have wondered all along, why, if the Hancock war veterans were so numerous as they told of, some of them did not go for that $20. After looking over the crowd on Monday evening we ceased to wonder—the needful fifty-one "aint thar." And there'll be less of them before there are more, for soldiers with untarnished records don't care to be ranked with deserters and bounty-jumpers.

Rev. Joseph Fullonton of Raymond, well known to the readers of this paper as "Uncle Joseph," the writer of the "Old Time Chronicles" which have from time to time appeared in our columns for many years past, met with a serious accident on the 12th inst., by falling into the flames of a fire he was attempting to control, in a pasture near his house. He lost consciousness, but fortunately was discovered by his grandson, who called for help that was quickly on hand, and removed him home and summoned medical aid.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

The regular fall term of the supreme court for Rockingham county convened in this city on Tuesday morning, Hon. Lewis W. Clark, of Manchester, presiding justice. The court was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. McGinley, pastor of the Congregational church. The grand jury, after a brief charge by the judge, went in session. The following is a list of the grand jurors:

Charles A. Knight, Atkinson; Charles Goodrich, Auburn; Ephraim G. Flanders, Brentwood; Kidder B. Haynes, Candia; Horace E. True, Chester; Levi Collins, Danville; John M. Freeze, Deerfield; John Folsom, Derry; William S. Titcomb, East Kingston; Thomas J. Norris, Epping; Albert Averill, Exeter; John M. Fitts, Freemont; Moses A. Walker, Greenland; E. Leonard Noyes, Hampstead; John C. Marston, Hampton; Warren B. Pevear, Hampton Falls; George W. Walton, Kensington; Charles B. Clark, Kingston; Alexander M. Corning, Londonderry; Frank P. Locke, Newcastle; Jackson M. Hoyt, Newington; Albert Gleason, Newmarket.

Alexander M. Corning, of Londonderry, was appointed foreman.

The following divorces were decreed:

James Gerah from Barbara M. Gerah; parties from Salem. Patten for libellant.

Charles W. Durgin from Lucy M. Durgin; parties from Newton. Marston & Eastman for libellant.

Lizzie A. Blaisdell from Isaac Blaisdell; parties from Portsmouth. Hatch for libellant.

Oliver Marr from Mary E. Marr; parties from Derry. Patten for libellant.

Violetta Barrett from James Barrett; parties from Candia. John L. Moore for libellant.

Sarah E. Downing from William L. Downing; parties from Salem. Rogers for libellant.

Lewis G. Tucker from Mary S. Tucker; parties from Londonderry. Patten for libellant.

On the call of the civil docket forty-six cases were marked for the jury.

The petit jury will come in on Wednesday, and the trial of causes commence immediately.

The first case in order for the jury is Abbie Ellen Sides, by her next friend, Charles H. Sides, vs. city of Portsmouth, an action to recover for injuries alleged to have been received through a defect in the highway.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

Mr. James Janvirn presided at the gospel temperance meeting Saturday evening, the exercises being of a social character. A union love-feast took the place of the regular bethel service, Sunday afternoon. The reform club held a social service Sunday evening, Mr. James Marden, the second vice president, occupying the chair.

Gospel meetings were held in the Christian churches at York village, Mt. Agamenticus, and Beech ridge, York, and also at Newcastle, Sunday; the meetings were all well attended, and a great deal of interest was manifested. Services will be held next Sunday at Dover point and Newcastle.

ABOUT WAR VETERANS.

In the CHRONICLE of Tuesday morning, speaking of the parade of the Hancock Veterans on the previous evening, we mentioned the facts that the company of about one hundred men was recruited from the surrounding towns within a radius of ten miles; that there were a number of marines from the navy yard in the ranks; and that several of the "Veterans" were deserters from the army. The Times of Tuesday evening does not attempt to deny any of our statements, but says:

It [the CHRONICLE] doesn't attempt to tell how many Boys in Blue came from Eliot and York.

Well, you tell us, do.

And we know of a man who goes so far as to say that they were paying a dollar a head for marines to fill up uniforms in the Boys in Blue.—Times.

That you know of a man who is a liar, pure and simple; for no marine has filled up a single uniform in the Boys in Blue, however many have postured as "Hancock Veterans."

The CHRONICLE can talk about Hancock Veterans as much as it likes, and no one will believe that a democratic soldier is not as good as a republican soldier.—Times.

No one has intimated anything of the kind. There are men in the Hancock Veterans who served their country bravely and faithfully in its hour of dire need, and for them we have only respect, let them vote as they may; but such brave and honorable soldiers are dishonored by association, even for an hour, with bummers and deserters.

When it talks about deserters it is evidently thinking of those officers of the Boys in Blue who were in just one battle and then run away home. Do you want to know their names?—Times.

Yes, we do; give us their names, please, and their records—something in the line of evidence, you know; a carefully-worded sneer won't do.

Now, Bro. Times, as we have asked a favor of you, perhaps you would like one in return. Do you want the names and official records of a dozen or more men who paraded in the ranks of the Hancock Veterans on Monday night, who are branded in the national records as deserters? If you ask for this information you shall have it—their names, the companies and regiments they served in, when they enlisted, and when and where they deserted—for we have the documents right at our hand. We do not really wish to give their names, though they are opposed to us in politics; but to oblige you we will give them, and any other particulars you may ask for.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Benjamin Shaw, of York, has recently added to his house a large ell two stories in height.

Mrs. Eastman, a lady from the west, is building a residence at Dinah's hill, near Varrell's mill, York harbor.

Deputy Sheriff Daniel C. Goodwin of Cape Neddick has a mare twenty-five years old, which can run a mile in 2:40 yet.

Andrew J. McIntire, of the Brixham district, York, who put up a blacksmith shop about a year ago, is building up a good business in his line.

Horace Bartlett, of East Eliot, is putting up a modern style house with slated roof for a residence for himself and family, which will be one of the finest houses in the town.

Joseph Shaw, of Scotland district, York, will gather about one hundred and twenty-five bushels of cranberries this season from a fresh marsh, partly "set out" and partly natural. He has fifteen or twenty persons gathering the berries at the halves. Howard Staples, from a part of the same marsh, gathered about fifty bushels of cranberries.

The schooner Mary Smith, of Thomaston, was hauled out on the marine railway at Kittery on Monday, had her bottom cleaned and painted, and was floated again the same day.

Mr. William Furbish, of Beech ridge, York, has turned his attention this season to the raising of pumpkins. The "boss" of his twenty-five cart loads weighs 189 pounds.

Mr. Horace W. McIntire, a noted fox-hunter of York, reports these animals as very plentiful in that section this fall, and he anticipates securing a goodly number of skins the coming season.

Cider is reported as being more plentiful than water in York just now. All the cider mills, modern and old-fashioned alike, have for some time been busily engaged; cider apples have been sold at three cents a bushel.

Mr. Albert Gould, of Eliot, a few days ago picked and emptied into piles, for Mr. William Hill of that town, forty-two barrels of apples, between sunrise and sunset. Mr. Gould took the trees as they came, and picked them clean.

At the late term of the supreme judicial court in York county, Katie T. Thompson (formerly Parker,) of Kittery, was divorced from the bonds of matrimony between her and Charles M. Thompson of Damariscotta, Maine.

Mr. Samuel Dixon, of Eliot Neck, has been forwarding quite large quantities of apples from Eliot to Boston by rail, for shipment to England per steamer. The greatest trouble is to get barrels to pack the fruit in, a trouble experienced every year when the fruit yield is large.

William Dickerson, or Dickson, an employe of the Eastern railroad, had his skull fractured by the rolling of a pile upon him while he was unloading them from a car at the depot in Essex, Mass., on Saturday. He was conveyed to Salem, his stopping place, by a special train.

The happiest man in Eliot is Mr. Albert Dixon, the well known butcher, who was on Friday last presented with a bouncing boy—fourteen pounds. Mr. Dixon it is said has named the new comer Winfield Scott Hancock Dixon, in honor of the democratic nominee for president; and that the democratic clubs of Eliot will serenade him for honoring their chief.

Edward Grant and Horace W. McIntire, of York, have rebuilt and repaired on contract with the town, the old road on the south side of York river, from Bragdon's to York beach. They have widened and repaired it the whole distance, and newly built two pieces, one fifty-five rods long and the other one hundred and seventy-five, putting in new culverts wherever needed.

Squire Frost, for many years the occupant of the "old garrison house" place at the Lower Frost's hill of York, died several weeks since, aged something over ninety years. He had been a justice of the peace for more than forty years. The old garrison house, in which the marks of bullets shot by Indians long ago are still to be seen, has for a long time past been used as a cider house.

Samuel Blaisdell, of Beech ridge, York, raised three hundred fowls the past season. Charles C. Barrell, who resides at the foot of Beech bridge, has a flock of fowls which he estimates at seven hundred; he disposes of his poultry in Portsmouth, finding he can do better there than in the Boston and other markets, he having tried both; and he purchases his supplies in Portsmouth, being able to get them cheaper, all expenses included, than if he bought in Boston.

—An exchange says the following is the method of catching tigers in India: A man carries a board on which a human figure is painted; as soon as he arrives at the den he knocks behind the door with a hammer; the noise arouses the tiger, which flies in a direct line at the board and grasps it, when the man behind clinches his claws in the wood and so secures him.

—Nebraska theatre audiences are unconventional in their conduct. At Lincoln, while John T. Raymond was presenting the trial scene in "Colonel Sellers," two dogs began to fight in the centre aisle. All attention was instantly diverted from the stage to the fight. "I move we suspend proceedings in this court," said Raymond, "and I'll bet a dollar on the white dog." "I'll take you," cried a man in the audience. The white dog won, the dollar was passed across the footlights to the star, and the acting of the play was resumed.

—A Mr. Jonas, who lives near Athens, Ga., was recently attacked in his yard by a mad dog, but foiled several attempts of the animal to bite by striking him underneath the mouth with his right arm. Every time the infuriated animal's teeth could be heard to snap as he came to the attack; his eyes glared and the saliva ran in streams from his lips. After the fourth onset Mr. Jonas remembered that he had heard that when a mad dog is infuriated and can get something to bite, his madness is for the time satisfied. Acting on this theory, he thrust his hat into the dog's mouth, when he ceased the attack and ran under the barn, where he was shot.

—A woman named Mary Kilkenny, who had been 101 times previously convicted, was sentenced in the Edinburgh police court recently to twenty days' imprisonment for disorderly conduct, and on leaving the dock exclaimed: "I don't care; I' get out again and I'll be as bad as ever."

One great deed is Enough.

Watts invented the steam engine; Morse the electric telegraph; Whitney the cotton gin; and Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., discovered and prepared the "Favorite Remedy," which is worth more than all of them, because it saves life and cures disease. It purifies the blood, drives bile from the system, cures those delicate diseases peculiar to women, and is in short a sheet-anchor in every household. No other medicine equals it or can take its place. Don't spend your money in paying doctors, when for one dollar a bottle you can have the "Favorite Remedy" always on your shelf.

There was a marriage in Bristol, last week, in which the bride was only thirteen and the groom thirty-five years old.

ABOUT BRIGHT'S DISEASE. Unquestionably, this fearful malady results from neglected inflammation and derangements of the kidneys, "slight troubles," which, if taken in time, are easily curable. The most trivial pain in back or groin should never be disregarded. Use Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, at once, and check the first symptom. But even when kidney complaints have assumed the final form of Bright's Disease, Hunt's Remedy may be relied upon to check the symptoms, and make a cure. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

Seventeen Mormon elders arrived in St. Louis, Friday, from Utah, and left for Tenessee, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina and Virginia, whither they go to make converts to the Mormon faith and secure Mormon emigrants.

We are always pleased to recommend a good article. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup never fails to cure a cough or cold in a short time. The doses are small and it is pleasant to the taste. Price 25 cents.

Isabella Pigeon, a weaver in the Crescent mill at Fall River, Mass., has fallen heir to $170,000 by the death of an uncle in Australia.

Why suffer from that cough when Adamson's Botanic Balsam will speedily and surely cure you? Children like it. Sold by all druggists and dealers at 35 cents. Trial size 10 cents.

Reasons Why Workingmen Should Vote for Garfield and Arthur.

The democrats, if successful in the present election, will, as promised by them, largely reduce the import duty on all kinds of foreign goods, such as woolens, cotton and silk goods, hosiery, clothing, boots and shoes, hats and caps, etc., and consequently immense quantities of these commodities will be imported. Workingmen engaged in manufacturing these goods all over the country will be thrown out of employment or will have to work for the very low wages paid in Europe, and their present favorable position will be reduced to the level of European workingmen, whilst the position of the latter, under a better demand for their products from this country, naturally will be improved.

The weekly wages of tailors in Europe are $4 to $7.

The weekly wages of shoemakers in Europe are $3 to $7.50.

The weekly wages of carpenters in Europe are $5 to $8.50.

The weekly wages of cabinet-makers in Europe are $5 to $9.

The weekly wages of porters in Europe are $3 to $5, and other workingmen in proportion.

Now, if you want to work for these starvation wages, vote for Hancock and English. On the other hand, the republicans, if successful in the present election, will retain the present duty on foreign goods, and wages naturally will be the same as they are now. Therefore, if you want to be sure that your wages will remain high, and that you will have steady work, vote for Garfield and Arthur.

The best blood remedy in the world is D. R. V. G. It will clear ladies' complexion of pimples, moth patches and sallowness. Try it. Guaranteed by your own druggists.

John Garbagan, a boy in Duxbury, Vt., was missing Sunday afternoon. The whole neighborhood searched till after midnight, when he was found in the pasture so badly bruised that he will die. He was injured by being thrown from a yearling colt that he was trying to ride.

Pure, wholesome, nutritious and stimulating without intoxicating are Malt Bitters.

—A pig with a proboscis is a pleasant innovation in Michigan. The Norristown Herald welcomes it with a little cry of ecstacy, and says that "the old style of hog was becoming monotonous, and wearied the æsthetic eye."

LIEBIG CO'S

COCA BEEF TONIC.

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.

Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Goullon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony; Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumbague; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weaknesses; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voices of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; sensickness; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

Rev. E. F. L. GAUSS, Galena, Ill., writes—"For over ten years I had been a great sufferer from pains in the small of the back, and urgent calls to Kidneys, which were most excruciating and at times almost insufferable. Doctors brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland, eminent physicians, after close examination, declared my sufferings to arise from disease of the Kidneys, of long standing, and could do me no good. I was, however, benefited by the climate and consequently returned. No sooner had I been home and resumed my pastoral work, when the old trouble grew again so intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came in possession of one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now, after wearing the second Pad, entirely gone, and there can be no doubt that I am entirely cured, as I write this some weeks after its use, and am strong and look again the very picture of health. Voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad Co., God's agents and great benefactors of mankind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been is my earnest wish."

CHAS. DAVIS, 124 Myrtle Street, Boston: "I have now used Dr. Day's Kidney Pad thirty days, and it has done me more good than any remedy I have ever tried."

LARIMORE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—(30 years in business)—"Day's Kidney Pad is having a large sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."

CASPER WEITZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.: "I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 25 days I feel better than I have in 15 years."

Dr. A. J. STONER, Decatur, Ill.—"Your Pad is doing great good here. It sells every day and gives universal satisfaction."

For sale by druggists, or sent by mail (free of postage) receipt of the price—Regular Pad, $2.00; Special Pad (extra size), $3.00; Children's, $1.50. KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION; or Exhausted Vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail postpaid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to juvenile habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS'
LIFE-INVIGORATING
SARSAPARILLA.

The Great Blood Purifier, Kidney Remedy and Mild Laxative.

We the undersigned, having used DR. COBBETT'S SHAKER SARSAPARILLA SYRUP in our practice, and having examined the formula by which it is prepared, would cheerfully recommend it to the community as the cheapest, safest, and most efficacious of all the preparations of Sarsaparilla in the market. Its highly concentrated state, (there being in a given amount of Syrup twice the amount of Vegetation Extract than by other combines,) the care, skill, and cleanliness of its manufacture, are sure guarantees of its purity and effect. T. R. GROSBY, M. D., W. D. BUCK, M. D., S. BRUNTON, M. D., J. S. ELLIOT, M. D., JAMES BARB, M. D., Z. COLBURN, M. D., M. G. J. TEWKSBURY, M. D., J. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. GALE, M. D., JAMES A. GREGG, M. D.

Those who have failed to be benefitted by other Sarsaparillas should not fail to make a single trial of the Blood Purifying and Life Invigorating Compound of Shaker Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp, and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, combined with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

Prepared by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, Shaker Village, N. H., and signed by Thos. Corbett, its inventor. Sold everywhere. Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

Daily Chronicle.

A mob of Italian laborers on the Cape Cod ship canal, numbering about 300, on learning that the money promised to be paid them Tuesday morning, the 19th inst., did not arrive, gathered around the Central hotel, where the contractor, Mr. Dreisback, stops, demanding their money, due on the 15th, for their month's wages. Not finding Mr. Dreisback within, his son was taken by them, they proposing to lock him up in their shanty until the money was paid. Special policeman to the number of thirty were sworn in by the selectmen, and for the time being the mob was quelled. The selectmen also telegraphed to Gov. Long at once for troops. At 6:30 that evening Chief Wade, with a detective force, arrived. The laborers were quieted only by the promise of being paid next day.

"And the Leaves Were for the Healing of the Nations?"

This is fully exemplified in the demonstration that so common a pasture weed as smart-weed, or water-pepper, possesses medicinal properties which, when combined with essence of Jamaica Ginger and other efficacious vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed It constitutes a most potent remedy for bowel affections, as diarrhœa, dysentery, flux, etc. It is also an efficacious medicine for colds, and to break up fevers and inflammatory attacks, and for the alleviation of pain. Every family should keep a supply of it. 50 cents by druggists.

Vennor has come to the conclusion that November will give us summer warmth —but with leafless trees.

Profitable Patients.

The most wonderful and marvelous success in cases where persons are sick or wasting away from a condition of miserableness, that no one knows what ails them, (profitable patients for doctors,) is obtained by the use of Hop Bitters. They begin to cure from the first dose and keep it up until perfect health and strength is restored. Whoever is afflicted in this way need not suffer, when they can get Hop Bitters.—Cincinnati Star.

Miss Nellie Calhoun, grandniece of John C. Calhoun, made a very successful debut at the Grand Opera house, in San Francisco, Cal., Monday night, the 18th inst., as Juliet.

THERE is no affinity between cheap and useless beer, wine and iron tonics and the Liebig Co.'s Coca Tonic, a real renovant of strength and restorative of health.

"It is the best Tonic there is. Every physician to whom I have recommended it has found it so," says Professor H. M. Drake, M. D., Detroit, Mich.

Pure, wholesome, nutritious and stimulating without intoxicating are Malt Bitters.

LIEBIG CO'S

COCA BEEF TONIC.

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.

Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Gouilon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony: Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumbague; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weakness; bilious and liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voice of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; seasickness; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

The "Sun" Under a Cloud.

In a double-leaded editorial the New York Sun says: "It has seemed to us that the whole democratic campaign was a series of blunders. The party had one man—only one—whose immense strength had been demonstrated on a national field—Samuel J. Tilden. It is the one great pre-eminent name in the democratic party. The party nominated Gen. Hancock, a good man, weighing two hundred and fifty pounds. But Hancock is not Tilden. Then, as a crowning act of folly, the party went into the state of Thomas A. Hendricks, and took another man for vice-president. Any other name than that of Hendricks would have been folly enough; but, to go one step further, they had to take a man with the most odious reputation as a skinflint to overcome! There used to be a fellow who made an occupation of butting his head against a roughstone New England wall, for twenty-five cents. The democratic party in making this nomination, resembled him: only, if report be true, they did not get the twenty-five cents."

No republican paper has ever spoken of the democratic candidates with anything like the contempt with which the democratic Sun treats them, although towards the close of the article there is a pretence of glossing over its intimation that Hancock is not a very brilliant man. "We are beaten, we are overthrown," says the Sun, alluding to Ohio and Indiana, "but we are not destroyed." "Our candidates will answer." "Rally and conquer." The Sun's article is not calculated to make any party rally and conquer. It is thought by some to indicate Mr. Tilden's disgust at the nominations, and the present condition of the party. By others, it is thought to show a design to discount the defeat which Mr. Dana believes inevitable. He wants to say "I told you so" in advance of his democratic neighbors. It is possible that neither of these suppositions is entirely erroneous.

Hancock Already Beaten.

The New York Herald says: "Every southern man knows and admits that if Hancock is beaten the south will abandon the democratic party. But Hancock is already beaten, and it now needs only the offer from the republicans to draw to them before the election a great mass of the best citizens in the states we have named, who know that the local interests of these states will be furthered by republican ascendency, and will be put back by democratic success."

News and Notes.

Byron Blake of Wheelock, Vt., twenty-six years of age, and insane, on the 19th inst. killed his mother, sister and stepfather by beating them to death with a gun, and then hung himself.

The great land suit in the United States district court at Harrisonburg, Va., has been decided in favor of J. M. Bickle, Semple and others, plaintiffs. This suit has been in the United States court for a long time, and its decision determines the status of the other cases of a similar kind now pending in the court.

A singular affair happened in a justice's court in Guadalupe county, Texas, recently. The justice called the defendant, who appeared and pleaded guilty to the charge. But the justice impanneled a jury and swore witnesses, and the jury retired and in a few minutes brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Cremation has become so frequent at Milan, Italy, that it has been decided to build by the side of the cremation furnace in the cemetery a cinerary temple or ash house, in which the remains of the dead may be deposited and labelled off in jars like the old Latin urns. The Milan press is in favor of the new temple. The architects have handed in their plans and they have been approved by the city authorities.

Mrs. Anna Stiles of South Windsor, Conn., who in 1871 sent through the mail a poisoned package of candy to each of the families of Evelyn R. Pitkin and Lester Dewey of South Windsor, and nearly caused their death, and who became insane during her trial, was reported a few days ago to be in a perfectly sane condition at the Middleton asylum. She refuses however to leave the institution.

A. M. Baldwin, of the firm of Baldwin & Co., of Concord, has absconded with quite a sum of money in his possession, leaving numerous creditors, who promptly secured claims aggregating between $1,000 and $2,000. The employes are largely English, and the firm is owing them all the way from $60 to $500 apiece. The company is also in debt to many outside parties in Concord and elsewhere. There are many estimates as to the amount of funds that Baldwin took away with him, the highest figures being $15,000.

A young lady of Portland, Me., was insulted on the street by a rough. She seized him by the collar, took him to the police station and made a complaint against him.

Many clergymen in this country have lately received a circular from a London dealer in second-hand sermons. He offers sermons "lithographed in a bold, round hand," so that those who happened to see them would suppose they were manuscript, for twenty-five cents each, or $20 a hundred. He has a line of cheaper sermons in print, at ten cents apiece, warranted orthodox; and others—a little more expensive—which have "a pleasantness, yet an awful solemnity about them."

Steamer Alpena, with from fifty to seventy persons on board, and barge Trader, with a crew of eleven men all told, were lost on lake Ontario in the recent great gale, with all hands. Schooner Grenada was wrecked on lake Michigan, with the loss of all her men but two. Many vessels were wrecked on lake Huron.

An order has been given by a French shipping company, subsidized by the government, to build five new steamships on the Clyde for service between Canada and Havre.

At Ironton, Ohio, the dead body of David Sears was found in the road. Sears had been killed with a slug from a shot gun. The suspicion is that the murder was done in revenge for Sears' intimacy with a Mrs. Anderson. He leaves a wife and seven children destitute.

Capt. Tower, who was convicted at St. John, N. B., of scuttling the ship Brothers' Pride, was recently released on a writ of habeas corpus, on account of no commitment being lodged with the keeper. Tower left for Fredericton in charge of the sheriff.

A rapid penman can write thirty words in a minute. To do this he must draw his pen through the space of a rod, sixteen and a half feet. In forty minutes his pen travels a furlong. We make on an average, sixteen curves or turns of the pen in writing each word. Writing thirty words in a minute, we must make 480 to each minute; in an hour, 28,800; in a day of only five hours, 145,000; in a year of 300 days, 43,200,000. The man who made 1,000,000 strokes with his pen in a year was not at all remarkable. Many men, newspaper writers for instance, make 4,000,000. Here we have, in the aggregate, a mark of 300 miles long to be traced on paper by such a writer in a year.

A tale of peculiar horror comes from the Swatow quarter of China. The military mandarin for the Kit Yang district, Pung Tye-jen, has been distinguishing himself in thoroughly Chinese fashion. Some small official, who held the position of tax-collector, had been murdered by the people, who, exasperated by his eternal squeezes, considered taking the law into their own hands to be the only way of getting rid of him. For this outrage Pung Tye-jen undertook to inflict punishments upon the residents. He first secured the services of a gunboat to protect his retreat, the place where the inhabitants had committed the murder being within reach of the guns of a man-of-war. The place was then besieged, and the soldiers killed something like seven hundred of the people who were supposed to have taken part in the uprising against authority, and had caused the man's death.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct articulation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&o

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--
Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weakness peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

THE BEST OF THE

Agricultural Weeklies.

A Premium Annual to Every Reader.

The Country Gentleman is unsurpassed, if not Unequalled, for the amount and variety of the Practical information it contains, and for the ability and extent of correspondence—in the three chief directions of

Farms Crops and Processes,
Horticulture and Fruit-Growing,
Live Stock Dairying--

while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest, such as the Poultry Yard, Entomology, Bee-Keeping, Greenhouse and Grapery, Veterinary Replies, Farm Questions and Answers, Fireside Reading, Domestic Economy, and Summary of the News of the week. Its Market Reports are unusually complete, and more information can be gathered from its columns than from any other source with regard to the prospects of the crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is liberally illustrated, and constitutes to a greater degree than any of its contemporaries A LIVE

Agricultural Newspaper

Of never-failing interest both to Producers and Consumers of every class.

The Country Gentleman is published Weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: One Copy, one year, $2.50; Four Copies, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club; Ten Copies, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club.

For the ending 1881, these prices include a copy of the Annual Register of Rural Affairs, to each subscriber—a book of 144 pages and about 150 engravings—a gift by the publishers.

☞ All New Subscribers for 1881, paying in advance now, will receive the paper Weekly, from receipt of remittance to January 1st, 1881, without charge.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

Single numbers four cents each.

The bound volume for 1880, containing the first fifty-two numbers, will be ready early in November. Price, $5.00; postage prepaid. Cover for Young People for 1880, 55 cents; postage, 13 cents additional.

The schooner Active, of Cushing, Me., and the schooner Meridian, of Deer Isle, Me., were loading apples at Rollins' wharf on Wednesday, the 20th inst.

Hon. Henry W. Blair will speak at Music Hall this evening on the political issues of the day, the rally being under the auspices of the Boys in Blue.

The Times does not give the names of "the Boys in Blue who ran away from the front," which we asked for in answer to its "bouncing" demand to know if we wanted them. Neither does it ask of us the publication of the records we promised to give, if it called for them. It does not seem to hanker after any such literature.

James McCabe of Dover, a temperate and industrious man twenty-six years old, while at work on the new mill of the Cocheco company in that city on the 19th inst., was accidentally knocked off the wall, falling to the rocky bed of the river, forty-two feet below. Both his legs were shattered and one hip injured, and the physicians feared his hurts would prove fatal. He is a married man, and has one child.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 20; Batchelder, J.

Simon D. Smith, for drunkenness, was sent to Brentwood for sixty days, costs being taxed at $6.90.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 20th.

The court convened at half-past ten o'clock Wednesday morning, and the following-named gentlemen, who were summoned to serve as petit jurors, appeared and took the oath prescribed by law;

John E. Harmon, John L. Green, Wm. Andrews, Harry G. Tanton, James Whittier, William G. Marshall, Portsmouth; David C. Prescott, Nathan Gould, Newton; Charles C. Smith, Samuel S. Johnson, Northwood; Joseph Day, Chas. H. Bradley, Plaistow; Joseph W. Odiorne, Benjamin D. Batchelder, Rye; John D. Lyman, Alfred Conner, Exeter; Rufus Tilton, Joseph R. Clark, Derry; Al Varney, Frank McDaniel, Newmarket; Jerome Kelley, William H. H. Kelley, Salem; Samuel D. Lane, Samuel G. Caswell, North Hampton; Jonathan Thompson, Charles O. Smith, Nottingham; Andrew R. Batchelder, Charles W. Scribner, Raymond; Perley Pervere, Ebenezer Hoyt, 2d, Sandown.

The following divorces were decreed:

Cynthia J. Taylor from Levi A. Taylor; parties from Portsmouth. W. H. Rollins for libellant.

Florence L. Rand from Martha H. Rand; parties from Rye. Wallace Hackett for libellant.

The first case for the jury was Abbie Ellen Sides vs. city of Portsmouth, an action to recover damages for injuries received on the highway, which pltf. claims was defective. The case was commenced on the coming in of the court in the afternoon. A jury was empanelled, of which Hon. John D. Lyman was appointed foreman. A brief opening was made by pltf.'s counsel, and the jury went to view the premises, which are at the railroad crossing on Vaughan street. Several witnesses were examined during the afternoon, whose testimony tended to prove that on Aug. 22d, 1876, the pltf. started with several members of her family in a carriage drawn by two horses for Dover, and when they arrived at the Vaughan street crossing they met a wood cart, and in attempting to pass it they were forced into the part of the road where the alleged obstruction or insufficiency existed and the carriage was overturned, and the plaintiff's left arm was broken at the elbow, from which injury she has never entirely recovered.

At half-past five o'clock the court adjourned until Thursday morning at nine o'clock, when the pltf. will continue her evidence. Frink and Page for pltf.; Hatch and Foster for defts.

HORSE TROT.

There was a horse race at the Rockingham trotting park on Wednesday afternoon of this week, four horses participating, as follows: Bay mare "Nellie," owned by Henry R. Stoddard; bay gelding "Frank Reeves," owned by Edw. S. Fay; "Spot," owned by Capt. Emerson of York, Me.; and "Woodbury Morrill," entered by Woodbury Locke. The race was won by Nellie in three straight heats, Frank Reeves second and Spot third on each heat; Woodbury Morrill was withdrawn at the end of the second heat. The time was 2:40, 2:43 and 2:45.

FREE BAPTIST QUARTERLY MEETING.

The Rockingham Quarterly meeting of the Free Baptist church met at the Pearl street church in this city on the forenoon of Wednesday, the 20th inst., and organized as follows: Moderator, Rev. J. H. Yeoman; assistant moderator, Rev. E. Owen; clerk pro tem., Rev. H. F. Wood; assistant clerk, Dea. W. J. Dudley. The clerk of the meeting, Rev. J. Fullonton of Raymond, was absent, owing to a painful and it is feared fatal accident.

A short time was devoted to prayer and praise, under the leadership of Rev. H. F. Wood of Concord. Reports from the different churches were then read and accepted. Rev. A. G. Hill of Berwick, Me., reported the York County Quarterly Meeting, and Rev. B. P. Parker of Contoocook reported the Weare Quarterly Meeting. Messengers were appointed to various bodies, and other routine business transacted, when the meeting adjourned.

In the afternoon a sermon was preached by Rev. B. P. Parker of Contoocook, and in the evening one by Rev. J. N. Rich of Candia.

Services will be held to-day, forenoon and afternoon.

SERIOUS FIRE.

The alarm of fire at about seven o'clock on Wednesday evening of this week was occasioned by a blaze at Mr. Henry R. Stoddard's residence on Newington road, near Hon. Frank Jones' place. The fire was first discovered in the main barn connected with the house, which was quickly communicated to the rest of the buildings, consisting of the house and two barns belonging to Mr. Stoddard, and a barn belonging to a Mr. Garland, which caught from the heat of the other buildings. The furniture was mostly saved. Four cows which were in the barn were burned. All the farming utensils were destroyed. We are informed that there was an insurance of $7000 on the property, the loss being much larger. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Stoddard, as he had been making a large amount of improvements on the premises during the summer, and had stocked his house with winter provisions, all of which were lost.

WM. A. PAYSON, Adjutant.

Winchester Cadets and Garfield Cadets will meet at their armories this evening at 7:00, without torches, to attend rally at Music hall. Per order Maj. Comd'g.

SOMETHING TO ROUSE THEM.

Hon. Frank Jones of Portsmouth, N. H., has arranged for a grand democratic torchlight demonstration at Portsmouth. The invitations will include all Hancock clubs on the line of the Eastern railroad from Boston to Portsmouth.—Boston Post, Oct. 11th.

We should say that was a grand idea, for it is evident that unless something can be done to revive the drooping spirits of the local democracy, Mr. Jones, instead of "going out of the city" with such a majority as will overslaugh all the rest of the state, will not secure even the ordinary vote of an ordinary democratic candidate.

The procession on the evening of the 18th inst. was intended to enliven the faithful, but lamentably failed, though it was a fine show, and the Hancock Veterans were recruited up to one hundred men for this occasion only, the marine barracks at the navy yard and a dozen towns in Maine and New Hampshire being ransacked to get "Portsmouth" veterans to fill the ranks. Solemnly and silently the devoted bands moved through the streets, the spectators gazing at them with the admiration accorded the forlorn hope of a storming party about to assail an almost impregnable position. No unseemly hilarity did they display; no bubbling enthusiasm, finding vent in uproarious and indecorous cheering; but as they strode along, silent and stern, every brow was ennobled by the lofty devotion and heroic resolve of the martyr, who, knowing he has an unpleasant duty to perform, is bound to get through with it as quickly and silently as possible. As a spectacle it was fine; as a display of moral heroism and devotion to duty it was magnificent; as a political demonstration it was a fizzle, for it only demonstrated the utterly disheartened condition of the Portsmouth democracy.

It is evident that something more potent than a turnout of the local democratic clubs is required to cheer up the party in this city, on whom the Indiana election and the thinly-disguised wails of the democratic national committee have fallen like a bale of wet army blankets; and Mr. Jones, who very naturally wishes to make a good showing in the city of his residence, even though he has no hope of success in the state, does well to call in outside help to see if something cannot be done to rouse the party from the lethargy which the certainty of coming defeat has induced.

YORK COUNTY AFFAIRS.

John Drew's steam saw mill at South Berwick was burned on the morning of the 20th inst. Loss $10,000; insured.

Mr. John F. Goodsoe of Kittery has been offered $1000 for his three-years-old Golddust colt "Jim Fisk," by a Boston man.

D. F. Littlefield of Saco is drying two hundred and forty bushels of apples per day at his factory in Saco. His apples come from New Hampshire. The process of drying takes two and one half hours.

Mr. D. P. Spinney of Eliot is grinding up large quantities of apples into cider; he expects to make about 2000 barrels the present season. Wesley Nowell is buying apples in Eliot and adjoining towns, and Oliver Jones is purchasing in Greenland.

Mr. John Seidell of Saco, a cigar manufacturer who has customers all over Maine, left home Monday, Oct. 11th, for a business trip to Bangor, and other cities on the line of the Maine Central railroad, and was to return to Saco on Saturday, the 16th inst., on the Pullman train. Friday night he was in Gardiner, and purchased a ticket for Portland. While waiting for the train he stepped into the fruit store of J. C. Morrison, near by, and made a slight purchase. He then went out, and has not been seen since. Suspicions of foul play are entertained, as he is known to have had considerable money in his possession. Mr. Seidell was a native of Belgium, about forty years of age, and has a wife and five children in Saco.

New Hampshire Items.

True W. Woodman, Esq., of Great Falls, died very suddenly at his residence from an apopletic fit on the morning of the 18th inst. He arose from bed shortly after five o'clock, and while standing near the kitchen stove fell on the floor; and when some members of the family heard the noise they proceeded to the kitchen to find Mr. Woodman dead. He was a widower, and leaves six children behind him. He was at one time post-master at Great Falls, and was deputy sheriff for the county of Strafford.

The building recently erected in Farmington by E. L. Wedgewood for a saw and grist mill, was burned Sunday evening, the 17th inst., about half past six o'clock. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Loss about $200, no insurance.

The "Gen. Monk" Privateer.

The old saw that murder will out was never better verified than in Minister Lowell's recent discovery of new evidence concerning the Fayal outrage of 1814, which greatly stirred the souls of our forefathers in the war of 1812-15. It was an attack by three British ships of war upon the privateer brig "Gen. Monk," then lying at anchor in the harbor of Fayal, which was Portuguese territory, and neutral ground. The attack was an extraordinary violation of the neutrality laws. The American vessel, fearing foul play, had moved up under the guns of the castle, when four boats filled with armed men from the British ships were seen approaching through the darkness. They returned no answer to the challenges of the American captain, who then fired upon them. The attack was renewed later with a much larger force, which was beaten off with a terrible loss of life. The Portugese authorities were called upon to protect the American vessel, but only remonstrated with the British, and they could indeed have done little more against such a force. The following day the privateer was bombarded by the British until it was abandoned. The claim of our government upon Portugal for failure to protect the vessel was decided adversely by Louis Napoleon, who acted as arbitrator. Now, nearly seventy years after the event, evidence is discovered by Mr. Lowell in the Admiralty archives in England, which fully establishes the responsibility of Portugal, and if it had been known at the time would have caused a verdict in favor of our government. Of course, the case can have now only a historical interest.

Diamond Cutting in New York.

Among the curious and interesting industrial facts brought to light during the census inquiries not the least is the fact that the recently introduced art of diamond cutting has been so admirably developed here that diamonds cut in Amsterdam are now sent to this city for recutting. Hitherto Amsterdam has monopolized the work of diamond cutting; and the aim there has been to remove in cutting the least possible weight of the gem. The American plan is to cut mathematically, according to the recognized laws of light, so as to secure the utmost brilliancy for the finished stone. The greater loss in weight, as compared with the Amsterdam cutting, is thus more than made good by the superior brilliancy of the product. From inquiries made by the chief special census agent, it appears that the average increase of value given to diamonds by the New York cutting is $5,000 for each person employed for twelve months; also, that our dealers are receiving the best Amsterdam-cut gems from abroad to be recut here and returned.—Scientific American.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19th.

The republicans of Washington celebrated on Saturday evening, in a very spirited manner, the victories in Ohio and Indiana. All the speakers, including two members of the cabinet, prophesied an easy victory for the party in November.

Postmaster General Maynard directs that, hereafter, such of the dead-letter office mail as is made up of magazines, pictorial papers, or other acceptable second-class matter, shall be turned over to the charitable societies of the District. Heretofore, it has been sold as waste paper, and although considerable in quantity, has yielded a very small sum to the government.

Most encouraging reports have been received as to recent contributions toward payment of the debt on the Metropolitan Methodist church of this city. A contribution of $3 by each Methodist society in the country would give all that is required. No doubt is now felt of complete success. This is the church formerly attended by President Grant, and he is one of the nominal defendants in a suit of persons owning overdue bonds issued by the society.

The commissioner of agriculture claims that the experiments he is now making in this city prove that good sugar can be made in paying quantities in this country from sorghum. But the commissioner is one of the most sanguine of men. The processes employed in his experiment are different from those known to the thousands who have attempted to accomplish the same thing.

All democratic Virginians in this city—and there are legions of them—say the "funder" democratic electoral ticket will not be withdrawn, no matter who may ask that it be done. They think, however, that during the week some arrangement will be made so that all democrats will vote for a single Hancock electoral ticket, though none of them profess to know any of the terms of the compromise which they expect will be made. There would seem to be very brief time left for any agreement.

KNOX.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Evening Post says: "Assuming, and with apparent reason, that the next house of representatives will be republican, the party managers are already beginning to consider the question of the speakership. Were Gen. Garfield to remain in the house of representatives he would, of course, be the unanimous choice of his party; and if Gen. Hawley was to be a member he would, in the absence of Gen. Garfield, be the most prominent candidate. With neither of these in the field there will be a chance for a 'dark horse.' Mr. Frye's name readily occurs to every one in this connection, and he would, no doubt, fill the speaker's chair to the satisfaction of the members. He has a good voice and presence, is respected, and is able to make prompt decisions, and, if necessary, to give cogent reasons for them. If available, he is one of the men best qualified for the position. It is quite possible, however, that he, too, may be called away to take Senator Hamlin's place at the other end of the Capitol. In that case the party would be in some embarrassment. Mr. Conger and Mr. Kasson I hear mentioned as possibilities."

The steamer Mount Washington made her last trip for the season on Lake Winnipesaukee, on the 16th inst.

DAY'S Kidney PAD

IS STRONGLY ENDORSED.

Rev. E. F. L. GAUSS, Gateway, Ind.—"For over ten years I had been a great sufferer from pains in the small of the back and region of the kidneys, which was most excruciating at times and I was finally advised to try Kidney-Wort. It gave me immediate relief, and I was finally cured. In Germany and Switzerland, the eminent physicians after a thorough examination, by sufferings to arise from disease of the Kidneys, of long standing, said it would do me no good. I was, however, benefited by the climate and consequently returned. No sooner had I been back and resumed my pastoral work, when the old trouble grew again so intensely as to unfit me for my duties. A few months ago I came in possession of one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now, after wearing the second Pad, entirely gone, and there can be no doubt that I am entirely cured. I put it on three weeks after its use, and am strong and look again the very picture of health. I write this perfectly voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad a God-send to all such sufferers as I have been. Kind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been in my earnest wish."

CHAS. DAVIS, 124 Myrtle Street, Boston: "I have now used DAY'S KIDNEY PAD thirty days, and it has done me more good than any remedy I have ever tried."

LARRABEE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—"30 years in business. Day's Kidney Pad is having a large sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."

CASPER WEITZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.—"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 6 days I feel better than I have in 15 years."

Dr. J. STONER, Decatur, Ill.—"Your Pad is doing great good here. It sells every day and gives universal satisfaction."

For sale by druggists, or sent by mail (free of postage) receipt of the price—Regular, Pad, $2.00; Special Pad (extra size), $3.00; Children's, $1.50. Our book, "How a Life was saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it. Address,

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD and take no other.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

THE New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the citizens working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored to manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or to insanity. He is a Nervous specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. REAL THYSELF

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' LIFE-INVIGORATING SARSAPARILLA.

The Great Blood Purifier, Kidney Remedy and Mild Laxative.

WE, the undersigned, having used DR. CORBETT'S SHAKER SARSAPARILLA SYRUP in our families, and having examined the formula by which it is prepared, would cheerfully recommend it to the community as the cheapest, safest, and most efficacious of all the preparations of Sarsaparilla in the market. Its highly concentrated state, (there being in a given amount of Syrup twice the amount of Vegetation Extract that any other contains,) the care, skill, and cleanliness of its manufacture, are sure guarantees of its purity and effect. T. R. CROSBY, M. D., W. D. BUCK, M. D., S. BUNTON, M. D., J. S. ELLIOT, M. D., JAMES BARD, M. D., Z. COLBURN, M. D., G. J. NEWKIRK, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, N. D., A. G. GALE, M. D., JAMES A. GREGG, M. D.

Those who have failed to be benefitted by other Sarsaparillas should not fail to make a single trial of the Blood Purifying and Life Invigorating Compound of Shaker Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp, and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, combined with Iodide of Potassium made by the Shakers.

Prepared by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, Shaker Village, N. H., and signed by Thos. Corbett, its inventor. Sold everywhere. Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

Barnum's Mermaid.

It is nearly forty years ago that Moses Kimball came from Boston, and brought with him, in a coffin-like box, what he declared was a genuine mermaid—all but the flowing tresses and the comb. He had got it in London, where it was being exhibited by a sea-captain, who had paid $2,000 for it in Calcutta, and who, when Kimball found him, had been arrested and thrown into jail for using the ship's money to buy it with. The lower part was the tail of a shark, or some large fish, but the upper part was not of woman's form by any manner of means. It was a hideous head and shoulders,—apparently of some sort of an ape. I called my French naturalist. He shook his head and laughed. "It is not a mermaid," said he; "a mermaid cannot be at all." "Then what is it?" I asked. He examined it carefully with a microscope. He could find no place where the two parts were united. The head looked like a baboon's, but some of the teeth were like pig's, and some like a dog's, and some he declared to be human. But there was no evidence of dentistry whatever. There was no visible seam in the body. Moreover, the fish-part had fins on the under side, and scales grew up among the hair on the chest, and hair grew down among the scales. There was no evidence of artifice. My naturalist was puzzled. "Then it is a good mermaid," said I. I bought it and put it in the safe of Moses Y. Beach of the Sun. Pretty soon a letter was written from Mobile to the New York Herald giving a good account of the crops, politics, etc., and ending with the incidental announcement that a man had landed there from the Sandwich islands, bringing a genuine mermaid. It had not been and would not be exhibited, for it was on its way to the London zoological gardens, for which it was caught in its native waters. This was published and copied all over the country, and it made a sensation. In another week a letter from Charleston announced that the wonder had arrived there, on its way to New York, whence it would sail to London. A more detailed account of the wonderful creature was given. This served to swell the curiosity. From Baltimore came still other letters; and then I sent my man to Philadelphia, carrying the mermaid in a close box nicely made and decorated. He put up at the best hotel, and cultivated the acquaintance of the landlord only. To him just as he was paying his bill he confided the immense secret that he was the celebrated Englishman who had caught the mermaid and was carrying it home. "Heavens!" said the excited landlord, raising his hands in astonishment, "is it possible that wonderful creature is in this house?" "Yes," said my agent, "but you mustn't say a word about it. I am very sorry that anything got into the papers." "Now, see here," said the landlord, "you are a good fellow, and must let me see it." After much persuasion the mermaid-hunter yielded, and landlord was in an ecstacy of delight. Then he said: "See here, you must let me show it to one or two reporters. The zoological garden folks won't know anything about it, and it will help my house." After more importunity, the weak Britisher yielded, and limited exhibition was permitted. The Philadelphia papers blazed with it next morning. They had columns about it.

The next day it was brought to New York, and the same performance was gone through with at the Astor house. The papers were full of it, and the city was all agog. Thousands flocked to see it, but no exhibition was allowed except to reporters. I was not known in connection with it, but I got three wood-cuts made, one from life—or rather, from death—another from the traditional mermaid combing her hair by the waves, and another of the exciting capture of this half-human monster in the south sea. I took one to each of the principal Sunday papers—the Herald, Atlas and Mercury—and told the editor I had procured the cut from the proprietor expressly for his paper. Each one used his cut the next morning, under flaming heads, and with a splendid puff, supposing he had the only picture. They were the maddest men you ever saw. Ropes, of the Atlas, expressed his annoyance when I met him, and was mollified only when I showed him how Bennett had been similarly fooled himself. This mermaid added to my notoriety very much, and when such a splendid curiosity was added to the museum without extra charge, money poured into my coffers. I never was particularly proud of the way in which the mermaid campaign was conducted; but I don't know to this day who made it, if it ever was made; and it certainly was a marvelous curiosity, whether natural or artificial.

An Eruption of the Sun.

The New York SUN, rabid democratic and blackguard, is so disgusted with its presidential candidate's "statemanship" as displayed in his letters on the tariff question that it blurts out the following:

Gen. Hancock need write nothing more on the tariff.

Every one knows he is in favor of a tariff which will yield the utmost protection to American industries, and especially to the democratic party.

Gen. Hancock should devote himself to writing his inaugural, and, even if it is never delivered, the preparation of it will be a salutary literary exercise.

But if he must write on a tariff, let him explicity state that if it had been left to him he would have put a prohibitory tariff on the readmission of unrepentant rebels to citizens' rights after the close of the war.

That is about the only letter on the tariff we can conceive of that would help him.

Unless he is going to write some such letter, let him return his goose quill to the original goose.

The Woodward Defalcation.

Imogene Woodward, or Amy Knowlton, as she has hitherto been known, wife of John Woodward, the defaulting cashier of the Boston city treasury, has been arrested on a charge of complicity in the big thefts. She stoutly denies that she knew anything about the crimes, or that she received large sums of money from him, but the evidence to the contrary is very strong. A man who used to act as advance agent for her, reports that once when they were at Winsted, Ct., she left her theatrical company for Boston, where she got money to pay overdue wages to her troupe, and at Fitchburg she did the same thing, each time bringing back $3,000, but the agent does't say where she got the funds. Woodward's yacht, the Ivy, has been attached. Though he was very fond of yachting it does not appear that his amusement was an occasion of serious expense to him, as he was accustomed to let the boat to others. Woodward was once dramatic critic for a New York paper, and has published some plays of his own composition.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles E. Swazey of Bethlehem, the well-known temperance orator and organizer of reform clubs, who has been a life-long democrat, has left that party and taken a decided stand against Frank Jones. He will take the stump for Garfield and Arthur.

The New Hampshire branch of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions connected with the Congregationalist church, held its annual meeting at Plymouth on the 20th inst. About seventy-five delegates were present. During the day occurred a business meeting, election of officers, etc., followed by an essay, "Work among the Indians," by Mrs. Caswell. Other papers were presented by Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Merrill. Rev. Dr. Means delivered an interesting sermon on Africa, in the evening. The society raised $103,000 last year.

The New Hampshire Unitarian association held its annual meeting at Keene this week. On Tuesday evening a sermon was preached by Rev. H. Powers of Manchester. On Wednesday morning the convention was called to order by Wm. H. Hackett of Portsmouth, who made an address of welcome. The forenoon was occupied by the various business matters of the association, in listening to reports, and matters of interest. In the afternoon Rev. James DeNormandie read his essay upon the Unitarian work in this coubtry, as presented at the recent convention in Saratoga. The address is to be printed. The subject of the Andover school and state missionary work was discussed. In the evening was what was termed a mass missionary meeting. The meetings were well attended, nearly every Unitarian society in the state being represented. Hon. Solon Carter of Keene was chosen president for the ensuing year.

News and Notes.

In the Masonic lodge in Alexandria, Va., which was founded by the father of his country, and of which he was the grand master until his death, is the clock that always stood in his bedroom at Mount Vernon, and which was there stopped by his attendants at the time he died, according to an old custom, and has never since been wound up or run. The hands point to 10:20 o'clock. Irving's history also tells us through Mr. Lear's (Washington's secretary) account of that sad event, that he died the night of December 14th, between ten and eleven o'clock.

Mr. Wendell Phillips will not this season be able to begin his lectures before January. Mrs. Phillips' health is so precarious that her husband is often forced to cancel his lecturing engagements. He is still one of the most popular of speakers, and receives a fee of $150 a lecture.

General Walker, superintendent of the census, has appointed Hovey Hall, over five years connected with the New York Tribune, as an expert to collect statistics of ship building throughout the United States.

The largest steamship ever built in England, with the exception of the Great Eastern, was launched Tuesday at London. She is intended for the Anchor line.

In the matter of the Woman's Deposit company of Boston, Judge Endicott refuses to appoint receivers, but sends the case to the insolvency court. Mrs. Marion E. Warren, of the Ladies' Stock exchange of Boston, states that she never knew such an institution as the Ladies' Deposit company of Boston until she saw it mentioned in the newspapers.

The Unitarian society, of Lawrence, Mass., at a recent meeting, refused to pass a resolution of confidence and thanks to the pastor, Rev. E. R. Sanborn. It was voted that the pastor's salary be paid to January 4th, and that the trustees supply the pulpit in the meantime. Mr. Sanborn's note for $500, endorsed by a prominent member of the church, was protested at a bank on the 19th inst.

There was a shocking calamity in connection with a fire in the shoddy manufactory of Benjamin Hey at Cincinnati, on the morning of the 20th inst. The fire began in such a way as to cut off escape from the third story where a number of women were at work. The firemen made heroic but ineffectual attempts to rescue the women; after extinguishing the fire they succeeded in extricating the dead bodies of five. The victims were Mrs. Curren, a widow with four children; Mrs. Daggett, a widow with two children; Mrs. Sayren, who leaves a husband and four children; Mrs. Jackson, a widow with one child; and Mrs. Welsh. The friends of the deceased took charge of their remains. About $90,000 damage was done to the building and contents.

The secretary of the navy has postponed the naval review at Hampton roads, which was to have occurred on the 26th inst., all the ships not being in readiness. The review probably will not come off till after the election.

—This is the way a Chiago paper goes to work to predict a cold winter. "The erratic meteorology of the equinoctial term, the avant courier of the harassing and enfeebling cold, prognosticates with unerring precision the southward advance of the polar wave that will effectually bind our streams in icy fetters of retentive grasp."

WOMEN AGENTS WANTED. For particulars enclose stamp to Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

—It is true, Epaminondas, you can't make a silk purse out a sow's ear, but that is no reason why you should go entirely back on the pig. You can make mighty good souse of it, which is more than you can do with all the raw silk this side of Lyons.—Burlington Hawkeye.

ABOUT BRIGHT'S DISEASE. Unquestionably, this fearful malady results from neglected inflammation and derangements of the kidneys, "slight troubles," which, if taken in time, are easily curable. The most trivial pain in back or groin should never be disregarded. Use Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, at once, and check the first symptom. But even when kidney complaints have assumed the final form of Bright's Disease, Hunt's Remedy may be relied upon to check the symptoms, and make a cure.

Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

—A wedding took place in Tennessee the other day in which the bride was only eleven years of age. She eloped with the man of her choice from Muhlenburg county, Ky., and is the youngest bride ever known in either state. Having been married, she refused to return to her parents' home, inasmuch as they opposed her precocious nuptials.

—The following was the finishing touch to a marriage ceremony, performed by an exquisite divine up to all modern refinements. When he had thrown the chain of Hymen around the happy couple he concluded by saying, "I now pronounce you husband and lady." The audience stuffed their handkerchiefs into their mouths and got out of the room as quickly as possible, to take breath.—Albany Express.

BITTERS

The accumulated evidences of nearly thirty years show that the Bitters is a certain remedy for malarial disease, as well as its surest preventive; that it eradicates dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint and nervousness, counteracts a tendency to gout, rheumatism, urinary and uterine disorders, that it imparts vigor to the feeble, and cheers the mind while invigorates the body.

1831 The Cultivator AND COUNTRY GENTLEMAN 1881

THE BEST OF THE

Agricultural Weeklies.

A Premium Annual to Every Reader.

The Country Gentleman is unsurpassed, if not Unequalled, for the amount and variety of useful and practical information it contains, and for the ability and extent of correspondence—in the three chief directions of

Farms Crops and Processes,
Horticulture and Fruit-Growing,
Live Stock Dairying--

while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest, such as the Poultry Yard, Entomology, Bee-keeping, Greenhouse and Grapery, Veterinary Replies, Farm Questions and Answers, Fireside Reading, Domestic Economy, and a summary of the News of the week. Its Market Reports are unusually complete, and more information can be gathered from its columns than from any other source with regard to the prospects of the crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is liberally illustrated, and constitutes to a greater degree than any of its contemporaries A LIVE

Agricultural Newspaper

Of never-failing interest both to Producers and Consumers of every class.

The Country Gentleman is published Weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: One Copy, one year, $1.50; Four Copies, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club; Ten Copies, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club.

For the ending 1881, these prices include a copy of the Annual Register of Rural Affairs, to each subscriber—a book of 144 pages and about 120 engravings—a gift by the publishers.

☞ All New Subscribers for 1881, paying in advance now, will receive the paper Weekly, from receipt of remittances to January 1st, 1881, without charge.

☞ Specimen Copies of the Paper Free. Address

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

Single numbers four cents each.

The bound volume for 1880, containing the first fifty-two numbers, will be ready early in November. Price, $5.00; postage prepaid. Cover for Young People for 1880, 50 cents; postage, 13 cents additional.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

AROUND HOME.

Hon. O. C. Moore, of Nashua, will address the republicans of Stratham on Tuesday evening, the 26th inst., in the town hall.

The Collateral Loan Co., of Boston, will have their regular semi-annual sale of unredeemed articles, beginning Tuesday next. See advertisement.

Hon. E. Ashton Rollins and family, of Philadelphia, passed through this city last Thursday on their way to Great Falls and Wakefield. Mr. Rollins reports the republicans of Philadelphia as being in the best of spirits, in the expectation of a great republican victory in November.

It is rumored that Howe Call, Esq., whose arduous labors on the stump in Indiana contributed so materially to the democratic successes in that state at the late election, will as soon as he has sufficiently recovered from the fatigue of that campaign, take the stump in New Hampshire for Jones and Hancock.

Rev. W. H. Channing, of London, England, son of the famous Rev. Dr. W. E. Channing, will preach at the Unitarian church on Sunday. Mr. Channing has been visiting in the United States for some time past. One of his daughters is the wife of Edwin Arnold, author of the "Light of Asia," and also of a book of poems just published by Roberts Brothers of Boston.

A Globe despatch of the 20th inst., from this city, says "Ex-Councillor Hon. E. C. Moody of York will take the stump in favor of Hon. Frank Jones for governor of New Hampshire, and in national politics will support General Hancock for the presidency." Mr. Moody was chairman of the elections committee of the Garcelon gang of counters-out. He won't hurt the republican party any, on the stump or off it.

Hon. Charles H. Burns will address the republicans of Portsmouth, and citizens generally, at Music hall on the evening of Tuesday, the 26th inst. Prof. Maxham, who has created a furore throughout the state by his singing of campaign songs, will be present and give several of his ringing solos. Mr. Burns, the speaker of the evening, is one of New Hampshire's most eloquent orators.

A special despatch from this city to the Boston Globe, dated Oct. 20th, says "The statement in the Globe a few days ago that the democrats of Portsmouth would soon have a grand torchlight procession, to which clubs from Boston, Lynn, Salem and other cities were invited, was premature, no such arrangements having yet been made. There will be no parade this week, sure. There may be one another week, due notice of which will be given."

We learn that the veteran temperance worker Mr. B. F. Thorndike will address our citizens at Stavers' new Franklin theatre on Sunday evening next. His subject will be, "Where are we? or, temperance and its relations to the republican, democratic and prohibition parties." Mr. Thorndike's long experience in the work leads us to believe that though the republican party may get a few of the gentle rubs, the rum democracy and their allies, the prohibition party, will not receive all the honors. It certainly will be a good place for persons of all parties to go, if they can find out "where we are."

POLICE COURT.

THUSDAY, Oct. 21; Batchelder, J.

Dennis Murphy was adjudged guilty of committing an assault on Samuel Kenniston, a special police officer, and was fined $3 and costs. He appealed, and was ordered to furnish bonds in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the April term of the supreme court.

FREE BAPTIST QUARTERLY MEETING.

The morning session of the quarterly meeting, Thursday, was held in the Pearl street church, with Rev. E. Owen, assistant moderator, in the chair. Several items were disposed of, and the business session adjourned.

The following resolutions were passed relative to the sad accident that lately befell the clerk of the quarterly meeting, who had not previously missed a session for thirty-four years:

Whereas we have learned of the severe accident which has befallen our dear brother Rev. Joseph Fullonton, therefore resolved—

1st, That the absence of one from our quarterly meeting who has been so punctual in attendance, is seriously felt.

2d, That in his severe affliction we most heartily sympathize with him, and as a body do pray the great Head of the Church for his restoration to health.

3d, That we extend to his deeply afflicted family our heartfelt sympathies, and pray that grace may be given to them according to their need.

The morning prayer meeting was led by Rev. P. W. Berry of Great Falls. Sermon by Rev. H. F. Wood of Concord.

The session closed in the afternoon, with a sermon by Rev. A. G. Hill of North Berwick, Me.

The next session will be held with the Pine street church of Manchester, Jan. 19th and 20th.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

THURSDAY, Oct. 21st.

The grand jury came in this morning, and reported the following list of indictments:

John H. Elkins, of Kingston, murder;
Eben H. Chapman, of Epping, murder;
Michael J. Griffin, of Newmarket, assault, with intent to commit rape;
John E. Morrison, of Portsmouth, indecent assault;
I. N. H. Evans and Samuel D. Evans, of Nottingham, aggravated assault;
Robert B. Stott, of Newmarket, aggravated assault;
George McGuinness, John Hartwell and John Hoyt, all of Portsmouth, aggravated assault;
John Sullivan, George W. Y. Brown and James Gilchrist, all of Portsmouth, assault on officer;
Edwin Goodwin of Portsmouth, obstructing officer;
Thomas Ferris, of Newmarket, bigamy;
Sylvester A. Durgin, of Greenland, obtaining goods under false pretences;
Willie Kirby, Fred Kirby and Jasper Smart, all of Portsmouth, breaking and entering, two indictments;
Albert Hurd, of Portsmouth, larceny;
Elisha Tripp and Mary E. Tripp, of Cambridge, larceny;
Elizabeth Lang, of Rye, disorderly house;
Edgar N. Russell, of Portsmouth, disorderly house;
John G. Cutler, of Hampton, keeping liquor for sale;
Charles Sargent, Hampton, keeping liquor for sale;
J. S. Dearborn, Hampton, keeping liquor for sale;
Robert Parker, of Portsmouth, selling liquor.

The following-named persons against whom indictments had been found, were brought into court at the opening of the afternoon session, and arraigned:

Michael J. Griffin, of Newmarket, indicted for assault with intent to commit rape, pleaded not guilty; case assigned for Monday morning, 25th inst.

John E. Morrison, of Portsmouth, pleaded not guilty of indecent assault; case assigned for Monday.

George McGuinness of Portsmouth, indicted for aggravated assault, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty dollars and costs of prosecution, and to stand committed until paid.

John Hartnett, aggravated assault on Hugh McCann, pleaded not guilty; trial Monday.

John E. Hoyt and John Sullivan, assaults, were represented by Geo. E. Hodgdon, Esq.

George W. Y. Brown and James Gilchrist, indicted for assault on officer, respectively pleaded guilty and nolo contendere. They were released on their own recognizance.

Willie Kirby and Fred Kirby, two small boys, were arraigned on two indictments for breaking and entering, and stealing money and five pounds of candy. They had no counsel, and the court appointed Calvin Page, Esq., to represent them, who entered a plea of not guilty; trial Monday.

Albert Hurd of Portsmouth, larceny of a gold watch from Cornell's store, was represented by Hon. Albert R. Hatch, who stated that at the proper time he would offer the proper plea.

Elizabeth Lang of Rye, disorderly house, plea not guilty; trial Monday.

Rob't Parker, selling one pint of whisky to one John E. Morrison, plea not guilty; trial Tuesday, 26th inst.

The trial of the case Allie Ellen Sides vs. city of Portsmouth was continued. The plaintiff introduced several witnesses who saw the accident, including Jeff. C. Rowe, Wm. H. Seymour, George Peirce, George Dunbar and Dr. S. C. Whittier, who observed the accident from his window and afterward attended the plaintiff professionally. Plaintiff then rested, and defendant after a brief opening offered several witnesses, whose testimony tendered to show that the accident occurred outside of the highway and was the result of careless driving. The case was argued by Mr. Hatch for the defendant, and Mr. Frink for the plaintiff. Owing to there being a limited number of jurymen in attendance, making it impossible to empanel another jury without the presence of two sitting on this case, the court came in at seven o'clock in the evening, and the jury was charged by Judge Clark and then retired to consider the case.

REPUBLICAN DEMONSTRATIONS.

The republican campaign clubs of this city, to the number of between four and five hundred men, went to Exeter, Tuesday evening, 19th inst., and had a big time and a tremendously long march. There were over 2000 torches in the line, battalions being present from Dover, Farmington, Newmarket, South Newmarket, Epping, Manchester and other towns. Hon. Charles H. Bell, Gen. Marston and other distinguished gentlemen reviewed the procession. The Portsmouth delegation arrived home at half-past three o'clock Wednesday morning.

On Wednesday evening, the 20th, Kittery was a brilliant line of fire and gorgeous illuminations, from Portsmouth bridge to Gerrish's island; in fact, no demonstration within our memory, in this city, approached the display of colored fires and Chinese lanterns by our friends across the river. About 600 torches were in line, Portsmouth sending about 300, which number would have been much larger but for the long march through Exeter on the previous evening, and the alarm of fire which was sounded just as the companies were leaving their armories. The Portsmouth delegation arrived home, tired and dusty, at 11:30 o'clock, having had a long march over the most trying roads in this section of country.

SENATOR BLAIR AT MUSIC HALL.

A crowded house greeted Senator Blair on Thursday evening at Music hall, and all were well repaid in listening to a dignified, scholarly presentation of the salient topics of the campaign.

The senator pursued a course of argument somewhat novel in this vicinity, a resume of the events upon which the contest between the parties mainly hinges; in fact, the address was a well considered essay upon political economy.

A pleasant feature of the occasion was the presence in the front seats of the Winchester Cadets and the Garfield Cadets, fresh—or rather, jaded—from their long march in Kittery on Wednesday night. To these lads the senator especially addressed himself, instructing them upon the topics which they will in a few years be called upon to consider at the polls. Their close attention evinced a deep interest in what are ordinarily considered dry topics.

The meeting was called to order by Hon. John H. Broughton, who announced as president Hon. J. F. Hall, late surgeon of Col. Blair's regiment; and as vice presidents, Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, Hon. E. H. Winchester, and one hundred and twenty veterans of the army and navy, Boys in Blue.— "clackers," you you know. They did "clack" pretty well; why shouldn't they?

It was the most effective meeting of the campaign, in spite of the distracting movement at Dover, which some of our esteemed friends inaugurated for the purpose of—of—

"CHINESE CHEAP LABOR."

The democratic campaign clubs of this city went to Dover on Thursday evening last, to take part in the obsequies there of the democratic state and national tickets. Among the banners and transparencies borne by them were several which attracted much attention, one having on it a picture of a Chinaman, and others inscriptions connecting Gen. Garfield's name with "Chinese cheap labor."

These banners evidently referred to a letter, published in all the democratic papers of Thursday morning, purporting to have been written on the 23d of January, 1880, by Gen. Garfield, to "H. L. Morey, Employers' Union, Lynn, Mass.," in which the writer appears to be in favor of the importation of Chinese labor to compete with American labor.

It seems hardly necessary to say that this "letter" is a silly as well as a bungling forgery. Gen. Garfield, being referred to, declares not only that he never heard of H. L. Morey and never wrote him a letter, but that he never wrote any such letter to any person. And a search of the directories of Lynn, and enquiries among its prominent manufacturers and business men, shows that there is not now and never has been any such organization as the "Employers' Union" there, and that nobody in that city ever heard of "H. L. Morey," the very prominent business man who represented the mythical "Union."

This forged letter was probably the work of the same gigantic intellect that invented the "329" plan of conducting a campaign, and was intended to check the stampede into the republican ranks of democratic workingmen, who are alarmed at the prospect of being put on the same footing as the European laboror through the abrogation of the protective tariff, which the democrats in their national platform promise to do if they carry the election.

The schooner Margie, of this port, went on Neal's railway at Kittery on the 21st inst., to have her bottom calked.

The republican candidate for Congress in the fourth district of Massachusetts is Francis B. Hayes, a son of Judge Hayes of South Berwick.

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weakness peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

One great deed is Enough.

Watts invented the steam engine; Morse the electric telegraph; Whitney the cotton gin; and Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., by his genius and prepared the "Favorite Remedy," which is worth more than all of them, because it saves life and cures disease. It purifies the blood, drives bile from the system, cures those delicate diseases peculiar to women, and is in short a sheet-anchor in every household. No other medicine equals it or can take its place. Don't spend your money in paying doctors, when for one dollar a bottle you can have the "Favorite Remedy" always on your shelf.

New York merchants are now wearing campaign badges marked "329 did it."

The best blood remedy in the world is D. R. V. G. It will clear ladies' complexion of pimples, moth patches and sallowness. Try it. Guaranteed by your own druggists.

The New York Sun tells those Indiana democrats who declare that they were beaten by the importation of negroes to vote the republican ticket, that their excuse is puerile, a "baby plea, in fact."

H. E. Hodge, Cambridge, Mich., says: I have been afflicted with asthma for years an "Only Lung Pad" gave me immediate relief. I can recommend it as the greatest remedy ever produced.—See Adv.

The republican congressional committee has decided to make a vigorous canvass in North Carolina, and endeavor to gain at least one representative there.

Is your life worth 25 cents? If it is do not neglect a cough or cold. Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once and be cured by that never failing remedy.

Vote the republican ticket until every man in the nation entitled to a vote can cast just one vote at each election, for which party he pleases, without fear or molestation, and have it honestly counted, and you will feel conscious of having done your duty as a citizen.—U. S. Grant.

Political Notes.

The New York Herald's biography of English, the democratic candidate for vice-president, is very brief but very pointed, namely: "He collects his debts, lends his money, and robbed his grandmother." But the Herald don't want him taken off the ticket, because, in its broad charity, it wants him consoled by the fact that "many hundreds of thousands of his countrymen will vote for him in spite of his crimes."

A special to the Washington Republican from Richmond, Va., says that the leading democrats are urging Gov. Halliday to call the legislature together at once and elect presidential electors, as the only way by which the state can be secured for Hancock. If this is attempted to be done, it is believed that enough readjusters and republicans will stay away from the legislature to prevent any quorum, and thus defeat the scheme.

Representative Blackburn, of Kentucky, surnamed "the wiper," because he gave the republicans in the house of representatives, two years ago, notice that soon as the democratic party came into full power they would wipe off from the statute books "as with a sponge" every vestige of war legislation, has gone into Virginia in behalf of the democratic committee, to see whether he cannot bring about a compromise between the readjusters and the funders, and have one side or the other withdraw their electoral ticket. The prediction is made in Washington that not only will Senator Mahone refuse all propositions of compromise, but that when he enters the United States senate, after the 3d of March next, he will act with the republicans, and not with the democrats.

Jumping the Rope.

Dr. Peck, of the Surgical Institute, has just performed a surgical operation on the leg of a young girl by the name of Jordan, from Illinois, sent here for treatment. The bones of both her legs will have to be partly removed, and the little sufferer will have to subject to two painful operations. The cause of her affection is from "jumping the rope," a pastime engaged in generally by young girls, resulting in necrosis, or death of the bone. The doctor stated to a reporter, in this connection, that similar cases were constantly occurring from this same cause, but more frequently resulting in necrosis of the spine, and that not a month passes but more or fewer cases of this character come to the institute for treatment. He says that rope jumping produces continuous concussions on the joints which impinge upon the bone, causing at the first stage periosteitis, and finally resulting in the death of the bone. He thinks that parents and teachers should be warned of this dangerous sport, and eradicate it entirely from the play-grounds of children, as it is ruinous in its effects, and is the prime cause of more scripples among the female portion of the community than probably any one cause. He works after 1st of January, April, July and October.

Rev. E. F. L. GAUSS, Galena, Ill., writes—"For over two years I had been a great sufferer from pains in the small of the back and region of the Kidneys, which was most excruciating and at times almost insufferable. Doctoring brought no relief, and I was finally advised to go abroad and seek the climate of my youth. In Germany and Switzerland, eminent physicians, after close examination, declared my sufferings to be from disease of the Kidneys, of long standing, and could do me no good. I was, however, benefited by the climate and consequently returned. No sooner had I been back and resumed my pastoral work, when the old trouble grew again to intense as to make life a burden. A few months ago I came in possession of one of Day's Kidney Pads, put it on, and the effects were truly wonderful. The pains at once grew less and are now, after wearing the second Pad, entirely gone, and there can be no doubt that I am entirely cured, as I write this some weeks after the last pain. Let anyone but look again the very picture of health. I write this perfectly voluntarily, and it is dictated only by truth and gratitude. Indeed, I consider the Day Kidney Pad Co., Day's agents and great benefactors of mankind. May all the suffering be helped as I have been in my earnest wish.

CHAS. DAVIS, 124 Myrtle Street, Boston: "I have now used Day's Kidney Pad for thirty days and it has done me more good than any remedy I have ever tried."

LARIMORE & DEAN, Druggists, Niles, Mich.—30 years in business:—"Day's Kidney Pad is having a large sale and gives better general satisfaction than any remedy we ever sold."

CASPER WEITZEL, Policeman, Lancaster, Pa.:—"I was once a great sufferer from Kidney complaint, and after wearing your Pad 25 days I feel better than I have in 15 years."

Dr. A. J. STONER, Decatur, Ill.—"Your Pad is doing great good here. It sells every day and gives universal satisfaction."

For sale by druggists, or sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of the price—Regular, Pad, $1.00; Special Pad (extra size), $3.00; Children's, $1.50. THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire Items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION! Enhanced vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inveterate. He is a benevolent, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, N. D., president of the National Medical Association.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' LIFE-INVIGORATING SARSAPARILLA.

The Great Blood Purifier, Kidney Remedy and Mild Laxative.

WE, the undersigned, having used DR. CORBETT'S SHAKER SARSAPARILLA SYRUP in our practice, and having examined the formula by which it is prepared, would cheerfully recommend it to the community as the cheapest, safest, and most efficacious of all the preparations of Sarsaparilla in the market. Its highly concentrated state, (there being in a given amount of Syrup twice the amount of Vegetation Extract than in any other contain), the care, skill, and cleanliness of its manufacture, are sure guarantees of its purity and effect. T. R. CROSBY, M. D., W. D. BUCK, M. D., S. BUNTON, M. D., J. S. ELLIOT, M. D., JAMES BARB, M. D., Z. COLBURN, M. D., M. S. J. TEWKSBURY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. GALE, M. D., JAMES A. GREGG, M. D.

Those who have failed to be benefitted by other Sarsaparillas should not fail to make a single trial of the Blood Purifying and Life Invigorating Compound of Shaker Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp, and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, combined with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

Prepared by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, Shaker Village, N. H., and signed by Thos. Corbett, its inventor. Sold everywhere. Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

Attention, Farmers!

Formerly Frank Jones bought his barley, from which to make his beer, of the farmers of New Hampshire, and barley-raising became a great industry amongst the farmers in the southern part of the state; but, for several years past, Jones has purchased barley in Canada, rather than in New Hampshire. The duty upon it is fifteen cents a bushel, but farm labor is so much cheaper there than here that the farmers can undersell those of our own state. How is this for encouraging home industry, and New England agriculture! Farmers, he is willing that your sons should drink his beer, but he will not buy your barley. When free trade is accomplished, the duty will be removed, and his immense profits increased accordingly. How can the yeomen of the Granite State support such a man? How can they vote for a free trade party?—Dover Republican.

Perhaps a modification of the duty on ale and beer might to some extent encourage free trade democrats to buy grains at home. But the brewer relies on the heavy duty to protect him against the foreign producer, and at the same time buys of the foreign farmer. Protection it will be seen favors the farmers every time, either in maintaining local markets for small crops, or home consumption of grains.

Not a Beverage.

"They are not a beverage, but a medicine, with curative properties of the highest degree, containing no poor whiskey or poisonous drugs. They do not tear down an already debilitated system, but build it up. One bottle contains more hops, that is, more real hop strength, than a barrel of ordinary beer. Every druggist in Rochester sells them, and the physicians prescribe them."—Evening Express on Hop Bitters.

—The tallest man in the country is John Farwell, of Houston, Texas, who measures seven feet six inches in his bare feet. He must be the identical "Farwell, a long Farwell."

THERE is no affinity between cheap and useless beer, wine and iron tonics and the Liebig Co.'s Coca Tonic, a real renovant of strength and restorative of health.

"It is the best Tonic there is. Every physician to whom I have recommended it has found it so," says Professor H. M. Drake, M. D., Detroit, Mich.

Kidney Disease of 30 Years Standing Cured.

ELK FLAT, OREGON, Jan. 12, 1880.

The second package of Kidney-Wort is nearly gone, and I enclose a dollar for another package. I am a woman fifty-six years of age and have been afflicted with kindey disease for more than thirty years. Kidney-Wort has done me more good than any other remedy I have ever taken, and I am sure will cure me.

Chronicle Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20th.

Treachery on the part of the Tilden men toward Gen. Hancock is now more than hinted at. The remarkably course of the Sun in deliberately attempting to politically assassinate the democratic candidates, is a theme of general conversation. Dana is the only editor of prominence who would be expected to do such contemptible work. John Kelly has triumphed over all opposition in his party, and is stronger than ever before. This has alarmed the Tilden men, who now threaten to slaughter the presidential ticket in the way that Kelly and his coadjutors sacrificed Governor Robinson. The republicans united can carry New York state for Garfield over the votes of a united democracy.

The campaign has developed a new feature, and the accessions to the republican ranks on the tariff question already amount to many thousands. Well informed republicans claim a certain majority of 50,000 votes on the 2d of November. People living out of the state can have but a faint idea of the vast number of changes going on here. The republican vote of New York city will surprise the country by its size. The registration is large, and notably so in republican districts.

The arrangements for a fair vote and open count will prevent any extensive frauds; with deputy marshals at every precinct, and authorized watchers to witness the count, there is little if any opportunity for the ancient democratic practise of making false returns.

John Kelly has headed his city ticket with three Catholic Irishmen, whereat the Germans are angry, and threaten to vote the republican city ticket. Should Kelly find his candidates running too close, his followers will trade off Hancock by the thousand. Kelly's nominations are likely to cost Hancock 20,000 votes in the city.

Gen. Grant is in the city, "the observed of all observers." His hold on the popular heart is wonderful, and many of his most vehement opponents of last June now favor his nomination for the presidency in 1884. He remains in this state for the sole purpose of aiding in the election of Garfield.

A son of Portsmouth, Mr. George W. Rand, is major of the battalion of the Seventh Regiment, which had the credit of doing the finest marching in the magnificent procession of last week.

Ex-Senator Cragin, of your state, Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, Major Frank G. Wentworth and Thomas Wentworth, formerly of Portsmouth, are among the projectors of a new mining company here.

Mr. Horace B. Kent and his accomplished young bride are at the Sturtevant, receiving the congratulations and good wishes of many friends. G.

News and Notes.

On the night of the 20th inst. a large body of men called at a house in Palmyra, Maine, and demanded that the occupants leave the place, when men secreted in the building fired two shots, instantly killing Rodney Lord, a young man twenty-five years of age, and severly wounding two others. The occupants of the house are said to have kept a house of ill-fame, and the object of the crowd was to rid the town of the nuisance. Two men concerned in the shooting are under arrest, and search is being made for a third who was in the house at the time, and who, it is supposed, fired one of the shots.

A passenger on the Pittsburg & Fort Wayne railroad was arrested in the cars at Chicago on the 21st inst., under instructions from the secret service department at Washington, and locked up in the United States marshal's office. Wrapped in a dirty shirt in one of his satchels were found $204,000 in bonds, and $3000 in currency. Who he is the first reports did not say.

In Pocasset, Mass., Friday morning, Mr. Isaac Clement, seventy years old, was found unconscious on the floor of his house, having been robbed and terribly beaten during the night, his injuries being supposed to be fatal. Suspicion at once rested on a young man who robbed Mr. Clement about a year ago.

Our country's apple crop this year is put at 200,000,000 bagrels.

The Rochester Astronomical Society announces that the comet recently discovered by Prof. Swift promises to become very brilliant. It is coming straight toward the earth, and so its position in the heavens changes slowly. It is in the constellation Pegasus, which is overhead at about nine o'clock in the evening. It seems to be throwing off a brilliant tail, which will become visible to the naked eye as it swings into the neighborhood of the sun. If this comet fulfills its present promise, it will be a magnificent object in the coming winter evenings. Some of the astronomers, it seems, suspect that this may be the great comet that blazed with extraordinary splendor in the western sky just before the war of 1812.

The Gardiner Home Journal says that Captain Daniel Hinkley, of Livermore, Me., who was 102 years old when he died, "had used tobacco since he was six years old, and told us when he was over a hundred, that he presumed he might have lived to be aged, had he never used it. His son, Alanson, is now eighty-five years old, and chews tobacco very sparingly, though nearly all the time, and swallows the juice."

Minority Representation in Corporations.

At the November election the voters of this state will be called upon to vote yea or nay upon the acceptance or rejection of the act of the legislature approved July 19th, 1879, relative to minority representation in corporation elections. The bill provides that

In all elections for directors or managers of a corporation, each member or shareholder may cast the whole number of his votes for one candidate, or distribute them upon two or more candidates as he may prefer.

We have received an anonymous circular on this subject for our endorsement, but the readers of our paper are of such an intelligent class that on matters of this kind they need no suggestions at our hands. It is well that every one should vote upon the question, which in some respects is important.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

The California Grain Trade.

The San Francisco papers say the warehouses of that city are choked with grain. There is not one quarter the requisite number of vessels in its harbor to carry to Europe its enormous crops. Freights have advanced from $11.48, the price last year, to $17.50 this year. At the same time wheat has declined thirty-five cents per bushel. There has not been a year in the last fourteen when price and cost of transportation were so unsatisfactory as at present. The result is that there is an indisposition to sell wheat among all those who can afford to hold it. The price is so low that there seems little chance of reduction, and the freight rate is so high that it should not rise much, unless wheat rises, for it is hardly possible to see how wheat at present prices can stand any higher transportation rates. Some of the city statisticians place the capacity of the ships now known to be on the way to San Francisco at about 200,000 tons as available for wheat, but this is quite inadequate to carry the amount of wheat for sale this year if the price warrants it.

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

NOTICE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

The "hundred-days veteran" has been in a battle—the battle of Dover jail.

Seven thousand dollars in Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad bonds sold at the brokers' board in Boston recently, at eighty-five.

The little schooner Sea Gull, of Cushing, Me., arrived at Rollins' wharf on Friday to load with apples. She is ordinarily employed in fishing, and this coasting trip is merely an incidental.

The account of the burning of Mr. H. R. Stoddard's buildings at Gravelly Ridge on the evening of the 20th inst., comes back to us as follows in the Boston Journal of the 22d: "A house and two barns at Gravelly Point, Plymouth, belonging to R. Stoddard, were burned Wednesday night."

The temperance lecture Sunday evening at Franklin theatre promises to be largely attended, as there is much desire to hear what Mr. Thorndike has to say about political temperance, and also to see the new and beautiful theatre. Ten cents will be collected at the door to defray expenses.

The sloop C. T. Denny, of Quincy, Mass., arrived at this port on Friday, and anchored in the river above Gangway rock, for the removal of which she has the gear on board. She is fitted with a boom derrick, donkey engine for hoisting, and other apparatus, and work on the rock is to be commenced at once.

The Times is much troubled because the Boys in Blue occupied the stage at Music hall on Thursday evening last. Did you see any deserters there, Mr. Times; if so, please name them, and give their records—you have the documents, you know? Not a Boy in Blue there but will compare favorably with the best man in the Hancock Veterans.

The Times of Thursday evening asks, "How does it happen that every time the republicans have a torchlight procession, we have a fire?" We give it up; but we would suggest to our contemporary that if it proposes to investigate the matter, it should look to other than republican agencies, as it is republican demonstrations only that the fires seem to interfere with.

Capt. Trefethen, of the steamer Mystic, after working to that end for several months has at last received permission to make three landings at the navy yard each working day, for the accommodation of such of the workmen as may desire to avail themselves of his steamer as a means of transportation to and from their work. We have never been able to see why he should be refused this privilege, if it was granted to any person, as he has a good boat, and being a careful and skillful skipper is not more likely than another to do harm at a landing place. The little steamers are a great convenience to the workmen, and under proper restrictions as to times and places of landing at the yard they cannot in any way be of injury to the government.

DOVER JAIL "POETRY."

When the hilarious Hancock procession in Dover, on Thursday evening last, reached the place where the jail is located, a transparency was seen on its roof with the motto—

"Frank Jones' beer Brought us here."

Whether this had reference to the "ins" or the "outs" there was nothing to indicate, but the procession came to a halt, and some of the Portsmouth men proceeded to smash the transparency with stones—rather an ungrateful return to the person who got up the illumination in honor of the occasion.

Seriously, the putting of any motto or other partisan device on any public building, on any occasion, is reprehensible. Such buildings do not belong to any political party, but to the people, and it is an outrage on the people to use them for partisan purposes. Some years ago the democrats, then in power in this city, illuminated the city building on the occasion of a democratic celebration; and on several subsequent occasions we are sorry to say the republicans followed the improper precedent then set. Both parties were wrong.

And while it may be "smart" to say or do something merely to irritate a political antagonist, it is not good policy, for it does not convert him a bit, and the only effect it is likely to have is to make him work a little harder on his own side. A good illustration of this came under our personal observation not long ago, when a very moderate republican, who had always voted for Frank Jones when he was a candidate, and was undecided how to vote this year, was so indignant at finding the door of his place of business covered with "329" in red chalk one Sunday morning that he made a voluntary contribution to the republican campaign fund next day, and became at once an earnest supporter of Garfield and Bell. Mr. Jones certainly, and Hancock probably, lost one vote in this city by that bit of absurd folly, and neither of them gained a vote by it in the whole state.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

FRIDAY, Oct. 22d.

I. N. H. Evans and Samuel D. Evans, both of Nottingham, who were jointly indicted for an aggravated assault upon one Samuel D. Caswell, were arraigned, and severally pleaded not guilty; trial assigned for Monday.

Robert B. Stott, of Newmarket, aggravated assault, pleaded not guilty; trial Monday.

Sylvester A. Durgin, of Greenland, who was indicted for obtaining goods under false pretenses from A. P. Wendell & Co. of this city, and who on Thursday pleaded not guilty to the charge, to-day retracted that plea and pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to be imprisoned four months and to pay costs of prosecution.

In the libel William Whittier vs. Myra S. Whittier, a divorce was decreed; parties from Nottingham. Leavitt, Wiggin and Fernald for libellant.

In Sides vs. Portsmouth, the case was given to the jury at eight o'clock Thursday evening. They wrestled with the proposition all night, and at seven o'clock this morning agreed upon a verdict, and were consequently released until the opening of the court, when they came in and announced as the result of their deliberations that they found the defendant guilty in manner and form as alleged, and assessed damages in the sum of fifty dollars. Frink and Page for plff.; Foster and Hatch for deft.

The next case in order was Brainard Dearborn vs. city of Portsmouth, an action brought to recover damages for the loss of a horse and injury to harness and carriage, resulting from the plaintiff's horse running away. The facts as disclosed by the plaintiff's counsel in his opening were as follows: The plff., a physician residing in Portsmouth, drove to Ladgdon street in April, 1879, to make a professional call. He hitched his horse, which was young and spirited, to an iron post, ank went into the house of Mr. Trefethen. He stayed there only about five minutes, and came out to find that the post was broken off, and that his horse had started, and running rapidly down the street had plunged into a slough or cesspool which was at the foot of the street near the Eastern railroad track. The horse broke his neck, and was killed; the carriage and harness were injured. The plaintiff claimed that this cesspool or bog, if not in the highway, was in dangerous proximity thereto, and was in the nature of a defect under the statute. Evidence was introduced to the effect that the horse was five years old, cost $215, and was improving in value continually. The defendant offered only one witness, who testified that he noticed the horse standing on Langdon street, and he was very restive. Further than that the deft. did not contradict the evidence of the plff.

The jury was charged at two o'clock. Judge Clark stated that the entire matter was a question of fact for the jury to determine. That they were to decide—First, Was there a defect? Second, Was the plaintiff travelling on the highway? for the language of the statute is, "Towns are liable for damages happening to any person, his team or carriage, travelling upon a highway, etc., by reason of any obstruction, defect, insufficiency, etc.;" and that question does not depend upon whether the horse is stopping or whether he is in motion, whether the driver is in the carriage or out of it. The question was, did the relation of traveller exist between the horse and the man? The plff., was rightfully in the road; he went into the house with the intention of resuming his travel; and in regard to his being a traveller it would make no difference whether he went into the house or was standing on the sidewalk; but it was all a question of fact for the jury to say upon the evidence whether plff. was travelling or not. Third, Was the plaintiff in fault? If he was he could not recover.

The case was given to the jury about three o'clock, and after deliberating for three-quarters of an hour they returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars. Hatch for plff.; Frink and Foster for deft.

Mr. Chellis, an attorney from Chelsea, Mass., presented a petition asking that the action of Pease & Cochrane, an appealed case which was defaulted and judgment rendered for defendant a year ago, might be brought forward and heard upon its merits; decision reserved. Page for Cochrane.

Court adjourned until Monday morning at half-past ten o'clock, when the criminal docket will be taken up.

Political Notes.

J. B. Sargent, a leading manufacturer at New Haven, Conn., heretofore an influential democrat, has come out for Garfield and Arthur.

What is the matter with Dana, the pirate of the New York press? Horror! can it be possible he is intending to flop into the republican party? The republicans owe the democratic party a great deal, in that they have taken Butler, Sickles, Mullett and "Boss" Shepard over to themselves; but the debt will be much more than cancelled if Charles A. Dana is to be inflicted upon the republicans in return.

This is fully exemplified in the demonstration that so common a pasture weed as smart-weed, or water-pepper, possesses medicinal properties which, when combined with essence of Jamaica Ginger and other efficacious vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed It constitutes a most potent remedy for bowel affections, as diarrhœa, dysentery, flux, etc. It is also an efficacious medicine for colds, and to break up fevers and inflammatory attacks, and for the alleviation of pain. Every family should keep a supply of it. 50 cents by druggists.

KIDNEY WORT

THE ONLY MEDICINE

That Acts at the Same Time on

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

These great organs are the natural cleansers of the blood. If they work well, health will be perfect; if they become clogged, dreadful diseases are sure to follow with TERRIBLE SUFFERING.

Biliousness, Headache, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Constipation and Piles, or Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Diabetes, Sediment in the Urine, Milky or Ropy Urine; or Rheumatic Pains and Aches, are developed because the blood is poisoned with the humors that should have been expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT

will restore the healthy action and all these sufferings will vanish. Disease cannot midst them and you will live but to suffer.

Thousands have been cured. Try it and you will add one to the number. Take out health will once more gladden your heart.

Why suffer longer from the torment of an aching back?

Why bear such distress from Constipation and Piles?

Why be so fearful because of disordered urine?

KIDNEY-WORT will cure you. Try a package at once and be satisfied.

It is a dry vegetable compound and

One Package makes six quarts of Medicine.

Your Druggist has it, or will get it for you. Insist upon having it. Price, $1.00.

JAMES PYLE'S PEARLINE

THE GREAT INVENTION FOR WASHING AND CLEANSING

Is hard or soft water, WITHOUT SOAP, and without danger to the finest fabric.

SAVES TIME and LABOR AMAZINGLY, and is rapidly coming into general use. Sold by all Grocers; but beware of vile counterfeits. Its great success brings out dangerous imitations, but PEARLINE is the only safe article. Always bears the name of James Pyle, New York.

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD

CURED BY ACCIDENT,

stumbling upon a remedy which men of eminent ability have been years of study and experiment to find—and the chief glory of the discoverer has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of sufferers and those who have used it; it has become a favorite with all classes and when introduced it superseded all other treatments. In Kidney, Bladder & Urinary complaints and superiority, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

are the most fatal, dangerous and painful affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and insidious in their character, that persons often suffer for a long time before knowing what ails them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole system, pain in the back, side or limbs, a weak, feeble, exhausted feeling; loss of appetite and dread of exertion; scanty and painful discharge of variously colored urine; inability to retain or expel the urine; minute shreds or casts in the urine; and, when the disease is of long duration, there is much emaciation and general nervous prostration

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the first and only infallible cure for every form of Kidney disease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectual in its operation than any other treatment. By using faithfully and persistently no case will be found so inveterate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

STRONGLY ENDORSED.

We have the most unequivocal testimony to its curative powers from many persons of high character, intelligence and responsibility. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it.

DAY'S KIDNEY PADS are sold by druggists, or will be sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of their price: Regular, $1.00. Special, for obstinate cases of long standing, $2.00. Children's, $1.00. Address,

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it necessary to caution the public. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, take no other and you will not be deceived.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 10, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise inventors to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

THE New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire Items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a colored medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 autitul and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail postpaid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, which are due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nestor in his art, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and stability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&th 6ainov60

1881. HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

Single numbers four cents each.

The bound volume for 1879, containing the first fifty-two numbers, will be ready early in November. Price, $3.00, postage prepaid. Cover for Young People for 1880, 35 cents; postage, 13 cents additional.

Sold by Druggists.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics and relieve Costiveness, Piles, and Congestion of the Liver. For adults, one or two PRUNES acts as a mild laxative; two or three have the effect of cathartic medicine or mineral waters but without nausea or griping. No bad effects but without nausea or griping. No bad effects but without nausea or griping. For children, one half a prune taken at bed-time acts like a charm. The medication is entirely vegetable and beautiful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

The Geneva Award Fund.

Our Washington correspondent writes on this subject as follows:

Those advocating the distribution of the Geneva award fund by the coming Congress, are now actively engaged in preparing accounts of the merits of the different classes of claimants in which they are interested, for presentation.

Tho' there are different plans for the final distribution of this fund, the different classes of claimants will combine in resisting the third proposition for its disposal, namely: to make it a part of the sinking fund for the reduction and payment of the public debt. This Geneva matter has claimed the attention of Congress at almost every session since the award was made by Great Britain; much discussion has been had upon it, but not one good and valid reason has yet been advanced why the money should not be distributed to the claimants, the merits of whom to be declared, of course, by Congress.

The plan of using this fund for the reduction of the public debt is simply an easy way of getting out of a troublesome question. The money was paid to this country for damages sustained by citizens. The understanding plainly was that the money should be used for the purpose awarded, and it would be clearly a breach of faith, a blot upon the Nation's honor, to use it for any other purpose. The award says the money is paid for the "satisfaction of all claims referred." The "claims" were for damages; hence it follows that the money was awarded to pay these claims for damages, and to use it for another purpose would be other than contemplated when it was paid. The United States did not claim the money to reduce its public debt, but to remunerate those who suffered by the Alabama and her sister cruisers. Let every honest man in this country feel an interest in this subject; it is one not only concerning ourselves, but another nation. Let our congressmen and senators prove themselves men of honor, by awarding this money, not to themselves, but to those for whom it was demanded and paid.

"May God Bless and Reward You."

The physicians hear such a benediction sometimes, and it is very sweet even to a professional ear. Mrs. S. A. McIlwain, of Fergusonville, N. Y., wrote thus to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y, after his "Favorite Remedy" had rescued her from the borders of death. In her spasms and sinking spells her friends often thought she was already dead. Women are often afflicted in this way. The trouble is commonly in the blood. Lose no precious time, dear women, but get the "Favorite Remedy" of your druggist, or enclose one dollar to the doctor at the above address.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has been before the public for years, and is pronounced by thousands superior to all other articles for the cure of coughs, colds, influenza and all other pulmonary complaints. It costs only 25 cents a bottle.

Frank J. Alexander, sixteen years old, son of Hugh Alexander, was accidentally shot in the left lung at Richmond, Me., Friday, while taking a gun from a wagon, and it is feared he is fatally injured.

Why suffer from that cough when Adamson's Botanic Balsam will speedily and surely cure you? Children like it. Sold by all druggists and dealers at 35 cents. Trial size 10 cents.

Upham T. Cram of Readfield, Me., who was injured at Androscoggin station recently while attempting to board a moving train, died on Friday. He was eighty-two years old, and highly respected in his community.

What is life without good health? If you are not in good health try D. R. V. G. It will cure you. Guaranteed by all druggists. See other column.

A boiler explosion occurred in the woodenware mill of Zophar Willard at Harrisville, Oct. 14th. The boiler house, which was of brick, was almost wholly demolished, nothing being left standing but the wall which adjoined the dry house. Large pieces of the boiler were thrown across the road and into the pond near by. The cause was a defective flue. Fortunately no one was hurt. The loss is estimated at $1,000.

That Grandmother's Pension.

Several weeks ago a statement was published to the effect that William H. English, now the democratic candidate for vice president, when a clerk in the treasury many years ago illegally drew a pension due his deceased grandmother, and dishonestly withheld the money from her heirs, for which he was dismissed the service in disgrace by the democratic administration. We made no mention of the statement at the time, considering it too monstrous to believe, and not choosing to assist in circulating what we supposed must turn out to be a mere campaign slander. But a search through the records of the treasury department shows that the story was true, and that when Secretary Marcy called on Mr. English for an explanation of his conduct, he undertook to save himself by securing the intervention of the democratic members of congress from Indiana. The secretary of the treasury had notified him that he must resign, when English appeared before President Polk with the following letter:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23d, 1849.

James K. Polk, President of the United States:—

Sir—The undersigned have heard with some surprise that an effort is about to be made to remove from office William H. English, esq., a clerk in the office of the second auditor. Mr. English is a son of the Hon. E. G. English, now and for several years a prominent member of the state senate of Indiana, and this is a young gentleman of high character and respectability, and is held in high esteem by the democracy of our state as a useful and efficient member of the democratic party. As we have heard no reason for his removal, we respectfully ask that he may be permitted to serve out the small remnant of time which we have reason to believe is allotted to all faithful democratic incumbents of public office.

Very respectfully, your obd't sv't,
THOMAS J. HENLEY, J. D. BRIGHT,
JOHN L. ROBINSON, C. W. CATHCART,
W. W. WICK, WM. ROCKHILL.

Mr. English also sent on the same date (Jan. 23d, 1849) to Secretary Marcy an explanation of the matter, which that gentleman refused to accept as satisfactory. The matter had also been previously called to the attention of Robert J. Walker, secretary of the treasury, and a letter had also been addressed to him asking for the charges which were operating against Mr. English. Secretary Walker replied that if the writers would call on him he would inform them privately. The result of it was that President Polk declined to interfere to save Mr. English, and he was compelled to leave the treasury on March 3d, 1849, only three days before Mr. Walker turned his portfolio over to his whig successor, William M. Meredith. It is easily seen that the case against Mr. English must have been regarded as a very bad one by President Polk and the two members of his cabinet who passed upon it, when they would not grant him the few days which remained till the new secretary of the treasury of the succeeding whig administration came in, even on the written request of one senator and five democratic members of the house from Mr. English's own state.

And this is the man whom the people of the United States are asked to elevate to the second highest office in their gift.

Another Democratic Mare's Nest.

Chairman Barnum, of the democratic national committee, on Thursday last sent all over the Union, through the mediumship of the associated press, a statement that he had got hold of two shocking telegrams from the republican national committee to persons in Florida, which telegrams he gave to an astounded world. One of them simply announces that the services of two republican workers will be paid for; the other is as follows:

NEW YORK, Oct. 12, 1880.

To F. W. Wicken, Collector, Key West, Fla.: City of Dallas took 120, City of Texas 100, Colorado 100 for Key West. Men on dock instructed to say nothing about it.

MARSHALL JEWELL.

Barnum goes on: "The numbers 150, 100, and 100, in this last telegram, mean so many men. * * * The committee were advised previous to the recept of these telegrams that the state of Florida was to be overrun by the repeaters of our large cities. The telegrams of Mr. Jewell only confirm what the committee well knew to be the fact. The above telegrams are in possession of the committee. They are written in copying ink, having been copied in a letter-press book and bear the telegraph receiver's checks and marks, and this committee defies any one to assert that they are not genuine. The telegrams are now being lithographed and will be given to the public in a day or two."

To all this, the republican national committee reply that the awful telegrams are genuine, and that "the numbers 150, 100, and 100" did "mean so many men"—repeaters sent from northern cities by the democratic managers, and whom the Florida republicans were warned of, and how many and by what steamers they were sent. There is little chance to wonder that the democratic committee "well knew" the state of Florida "was to be overrun by the repeaters of our large cities," when the committee intended sending the repeaters there themselves!

News and Notes.

Warren Longmire, who was acquitted of the murder of Freeman Wright, is now under arrest at Pembroke, Me., and is to be tried again.

Mary Harrington, of South Hadley, Mass., has secured a verdict of $3,400.83 against Michael McKillop of Holyoke, a liquor dealer who sold her husband liquor on which he got drunk, his intoxication resulting in his being killed by another drunken man whom he assaulted. The case is appealed.

At Irisburg, Vt., Thursday, as a five-year-old son of Lieut. Gov. Colton was climbing upon a loaded wagon, the horses started and a wheel passed over his body, killing him.

In Newark, N. J., last Thursday morning, Frank Lammens was found guilty of complicity with Margaret Meirehoeffer in killing the latter's husband at West Orange, N. J., a year ago. He was convicted last February, together with the woman, and obtained a second trial. Lammens was a tramp, who had been taken into the employ of Meierhoeffer, and became intimate with Mrs. Meierhoeffer.

George Carson, an Italian, was fatally shot at Rockland, Me., Friday, while trying to force his way into a house to find his wife, who had deserted him in Portland. He was shot by another woman, whose name is not given.

Since the collapse of the Woman's Bank and the sizable defalcation of the city treasurer's office, Boston has laid claim to be a city of consequence, and four ocean steamers left the docks on Saturday for English ports.

Ezra J. Clement, seventeen years old, grandson of Isaac Clement of Pocasset, Mass., who was robbed and beaten on Tuesday night of last week, was arrested on Friday morning, and confessed the crime, charging three other boys with complicity.

The man arrested in the cars at Chicago on the 21st inst. was James B. Doyle, son-in-law of Brad Foster, a notorious counterfeiter. He was arrested on suspicion of having counterfeit money in his possession, but none was found. The bonds found in his satchel, amounting to $210,000, prove to have been stolen.

Preston B. Caswell's barn at Barnstead was burned by an incendiary fire on the night of the 20th inst., with thirty-five tons of hay, two oxen, two cows, two hogs and a horse.

Political Notes.

The Charleston News, the leading democratic organ of South Carolina, says that state cannot be carried by the democrats without the hardest kind of work until election day.

The official returns from Indiana look better than the associated press reports did, for the republicans. Judge Porter's plurality (all the counties but three having returned their official reports) now foots up 7546.

Congressman Hill of Ohio, a democrat, says that Congressman A. J. Warner, democrat, now representing the 13th district of Ohio, failed of a re-election through the "329" nonsense. The house of a business man in Athens was daubed up one night, the democratic agents using lampblack mixed with oil, instead of chalk. This business man, as it happened, was a democrat, and quite an influential one; but he got so mad over the disfiguring of his buildings that he at once sent the republican county committee a check for $100, and worked so effectively for the republican ticket that the democratic majority of two years ago in that district was reversed, and a republican congressman chosen.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Leader' Fisher, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--

Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weakness peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

AROUND HOME.

A large number of men and teams were last week engaged in excavating and removing earth near the residence of Hon. Frank Jones, for the formation of an ornamental pond.

Mr. Lewis G. Davis had men at work last week digging a cellar on his lot corner of Broad and Highland streets, where he proposes to put up a residence. Mr. B. F. Webster has a house framed and partly boarded on Lincoln avenue, next the new house of Mr. James M. Salter.

Washington street was blockaded Saturday afternoon by half of a house, on its way from Livermore street to Puddle dock, where it and its other half are to be reunited and made into a dwelling. The building is the one purchased by Thomas H. Odion, Esq., of the Lord estate.

Thayer, Smith & Moulton, who have brought many shows to this city, and never a poor one, will furnish an evening's mirth at Music hall on Wednesday, when a coterie of musical and dramatic artistes will appear in "Fun on the Bristol," a piece which drew immensely in New York and at the Park theatre in Boston at the opening this season.

Five thousand dollars in Eastern railroad 4 1-2 per cent bonds were sold at the brokers' board in Boston on Saturday at 99 3-4; five shares of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire went at eighty-five. At auction, sixteen shares in the Kearsarge mills went at 51 1-4, and two shares in the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad for 19 1-2. Northern (N. H.) railroad sold at 105 1-4.

Mr. Burns, who lives on the J. E. Robinson place at the Creek, on Saturday put where they would do the most good —i. e., in our possession—a very handsome basket of apples of the Northern Spy variety, smooth, rich-colored, and averaging full ten and one-half inches in circumference. He assures us that they are but a fair sample of about ten barrels raised on his place this year.

On Thursday of last week Messrs. Baker and Underwood, of the Boston archery club, stopped in this city on their way home from Lewiston, Me., where they had been engaged in an archery tournament in which both took prizes, and shot the "American round" with Mr. Edwin R. Pearson of this city. It took them four hours to get through, the Boston archers winning the first and second ends, and Mr. Pearson beating on the last one,—there being three "ends" to the "American round," though rounds generally do not have any end at all.

As Officer Bessellievre was going his rounds at about three o'clock Saturday morning, he tripped over something at the junction of Daniel and Penhallow streets, which on examination proved to be the large flag that had been suspended from the democratic club room in the old custom house to the building opposite; the flag had been torn from the rope by the wind, and was carried to the station by the officer. The large flag at Canty's store on Christian shore was also badly damaged. The flags of the Boys in Blue, and at the headquarters of the two great parties, were hauled in early in the evening, which was a very sensible thing to do.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.

The Boston Commonwealth pays the following compliment to the present energetic and judicious management of this road: "The Eastern railroad, the past season, has won back a large measure of the regard which it formerly enjoyed. There has been infused throughout its organization an energy and intelligence that promise the most satisfactory results. It was always a pity to see this magnificent property robbed of its proper returns by incapacity, yet that must be the verdict on several administrations prior to the present. Now there are grasp and foresight, the provision of means to ends, the purpose to succeed by rendering the best to the patrons of the road, that have already achieved great results and afford the promise of more. The business of the summer season has been immense. It has been wisely handled, and uniformly satisfying so far as the purely summer section is concerned. The permanent patrons will fare equally well all through the year. The trains are run splendidly, and a continuation of the same policy for a definite period only is needed to allow the stockholders to realize dividends."

ANOTHER CHANCE.

Mr. Editor: Our democratic brethren claim that the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Indiana, will go democratic, and that Hancock and English will be elected—as they will be if they can carry the "solid south," with New York and New Jersey, and either one of the other states named. The "bet" is a recognized democratic argument, so I make the following offer: I will bet five dollars on each of the seven states named, that it will give its electoral vote to Garfield and Arthur; and five dollars that Garfield and Arthur will be elected—the bets (forty dollars in all) to be taken together. I have deposited forty dollars in the hands of I. P. Miller, who is authorized to act for me. REPUBLICAN.

NAVY YARD WATER SUPPLY.

The water main which leads from the springs at the navy yard to the head-house at the dry dock is being tapped, and a pipe laid from near the head-house, and on the north side of the store-houses, round to the water front just west of the steamer's landing-slip. This will allow all steamers to take water without the use of engines to pump it, as has hitherto been the case when watered at the yard. It costs the government a hundred dollars per year to supply the steam ferry boat Emerald with water, which is now taken on board at Portsmouth, where also are supplied the steam launches. When the pipe is laid the water will easily be taken on the boat, and a great saving of expense made. The supply of water from the springs on Seavey's island has been remarkably good, despite the protracted drought the past season. What is needed is a reservoir upon the highest elevation of this island, whence could be sent water supplies for all the houses and buildings upon the yard. Civil Engineer Endicott, we understand, has recommended this; as the yard of course must depend upon its own sources of supply, this would prove an economical as well as a convenient improvement.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The repairs upon the bridge between the navy yard and Kittery are nearly completed.

The Biddeford Times of last Friday says: "The Eastern railroad company are digging a large and deep well at their depot in Saco to supply their engines with water. Their old system of obtaining water was from a hole by the side of the road just above the crossing, but the supply from the hole giving out, a well of large dimensions was started yesterday morning."

Whooping cough is quite prevalent in Kennebunkport, so much so that one of the schools has been closed.

Water is so scarce in Kennebunk that one enterprising individual stands at his well-curb and peddles the precious fluid out by the gallon.

Typhoid fever is very prevalent in part of North Berwick. Four persons have died of it within a few days, and a number of others are very sick.

The schooner Horatio Nichols sailed from Neal's wharf at Kittery on Saturday. The schooner Margie, Capt. Hoyt, which was taken on the railway last week, has nearly completed her repairs.

John Seidell of Saco, the cigar manufacturer who was reported last week to be missing, was very much surprised when he found it out by reading the papers at his home, not having missed himself at all until that time.

Jamiaca island in this harbor, below the navy yard on the Kittery side, was sold in February, 1804, by James Sheafe, to Mr. Trefethen, for five shillings. The deed, which gives the size of the island as sixteen acres, did not reach the York county registry until 1867, when it was placed on record, probably as part of the chain of title to the Seavey's island property, purchased for the extension of the navy yard.

KU-KLUK WORK IN MAINE.

A murderous attempt was made at Cornish, York county, Me., Thursday night of last week, to wreck several large excursion teams. The republicans of Cornish had a torchlight procession that evening, and companies from Limerick, Standish and other neighboring towns took part. As the Limerick company, on their return, arrived at a bridge just outside of Cornish village, the glare of the torches in the leading vehicle (a large two-horse excursion wagon) disclosed the fact that every plank of the bridge had been taken up, and the team was brought to a stop with but a few feet to spare. Had the torches been extinguished before leaving Cornish the teams would have driven off the steep bank, falling into the water eight feet below, and great loss of life must have resulted.

Naval Gazette.

Naval Constructor Fernald, for a while at the Charlestown navy yard upon special duty, has returned to Philadelphia.

Chief Engineer B. T. Garvin, attached to the Portsmouth navy yard, is granted leave of absence for one month.

Chief Engineer S. D. Hibbert is ordered as senior member of a board to survey the high pressure cylinder of the Essex.

Lieut. Comdr. B. P. Lamberton is ordered to New York from Washington, on special duty.

Passed Assist. Engineer G. P. Hunt is ordered to hold himself in readiness for sea service.

Pay Director C. J. Emery is detached from the pay office at Boston, and ordered to settle accounts.

Naval Constructor Samuel Pook, attached to the Boston navy yard, is granted leave of absence for one month.

The leave of Lieut. D. G. McRitchie, commanding the Tallapoosa, is extended for one month.

That "Chinese Labor" Letter.

The democratic national committee had the pretended letter from James A. Garfield to "H. L. Morey, Employers' Union, Lynn, Mass.," lithographed and sent through the mails broadcast last week, with a fac simile of its envelope.

It was a bungling move on their part, for the handwriting is not even a fair imitation of Garfield's, and the writer did not know how to spell, nor to write decent English!

If any further proof were wanted to show that the letter is a base and contemptible forgery, it could be found in the statement of the postmaster at Washington, from which city the forgery was professedly mailed on the 23d of January, 1880. The cancelling stamp on the fac simile envelope is a close imitation of the stamp now used in the Washington office, proving that the forgery was executed since the 12th of April, as stamps of a new pattern were issued in that office on that date, the ones previously in use —and in use, of course, on the 23d of January—being wholly unlike the one on the envelope. The forger, ignorant of the change of cancelling stamps, counterfeited the new one!

While the democratic managers are dealing in "roorbacks" they should at least have the decency to see that the forgeries are passably well executed, and the lies told with some kind of a semblance of probability. This much a sound morality demands.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES

KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGARON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

TRADE MARK DAY'S Kidney PAD

A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT,

supplying a want which men of eminent ability have devoted years of study and experiment to find—a specific for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System—and from the time of its discovery has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of medical men and those who have used it; it has become a favorite with all classes and where ever introduced has superseded all other treatments. In short, such is its intrinsic merits and opportunity, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

are the most prevalent, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and insidious in their character, that persons often suffer for a long time before knowing what ails them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole body, pain in the back, side or joints, a weak, feeble, exhausted feeling, loss of appetite and dread of exercise, scanty and painful discharge of variously colored urine; inability to retain or expel the same, mistaken at times for that of the urine; and, when the disease is of long duration, there is much emaciation and general nervous prostration.

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the first and only infallible cure for every form of Kidney disease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectual in its operation than any other treatment. By using faithfully and persistently no case will be found so inveterate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

STRONGLY ENDORSED.

We have the most unequivocal testimony to its curative powers from many persons of high character, intelligence and responsibility. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," giving the history of this new discovery, and a large record of such remarkable cures, sent free. Write for it.

DAY'S KIDNEY PADS are sold by druggists, or will be sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of their price. Regular, $1.00. Special, for obstinate cases of long standing, $3.00; Children's, $1.50.

Address

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, take no other and you will not be deceived.

One great deed is Enough.

Watts invented the steam engine; Morse the electric telegraph; Whitney the cotton gin; and Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., discovered and prepared the "Favorite Remedy," which is worth more than all of them, because it saves life and cures disease. It purifies the blood, drives bile from the system, cures those delicate diseases peculiar to women, and is in short a sheet-anchor in every household. No other medicine equals it or can take its place. Don't spend your money in paying doctors, when for one dollar a bottle you can have the "Favorite Remedy" always on your shelf.

A house in Nottingham, owned by David Cilley, was destroyed on the 16th inst. by an an incendiary fire.

ABOUT BRIGHT'S DISEASE. Unquestionably, this fearful malady results from neglected inflammation and derangements of the kidneys, "slight troubles," which, if taken in time, are easily curable. The most trivial pain in back or groin should never be disregarded. Use Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, at once, and check the first symptom. But even when kidney complaints have assumed the final form of Bright's Disease, Hunt's Remedy may be relied upon to check the symptoms, and make a cure. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

The new state prison in Concord will be formally dedicated on Thursday, Oct. 28th, at noon.

The best blood remedy in the world is D. R. V. G. It will clear ladies' complexion of pimples, moth patches and sallowness. Try it. Guaranteed by your own druggists.

James H. Daggett of South Acworth was kicked in the left side of his chest by a vicious horse, as he was coming out of a stall in his stable, Oct. 17th; several of his ribs were broken, and he was otherwise seriously injured.

AN UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY.

Tell me, pretty one, where wil you sail ?
How shall our bark be steered, I pray ?
Breezes flutter each silken veil;
Tell me, where will you go to-day ?

"Oh ! carry me, then," said the fair coquette,
"To the land where never I've journeyed yet;
To that shore
Where love is lasting, and change unknown,
And a man is faithful to one alone,
Evermore."

Go, seek that land for a year and a day;
At the end of that time you'll be still far away,
Pretty maid—
'Tis a land unlettered in map or in chart,
'Tis a country that does not exist, sweetheart,
I'm afraid.

—Theophile Gautier.

Is Your Will all Right?

To the uninitiated, nothing would seem to be more simple or easy than for a man to express his wishes as to the disposition of his property in such a way that there could be no question as to his intentions; yet costly experience has taught the world that few things are more difficult, and that, in general, where there's a will there's a lawsuit. Even a lawyer of such recognized professional ability as the late Lord Westbury, left behind him a will which gave rise to endless complications and disputes; and Lord St. Leonards, who was proverbially minute in the precautions he urged upon others, left a will which became the subject of a long and costly litigation. In making a will, much mischief may be prevented by brevity, provided it be combined with lucidity; it is a mistake to suppose that many words or many repetitions tend to perspicuity; on the contrary, with these there is great danger of "elucidating into obscurity." All ambiguities should be avoided—"my black and white horses," we have learned, do not bear the same meaning as "my black and my white horses." Prepositions must be vigilantly watched; the smallest monosyllable in the English language, used or misused in a will, becomes a gigantic power, and "of" has before now been the cause of protracted and extensive lawsuits. Families have been thrown into chancery for years, their property shorn down to minute proportions, lawyers enriched, and succeeding generations beggared by the addition or omission of a single word. "Child," for "children," has been known to occasion the most harrassing litigation, and to have kept families who were brought up to large expectations, and who were entitled to colossal fortunes, starving for years under the law's delay. Above all, let the layman avoid legal terms, lest the law insist on giving them a legal interpretation of which the poor man never dreamed.—Appleton's Journal.

Life in Siberia.

Not every criminal who incurs the penalty of banishment to Siberia is on that account to be compassionated, if we may believe the accounts of Mr. Juchanzeff's sojourn in exile, recently published by a St. Petersburg journal. This eminent malefactor, known throughout Russia by the significant sobriquet of "The stealer of millions," has contrived to retain possession of the enormous fortune he acquired by high-class swindling. When condemned to deportation, he travelled to Krasnojarsk, the town selected for his penal residence by the imperial authorities, in princely style, attended by a suite of servants, carriages and horses, and it would appear that he has become the leader of fashion in that Siberian city. Tailors, perfumers and tobacconists advertise their wares under his name; he has been elected a member of the leading club, and is about tocontract an alliance with a young lady belonging to one of the first families of Krasnojarsk.

His dinner parties are attended by the chief official personages and local notabilities; ladies of the best society flock to his evening receptions, and accept the splendid presents with which he judiciously courts their favor and social countenance. It is proposed by a committee of Krasnojarsk "lionnes" to present him, upon his wedding-day, with a wreath of laurel, oak leaves, and roses. Altogether, for a convicted misdemeanant, undergoing sentence of banishment, he appears to be leading an uncommonly pleasant life. Not so the thousands of his dupes who, having trusted their fortunes to his keeping, suffered total ruin at his hands. In Russia, however, it would seem that it is not charity, but money, which covers a multitude of sins.—London Telegraph.

LIEBIG CO'S

COCA BEEF TONIC.

Highest Medals. Indorsed and Prescribed by Medical Men of all Schools.

Professor Duncan Campbell, M.D., LL.D., President Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, etc., etc., says: "It has more than realized my expectations."

Professor J. M. Carnochan, M.D., Professor of Surgery New York Medical College, says: "My patients derive marked and decided benefit from it."

Professor H. Gouillon, M.D., Physician to the Grand Duke of Saxony; Knight of the Holy Cross, etc., says: "It gives more tone than anything I have ever prescribed."

Sir Robert Christison, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Physician to her Majesty the Queen; President Royal British Association, etc., etc., says: "The properties of the Coca are the most remarkable of any known to the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic."

Valuable in malaria; ague; malarial debility; dumbague; low fever; marasmus; paralytic; spinal and nervous affections; female weakness; biliousness; liver affections; weak throats; palpitation and other affections of the heart; epilepsy or falling sickness; weakness of the voice of actors, singers, public speakers and clergymen; colic; flatulency; sea sickness; falling out of the hair; asthma; shortness of breath; wasting diseases; etc., etc. It is gratefully refreshing and restorative after prolonged mental and physical strain. It is pleasant and agreeable, and is readily retained by the most delicate stomach. Dr. McBean (British Medical Journal) found it of great service in consumption. Baron von Humboldt says he has never known a case of consumption or asthma among those accustomed to its use, and that they live to a great age, retaining their mental and physical faculties to the last (Cosmos).

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION!

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervous specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent. Its fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

Single numbers four cents each.

The bound volume for 1880, containing the first fifty-two numbers, will be ready early in November. Price, $3.00; postage prepaid. Cover for Young People for 1880, 35 cents; postage, 13 cents additional.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' LIFE-INVIGORATING SARSAPARILLA.

The Great Blood Purifier, Kidney Remedy and Mild Laxative.

WE, the undersigned, having used DR. CORBETT'S SHAKER SARSAPARILLA SYRUP in our practice, and having examined the formula by which it is prepared, would cheerfully recommend it to the community as the cheapest, safest, and most efficacious of all the preparations of Sarsaparilla in the market. Its highly concentrated state, (there being in a given amount of Syrup twice the amount of Vegetation Extract that any other contains, the care, skill, and cleanliness of its manufacture, are sure guarantees of its purity and effect. DEMOCRATIC FINANCIERING.

The debt of the overwhelmingly democratic city of New York is $137,279,419.87, more than six times what it was fifteen years ago.

REPUBLICAN FINANCIERING.

In the same time, under republican rule, the national debt has been reduced $800,000,000, or more than one-third.

The democrats want "a change" in the national government, in order that Tammany may honestly and economically administer the national finances.

Not a Party Issue.

The Concord People says, "The tariff is not a party question." But the democratic national convention of 1876 said it was a party question, and handled it in this manner: "We demand that all custom-house taxation shall be for revenue only;" and the convention of 1880 re-affirmed this doctrine, and declared for a "tariff for revenue only." If the tariff isn't a party question, what is the democratic party always meddling with it for?

"Poems by Edwin Arnold," author of "The Light of Asia." Boston; Roberts Brothers. This Boston publishing house issues the only edition of Mr. Arnold's works authorized by him in this country, and the author receives a copy-right upon all sales by this firm. These poems, prefaced by a kindly recognition by the author of the goodly reception of his "Light of Asia," are of peculiar beauty in subject and composition, comprising "the Indian song of songs," and many rare poems. There are also translations from the Greek poets, such as Homer, Hesiod, Sappho, Anacreon, Theocritus, etc., the whole making a volume of rare poetic worth, rich and melodious. For sale by M. Goodrich, No. 1 Market street, at $1.

Not a Beverage.

"They are not a beverage, but a medicine, with curative properties of the highest degree, containing no poor whiskey or poisonous drugs. They do not tear down an already debilitated system, but build it up. One bottle contains more hops, that is, more real hop strength, than a barrel of ordinary beer. Every druggist in Rochester sells them, and the physicians prescribe them."—Evening Express on Hop Bitters.

The jury at Haverhill, in the celebrated case of Robert W. Laird vs. the Connecticut & Passumpsic River railroad, brought in a verdict late Friday night, of $7,450. They were out five hours, but there was no disagreement except on the question of damages.

THERE is no affinity between cheap and useless beef, wine and iron tonics and the Liebig Co.'s Coca Tonic, a real restorant of strength and restorative of health.

Mr. Bridges and wife went to a political meeting in San Fernando, Cal., Friday night. While they were away their house took fire, and their four children, the eldest eleven years old, were burned to death.

This is to give notice that all citizens troubled with coughs or colds should at once procure a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It is for sale by all druggists and costs only 25 cents a bottle.

The Tariff and the Two Parties.

We affirm the belief avowed in 1876, that the duties levied for the purpose of revenue should be so discriminated as to favor American labor.

That is a portion of the platform adopted by the republican national convention at Chicago, June 2d, 1880. And it is exactly in the line of the proclaimed faith and actual practice of the republican party ever since it came into power, the existence to-day of the protective tariff being solely due to that party.

We demand that all custom-house taxation shall be for revenue only.—Democratic National Platform, 1876.

* * And a tariff for revenue only.—Democratic National Platform, 1880.

The republican national conventions of 1876 and 1880 distinctly declared in favor of so levying imposts as to protect American labor from competition with the pauper-paid labor of Europe, and the declaration was in accord with an overwhelming majority of the voters, the leaders and the papers of the party.

The democratic national conventions of 1876 and 1880 distinctly declared against so levying imposts as to protect American labor from competition with the pauper-paid labor of Europe, and demanded a tariff "for revenue only," and the declaration was entirely in accord with an overwhelming majority of the party papers and leaders—whether of the voters or not, the coming election will show.

British Manufacturers and American Workingmen.

It is not many months since the "Wood tariff bill," introduced in Congress by Fernando Wood of New York, and whose passage would have been a terrible set-back to the then reviving business prosperity of the country, was defeated by the solid republican vote, aided by the votes of sixteen democratic members. Even the agitation of the matter in Congress seriously checked the revival, and business took a fresh start the moment Wood's free-trade bill was laid on the shelf for that session. These facts are within very recent memory, and they indicate, though but faintly, what the result to the manufacturing interests would be were a free trade democratic Congress elected, with a President whose ideas of political economy are so crude that he pronounces the tariff question a mere "local issue."

The British manufacturers, the ardent advocates of free trade, earnestly desire the triumph of the democratic party, and to that end have circulated hundreds of thousands of free trade documents among the workingmen of the middle and western states. Does anyone suppose the British manufacturers are acting in the interests of the American workmen? or that a triumph which the British manufacturers so eagerly desire would advance the interests of American labor?

It is worth every workingman's while, before he deposits his ballot on the 2d of November, to consider seriously whether his own interests will be best served by voting for the democratic candidates and free trade, as the foreign manufacturers desire, or for the republican candidates and the policy which, as Gen. Hancock himself declares, "has been largely instrumental in building up our industries, and keeping Americans from the competition of the underpaid labor of Europe."

That Chinese Cracker.

The Manchester Union of Monday published the fac simile of the pretended Heathen Chinee letter of Garfield, and a glance at it shows at once that the democratic managers employed a very ignorant person to commit the forgery.

The forger not only has "companys" for "companies," and "religeously" for "religiously," in the body of the letter, but the signature is "J. A. Guifuld" or "J. A. Gaifold," it is hard to say which, the "l" preceding the "f" being the best-formed letter in the whole screed, and carefully dotted, while the rest of the signature is poor. Perhaps the Barnum committee intend to argue that a man who passes through college with brilliant honors and yet don't know how to spell such simple words as "companies" and "religiously," and who serves nine terms in Congress without learning how to spell his own name, is not fit to be President of the United States; but more likely the bungled signature was purposely bungled, to avoid a possible criminal prosecution.

The democratic managers fancied that in this contemptible forgery they had prepared a torpedo that would blow the republican party all to pieces, but it has turned out to be only a fire-cracker, and has burned their own fingers very badly through exploding too soon.

News and Notes.

The question of the relative proportion of the burdens of the government borne by the north and by the south, is answered in part for the last fiscal year, by the figures of the annual report of the receipts and expenditures of the post office department. This report shows that the profit of the postal service for the northern states was $2,531,751; while the loss for the southern states was $2,985,786.

A Maine paper says that "E. C. Allen, the well-known publisher at Augusta, has paid the past year for postage to the United States $137,000, which is one three-hundredth of the entire expenses of the postoffice department of the United States. The Augusta postoffice has netted to the government the past year a greater sum than the office at Brooklyn, New York."

Henry Williams, a negro, was hanged at Newton, N. C., Friday, for the murder of Harrison Kinder.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. B. F. Nourse, agent for the York mills at Saco, informs a local paper that after the Maine election the orders for goods drooped off visibly, but that since the elections in Ohio and Indiana there has been a noticeable increase of business. Here is good food for reflection, for voters.

Recently the vigilant correspondent of the Times claimed to have discovered the the administration endeavoring to bulldoze the pensioners, and his indignant exposure was copied into the New York World with head-notes of unusual severity. A pensioner of the war of 1812 was informed that payment of his pension was suspended! This was enough; the republican party was to stop all pensions of those who would not vote the republican ticket!! This was "a good enough Morgan" for some to believe, but what were the facts? The law under which the man was pensioned provided that officers and soldiers should draw a pension. This man applied, and probably stated that he was a private, and perhaps in the report of his case he may have been so returned by the examiner of the rolls to the pension office; at any rate, if a waiter he would not be entitled, and when the nature of his service was learned of course pension would cease. It has always been thus, and there is here and there a man who has never yet received this pension because he served only as a waiter, and as yet the law has not made pension for this service. The editors who were caught by this cheap drivel were perhaps not to blame for ignorance of the facts, but the gaudy mode in which they paraded the "outrage" shew that they went off at half-cock.

—Milkweed is becoming a valuable plant in California. In its young state it is used for food; while from its fiber and gum, overshoes can be manufactured.

—A California letter says pampas plumes of exceeding beauty are raised in Santa Barbara, and one gardener has this year sent 10,000 to Europe, where they met a ready sale. They preserve their floral beauty for a twelve-month, and even longer.

—Fashion is often the result of accident. A south end woman's hat blew off the other day and was run over by a horse car, a hack and a wheelbarrow, besides being stepped upon four times, before she recovered it. She had to wear it home, though, and seven milliners who saw it thought it was a new style and went to making hats with just such jams in them.—Boston Post.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&c

AROUND HOME.

"Fun on the Bristol" at Music hall tomorrow evening. See adv't.

Messrs. Samuel Adams & Co. lost a valuable team horse on Sunday from the epizootic.

A new gaslight in front of the court house sheds light on a spot where it was much needed.

The Piscataqua Association of Congregational ministers met with Rev. Frank Haley, pastor of the Seabrook and Hampton Falls Congregational church, on Tuesday, Oct. 19th.

A census of the Irish and French residents of Newmarket has been taken by Rev. J. T. McDonnell, from which it appears that there are 337 Irish and 359 French people in that town.

The board of inspectors of check-lists meet in the city building to-day, holding sessions from nine to twelve o'clock and from two to five. Let every republican voter see to it that his own name and that of his republican neighbor or friend are on the list.

The sea which rolled in on the coast, Saturday afternoon and evening, was very heavy, and immense quantities of kelp were piled up on the beaches, and the islands at the mouth of the harbor, though a large part of it was driven to sea again at high tide on Sunday, by the off-shore wind.

Messrs. Frank W. Rice and Woodbury Seavey of this city returned last week from a hunting trip of ten days, spent in the mountainous region to the northeast of Shapleigh, York county, Maine. The country they report as very picturesque, but thinly settled; and they had fine weather during the trip. They caught plenty of pickerel in the small streams, but did not fish for trout, which are reported as plentiful in that region. They shot sixty gray squirrels and six coons, bringing the skins home with them.

A decision affecting the Grand Trunk railway has recently been announced in the circuit court of the United States in session in this city. The railway was indicted by the grand jury of Coos county, for carelessly killing a person. The indictment was under the statute which imposes a fine of not over $5000, which goes to the relatives of the deceased. The railway company sought to remove, and did remove the case to the circuit court of the United States, where a motion to remand to the state court was filed. The motion has been granted by Judge Clark, who holds that the procedure is not one embraced in the class of causes removable from a state court to the federal courts. The case returns to Coos county, unless the railway should carry it to the supreme court at Washington.

A correspondent at Derry writes us that Hon. Samuel Rowe, ex-sheriff, and at present an attached of the house of representatives at Washington, has recently visited Derry and other towns in that part of Rockingham county, to appoint fiscal agents for Mr. Jones. Mr. Rowe, as our correspondent asserts, was extremely desirous of obtaining honest men to take charge of the corruption fund in those towns. He almost shed tears as he recounted the process of phlebotomy to which the candidate had been subjected in his congressional canvass, wherein Mr. Rowe served as disbursing agent. He (Rowe) deprecated this, and hoped Mr. Jones would not be sold out. He sorrowfully admitted that it was the weakness of "Frank," as he affectionally designated him, to be apt to believe that no matter how much other men could be cheated, the entire democracy were loyal and true to him; that he never was cheated, etc. Mr. Rowe regretfully admitted that Jones, like other candidates, was deceived in what he considered the enthusiasm of his political friends. His supporters wanted money. Rowe hinted that there was no difficulty in obtaining this, but Mr. Jones insisted that it should be put where it would do the most good. The republicans of Derry have sharpened the democratic appetite in that town for this pile, and on its arrival the unterrified will seek to be retained before any of the fund can be used for bounty to new recruits.

Mr. John F. Shillaber has begun the building of a shop for his business, at the corner of Bow and Linden streets.

The Portsmouth Musical Association will have a rehearsal in the vestry of the Middle street church on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

Many of the lumber-laden coasters which sought refuge in the lower harbor the latter part of last week, took advantage of the strong northwest breeze on Sunday, and proceeded toward their several destinations; but they started out under very small sail, all of them.

There is to be a great republican rally at Biddeford, Wednesday evening, at which uniformed clubs from many places will be present. An extra train will run from this city starting at about six o'clock to take down the Kittery clubs, and a delegation from this city. Fare for the round trip, 75 cents.

There was a collision between Mr. John W. Shannon's buggy and Mr. Frye's store team, the latter driven by Mr. John Foster, Saturday evening. Mr. Shannon was going toward the Creek, his boy being in the buggy with him, and the vehicles came together near Ex-Gov. Goodwin's residence, the shock throwing Mr. Shannon and his son over the dasher, both striking the ground heavily, Mr. Shannon being somewhat bruised and lamed, and the boy's head cut; the shafts and whiffletree of the buggy were broken, and the horse cleared himself from the wreck and ran off. The store wagon was not injured.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

MONDAY, Oct. 25th, 1880.

The court opened at half-past ten o'clock. The indictments against Willie Kirby, Fred Kirby and Jasper Smart, all of Portsmouth, for breaking and entering, were the first business which demanded the attention of the court. The defendants are small boys, about twelve years of age, of respectable parentage, and have heretofore borne good reputations. The court explained to them the serious nature of the charge against them, and then in consideration of their youth, etc., released them upon their promise of good behavior in future,—the indictments to stand open, but not to be brought forward unless the juveniles should persist in other criminal attempts.

J. S. Dearborn of Hampton, indicted for keeping liquor for sale contrary to the statute, was arraigned, and pleaded not guilty; trial assigned for Tuesday. Towle for respondent.

John G. Cutler and Cleaves Sargeant, both of Hampton and both indicted on the same complaint as Dearborn, were arraigned, and pleaded not guilty; trial Tuesday.

The first case to go to the jury from the criminal docket was State vs. Michael J. Griffin of Newmarket, indicted for an assault upon Jennie E. Stott of Newmarket, with intent to commit rape. The case was opened by the county solicitor about eleven o'clock, and was exceedingly short. Three witnesses were offered by the state, including Miss Stott; their testimony was very clear and direct. The defendant did not undertake to deny that he committed an assault upon Miss Stott at the time and place designated, but did deny the criminal intent alleged. He was the only witness for the defence, and undertook to explain the circumstances established by the prosecution as occurring in an innocent squabble. The defendant was ably represented by Patrick J. Quinn, Esq., a lawyer from Boston. The jury were charged at the commencement of the afternoon session, and retired to their deliberations about three o'clock. After being out about an hour and a half they returned a verdict of guilty, and the defendant was subsequently sentenced to be confined in the state prison at Concord at hard labor, for the term of five years.

State vs. Eugene I. Evans and Samuel D. Evans, both of Nottingham, for aggravated assault, was next in order. It appeared from the evidence that one John Evans, the father of the respondents, owned a field in Nottingham, and by deed dated October, 1877, conveyed it to one of his sons. That one Lydia Caswell had an execution against the said John Evans, and in July, 1870, levied under that execution and had set off to her the property in question. That on the 28th day of June last Samuel E. Caswell, son of the said Lydia, took three men and went to cut the grass in the field. When he arrived at the bars leading into it he was met by the two defendants, one of whom told him that he claimed the field as his own property under the above-mentioned deed, and that he had let it to the other respondent. They both resisted Mr. Caswell's attempt to enter. He took the bars down nevertheless, and proceeded to enter, when one of the defendants attacked him with a pitchfork, but with the assistance of one of his hired men he was able to frustrate the attempted injury. This was the assault complained of. The court instructed the jury that as the deed of the defendants was dated prior to the execution and levy of Mrs. Caswell, the legal title was in the defendants, and they were in possession. If what was done by the defendants was done for the purpose of defending their possession, and they used no more force than was necessary, then they are not guilty. The law does not permit them to use an unnecessary amount of force; it is a question of fact whether they did so or not. Verdict, not guilty as to each defendant. Harriman for state; Hatch, and Kusel of Dover for defence.

William Cullivan of Fremont and Thomas Plimpton of Portsmouth were naturalized. An evening session was held to admit aliens to citizenship; a large number were admitted, all of whom were minors when they came to this country, and consequently required no first papers.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

Mrs. James Sanborn presided at the gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening; at the close of the service, which was a good one, one name was added to the pledge-roll.

The bethel service Sunday afternoon was conducted by Mr. James Janvrin. Owing to there being but two vessels at the north-end wharves, but few seamen were present.

Services were held at the alms-house and jail; at the latter place a service of praise was held by friends from the Hanover street church.

Gospel meetings were held on Saturday and Sunday evenings at Newcastle, and on Sunday afternoon and evening at Dover point, by workers from this city. L.

TOO MUCH ENTERPRISE.

Some months ago a young man named Patrick A. Collins, about twenty-one years old, came to this city from Manchester, and after securing a house brought down from that city his furniture and a young wife, formerly Miss Annie E. Kenniston of Manchester. He claimed to be agent in this city for the Manchester Union, and did sell that paper, the Boston Globe and perhaps others, having a news stand in the building opposite the Unitarian church. He also purchased or agreed to purchase the entire local list of the Times. But he was shortly posted in the Union, and not long after in the Times, as unworthy of trust. Week before last he left this city, ostensibly to go to Boston to pay for his Globes, leaving his house rent unpaid, and his wife without money, food or fuel, and without credit to get either. After kindly assisting the unfortunate wife for a week or more, the owner of the house and his wife induced Mrs. Collins to return to Manchester; and on the afternoon of the same day Collins returned from his excursion, telling a queer story to account for his absence. He followed his wife to Manchester, leaving his furniture behind; but a day or two later a Manchester furniture dealer came down and carried it off, as it had not been paid for. On Saturday last Collins was arrested in Manchester on a warrant sworn out by John Murray of Lynn, Mass., charging him with bigamy in marrying Miss Lizzie Murray, eighteen years old, a daughter of John Murray, in Lynn on or about the 13th inst., (this was a day or two after he went off to pay for his Globes,) his first wife, whom he married somewhere about the middle of March last, being still living.

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weakness peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

This is fully exemplified in the demonstration that so common a pasture weed as smart-weed, or water-pepper, possesses medicinal properties which, when combined with essence of Jamaica Ginger and other efficacious vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. It constitutes a most potent remedy for bowel affections, as diarrhœa, dysentery, flux, etc. It is also an efficacious medicine for colds, and to break up fevers and inflammatory attacks, and for the alleviation of pain. Every family should keep a supply of it. 50 cents by druggists.

THE ANTI-CRUELTY SOCIETY.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Directors of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the following cases of cruelty were reported by the secretary and members of the board:

A horse used by a peddler at Hampton was thought to be in a starving condition. The owner was visited, and it was ascertained that the horse had been sold and taken to Amesbury, Mass. The agent of the Massachusetts society was informed of the fact by letter.

A man living at Hampton Falls was complained of for shooting his dog with bird shot, as punishment, for a fault in training, but the evidence was insufficient to indict him.

Complaint was made against a North Dunbarton man for ill-treating a bull; the evidence in this case was not sufficient to convict the accused.

Information was received that a galled horse, owned by a farmer, was employed hauling stone for the street department of this city. The case was investigated, and although the sore spot looked badly, and was under treatment for cure, the horse could work without pain as the harness did not touch the injured place.

Visits were made to several neighboring towns to see the owners of sick and worn-out horses, to make arrangements to have the horses mercifully killed.

One horse which the president found suffering severely with glanders, was shot through the head and died instantly.

A cat and two kittens, found in a hole under ground and suffering from long imprisonment and lack of food, were reported to Mrs. Pickering; a painless death soon ended their misery, by her direction.

A diseased and abandoned cat was taken from the streets and mercifully killed by another officer of the society.

The secretary visited Franklin to prosecute John Fury and Simeon P. Dustin of that town, for cruelly beating their horses. They are now each under indictment for the crime, and are awaiting trial.

The president reported that he had visited the northern part of the state to investigate cases of cruelty reported to him through the mail. Sufficient evidence was obtained to warrant taking the charges before the grand jury in November. A part of the expense attending the investigation was contributed by a friend of the society.

Mrs. Pickering reported correspondence with Mrs. Julia Lembeke, president of the Woman's Branch of the Copenhagen (Denmark) Society P. C. A., and the receipt of several periodicals printed in the Swedish language and published at Stockholm.

Dr. Whittier, who at the request of the society had made examination of a diseased cow whose milk had, until recently, been sold to families in the city, was introduced, and reported that the cow was afflicted with a sore of great magnitude and of a cancerous nature, which rendered the milk unwholesome and improper for food. He also stated that the flesh of such a diseased creature was not fit to use as food. The board instructed the secretary to refer the subject to the health committee of the city.

Mrs. Pickering, for the trustees, reported the following contributions to the permanent fund during the past month:

Sale of articles (private)	$10.00
Sympathy	2.00
Cash	7.00
For the Cause	5.00
Cash	2.48
Philip G. Peabody, Brooklyn, N. Y.,	25.00
Total	$51.48

A lady gave five dollars to the treasury, and a gentleman contributed ten dollars for the out-of-town work of the society.

An agent was appointed for the town of Rumney.

It was reported to the board that Rev. Mr. Fiske of Rumney was a zealous advocate of the cause, and had preached several earnest sermons in its behalf, from his pulpit. Also that the New Hampshire convention of Universalists at their annual session, recently held in this city, adopted a resolution recommending teachers of Sunday schools to impress upon the minds of their pupils the importance of kindness in their treatment of all dumb creatures.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act effectually."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is the most precious value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGABON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY? BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develops in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound, and one package will make six qts of medicine.

TRADE MARK. DAY'S Kidney PAD

A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT,

supplying a want which men of eminent ability have devoted years of study and experiment to find.—A specific for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System—and from the time of its discovery, has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of prudent men and those who have used it; it has become a favorite with all classes and where ever introduced has superseded all other remedies, in short, such is its intrinsic merits and superiority, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

are the most prevalent, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and insidious in their character, that persons often suffer for a long time before knowing what ails them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole body; pain in the back, side or head, a weak, exhausted feeling, loss of appetite and dread of exercise; scanty and painful discharge of variously colored urine; inability to retain or expel the urine; minute shreds or casts in the urine; and, when the disease is of long duration, there is much emaciation and general nervous prostration

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the first and only reliable cure for every form of Kidney disease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectual in its operation than any other treatment. By being faithfully and persistently so case will be found so inveterate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

STRONGLY ENDORSED.

We have the most unequivocal testimony to its curative powers of from many persons of high character, intelligence and responsibility. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," sent free, gives full details of discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, sent free.

DAY'S KIDNEY PADS are sold by druggists, or will be sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of their price, $1.00. Special for peculiar and obstinate cases of long standing, $2.00; Children's, $1.50. Address

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now offering in place of our genuine article, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them, not for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, take no other and you will not be deceived.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nerve specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. F. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. HEAL THYSELF

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 16, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

THE New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People became a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly treat in the way of entertaining stories, poems, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profusely and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that fiction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

CENTERVILLE, TENN., Oct. 13th.

Mr. Editor: As politics is the order of the day I thought possibly a political letter from the heart of a democratic state would not be unacceptable to your readers. To use a slang phrase, politics is red hot in this state. There are in the field four candidates for governor of the state. They are; Alvin Hawkins of Huttingdon, the republican; John V. Wright of Columbia, regular democratic nominee; S. F. Wilson of Gallatin, the democratic bolters' nominee; and R. M. Edwards, from Bradley county, the greenbacker.

The democratic party is badly split, and both sides are desperately fighting each other. The state debt question is the rock upon which they have foundered. The platforms of both conventions indicate well the tenets of the two factions. The followers of Wright are termed "State credit" men, "High tax" men, "Railroad ring" men. On the other hand the Wilson devotees are called "Bolters," "Low tax" men, "Repudiationists." In short, the Wright party claims the state owes the debt, and that they are willing to settle with the bondholders at as low a rate of interest and at as few cents on the dollar as possible. The Wilson men claim that the state only owes about $2,400,000 in bonds, and that the railroads which have had the benefit of the bonds should pay for them. As I have said before, the wings are fighting manfully to gain the supremacy. The Wright men have the money and speakers, and they are using them in every possible way to win in this contest. Candid men of both wings are agreed as to the result of this fight, namely; that Alvin Hawkins, the republican nominee, will be the next governor of this state. While clearly forseeing this, they will make no concessions the one to the other. Their only aim now is to see who will come out second in this race. Wilson, although the bolters' candidate, has a great personal following. The Wright party are making desperate efforts to lead Wilson, and if possible to beat Hawkins.

At the first of the contest Wright, Wilson and Edwards started out together to canvass the state, and conjointly to discuss the issues of the day. They fulfilled together their appointments in west Tennessee. Just as they were to commence middle Tennessee the democratic committee withdrew Wright and sent him out to canvass with Judge Hawkins, who was going it alone and making too much of a favorable impression upon the people to suit the democratic managers. The Wilson party now claim that he (Wilson) drove Wright from the track by his arguments, which Wright most emphatically denies. There is no doubt but that the Wilson party are making voters by the above charge.

According to all appearances this county will go strong for the Wilson party, and I would not be surprised if in this district or even town he will have the majority. Three of the candidates have been here and discussed the state debt question, namely: Judge Wright, Hon. S. F. Wilson, and Col. Edwards. As there are only about one hundred republicans in this county, Judge Hawkins has probably concluded to let them fight it out by themselves. A week from today United States Senator J. G. Harris is to speak here, in favor of Judge Wright; and on the Monday following the other United States senator from this state, Hon. James E. Bailey, is to speak on the same side of the question. Senator Harris is one of the old governors, and signed some of the bonds that enter into the state debt question; and he will probably pour hot shot into the Wilson party.

It seems quite queer to hear democrats admiring the republicans for their quality of sticking solidly by their candidate, and "cussing" the democratic party for not hanging together—whereas in the north the opposite is the custom. Many a rich revelation develops itself during this fraternal quarrel, which will be rich meat for the republicans.

In my next will tell something in regard to congressional and legislative matters. A. B.

STRAFFORD BOW LAKE, N. H., Oct. 25.

The friends of temperance have organized a total abstinence society at Bow Lake. Fifty-four have signed the pledge, and we hope they will keep it, and many more join their ranks.——Some of the friends of Rev. A. E. Boynton met with him at Jewell's hall last Friday evening, and gave him a pound party. There were a good number out, and he got a good "pounding," some "ringing" and a sachel, and a pleasant march among the young. The reverend gentleman made a few appropriate remarks, and the company went to their homes well pleased with their visit.——A great many wells in this region are dry: some that were never known to go dry before. OCCA.

YORK, ME., Oct. 25th.

Mr. Gazette: In your last issue reference is made to me in a very complimentary manner, and I thank you very much for it. Your correspondent is correct as far as he goes in relation to my "boss" pumpkin; he did not exaggerate in the least, which is rather unusal in such matters—nor did he tell the whole story. I do not claim to myself or the soil or manure one-half the glory of that "boss" size. It was the seed—nothing like having good seed when you plant. It was the pure, plump, prolific Garfield seed that produced it; none of your pompous, strurting Hancock stuff, that goes up today on the tariff, and, turtle-like, draws his head into his shell and goes back on himself to-morrow. No, no! nothing of that sort ever found in Garfield seed. May all my neighbors understand this.

Another Democratic "Roorback."

The presidential campaign now near its end has been conducted on very different principles by the two great parties, as the most superficial observer must be aware.

On the republican side it has been a campaign of principles—the advocacy of the principles of the republican party, as opposed to the lack of principle of the hard-money, greenback, free-trade democratic party, which has for twenty years denounced the soldier in politics, and ended by nominating as its candidate for President a man who is nothing but a soldier.

On the democratic side the campaign has been one of mud-slinging. Having no principles to advocate, their "best bolt" has been reckless slander and vituperation of the republican candidates, latterly descending to the most outrageous mendacity and forgery, under the auspices of Barnum and the democratic national committee.

The democratic managers in this state, while adopting the Barnum tactics concerning the national ticket have not fully carried them out in the state canvass; but it appears they have at last became satisfied that Mr. Jones' cause is so desperate that only a vigorous course of falsehood and slander will save him, and the following affidavit, which fully explains itself, is an earnest of what they can do in the lying line when they once set out:

I, John G. Cutler, of Exeter in the county of Rockingham and state of New Hampshire, on oath state that my attention has been called to a special dispatch to the Boston Globe from Kensington, N. H., which reads as follows:

"KENSINGTON, N. H., Oct. 25. Lewis E. Gove, the chairman of the democratic town committee, states that he is reliably informed that Charles H. Bell, the republican candidate for governor, paid a rum bill of $36 on the morning after the Grant torchlight procession at Exeter last Tuesday night. It appears that John Cutler runs a rum-shop in Exeter. His bar-tender, named David Smith, is a citizen of this place. That evening Smith dealt out the liquor to a select few. The next morning, it is said, Smith took the bill of $36 to Bell's house for collection. Bell, it is alleged, examined the bill and paid it himself. As Mr. Bell claims to be a temperance man, this does not look very promising for his prospects with the prohibitory class."

I am the owner of the saloon above referred to, and pronounce the above dispatch unqualifiedly false in every particular. JOHN G. CUTLER.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE,
Rockingham ss., Oct. 26, 1880.

Personally appeared the above named John G. Cutler and made oath that the above affidavit signed by him is true. Before me,

S. H. MARSHALL, Justice of the Peace.

From this time until the end of the campaign a prolific brood of lies against the republican candidates may be expected; but they will fail of their desired result.

"Beaten Out of Their Boots."

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald, in a despatch dated Oct. 23d, says:

From the best information that can be got here, it is believed that the republicans will carry New York by 40,000 majority, Connecticut by 5000 majority and New Jersey by 10,000 majority. Republican defeat is now deemed impossible in any northern state. If there was any doubt about it, the democratic managers have settled it against themselves by their recent extraordinary proclamations and performances. It is the universal verdict that such utter idiocy was never before displayed by men pretending to the ability requisite to manage a national political campaign, as has been shown by Barnum and his associates in putting forth the bogus Garfield letter and the easily-explained Sewell telegrams. They have made themselves, their party and their campaign a laughing stock for the whole country, and have secured for themselves not only defeat, but defeat of the most disgraceful kind. The truth is that the whole bottom dropped out of the democratic campaign when Indiana was carried by the republicans, and since that time the democratic managers have simply been making a noise to conceal their lack of resources. They are beaten out of their boots. They realize the fact, and they are merely trying to keep up a little excitement until after election day, when they will retire from public view. The presidential contest is as thoroughly settled to-day as it will be two weeks hence. The democratic campaign has been simply no campaign at all. The republicans have managed with consummate ability, and they are carrying everything before them. Democrats here privately admit that the prospects for their party are worse than they have been since the war. Nothing can possibly set them on their feet again, except Grantism or a renewal of the corrupt administration that prevailed previous to 1876.

One great deed is Enough.

Watts invented the steam engine; Morse the electric telegraph; Whitney the cotton gin; and Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., discovered and prepared the "Favorite Remedy," which is worth more than all of them, because it saves life and cures disease. It purifies the blood, drives bile from the system, cures those delicate diseases peculiar to women, and is in short a sheet-anchor in every household. No other medicine equals it or can take its place. Don't spend your money in paying doctors, when for one dollar a bottle you can have the "Favorite Remedy" always on your shelf.

A curious feature of the London stock market is that there is considerable talk of importing anthracite coal from America for burning in London, so as to cure, or rather prevent, the proverbial "London fogs." So seriously has this proposition been discussed that it has sent up Philadelphia & Reading stocks very appreciably.

MESSRS. F. W. KINSMAN & Co., Gents.: I have sold your Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam over my counter for nine years, and I must say that during an experience of twenty-six years in the retail drug business I have never sold anything for coughs, colds, etc., that has given such universal satisfaction as your Adamson's Botanic Balsam. I recommend it above all others.

Yours truly, S. CHICHESTER,
357 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The supreme judicial court of Massachusetts has rendered a decision in three cases where parties claimed a title to property by tax deeds from the collector of Boston. The plaintiffs were purchasers of tax deeds, and brought writs of entry against the defendants, owners of the property, to be put in possession. The supreme court orders judgment for the latter on the ground that the tax deeds were invalid. A number of similar cases are still pending, and the city of Boston will be obliged to pay back to purchasers of tax deeds the amounts paid by them prior to Feb. 8th, 1878.

WHEN MEN DESPAIR. There are diseases which, when they once get fairly "seated," cause the stoutest hearts to quail and give up to despair. Such a malady as Bright's Disease of the Kidneys is enough to take the heart out of the most hopeful of us all. Fortunately, for this terror a cure has been found. It is demonstrated that Hunt's Remedy, the Great Kidney and Liver Medicine, will cure Bright's Disease, and all kidney, bladder, liver and urinary diseases; and it is the only medicine that does.

Last Saturday night the store of the Sovereigns of Industry, at Rochester, was broken into, and $20 in money, and four revolvers valued at $30, were stolen. Entry was made through a cellar window. Sunday morning two lads named Bell and Orne were missed from their homes, and it is believed that they were concerned in the robbery. Police officers made a search for them and traced them as far as Milton Mills, where the trail was lost and the officers returned to Rochester. Descriptions of the missing lads have been telegraphed to the neighboring cities and towns, and their early arrest is looked for.

A farmer told us the other day that he would not be without Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup if it cost five dollars a bottle. It must be a wonderful remedy. The price is only 25 cents a bottle.

A citizen of Lynn during a recent trip to England had his eyes opened on home matters in a rather curious way. He was travelling in company with an Englishman, who was exulting in the prospect of the election of Hancock. The American expressed some doubt of it, but the Englishman was confident, and said that Hancock meant free trade. "Give us Hancock and we will have free trade, and with free trade we will give you six months to run your factories. We can hire men for fifty cents a day, and we can shut up all your factories in six months." The American does not look upon such a state of affairs with complacency, and is hard at work to disappoint his English friend and sympathizer.—Lynn Item.

An Example of Benefit Arising From a Club.

In large mercantile establishments in New York and other large cities the many employees naturally indulge in all the amusements that are going. The passion for investing in lotteries is not an exception—but the means is limited by the smallness of their wages. Hence the club system, where all the excitement is furnished of the ownership of many tickets held at an expenditure of but a single dollar. Of course the amount won is not as great as when the single dollar holds the entire winning ticket. Mr. John F. Sass, a prominent business man in the employ of Messrs. Benton, Faulkner & Bird, No. 35 Dey Street, New York City, an eminently respectable and large firm of iron fittings, acted as treasurer for a club of six in the September drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, and having mailed a dollar to M. A. Dauphin, No. 319 Broadway, New York City, or to same person at New Orleans, La., received $1,350 as a recompense. Next!

AROUND HOME.

Hon. Charles H. Burns addressed a large audience at Music hall, Tuesday evening, presenting the issues of the campaign in a very effective manner, from the republican stand-point.

The Boys in Blue, Garfield and Arthur Battalion and Winchester Cadets go to Biddeford this evening to participate in a grand republican rally and torchlight procession. Train leaves the Eastern depot at 6:45 o'clock. Fare for the round trip, 75 cents. Organizations will muster at their several armories at 6:30 o'clock.

Justice Safford of the district court in Salem, Mass., has made a report in the inquest held to inquire into the death of Clara E. Trask and Aaron E. Stevens, killed by the cars on Sept. 21st in Beverly. After reviewing the case he finds "that the Eastern railroad company was guilty of negligence in not instructing Mr. Bisson, the flagman, to flag the train, thereby contributing to the accident."

The temperance (republican) candidate has paid his rum bill, amounting to $36, for one night.—Times.

Brother, that is a lie; and we have not the slightest doubt that you knew you were lying when you wrote that item. "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor" is a command binding on professed Christians and acknowledged and reckless sinners alike; and there is no exception made even in favor of democratic editors.

Mr. George Lane, proprietor of the White Hart hotel, having on Tuesday morning published a notice that he would wager any sum from $5 to $100 that the electoral vote of New York will be given to Hancock and English, the wager for the largest sum named was promptly taken up by Mr. Hiram C. Locke, who counts that hundred as sure to drop into his treasury before many days. There are several other republicans who could be induced to put up money on the same terms, with very little persuasion. [Since the foregoing was in type we have been informed that Mr. Lane on Tuesday took five bets of $100 each, level, on the New York election.]

The Times on Tuesday evening published the fac simile which convicts the democratic national committee of committing forgery, or at least of endorsing it and endeavoring to profit by it, in their desperate efforts to stay the tidal wave which is to engulph their party on the 2d of November. As the cut was sent out by the democratic committee, the Times was of course unable to "edit" it any, any was obliged to print the clumsy and ungrammatical arrangement of phrases, the ignorantly-mispelled words and the purposely-misspelled signature, just as they were written by the forger. It is an excellent campaign document for the republicans.

We learn that the "Star club" are projecting a course of five lyceum entertainments to take place during the winter, and have secured some first-class talent. The peculiar feature of this course is to be the novel plan of selling tickets only to those who are invited as subscribers, the price to be only one dollar and fifty cents for reserved seats, and one dollar for admission without reserved seat, for the entire course. This system of popular prices was tried last season at Dover, and at the opening sale the demand for tickets exceeded by hundreds the seating capacity of the city hall. As the course is to be filled by the Redpath Bureau we venture to predict a very large sale as soon as the programme is announced, which as we understand is to include James T. Fields, the Redpath Concert Co., Prof. and Mrs. Geo. W. Blish, G. P. Smith, the great impersonator, and an opera, with perhaps Miss Janie Savage, the reader and elocutionist, said to be considered the handsomest lady in New England. We expect to announce the complete arrangements soon after election.

ALAS! HE'S DEAD!!

The democrats were on Tuesday circulating about the city a handbill purporting to contain "Garfield's Chinese letter" to the alleged "H. L. Morey" of the alleged "Employers' Union, Lynn, Mass." The alleged letter is not the fac simile, nor is it, as the handbill falsely states, even "a true copy" of the forged document, for the words "companies" and "religiously" in the body of the letter, and the name "Garfield," are correctly spelled on the handbill, which they were not in the forgery as sent out by the democratic national committee.

The handbill states that the death of H. L. Morey "recently occurred!" No doubt of it. There can be no question that the man to whom James A. Garfield (whose mastery of the English language and whose purity of style are acknowledged to be superior to those of any other man in public life) wrote a letter containing the meaningless, awkward and uncouth phrase "the question of employees," and with some of the simplest words in the language, and even the signature, misspelled, is dead—very dead indeed.

Mr. Barnum must hurry up another roorback at once, and be more careful as to its details and probability than he was over this "Chinese" letter, or he will find on the 3d of November next that his party is as dead as the late lamented Morey.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

TUESDAY, Oct. 26th.

Edgar N. Russell of Portsmouth, indicted for keeping a disorderly house, retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty; and was sentenced by the court to pay a fine of fifty dollars and the costs of prosecution, and to stand committed until paid.

J. S. Dearborn, John G. Cutter and Charles Sargeant, all of Hampton and all indicted for keeping liquor for sale contrary to the statute, severally retracted their pleas of not guilty, and pleaded unwilling to contend. Sentence reserved.

No other cases being in readiness for trial the jurors were excused until Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, when the trial of the civil list will be resumed, probably commencing with the case of John C. Lewis vs. Eastern Railroad Co.

"FUN ON THE BRISTOL."

This evening, at Music hall, Jarrett & Rice's combination will present "Fun on the Bristol." This piece was played in Portland on Monday evening, and of it the Advertiser says:

A better entertained audience never was. The piece is crammed so full of quips, quirks, pranks and merriment that the audience was kept in an almost continual guffaw for two hours and a half. As a dramatic composition the piece is a trifle. There is a Mrs. O'Brien, twice widowed and quite rich, with a daughter by each husband; a music teacher, who pretends to be an Italian count, but who is an adventurer of about as bad a sort as possible; a retired sea captain and his bashful son; and two colored people—one male and one female, with their "pickaninny." The main part of the fun comes in the second act, the scene of which is in the main saloon of the sound steamer Bristol. * * * With nine actors who manage to sustain thirty characters it is impossible to give detailed criticism within reasonable limits. In a general way it may be said that Jarrett and Rice were fortunate in making up a company so evenly balanced, each member of which is first class, both as singer and actor. * * Other good things were a burlesque on secret societies, and the playing by the Bristol's band on such instruments as jugs, feather dusters and scrubbing-boards. On the whole, a more enjoyable performance is rarely witnessed.

TWO JURY DECISIONS.

In the supreme court last week two cases were decided by juries, and we think them worthy of special mention as illustrating the glorious uncertainty of trial by jury. The cases referred to were suits against the city of Portsmouth, to recover compensation for accidents concerning which it was alleged the city was at fault, in one case a young woman receiving injuries from which she may never recover, and in the other a horse being killed and a carriage and harness injured. We know nothing of either case beyond what appeared in our court reports, which show that the juries found the city "guilty" in both cases as charged, and awarded to the owner of the team $250, and to the young lady $50! We know but little of "the law," so-called, and we are glad of it; and the more we know of it, the more are we glad that we don't know any more of it. And the more we see and read of that "bulwark of our liberties," trial by jury, the more are we convinced that it is an antiquated old humbug, which though of value centuries ago is now but a drag upon the administration of justice, and often a shield for the criminal. Either the city was in fault, or it was not, in the case of the young lady mentioned; if the city was in fault, it was adding insult to injury to award the complainant such a petty sum as damages; if the city was not in fault, it was an outrage to award any damages at all.

CHARLES L. FROST.

Mr. Charles L. Frost, a native of this city and for many years a resident of New York, died in that city on Monday.

Mr. Frost in early life went to New Orleans, where he was in active business for many years as a merchant. He was married on the 19th of October, 1846, to Miss Caroline A. Bailey, daughter of the late Thomas D. Bailey, and subsequently engaged in business in New York, in which city he has resided for many years.

Mr. Frost had of late years been in poor health, and a fortnight since returned from Europe, where he had visited noted springs in the hope of impairing his physical condition. When on the way home he was taken sick in England, and remained in a prostrate condition during the voyage to New York, where he arrived on the 12th inst. in an enfeebled state.

Mr. Frost was extensively known in mercantile circles. He was a good business man, generous to a fault, strong in his friendship and in his regard for his birthplace and the companions of his early youth. He was of fine physique, and would attract attention any where from his personal appearance when in the vigor of his manhood.

His remains will be brought to this city for interment.

BOYS IN BLUE

Will rally for Biddeford this (Wednesday) evening, at the Armory, at 6:30. This is probably the last out-of-town parade during the campaign; let it be a full one. Tickets for round trip, 75 cents each, may be had of the officers. Bring dippers.

By order Maj. Com'd'g,
WM. O. SIDES, Adjutant.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Deputy Sheriff Stewart seized about one hundred gallons of liquor at the Eastern depot in Saco, early Sunday morning.

The republicans had a flag-raising at York corner on Saturday evening, 23d inst. It was a complete success. Most all the towns-people were there to hear the band and speakers. Pleasing and telling remarks were made by Representative-elect Daniel B. Harris, Doctor John C. Stewart of York, and Mr. Dunbar of Kittery.

New Publications.

"New Bed-time Stories," by Louise Chandler Moulton, author of "Bed-time Stories," "Some Women's Hearts," poems, etc. Boston; Roberts Brothers. Mrs. Moulton is the wife of Mr. Wm. U. Moulton, whose business career commenced with an apprenticeship in the office of the Portsmouth Journal. For several years he has been a prosperous newspaper publisher in Boston. Mrs. Moulton seems to have the faculty of ranging from the difficult and delicate art of writing stories for the young folk, to the more stately role of the magazine contributor. She has enlarged views and broad conceptions as a writer, and in her three European visits she has not been idle in her observation of the ways of the world. Her writings have always been eagerly read. They evince a healthful tone, not abounding so much in the "goody good" as some writers for young readers insist upon thrusting into their pages, but with a lively interest, as if the pleasures and pains of life should be properly and truthfully depicted for the young as well as the old. The new bed-time stories are none the less interesting than her former books have proved, and many an affectionate mother will judiciously select this book and carefully lay it aside until the Christmas holidays' arrival, when it shall gladden the heart of her little one, who will enjoy again and again the perusal of or listening to these charming sketches, so well adapted for their entertainment. The book has several illustrations by Addie Ledyard. For sale by M. Goodrich; price $1.25.

The numbers of Littell's Living Age for the weeks ending October 16th and 23d respectively, contain the following articles: The English Precursors of Newton, and Bright's Edition of Pepys's Diary, Edinburgh; A Contemporary Narrative of the Fall of the Bastile, Fortnightly; Hydnotism, Nineteenth Century; Overbury's Characters, Fraser; The Bayard of the East, Blackwood; Life in the Homeric Age, and a Letter from Constantinople, Temple Bar; Poetic Parallels, Chamber's Journal; Life in a Bernese Village, and The Victory of Chili, Spectator; "Pilgrim's Progress" Note Paper, Saturday Review; A Glance at the Jews of England, Examiner; Quinine Production in India, Pall Mall; and in the way of Fiction, "A Really Good Case," "A Little Bohemian," and an instalment of "Adam and Eve," with the usual amount of poetry. A new volume began in October. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,300 pages a year,) the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, including the extra numbers of the latter, both postpaid. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

Blackwood's Magazine for October has been republished by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay street, New York. The number is well worth spending an hour or two over, both for its own merits and as a relief from the exciting topics of the election. The serial "Dr. Wortle's school" is continued; "Bush life in Queensland" is concluded, and the bad people die and the good ones are married. "The Enchanted bridle" is founded on an Ayrshire legend of a compact with the devil, and its result. "The roof of the world" describes the plateau in central Asia 15,000 feet above the sea; it was explored by Lieut. Wood in 1838, and the present interest attached to this region makes the article very acceptable. Other very good articles are "Lois; a sketch," of the sort for which Blackwood is famous, and "Society and the salons before the French revolution," indicating the influence of these salons of the eighteenth century on the terrible dramas which were enacted at its close. The periodicals reprinted by The Leonard Scott Publishing Co., are as follows: the London Quarterly, Edinburgh, Westminster, and British Quarterly Reviews, and Blackwood's Magazine. Price, $4 a year for any one, or only $15 for all, and the postage is prepaid by the publishers.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES

KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says: "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGADON, of Berkshire, says, "One package has done wonders for me. In completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

"May God Bless and Reward You."

The physicians hear such a benediction sometimes, and it is very sweet even to a professional ear. Mrs. S. A. McIlwain, of Forgnsonville, N. Y., wrote thus to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., after his "Favorite Remedy" had rescued her from the borders of death. In her spasms and sinking spells her friends often thought she was already dead. Women are often afflicted in this way. The trouble is commonly in the blood. Lose no precious time, dear women, but get the "Favorite Remedy" of your druggist, or enclose one dollar to the doctor at the above address.

In New York, Sunday morning, a notorious character named Hamilton Brock fatally shot Edward Lyons, a noted burglar. Lyons entered Brock's saloon with the avowed intention of killing him, and fired several shots at him before Brock returned fire.

D. R. V. G. is guaranteed by all druggists, to cure dyspepsia, or money refunded.

The New York Herald rehearses the facts in connection with the political situation in New York, and reaches the conclusion that democracy is doomed to certain defeat.

Charles Hartman, Toledo, Ohio, says: I know it cured me, and I hope others similarly troubled with pain in the chest may be helped by the "Only Lung Pad" as I have. See Adv.

A despatch from Paris says that fifty students who had left Maiden in a yacht to witness the departure of the mail steamer from Amsterdam for India, ventured too near the steamer, and their yacht was buffeted against its side so violently that twenty-six students were thrown overboard, of whom twelve are missing.

Nervous and general debility overcome by Malt Bitters because nourishing and quieting.

The Signal Service.

Gen. Drum, acting chief officer, has finished the annual report of the operations of the signal service. During the year ending June 1880, eight officers and eighty-two privates have been instructed at the school at Fort Whipple, Virginia. Printed bulletins have been issued daily. The synopsis and indications have been furnished to the press thrice daily. Two thousand eight hundred and thirty-five cautionary signals have been ordered in anticipation of 105 dangerous storms of this summer; 8.34 per cent were verified; 435 storm warnings were telegraphed to the Dominion Telegraph company, Canada. There are 247 signal stations of observation, from which 181 telegraphic reports are daily received. Systematic reports of river observation are made daily. There are now in operation 610 miles of seacoast telegraph. These lines reach from Sandy Hook to the mouth of Cape River. During the year, 263 miles of telegraph were constructed in Texas and the Indian territoy, and 798 miles in Montana and Dakota, making the total length of frontier telegraph lines constructed and operated by the signal service 4908 miles.

"Our Poetical Favorites; a selection from the best minor poems of the English language. Third series, by Asael C. Kendricks, professor in the University of Rochester." Boston; James R. Osgood & Company. This is the third of a series of poetical writings of English and American poets, many of whom have come into literary celebrity since the first volume appeared ten years ago. It abounds in sentimental and humorous verses, going through a wide range of authorship, from Shakespere to Bret Harte. In addition to its table of contents, it contains an index of first lines and an index of authors represented in the three volumes, with the dates of birth and death of deceased poets, and location of the living. The last-named index is of especial value, particularly to young readers. The book is elegant in appearance, full of well selected poems, and attractive in every respect. Published at $2.00; for sale by M. Goodrich, Market street.

Calf skins 10 and 12c per lb, or from $1 25 and $1 75 per skin.

Lamb skins 75c and $1.10 each.

Sheared sheep skins 50 cents.

The cattle trade for the past week has been dull and prices upon all grades fell off from 1 @ 2c per lb from those quoted last week. The cattle from the west were not of so good a grade as those in at the previous market. There has been but a few lots of texans sold at our highest quotations, prices for the larger portion ruling at 4¾ @ 6c per lb live weight. There was quite a good supply of store cattle brought in from Maine and a few good lots of cattle. The beef markets for six days past have been very dull, and common grades of beef have been selling slow at low prices in the Boston market.

Working Oxen—We quote sales of 1 pr 3 year olds, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2460 lbs, $90; 3 ox cattle, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight, 2600 lbs, $108 per pair; 2 pr 4 year old steers, girth 7 ft 3 in, live weight 2300 lbs, for $85 per pair; 1 pr girth 6 ft 3 in, live weight 2400 lbs, $95; 1 pr girth 7 ft, 2800 lbs, $135; 1 pr girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $120; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3000 lbs, $124; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 10 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $111; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 4 in, live weight 2300 lbs, $96.

Milch Cows—There were but a few good milch cows in market, most of them being of a common grade. We quote sales of 1 cow at $57.50; 2 do at $41 each; 2 do at $62, and 3 for $112; 2 springers at $36; 3 milch cows for $147; the lot; 2 cows and calves at $89; 1 springer at $37.

Store Cattle—There were a fair supply among the cattle from Maine. We quote sales of 6 three year old steers at $36 per head; 12 two year old steers $15 to $20 each; 4 yearlings at $10 each; 5 two year old heifers $25 each; 6 two year old steers at $19 each; 7 three year old steers at $29 each.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from Maine were consigned to butchers to slaughter. Western sheep and lambs were owned by butchers and cost landed at Brighton from 4½ @ 5½c per lb live weight.

Fat Hogs—Prices have declined from 1 to 1 of a cent from those of our last quotations, closing this week from 5¼ to 5¾ per lb live weight landed at the slaughter houses.

A DISCOVERY BY ACCIDENT,

supplying a want which men of eminent ability have spared no pains and expenditure of time to find—a specific for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs and Nervous System—and from the time of its discovery has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of medical men and those who have used it. It has become a favorite with all classes and where ever introduced has embarrassed all other treatments. In short, such is its intrinsic merits and superiority, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS

are the most prevalent, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and insidious in their character, that persons often suffer for a long time before knowing what ails them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole body; pain in the back, side or loins, a weak, feeble, exhausted feeling, loss of appetite and dread of exertion; scanty and painful discharge of variously colored urine; inability to retain or expel the urine; minute shreds or casts in the urine; and, when the disease is of long duration, there is much emaciation and general nervous prostration.

THE ONLY CURE.

We say positively, and without fear of contradiction, that DAY'S KIDNEY PAD is the first and only infallible cure for every form of Kidney disease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complicated and more fatal form of disease than any other treatment. By using faithfully and persistently no case will be found so inveterate as not to yield to the powerful remedial virtues.

STRONGLY ENDORSED.

We have the most unequivocal testimony to its curative powers from many persons of high character, intelligence and responsibility. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," gives the history of this new discovery, and a large record of most remarkable cures, with full directions. Sent free.

DAY'S KIDNEY PADS are sold by druggists, or will be sent by mail (free of postage) on receipt of their price, $1.00. Special rates for wholesale cases of long standing, $5.00; Children's, $1.50. Address,

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., TOLEDO, O.

CAUTION. Owing to the many worthless Kidney Pads now seeking a sale on our reputation, we deem it due the afflicted to warn them. Ask for DAY'S KIDNEY PAD, take no other and you will not be deceived.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1876.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1846, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. THE New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at the port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION, Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 30 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo specialist, and therefore knows whereof he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. HEAL THYSELF

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

An Illustrated Weekly—

16 PAGES.

SUITED TO BOYS AND GIRLS OF FROM SIX TO SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

Volume II. commences November 2, 1880.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Within a year of its first appearance, Harper's Young People has secured a leading place among the periodicals designed for juvenile readers. The object of those who have the paper in charge is to provide for boys and girls from the age of six to sixteen a weekly sheet the aim of which is entertaining, pecuniary, historical sketches, and other attractive reading matter, with profuse and beautiful illustrations, and at the same time to make its spirit and influence harmonize with the moral atmosphere which pervades every cultivated Christian household. This important design they endeavor to carry out by combining the best literary and artistic talent, so that diction shall appear in bright and innocent colors, sober facts assume such a holiday dress as to be no longer dry or dull, and mental exercise, in the solution of puzzles, problems, and other devices, become a delight.

TERMS.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE Per Year, Postage Prepaid, $1.50.

Single numbers four cents each.

The bound volume for 1880, containing the first fifty-two numbers, will be ready early in November. Price, $3.00; postage prepaid. Cover for Young People for 1880, 35 cents; postage, 13 cents additional.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers will not be paid for if they account without the express order of Harper & Brothers.

CANTERBURY SHAKERS' LIFE-INVIGORATING SARSAPARILLA.

The Great Blood Purifier, Kidney Remedy and Mild Laxative.

WE, the undersigned, having used DR. COR. BETT'S SHAKER SARSAPARILLA SYRUP in our practice, and having examined the formula by which it is prepared, would cheerfully recommend it to the community as the cheapest, safest, and most efficacious of all the preparations of sarsaparilla in the market. Its highly concentrated state, there being in a given amount of Syrup twice the amount of Vegetation Extract that any other contains, the care, skill, and cleanliness of its manufacture, are sure guarantees of its purity and effect. T. R. CROSS, D. M. DE W. BUCK, M. D., S. BUNTON, M. D., J. S. ELLIOT, M. D., JAMES BARB, M. D., Z. COLBURN, M. D., M. G. J. TEWKSBURY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. FRENCH, M. D., JOSIAH CROSBY, M. D., A. G. GALE, M. D., JAMES A. GREGG, M. D.

Those who have failed to be benefitted by other Sarsaparillas should not fail to make a single trial of the Blood Purifying and Life Invigorating Compound of Shaker Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp, and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, combined with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

Prepared by the CANTERBURY SOCIETY OF SHAKERS, Shaker Village, N. H., and signed by Thos. Corbett, its inventor. Sold everywhere. Inquire for Corbett's Shaker Sarsaparilla.

Enclose Stamp for Shaker Manual.

DESTINY.

Three roses, wan as moonlight and weighed down
Each with its loveliness as with a crown,
Drooped in a florist's window in a town.

The first a lover bought. It lay at rest,
Like snow on snow, that night, on beauty's breast.

The second rose, as virginal and fair,
Shrunk in the tangles of a harlot's hair.

The third a widow, with new grief made wild,
Shut in the icy palm of her dead child.

—Mrs. Barbauld.

Congregational Churches of New Hampshire.

Of the Congregational churches in this state there are sixty-four with pastors, seventy-seven with acting pastors, seven with licentiates and thirty-nine vacant, a total of 187. The whole number of church members is 20,134; males, 6,286, and females, 14,848—a loss of 413 from last year. Members of Sabbath-schools, 22,276, with an average attendance of 15,777. Contributions for the year, $33,791.24. For value of church property 153 organizations report, (not including parsonages and funds,) $925,994; ninety-four parsonages, $160,250; funds, $119,880, making a total of $1,286,824. In parish expenses 158 churches report $164,893.11. The average salary for ministers in 154 churches, including rent of parsonages, was $838.87. There are in the state six Presbyterian churches, with a total membership of 908.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

The "Granite Monthly" for November has a fine steel plate likeness of Ex-Judge Asa Fowler of Concord, with a sketch of his life, by the editor; a trip to Cardigan, by Ex-Gov. Harriman; and a sketch of Paymaster Thomas L. Tullock, Jr., U. S. N., also appears. Lt. Dodge writes as to the ancestory of Gen. J. A. Garfield, and other papers make this an interesting number.

Andrews' Bazar for November is filled with the freshest and best fashion news of the day. While the masculine element is laboring under the excitement attending the Presidential struggle, the ladies are always on the qui vive to know the latest freaks of Dame Fashion, and Andrews' Bazar is one of the best exponents we know of upon this subject. In a handsome supplement sheet the proprietor makes some favorable offers to his subscribers, both new and old. Those of our readers unacquainted with Andrews' Bazar should send ten cents for the November number.

Profitable Patients.

The most wonderful and marvelous success in cases where persons are sick or wasting away from a condition of miserableness, that no one knows what ails them, (profitable patients for doctors,) is obtained by the use of Hop Bitters. They begin to cure from the first dose and keep it up until perfect health and strength is restored. Whoever is afflicted in this way need not suffer, when they can get Hop Bitters.—Cincinnati Star.

—Two ladies went to see Clara Morris. In one of the most affecting passages of the play, when the whole house was hushed to stillness, one lady, who had been using her opera glass attentively, remarked to the other, "Pooh! The trimming on her dress is nothing but Hamburg."—Boston Courier.

Suicide is not more sinful than neglecting a cough. For only 25 cents you can buy a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and be saved from death.

—At breakfast a remarkably light omelette is served, at a moment when every one is engaged in a deeply interesting conversation. The omelette is neglected, and begins to settle down from its appetizing airiness, to the enormous disgust of the little daughter of the house, who exclaims: "O ma, do hurry! The omelette is eating itself!"

D. R. V. G. is guaranteed by all druggists, to cure dyspepsia, or money refunded.

—The editor of the Methodist says: "We have a certain pleasure in reading an angry letter. It does us no manner of harm, and we are glad to have served as a sort of lightning-rod to carry safely to earth the dangerous passion in which it originated."

Charles Hartman, Toledo, Ohio, says: I know it cured me, and I hope others similarly troubled with pain in the chest may be helped by the "Only Lung Pad" as I have. See Adv.

—Miss Clara Louise Kellogg, while in Vienna, recently, received from some unknown admirer a bird of exquisite plumage in a cage of gold. It was sent anonymously to her hotel.

Vitalizing, nourishing and stimulating, without intoxicating, are Malt Bitters.

—An event, probably without precedent in any railway annals, has just happened at Provins, in France. A passenger train leaving Paris at 5:30 P. M., and due at Provins 8:25 P. M., arrived safely at its proper destination, but on getting down to let the passengers out of the cars the guard was astounded to find neither passengers nor passenger cars. They had forgotten to hook the cars on in Paris!

That "Ram Bill."

We have already published the affidavit of John G. Cutler of Exeter, giving the lie direct to the statement telegraphed from Kensington to the Boston Globe, to the effect that David Smith, Mr. Cutler's bar-tender, on the morning of Oct. 20th took Hon. Charles H. Bell a bill of $36 for liquors drank at the saloon the previous evening by republicans, which bill Mr. Bell personally examined and paid. On Tuesday, Oct. 26th, David Smith went before Justice William B. Morrill of Exeter and made oath to the following statement:

I, David Smith of Kingston, depose and say that I never took a bill of thirty-six dollars, or any other amount, to the Hon. Charles H. Bell on the morning after the torchlight procession in Exeter, October 19th, for payment for liquors sold by me or for any other purpose; that I did not sell any liquor in John G. Cutler's saloon that night; that I was not in Exeter on the morning of the 20th; and I never, to my knowledge, spoke with Mr. Bell in my life, and that the whole story is false from begining to end. DAVID SMITH.

Lewis E. Gove, chairman of the democratic town committee of Kensington, on whose pretended authority the dispatch was sent to the Globe, was interviewed on the subject on the 26th, and positively denied having authorized any such statement.

It has been discovered that Harold F. Blake of Kensington was the person who sent the dispatch to the Globe. This Blake was arrested about two years ago, and delivered to Maine officers on a charge of stealing a horse and buggy in that state. The democratic managers evidently know how to select the proper kind of tools to run a campaign of slander with.

What Wood's Bill Would Do.

In a speech delivered at Rome, N. Y., Oct. 15th, by Hon. Ellis H. Roberts, he said:

A revision "of the tariff for revenue only" and without discrimination in favor of American labor, would be the payment of subsidies to foreign manufacturers. It would be a movement to equalize wages here with the lowest prevailing in the Old World. Strike down the duties on iron and its manufactures one-third or one-half, as proposed by Fernando Wood's bill now pending, and you can import the pay-roll of Belgium and Germany, or put out the fires in our furnaces and forges. Official figures report average weekly wages as follows:—

	Belgium.	France.	Germany.
Bricklayers	$6 00	$4 00	$3 45
Carpenters	5 40	3 42	3 19
Blacksmiths	4 40	3 45	3 91
Laborers	3 00	3 00	2 00
Shoemakers		4 75	4 22

These wages are for France and Germany one-third of those in this country, and for Belgium are much less than one-half. A statement apparently authentic is that Krupp's steel and iron works at Essen, Germany, pay $2,600,000 in wages annually, or, on a basis of 300 working days in a year, an average of 70 3-5 cents per day for the whole force, or some $4.21 a week.

It was Wood's bill that Frank Jones and 112 other democrats voted for in the last Congress.

International Arbitration.

A compact between the United States of Columbia and Chili has just been signed, in which it is agreed to submit to arbitration all questions in dispute between the two republics. In case the arbitrators should not agree, the matter is to be referred to the president of the United States. The question or disputes referred to have arisen out of the present war, Chili claiming that Colombia should not have permitted the transportation across the isthmus of munitions of war for Peru. It is stipulated in the compact that all the other nations of America shall be invited to become parties to it, so that in future all international disputes may be settled by arbitration, thus avoiding hereafter the possibility of such another war as that now existing between Peru and Chili.

News and Notes.

A peculiar accident came near a fatal result the other day at Foxboro, Mass. A painter, working on a church steeple, was lowered from the spire in a box. As he was going down his clothes caught on the clock pointer, but the box went on down. He was left hanging, but caught a stray rope and saved himself.

Lewis Erwin, of Gallipolis, Ohio, died recently of wounds inflicted by his father and mother. The father is quite an old man with a violent temper. A quarrel arose about a pane of glass. The father shot the son, and it is said his mother struck him with a club after he was down. Both parties are in jail.

The mercantile agency of Dun, Wiman & Co., in their statement of the failures in business throughout the United States during the third quarter and first nine months of 1880 and 1879 say: In the third quarter of 1880 there were 949 failures, with liabilities of $12,121,422, as compared with 1,262 failures and $15,275,550 liabilities in 1879. During the first nine months of 1880 the failures numbered 3,476 and the liabilities amounted to $45,010,185, while there were 5,320 failures in the same period of 1879, with $81,054,940 liabilities. The report adds: "During the first nine months of 1879 the liabilities of failures were much less than one-half those of the preceding year, being only $81,000,000 in 1879, as compared with $197,000,000 in 1878, and, as will be seen, the casualties for the past nine months exceed by little over half those of 1879 Should this ratio of improvement continue to be shown during the next three months the failures for the year will be less, as compared with the number engaged in trade, than at any period since we have undertaken the compilation of these figures."

John V. Farwell, senior partner of the firm of Farwell & Co., in Chicago, has filed a precept for libel in the circuit court there against the proprietors of the Chicago News, laying damages at $50,000. The libel is not specified in the writ, but is understood to be an article in a recent issue of the News reviewing the early history of Farwell's business life.

At Pittsfield, Mass., Oct. 26th, Michael O'Hearn attacked his wife with a pocket-knife, stabbing her several times, and then drowned himself.

At Camp Sheridan, Nebraska, Oct. 23d, there was a murderous row about a woman of infamous character, in which a man named Collins shot himself dead while drawing a revolver, a man named Joyce was fatally wounded by one Page, and Sergt. Green of the 5th U. S. Cavalry was shot in the leg while trying to disarm Page, and will die. Several other men were wounded. Page was arrested.

The Maine board of inspectors of prisons and jails have requested the judges presiding at the courts in Hancock and Waldo counties not to sentence prisoners to confinement in those jails, deeming them unfit for such purpose.

The Midvale Steel works at Nicetown, Pa., were sold Oct. 25th. The only bidder was William Sellers, who purchased the works for $450,000, for himself and others.

A Leadville despatch says the body of Michael Hendricks, said to be a nephew of Gov. Hendricks of Indiana, was recently found murdered three miles from there. The murder is supposed to have been committed by two McCullom brothers, young Hendricks having been implicated in the murder of their brother some time ago, and acquitted.

When apples were unusually plentiful in 1878, 333,000 barrels were sent abroad, but it is calculated that this year no less than 500,000 barrels will be shipped to Europe, where the crop is a failure. The prices in Europe are double what can be obtained here.

An Albany telegraph operator has patented a cipher-writer, which consists of four sets of the alphabet complete, and a set of figures arranged on the outer circles of a disc. Its combinations are illimitable, and however well one man may understand the instrument it is impossible for him to discover by himself what combinations have been used by others.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have acquired the well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&c

AROUND HOME.

George B. French will open his new store, Nos. 19 and 21 Market street, on Wednesday next, closing in the Tuesday previous during removal.

A capital sketch of "Capt. Bob." Shillaber, in the window of Montgomery's music and art store, under the CHRONICLE office, attracts a good deal of attention.

Fred P. Jones, Henry B. Buzzell, John H. Yeaton and James W. Locke were on Wednesday evening of this week drawn as jurors from ward two, to report on Wednesday, Nov. 3d.

The railroad commissioners of Massachusetts, accompanied by President Phillips and the board of directors of the Eastern railroad, made their annual tour of inspection of the road on Tuesday of this week.

Schooner Grace is loading apples at Dover point for Ellsworth, Me. The schooner is chartered by Capt. Murch, late of schooner A. J. Williams, who purchases fruit of Newington and Dover point farmers. The Grace brought a large number of barrels to be filled with cider.

We have it from undoubted authority that the mission of Ex-Sheriff Rowe to some of the towns in this county was solely to hasten the return of the canvass required by the democratic committee, and if any one understood that any different object was sought, it was an error. We are glad to know that the reports as to the cost of getting voters to the polls and distributing documents have been overstated.

Mr. T. H. Chellis having announced in the Times of Oct. 26th that he had "one thousand dollars which says that the electoral vote of New York will be cast for our candidates, Hancock and English," and that "any republican in the state of New Hampshire wishing to take this bet can see me at any time before" Oct 30th, did not have to wait long for a customer, his thousand being matched by another thousand of contrary belief within a very few hours of the time the challenge appeared.

The Newington farmers say that since people have been induced to drink ale, the sale of cider has materially decreased in this vicinity, and that a market can be found only at the eastern part of Maine, and even there at prices which hardly pay the farmer for his labor. Apples have been shipped at Dover point on the cars for East Boston, whence they are sent to England. Mr. Nathaniel Wiggin has bought in the section round the point several car-loads of apples for shipment to Liverpool and London.

Mr. Editor: The Times of Oct. 27th quotes the law in relation to checklist meetings. Allow me to advise it to go a step further, and quote the law in regard to naturalization—and advise the democratic leaders to be careful and not spur their dupes on to taking false oaths that they came to this country when under eighteen years of age, when the contrary is known. Already two such cases are noted, and the victims will soon find it is too late for them to make amends, and beyond the help of their pretended friends. REPUBLICAN.

The Newburyport Herald of Oct. 27th says: "Walter Greenough, of Groveland, while camping out on Plum island point on Tuesday morning, discovered on the beach near the lighthouse, the legs and lower part of the body of a man. Medical Examiner Snow was called and viewed the remains, and found in the pocket of the trowsers, a card on which was written the name of Charles W. Hanscom. It will be remembered that on the 7th inst. James F. Cilley and Charles W. Hanscom started out on a fishing trip in a small boat, which was upset on the bar, and Hanscom was drowned. He was a native of Portsmouth. The deceased was unfortunate, in his last days. He was the young man who was attacked by highway robbers on Greenleaf street in the summer when the circus was here, and narrowly escaped with his life, and in a few weeks after he was drowned on the bar." This item evidently refers to William Hanscom, formerly of this city, who was drowned at Newburyport under the circumstances and on the date mentioned.

REV. JOSEPH FULLONTON.

Rev. Joseph Fullonton of Raymond, who was so severely burned by falling into a fire in a pasture recently, on the 25th inst. submitted to the amputation of his left arm. His system could not rally on account of his advanced age and the extent of his injuries, and his death occurred on the night of the 26th inst. The deceased was well known throughout this portion of the state. He is the author of a history of the town of Raymond, and of some other works. His frequent letters to this paper under the nom de plume of "Uncle Joseph" will be remembered. He was formerly a prominent preacher of the Free Baptist denomination, but several years ago suffered the loss of his voice, since which time he had preached infrequently. He had been for many years clerk of the Rockingham Quarterly Meeting of Free Baptists, and for upwards of thirty years did not miss attending a single session of that body. His funeral occurs on Friday.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 27; Batchelder J.

Joseph Dennett, for drunkenness, was assessed $9.90, fine and costs; for not having $9.90 he was ordered to the county farm.

THE PROHIBITION TICKET.

The so-called prohibition ticket nominated by Mr. Wm. H. Dodge of Dover to assist in the election of Hon. Frank Jones, the great brewer of this city, as governor of the state, has been filled out. Mr. George D. Dodge of Hampton Falls, brother of the gentleman who is running the prohibition side-show in Jones' interest, is the candidate for governor; Mr. Joseph Pettigrew of Portsmouth is the candidate for state senator from the 23d district; and the Rockingham county ticket is as follows:

County commissioners, Abraham A. Towle of Exeter, Charles E. Sleeper of Rye, James Sanborn of Portsmouth;

Solicitor, Charles N. Adams of Epping;

Sheriff, Thomas Wiggin of Portsmouth;

Treasurer, James Janvrin of Portsmouth;

Register of deeds, Daniel Rowe of Newmarket;

Register of probate, Charles T. Wiggin of Portsmouth.

Most of the gentlemen on the county ticket are well known here, the Messrs. Wiggin, (father and son,) Janvrin and Sanborn being all reputable citizens of this town. Mr. Charles N. Adams of Epping, the candidate for county solicitor, we believe is not a lawyer at all—which does not matter in the least, if so, as the object of the nominations is not to elect the nominees, but to aid in the election of the democratic candidates if possible. Mr. Daniel Rowe of Newmarket is the candidate for register of deeds. One Daniel Rowe of Newmarket was discharged from Portsmouth jail on the 16th of March last, having been confined there from the 31st of October, 1879, for receiving stolen goods, the same Daniel Rowe having previously served a term in state prison. Can he be the prohibition candidate for register of deeds?

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 27th.

James Gilchrist was indicted this term for an assault on an officer, and having pleaded that he would not contend was allowed to go on his personal recognizance, with the understanding that if he gave any further trouble of a like nature he would be sentenced on this indictment. This morning when the court opened James appeared in the dock, it having occurred that the temptation of liquor was too strong for him, and he succumbed to its influence. In view of this fact the court sentenced him to be confined for six months in the common jail, and to pay costs of prosecution.

John C. Lewis and Priscilla R. Lewis vs. Eastern Railroad Co., an action to recover damages for injuries received by the said Priscilla by reason of the carelessness and negligence of the defendant under the following circumstances: In September, 1879, she started to drive to Newington, and immediately after crossing the track of the defendant's road at Vaughan street, her horse became frightened by reason of a locomotive of defendant's, which was standing near the depot, blowing off steam in a noisy manner; and in consequence the horse tipped the wagon, and threw Mrs. Lewis out, and she was greatly bruised and wounded about the base of the spine and the hip, to the damage of two thousand dollars. The jury viewed the premises in the forenoon, and the plaintiffs introduced several witnesses in support of their claim, including themselves, Mrs. White, Dr. N. L. Folsom, Dr. S. C. Whittier and Mr. George Lane, the examination of whom occupied until late in the afternoon.

"M'LISS."

It is with pleasure that we announce the coming of the talented and fascinating actress, Miss Annie Pixley, who has made such a success the present season, playing to 22,000 people in Boston in fourteen nights. She will appear on the evening of Nov. 4th, in her great creation of "M'liss," in which she has achieved such a triumph. "The character is one admirably suited to the powers of the actress, and whether as the fascinating waif of the mountains or as the accomplished young lady she carries with her her audience. Laughter and tears succeed each other swiftly, as the humorous and pathetic touches are successively given. Miss Pixley is supported by a company of rare excellence, and every character is rendered in a truthful manner. The drama is a true picture of life in the mountains of California, and is of intense interest throughout." Such an attraction can hardly fail to fill the house. Full particulars will soon be given.

"The Invisible Empire." Many of our readers are familiar with that powerful and fascinating romance entitled "A Fool's Errand." The Invisible Empire, a new work by the same author, Judge Albion Tourgee of North Carolina, presents an authenticated record of events contemporaneous with the action of "A Fool's Errand." The incidents here given will enable the reader to decide for himself as to the accuracy of the conclusions at which the auther has arrived, and judge with greater certainty of the remedy proposed. The book gives a concise history of the rise, scope and purpose of the "Ku-Klux Klan," which in its perfected organization constituted the "Invisible Empire." Its mysterious warnings and masked sentinels terrorized the superstitious fears of a simple-minded race. Orders were executed with a lightning severity that struck terror to the hearts of the whole negro population of the south, and thwarted the purpose of the reconstruction acts. The illustrations include specimens of ku-klux notices and disguises, copies of the constitution and by-laws of the klan, with copious extracts from sworn testimony in the congressional archives. Hon. Reverdy Johnson, when appearing as counsel for the perpetrators in South Carolina, horrified by the testimony adduced in the course of the trial, threw up his hands and exclaimed, "It is simple savagery for which there is no excuse nor palliation." The author throughout is dignified and impartial. His purpose is to invite scruting and awaken thought, not to present argument nor to engage in controversy. The past is dead. But the future presents increasing responsibilities which must be met in the light of history. The concluding chapter is a masterly recapitulation, with appended conclusions which will prove of lasting value to all those who are called upon to grapple with a "solid south." Says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, "If this book does not move men and start the patriotic blood of the nation into warmer flow, then we have mistaken the American people." The agent, Mr. J. H. Adam, is now canvassing this city for the book, which is sold only by subscription.

The republican state committee has issued a document charging Sherburne R. Merrill of Colebrook, the democratic canditate for state senator in the Coos district, with being a smuggler. The document states that at two o'clock in the morning on Oct. 20th, 1879, 800 pounds of wool was seized in Merrill's store at Colebrook for a violation of the internal revenue laws, the wool having been smuggled frem Canada; and at the same time 783 pounds more of wool was seized close by, as it was being unloaded. Mr. Merrill's firm got out of trouble by paying the appraised value of the wool, and all expenses incident to the seizure.

—Sarah Bernhardt is on her way from Havre in the Amerique. She is accompanied by Mr. Jarrett, and fourteen tons of baggage. Among the many interesting works of art which she brings with her is a statuette of herself, which she has lately completed. She is represented standing amid various symbols of art, in an extremely close-fitting costume. Her state-room is elegantly fitted up.

SCIENCE WINS!

A Splendid Surgical Operation--Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lith olomy, removal of stone from the bladder, one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts has suffered years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint.

RECOVERY. Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures constipation of the bowels, and all those diseases and weakness peculiar to females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists at $1.00 a bottle.

Dow for Garfield.

Gen. Neal Dow, the prohibition candidate for President, has "declared" for Garfield and Arthur.

Being asked as to a prohibitory electoral ticket in Maine, General Dow answered that "to put such a ticket in the field at this time would be simply to aid Hancock and injure Garfield." It would really, in Gen. Dow's judgment, be "disloyalty to prohibition to insist on running a ticket for the benefit of Hancock and the solid south democracy."

Now we shall have the democratic press denouncing Gen. Dow as a traitor to the temperance cause.

Why Republican Congressmen Should be Elected in New Hampshire.

The following, which we take from the correspondence of the Boston Post, was written, as will be seen, to urge upon democrats in Massachusetts the importance of voting the democratic congressional ticket in that state; but the arguments given apply with at least equal force to the voting of the "straight ticket" by republicans, in New Hampshire and every other state.

As election day approaches, the necessity of retaining the fourth district in democratic hands becomes clear and pressing. Boston democrats are not alone interested in this result, for it is no exaggeration to claim for it a national importance. A careful study of congressional districts throughout the country shows that the next house will be nearly equally divided. The democrats in the present house have but seventeen majority over the republicans, and but one majority over all. The elections of this year have greatly reduced, if they have not entirely obliterated, that majority, and it will be necessary to hold every democratic district in the elections of November, to insure the election of a democratic speaker in the next Congress.

Small gains are expected in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and two or three are hoped for in other states; but the action of the readjusters in Virginia makes a democratic district or two doubtful in that state, and the probable closeness of the contest everywhere renders the general result so doubtful, that it is of the first importance that no district shall be lost that can be carried. It must be remembered that the speaker of the house names all the committees, and that he fixes the policy of the government for his term of two years. Is there any personal consideration strong enough to induce a democrat, worthy of the name, to take upon himself the responsibility of turning the government over to his opponents for two years?

Railway Taxation.

Suits are now pending against the Maine Central railroad, brought by Attorney General Henry B. Cleaves, of Maine, for the first installment of the tax assessed by the governor and council under the act of 1880. The amount of the tax which fell due July 1st is $11,000. The suit was entered at the October term of the supreme court. It is claimed on the part of the companies that the act is unconstitutional. It is expected that the constitutionality of the act will be submitted for the determination of the full court, so that further legislation may be had at the next session of the legislature, if found necessary.

Writs have also been issued directing the attachment of the goods and estate of the Boston & Maine railroad to the amount of $56,000, and the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad company to the amount of $24,000. One-half of this tax became due and payable to the state on the first day of July last, and the balance on the first day of October, and payment of the same has been refused by the above named corporations. The writs are returnable at the January term of the supreme judicial court.

News and Notes.

Buffum's planing mill and box factory at Lynn, Mass., Marshall's mill, Allen & Boyden's paper box factory, the Railroad house and Newhall's coal sheds, with several thousand tons of coal, were burned on Thursday. Loss estimated at $85,000.

In New York, Oct. 27th, the indicted owners, captain and engineer of the ill-fated steamer Seawanaka, and the steamboat inspectors, appeared in the United States circuit court, criminal branch, before Judge Benedict, and withdrew their pleas of not guilty to the charges of manslaughter with which they are charged. Their counsel announced their intention to move to quash the indictments, and the court said it would fix a day for hearing the motions.

Professor Watson, of the Washburn Observatory, in the grounds of the Wisconsin State University at Madison, Wis., is building an observatory of a novel kind. It is generally known that from the bottom of a deep well the stars can be very plainly seen at bright noonday. Upon this principle Professor Watson is conducting his experiment. A cellar twenty feet in depth has been sunk below the surface of the ground at the bottom of the slope; over this a fine stone building is erected. At the top of the hill, which is sixty feet above the bottom of the cellar, powerful reflectors are to be placed to throw rays of light down a large tube which ends in the cellar, where the observer will be stationed.

Schooner Gen. Lyon, of Dennis, was on fire off Harwich, Mass., Oct. 23d. She was from a mackerel voyage, with one hundred and twenty-five barrels of mackeral on board, and with her cargo was nearly ruined. Loss about $8000. The vessel was insured to the amount of $1000 in the Westfleet company. Capt. Isaiah Cahoon was master of the ill fated vessel. She had taken 1100 barrels mackerel this season.

Mr. John Murphy, engaged in farming in Brunswick, Me., met with a serious accident recently. He was engaged in chopping wood, when a flying splinter went through his spectacles and into one of his eyes, carrying a piece of glass with it and destroying the sight of the eye. The misfortune is rendered greater from the fact that by a previous accident, about a year ago, Mr. Murphy was deprived of the sight of his other eye, so that now he is totally blind.

Hon. E. D. Mansfield died at his residence near Morrow, Ohio, Oct. 27th, at an advanced age. He was widely known as a political and general writer for the Cincinnati Gazette, and New York papers. His signature in the Gazette was E. D. M., and in New York papers Veteran Observer

About a month ago Dr. P. A. Talbott, a prominent citizen of Maryville, Mo., and editor of a greenback paper, was shot through the window of his residence, and killed. On Tuesday, Oct. 26th, his son Albert was arrested on the charge of committing the murder; and Mrs. Talbott, wife of Dr. Ed. Talbott, another son, and a hired man named Wheth, have been arrested as accomplices.

A Nevada paper tells how some fishermen were surprised while fishing at Pyramid lake. They camped in a small valley and built a fire, which spread, and greatly to their surprise set fire to jets of gas from natural wells. They found no less than nine of the jets in a circle of five rods. The gas was found to proceed from little holes from half an inch to an inch in diameter, and the flames were ten or twelve feet high. They left the jets burning when they broke camp, and a few days later they found the wells still burning. A Piute Indian went with them. Lighting a stick, he went some rods further up the valley, and touched off a dozen or more jets that were fed from holes upon and around a little hillock.

—You can't satisfy an Englishman with anything but what is truly insular. A prominent Briton in New York just now —one of those fellows with checkerboard breeches, one-eyed eye-glass, spots all over his necktie and all that sawt of thing, you knaw—says—"This American foliage in autumn is wather tawdry, you knaw!"

—Here's a case where a man became thoroughly tired of life: Farmer Dorsey undertook to replace the tire on a wagon wheel at Mercer, Va. The ordinary process is to expand the tire by heating it, and slip it into place, where it tightens by contraction as it cools. But in this instance there was trouble at every stage of the work. The fire was not big enough, the tire was not a true circle, and, after spending half a day fruitlessly at the job, the exasperated man committed suicide.

Despair not, neither man nor maid,
Although your mouth has suffered ill,
Although your teeth are bad decayed,
You can still save them, if you will.
A little SOZODONT be sure
Will make them white, bright and pure.

COUGHS.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wise and constant use for nearly a entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

THE THROAT.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A COUGH, COLD, CATARRH OR SORE THROAT requires immediate attention, as neglect often times results in a some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are less injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes. Tu,th&f,&w
